FRENCH INDUSTRIAL AREA IS BOMBED

Sabotage Hinted As Navy Bomber Crashes And Kills 4

EXPERT SAYS CONTROLS OF SHIP JAMMED

Los Angeles Youth Is Indirect Victim

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A nine-ton transport plane of new high-winged design, scheduled shortly for delivery to the U. S. Navy, crashed and exploded in a flower bed Saturday, killing four employes of the Douglas Aidcraft Company.

The dead:

HARRY E. (BUD) Bogen, 29, pilot.

WILLIAM BENON, flight engineer.

W. M. MULVONEY, 28, crew chief.

JAMES JEWART, inspector.

Probe Is Launched

Inquiries started quickly from three directions—the navy, Civil Aeronautics Authority and Douglas. Wreckage of the great DC-5 was still flaming when police threw a guard about it pending a probe into possible sabotage. Douglas officials declared in a statement:

"Until the CAA, the navy and our own engineers and experts have completed their investigations, we cannot state the cause of this regrettable accident. Preliminary investigation fails to produce any evidence or indication that would explain the reason for the crash."

An experienced pilot who watched the tragedy told naval authorities that from the craft's maneuvering, it appeared that the controls had jammed.

An indirect casualty was John Robert McClary, 12, who died of a heart attack as he watched the great ship dive to the ground. His parents said he long had suffered from a weak heart.

Of Unusual Design

The ship's high-winged design, on top of the fuselage, contrasts with the more familiar low-wing. Powered by two 1000-horsepower engines, it was built at a cost of $125,000 and could carry 16 passengers and a crew of three.

Engineers regarded it as a particularly rugged ship, with exceptional performance possibilities. It had 78-foot wingspan and a 60-foot fuselage.

After acceptance by the navy, the ship was to have gone to the District of Columbia for service at Anacostia naval depot. Its naval insignia already had been painted on.

Spear Kills Youth In Sham Battle At Chicago Orphanage

CHICAGO—(AP)—Four 16-year-old orphan boys engaged in a make-believe-war on the grounds of the Guardian Angel Orphange — the "Allies" against the "Nazis."

The youths' weapons were simulated spears—thin metal rods with sharp ends—taken from the orphanage greenhouse.

Launch Warship

30,000 Philadelphians Witness Event

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — With all the grace of its pretty 15-year-old sponsor, the 35,000-ton battleship Washington slid down the ways of the Philadelphia Navy Yard Saturday to make its maiden "curtsy" to the Delaware river as the first naval link in America's accelerated rearmament program.

While 30,000 cheering spectators looked on, Miss Virginia Marshall, of Spokane, Wash., shattered a bottle of champagne on the bow with one decisive blow and the gaily-decorated "battle wagon" eased swiftly into the water. Miss Marshall is a lineal descendant of John Marshall, chief justice of the United States from 1801 to 1835.

"It was a perfect launching," commented one high-ranking naval officer as the Washington's stern turned downstream and a dozen tugs churned up to lead the $65,000,000 ship to a temporary berth. Later it will be placed in drydock for completion. The newest and largest addition to the navy will not join the fleet for more than a year.

WET AND DRY

COLORADO CITY—(AP)—Mitchell county, dry since 1902, voted against legalizing the sale of beer Saturday by 1915 to 681. Colorado City voted wet 507 to 371.

German Blitzkrieg Copied After American Plan

Evidence Proves Hitler 'Borrowed' His Program From United States Elaborate Mobilization Plan Now On File For M-Day Over Here

By JOHN LEAR
Copyright, 1940, by The Associated Press

WASHINGTON —(AP)— There is evidence in the files of the federal government that a substantial part of the plans for Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg were "borrowed" from the United States.

These plans would answer the most interesting question of the war in the low countries and in France.

How have the Germans been able to strike such repeated sledge hammer blows without serious interruption over so long a time?

For these plans are America's plan for mobilization in event we go to war, and then gear up men and machines and every other resource of the nation to win war as swiftly as possible.

Plans of "Total War"

They are plans for "total war." They cover every conceivable factor in preparation for battle. Nothing approaching their efficiency had been devised anywhere in the world before the organizing genius of the United States began drawing them up 20 years ago.

No treachery—not even clever espionage—is responsible for the fact that the Nazis were aware of them.

The plans were available also to the English and the French, who did not "borrow" them.

I cannot name the source of the following information, but I can vouch for the fact that it is both official and reliable:

(1) Within a year after Hitler came to power in Germany in 1933, the Nazi military attache here began studying the American war mobilization blueprints.

The attache had the right to do so under ordinary diplomatic procedure.

He spent six months making his examination.

(2) Not until a year after he completed his study was the first of the Nazis' national defense laws passed—on May 21, 1935.

(3) The war mobilization system which took shape in Germany after that was a striking parallel to the American plan in all its principal characteristics.

"Conscientious Imitation"

Agents from this country, working in Germany, described it as a "conscientious imitation."

(4) The similarity was sharply illustrated in the Nazis' very first conquest—the "anschluss" with Austria.

Immediately after occupying Vienna, the Germans made a census of Austrian industries and allocated their respective share in supplying war needs—in identically the same way as the same step is outlined under the American plan.

(5) Then came the invasion of the low countries, and the repeated overpowering blows against the Allies which military men agree can be explained only by highly concentrated resources poured into the fighting front through ultra-efficient lines of communication.

This method of "winding up" for a "haymaker" punch and following through with all the strength the nation can muster is the very essence of the American mobilization scheme. It starts by teaming up all the factories where munitions and machines are made, integrating the roads and railroads over which they must travel, allocating fuel and electric power to vital points, and keeping men flowing up to the front while putting those behind the lines into jobs where they will do the most good. All war plans must follow this pattern, but this one operates on an exact time table from start to finish.

The advantage to this country if the plan should go into effect would be that the United States has more resources than Germany to pour into it.

The mobilization plan is one of the most thorough blueprints ever drawn up for anything. It is based on three suppositions:

(1) That the people of the United States, if they must go to war, want to win that war as quickly as possible.

(2) That they want to wage war with as little disturbance as possible to our civil peacetime life.

(3) That when the war is over we can return to peacetime economy as quickly and easily as possible.

American Plan

Although the plan (shaped during twenty years of both Republican and Democratic administrations) as it now stands has marked out every industrial plant in the country for the part it can play in war, no plant is scheduled to turn more than 50 per cent of its normal output to war purposes. This would keep peacetime industry from shutting down.

Ten thousand factories already have been told what they are to do, and all of them have agreed to do it. The government has given them educational orders to buy dies and machine tools and test the speed of production. The floor plans of these plants have even been marked out for placement of the needed machinery when the time comes.

The plan sets up a system of priorities so that war necessities always would come first. War factories would have first call on raw materials. Men would be encouraged, by higher wages and by deferments from draft for military service, to work in plants where their output would mean most in winning the war. Money would be regulated in the same way.

Profits and wages would be controlled so that no worker would suffer and no capitalist wax fat on the war effort.

Blackout of Liberties

Necessarily, as in all warring countries, individual liberties would have to be subjugated to the national will. But the basic democracy

MARSEILLE IS HEAVILY HIT; 46 ARE DEAD

Swiss Patrol Downs German Raider

By The Associated Press

A great aerial expedition of Nazi bombing planes swarmed over southern France Saturday afternoon, sowing death and destruction in the heart of the famed Rhone Valley industrial section and striking the port of Marseille heavily.

At least 46 persons were killed in the mass bombing raid, one of the heaviest of the war, which came in the wake of Adolf Hitler's military victory in Flanders.

In Marseille, Mediterranean port and France's second largest city, 30 persons were killed. In the Lyon industrial area 16 met death and 80 or 90 were wounded.

The French said 56 German planes were downed in all the day's fighting against 16 French losses. Of the losses inflicted on the Rhone Valley raiders they said only a "certain number" were downed.

Two heavy bombs fell in Marseille. A British ship laden with cotton was sunk in the harbor.

Industrial sections of central eastern France were heavily bombed.

Some observers believed the raids were a German gesture to show Premier Mussolini, a prospective entrant into the war at Hitler's side, that Nazi air power is sufficient to give the Italians help even during the present German northern offensive.

The Nazi armada roared into France across the Rhine north of Basel, Switzerland, in droves of 21 to 36 planes. They struck first at French air bases, communications and factories in the Rhone Valley around Lyon.

Swiss patrols tangled with one of the raiders which ventured over neutral Switzerland's border, downing the craft and killing its four occupants.

While the French blocked an attempted Nazi "on to Paris" drive against the Somme Line, the Germans hurled shell after shell into Dunkerque, where the last of the Allied northern armies were embarking for England.

Lord Gort, commander of the British expeditionary force, returned to England from Flanders with this firm declaration:

"We shall meet them again. Next time victory will be with us."

FDR RELAXES

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Roosevelt embarked on the yacht Potomac at the navy yard late Saturday for an overnight cruise and rest from the extra labors occasioned by the war in Europe.

CALLING OF U.S. MILITIA URGED

Gen. Marshall Hints Of Developments

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Amid mounting opposition in congress to President Roosevelt's request for authority to call the national guard to active duty, the army high command contended Saturday that the possibility of "dangerous developments" in this hemisphere made it essential that the request be granted.

General George C. Marshall, the army chief of staff, issued a formal statement supporting the President's proposal after opposition among senators had reached formidable proportions.

Would Change Law

Mr. Roosevelt already had authority to call the guard into service, General Marshall said, "But under that call it would be impossible to send any units of the national guard to assist a regular division in any one of the possible situations which might arise in this hemisphere."

"It is necessary that more troops be made available, trained, and seasoned, to enable missions to be carried out without denuding this country of ground troops in a state of sufficient preparation to meet unexpected eventualities in some other direction."

The chief of staff did not say what the possible "dangerous developments" in this hemisphere might be. But Senator Minton of Indiana, the democratic whip, had expressed belief to newsmen previously that the President might have in mind the possibility of having to occupy British, French and Dutch possessions in the new world if the Allies were defeated.

Home Defense Use

If need for such action arose, minton said, regular troops would have to be used and the national guard called out to man defenses in the continental United States.

General Marshall's statement failed to quiet criticism of the Presidential request among senate mem-

FDR And Mussolini Exchange Messages But Peace Fades

Exultant British Cheer Return Of 120,000 Vets

Retreat Termed Most Spectacular In History Soldiers Want Another Crack At Nazis

LONDON—(AP)—Britain's veterans of the north—the men who helped hold the fields of Flanders until the last and then withdrew in the most spectacular retreat of modern history—still were coming home Saturday night to an exultant welcome from a rarely emotional people.

The success of the withdrawal—one made across the English Channel in a gale of fire from every weapon at the Nazis' command—was illustrated in estimates from various sources that of the original expeditionary force of 175,000 men, from 100,000 to 140,000 had been brought safely back.

Too, it was stated unofficially that every division, or its remnant, save one, had been disembarked.

Suicide Men Stay

This British division, and two French divisions remained to hold off the attacking Germans.

Beneath the cheering, tear-drenched reception ran the somber undercurrent of preparations to evacuate school children and spread England's population outside packed cities. For Britain awaits the next blow—long-theatened invasion, and hell from the heavens by Nazi dive bombers.

Saturday Britain's own air force reported downing 56 German planes over Dunkerque Friday and 14 more Saturday, with a loss of only 16 British fighters.

Nazis Lose Boat

One British naval plane claimed a direct hit, wrecking a torpedo boat of the Nazi mosquito fleet off the Belgian coast.

On the embankments and bridges along the route of the troop trains to London civilians stood to cheer and listen with mouths agape while the returned Tommies told of the bloody business in Flanders.

Many were soaked and one detachment flew their pants like ensigns from the windows of their train.

At a station a shower of postcards flew from the windows. The spectators scrambled for them, and found that they carried messages to the families of wounded men.

French Are Praised

A hard-faced Scotch private pounded a smiling French Poilu on the back and swore at length.

"These little so and sos," he roared. "They get in a position and you can't get them oot. This lad here would be there yet if we hadn't given him orders.

"Just smiling and shooting they were, and giving Jerry proper hell."

A lance corporal spat and said:

"The Jerries drove women and children refugees ahead of them and we had to hold our fire. We got a chance and went at them with bayonets.

"Jerry's No Fighter"

"Jerry's no fighter. He has to have ten to one odds before he attacks. Give us more machine guns, more tanks and more planes and we will run the blighters into Berlin."

Texas Stations Not To Carry Red Speech

Houston reported that Station KTRH, the Columbia outlet there had scheduled Browder's talk.

Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio stations will not carry the broadcast. No reasons were given by station officials at Fort Worth. Some stations reported they had other commitments.

Under the law all three nation-wide networks (National, Columbia and Mutual) are required to offer the talk of their stations.

HIDALGO WINS BOND DISPUTE

Court Denies Plea Of Bondholders

EDINBURG—A $106,000 dispute in federal court between Hidalgo county and a group of big bondholders has been settled in favor of the county according to word received here Saturday.

The dispute involved terms of contract made with bondholders several years ago under which the county agreed to apply all delinquent taxes for certain years to pay off certain defaulted interest coupons on old bonds at a reduced rate. The contract expired March 1 of this year. Shortly thereafter bondholders complained the county had not been diligent in collecting old taxes and sought relief in federal court.

Privilege Denied

T. M. Kennerly, federal district judge, heard arguments in the case on April 23 and issued a memorandum May 16 denying to bondholders the privilege of reopening the original case under which the contract was drawn up. Notice that the memorandum had been received for filing at Brownsville was received here Saturday.

In their arguments to the federal court, attorneys for the bondholders had contended the county failed to be diligent in collecting delinquent taxes and that consequently bondholders received less than they were due for the old coupons. At the time the contract expired, a large number of coupons still were unredeemed and for these the bondholders claimed they should be paid an additional $106,000. They asked the federal court to order this payment made and to require an additional county tax levy if necessary to raise the funds.

Contract Expired

J. E. Watkins, of the Mission firm of Strickland, Ewers and Wilkins, and chief counsel for the county in the suit, contended the bondholders had no right to ask for relief under the original contract which had expired nor to ask the court to re-open the proceedings which had led up to the contract. He said if the bondholders had any claim to damages they should bring a new lawsuit and re-state their claims.

If the bondholders do not challenge Judge Kennerly's ruling—and

Americans Flee

Refugee Ship Sails With 824 Today

GALWAY, Ireland — (AP) — The United States repatriation liner President Roosevelt, with 824 Americans fleeing the dangers of war aboard her, stood anchored a mile offshore Saturday night, ready for an early Sunday sailing.

A hundred and ten passengers who had booked "standing room" were told at the last moment that orders from Washington specified no such passengers would be permitted to sail.

Many of those left were without funds to domicile themselves but the Galway hotels took them in despite their lack of ready cash and it was a moot question who would be responsible for their keep.

'Northern France Is A Burning Torch'

American Reporter Makes Flight With Ally Airmen, Sees Raid

By TAYLOR HENRY

WITH THE FRENCH BOMBER COMMAND ON THE NORTHERN FRONT—(AP)—Seen from the air from a French plane at night, the entire northern front of France looks like a flaming torch.

I have just made a long night reconnaissance flight over the northern battlefields.

The red glow from the flaming cities and towns gave the low-hanging night clouds the appearance of a late summer sunset.

Far below along the battlelines of the Somme and Aisne rivers, flashes of artillery fire looked like matches flaring.

To the north and east there was an almost continuous line of burning towns—Cambrai, St. Quentin, Arras, Peronne, Valenciennes—linked by smoldering fires in the little villages between.

Most of these were fired by incendiary bombs and torch-bearing parachutists days ago, but still the flames rise.

It was just at nightfall that the night bombing squadron, of which I was a guest, received its orders: "Attack in force against Cambrai airport and the crossroads south of Abbeville where important German troop concentrations have been observed."

When I read the orders I caught my breath. Only two weeks ago, as I had left Cambrai, squadrons of German planes were bombing that same airport on the outskirts of this town, which was then being evacuated by the French.

The night was dark and moonless, and only an occasional star peeped in and out of the late spring

Texans Mob 75 'Witnesses

Odessa Threatens Religious Sect Saturday

ODESSA, Tex.—(AP)—A sudden wind, rain and electrical storm Saturday night enabled officers to rescue 50 religious sect workers from a ranch house where they had sought refuge from an angry crowd that threatened them when the workers refused to salute the flag.

The 50 persons were brought to the county jail here, where 20 others had been held since a crowd of 1200 persons Saturday stopped the religious workers from distributing literature on the streets. The literature was seized and burned.

County Attorney O. E. Gerrson said the 70 sect members would be held in jail "until they salute the American flag."

Fist fights broke out on the streets Saturday when the sect workers began passing out their literature. A flag was produced and the sect members refused to salute it. A spokesman said they could not salute anything man made.

Ten men and ten women were placed in jail and the others were escorted out of town by state and county officers. The group went to a ranch house a mile from town.

After dusk the crowd formed again. The wind and rain blew up, causing an electrical power breakdown that plunged the city into darkness.

It was then Sheriff Webb and deputies managed to bring the group to jail.

Fifth Columnists In Mexico, He Says

ATHENS, Texas — (AP) — Elliott Roosevelt says if hostile action should come to the United States, the Texas frontier—which borders on Mexico—in all, probability would be the first to be violated.

Roosevelt warned of "Fifth Columnists" in Mexico and suggested that it was common knowledge "to many informed persons the fact that a poisonous hatred has been instilled in the minds of the Mexican people against the United States by representatives of foreign powers."

Seed Received

Edible Soybeans To Be Experimented

WESLACO—Seed of several varieties of edible soybeans have been received by the Valley experiment station and will be planted next fall, according to W. H. Friend, superintendent.

Rabbits are a great menace to soy beans. Friend reports that they will pass up nearly everything else in order to nibble at soy beans. The experiment station once tried spraying the plants with a repellant solution but the rabbits merely waited for tender young shoots to appear and promptly ate them.

Filed during May were 1,878 instruments, as compared with 2,126 the preceding month of April and with 2,013 in May 1939.

The total number of instruments filed the first five months of 1940 is 9,383, a decrease as compared with 10,228 filed the same period of 1939 and with 10,264 filed the same period of 1938.

The plane will be piloted by Bob Trego, president of the line. Al Trego, Dallas, vice-president, said here Friday regular flights on the line new McAllen to Dallas air freight schedule are expected to start within a week.

Trego said operations of the new line would be designed to co-operate with the defense policy of the government should this be required.

Pegging Of Grain Prices Is Sought

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary Wallace was authoritatively reported Friday night to be insisting that the nation's futures commodity markets retain present minimum prices on grain.

Grain quotations on these markets were pegged at closing prices of May 18 after sensational declines brought about by European war developments.

BISHOP BACK TO OLD HOME

Rev. Moore Returning To Georgia

BROWNSVILLE—Far off in the Georgia low country, where he had been ordained as a young preacher 31 years ago, Bishop Arthur J. Moore of San Antonio, has returned to become the leader of Methodists in the First Episcopal area.

He has been transferred to the area, which includes Florida and the North and South Georgia conferences of the Methodist church, it was learned here Saturday.

Bishop Moore had entered the ministry in South Georgia, and rose to take charge of foreign mission work for the Methodist church throughout the world.

For the past six years, he has been in charge of foreign missions, and returned only recently from the Orient.

He is the father of the Rev. William Harry Moore, pastor of the First Methodist church of Brownsville, and has visited Brownsville several times.

The bishop's headquarters will probably be in Atlanta, Ga., it was said.

War Plan Aids

U. S. Attaches Watch Fight Records

WASHINGTON—(AP)—With more than 60 attaches abroad, a majority of them in Europe, the army and navy are watching the war closely for lessons that may be of value in bolstering United States defenses.

When the war started there were 11 army attaches in belligerent countries and seven in bordering neutral nations.

Those observation posts have been constantly reinforced, particularly as new danger spots have appeared in Scandinavia, the Balkans and elsewhere.

Despite secrecy and censorship, army officials believe American attaches are getting more information than those of any other neutrals, and attaches are shuttling back and forth across the Atlantic rapidly with what information they can obtain.

Hatch Politics Law Permits Government Men To Toot Horns

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(AP)—One angle of the Hatch politics law was set to music Saturday—permitting federal employes to toot their horns and beat the drum at a political rally, if they're in a band.

Senator Hatch (D-NM) wrote Attorney Peter McAtee that a new interpretation of his measure would permit federal employes who are members of "a band or orchestra available for hire" to participate in political parades or rallies.

New Mexico Gets Valley Publicity

McALLEN—Literature advertising McAllen and the Valley is being distributed at Hot Springs, N. M., by Mr. and Mrs. John I. Gwin.

Mrs. Gwin wrote the McAllen Chamber of Commerce that she could use a "cart load" of literature, for distribution to people of means who are spending the summer there. She said scores of persons asked her about the Valley. Gwin, formerly a prominent business man of Rensselaer, and Mrs. Gwin, former state Democratic committee woman of Indiana, are now among the Valley's biggest boosters. They own considerable property in McAllen.

24 States Receive Valley Literature

McALLEN — Twenty-four states will receive 77 batches of advertising booklets depicting the advantages of the Valley and McAllen as a farming country, vacation spot, and other attributes, McAllen Chamber of Commerce officials said Saturday.

The 77 inquiries came to Governor W. Lee O'Daniel as a result of his radio broadcasts. He sent names of the interested persons to C. H. Britton, chairman of the governor's industrial committee, and other committee heads in Texas.

Merit System Seen For State Workers

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Travis county grand jury Friday recommended that the legislature establish a merit system for state employes to end a "wild scramble for spoils" and other asserted abuses.

The jury said its investigation showed that state workers engaged in political campaigns and that present laws were too indefinite and ineffective to prevent this "dangerous practice."

It added that the turnover in state employes following elections introduces into the service of the state a "host of new and inexperienced employes" at great waste to the taxpayer.

Texas Cities Seek New Water Supply

AUSTIN—(AP)—With a view toward discovery of new water supplies, 150 counties have sent 23,000 water samples to the University of Texas for analysis, Dr. E. P. Schoch, industrial chemistry bureau director, reported Friday.

'Danger' Sermon

BROWNSVILLE — Rev. William Harry Moore will preach on the subject, "Is America in Danger," at the 8 o'clock service Sunday and ex-service men are especially invited.

Style Show, Comedy Skits To Be In McAllen Revue

Valley Little Theatre Drops Straight Drama For Outdoor Presentation

McALLEN — Dropping their flair for the regular stage play, members of the Valley Little Theatre are going informal Monday night in the patio of the Casa de Palmas Hotel to present the first outdoor revue shown by the organization in its brief but meteoric career.

Final rehearsals went on all last week . Their results were so outstanding that Director Paul Moore is convinced the audience will see something like they have never seen before.

Highlight is the style show—not like the ordinary style parade with just a display of costumes but an entertainment feature presented by members of the Junior Service League of McAllen. Music and comedy have been put in this act to give it the acme of dash.

Other acts the director is sure will be popular with the audience include a black face female impersonation by Josef Eiler; a singing chorus of 15 of the Valley's best voices with Lois Petsch as soloist singing the "Italian Street Song" in the finale; Connie Green and Eva Sue Murphy in a take-off on the popular radio combine, "Cobina and Brenda," Marvin Downs in a comedy scene with Nikki St. Ore doing a hula-hula; Stanley Addington of Raymondville in several songs with special scenic effect; Lester Brecht, a series of dramatic monologues and David Calvin with an all-girl chorus in a dramatized setting of a popular song.

In addition there are scattered throughout the revue comedy sketches and blackouts played by Mrs. H R. Kamlah, Mrs. Downs, Gwendolyn Crawford, Brecht and others. A special feature of the show will be the dancing of Frances Jennings and a line of eight girls doing a tap routine, can-can and toe number. Frank Crabtree will present two numbers especially designed for this show.

And that does not close the entertainment for the night. When the show is over and the props cleared away there will be dancing in the patio.

Tickets may be bough from Little Theatre members or purchased at the door.

DREDGE WILL RETURN SOON

BROWNSVILLE— Unofficial reports here Saturday were that the Dredge Galveston would return about June 10 to continue the dredging of Brazos Santiago pass and the bay channel.

The dredge was called several weeks ago to do emergency work at the southwest pass of the Mississippi river.

Its maintenance program in the Port Isabel area included dredging of Brazos Santiago Pass to 34 feet and the bay channel to 32 feet, each with three feet of allowable overdepth.

It is believed all flowers of the world belong to only nine primary types.

Valley's Water Problems Unlike Any Other In Texas, For Ours Is International As Well As Financial; Solution Due

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Tex.— (AP) —Difficulties of Texas water conservation agencies, in the main, are problems of obtaining financial aid principally from federal government sources, while those in the Lower Rio Grande Valley encompass, in addition, international negotiations.

This lush garden spot of North America is dependent for irrigation on the capricious flow of a lazy, treacherous stream which originates in far northwestern Colorado and has several tributaries in both Texas and the southern Republic of Mexico.

Once carrying steamships almost 200 miles inland, the Rio Grande winding through mountains for most of its length, finally flows through the delta of the lower valley where alluvial soil, cleared of underbrush, has become one of the most productive vegetable and citrus growing areas on the continent.

Sometimes only a trickle which can be [illegible] by a yarkstick, the Rio Grande at other times becomes a sprawling, debris-strewn stream which, dividing two nations, can be controlled only by agreements negotiated between the state departments and ratified by the government of the United and Mexico.

For a quarter century and more, Valley conservation and reclamation districts and county water improvement districts have battled for an equitable division of the stream's waters—a problem ramified by divergent interests and slow-moving international diplomacy.

The Valley conservation and reclamation district, with a main objective of trying to solve water problems arising from inadequate supplies for irrigational and domestic uses, is trying to build storage space for Rio Grande flood waters on the Texas side.

The district contemplates one storage dam to hold about 70,000 acre feet near Mission and another of about 400,000 acre-feet near Rio Grande City, the water to be carried from the Rio Grande by a gravity canal between Zapata and Laredo.

Embracing Cameron, Hidalgo and Willacy counties, the Cameron County Water District No. 2, a voluntary association, has spent $4,000,000 on a system with which to trap flood waters both for flood prevention and storage purposes.

"The average flow of the river at the head of the Valley," says F. S. Robertson, general manager for the district, "is nearly 5,000,000 acre-feet, less than 20 per cent of which is being or is usable under the uncontrolled flow of the stream.

Need Storage Dams

"If storage dams could be built in the main stream, at least 80 per cent of this annual flow could be made available for beneficial use, but no dams can be built in the river without a treaty with Mexico, and the Valley has been trying to induce our government to negotiate such a treaty—but without success."

Building of dams across the Rio Grande, one north of Laredo and another above Roma, to store water for us of both nations is the association's principal objective.

"Realizing the difficulty of making a water treaty with Mexico," Robertson continued, "the American section of the international boundary commisison proposes to build a dam across Los Olmos Creek, back of Rio Grande City, for off-channel storage of up to 400,000 acre feet of water to be distributed by a gravity canal.

"This off-channel storage can be accomplished without asking Mexico anything about it. However, it would control only a small fraction of the flood waters now going to waste."

Engineers have calculated that 70 per cent of the Rio Grande's water in the Valley area washes into the stream from foreign soil.

"For a number of years," says Emery W. Watts of Donna, "Mexico has been carrying on a constantly expanding program of irrigation development on tributaries which have been supplying such a large percentage of our water in the lower Rio Grande Valley."

Mexico Takes Water

Watts said dams and canals for irrigation had been constructed by Mexico on their own San Juan, Sabinas, Conchos, San Diego, San Rodrigo, Escondido and Salado rivers, all cutting off water which would otherwise contribute to the Rio Grande's volume.

Ralph G. Bray of McAllen, newspaper man and secretary to the growers' committee of the citrus industry, attributes the Mexican government's conservation work to drainage of the Rio Grande by Texans.

"More than once," he said, "waters of the stream have ceased to flow, being sucked dry by 20 or more huge irrigation pumps on the Texas side."

Bray urged action by the United States Department of State in negotiating a treaty with the southern republic.

"The Valley has had its share of troubles," he said, referring to gulf storms and occasional freezes which have damaged crops, "but the area's destiny in wrapped up in the Rio Grande and unless concrete results in the way of either an impounding or diversion dam are forthcoming, the day of a water famine is not far distant.

"More than a quarter million people are affected, their investments approaching a quarter of a billion dollars."

Valley water conservation authorities apparently are agreed a United States treaty with Mexico on damming the "great river," meanderings of which have changed the territorial areas of nations, is the only solution to the district's water problems.

Townsend Meeting Is Set For Monday

HARLINGEN — Regular meeting of the Harlingen Townsend Club will be held at the city hall auditorium here Monday at 8 p. m., according to I. A. Baker, president.

It is estimated that 850,000 migratory farm laborers have entered California since 1935.

CITRUS GROUP PLANS PARLEY

15 Directors Are To Be Selected

MERCEDES—An appeal to all citrus growers to attend the election of the board of directors of the Texas Citriculture Institute at the Mercedes city hall at 8 p. m. Tuesday night was made Saturday by George Darnell of Mission, acting director.

Fifteen directors are to be elected.

Purpose of the non-profit organization, according to Darnell, is to improve conditions of the growers chiefly through improvement of marketing methods. The group is to work strictly for the good of the growers, he said.

Darnell pointed out that in view of conditions facing the growers, it was imperative they "get behind the institute with full strength."

Until the election, Darnell, L. H. Henry of Mercedes, and Ben Asche of Mission, are serving as acting directors.

Republican Women Will Meet Monday

BROWNSVILLE — The Cameron County Republican Women's party will meet Monday noon at Landrum's restaurant here.

Dies Urges Congress To Outlaw Communists And Bundsmen In America

HEAVY FINES ARE PROPOSED AS PENALTIES

Legislation Is Slated During Week

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Representative Dies (D-Tex) proposed Saturday night that Congress outlaw the Communist party and the German-American Bund and fix heavy penalties for membership in those groups "or any organizations controlled by them."

Dies, chairman of the House committee investigating un-American activities, said legislation to do this would be introduced next week, based on the committee's conclusion that the Communists were controlled from Moscow and the Bund from Berlin.

Like Europe

The legislation, the Texan said, would "outlaw the Communists and Nazis just as they have been outlawed in France and would take away from them the legal standing which gives them a certain amount of protection as political groups."

"It would not," he added, "prevent any person from advocating the ideology of Communism or Nazism but would prevent them from being members of these organizations which are known to be foreign-controlled.

With the drive against "Trojan horses" expanding, Dies suggested that President Roosevelt create a council of home defense to co-ordinate all counter-subversive activities of the FBI, secret service, army and navy intelligence and the Dies committee. He suggested "constructive, sane leaderhsip" of "men who are level-headed and would not become hysterical."

Hearings Set Monday

Dies said his committee would begin hearings here Monday on "Fifth Column" activities in the South." An informed source said the hearings, to be closed to the public, would concern reports that Communists had obtained positions with the Tennessee Valley Authority and in the Birmingham, Ala., steel industry.

The committee's widespread investigation had brought forth, Dies asserted, a statement from "a reputable citizen of Dallas, Texas, "that he has photographs of airbases along the southern United States border in Mexico and would forward them to the committee."

The committee plans hearings along the Mexican border in Texas, he said, two or three weeks after the adjournment of Congress. These hearings, he added, would concern reports that American Communists and Nazis were co-operating in a move to bring on a revolution in Mexico.

During the day, Attorney General Jackson created a "National Defense Investigation Unit," within the Federal Bureau of Investigation, headed by Veteran G-Man Hugh H. Clegg, to deal with "Fifth Column" and similar activities. About 250 agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will be made available for this duty by July 1.

DAIRY MONTH SET FOR JUNE

Proclamation Issued By Mayor Ramsey

HARLINGEN — Recognizing the possibilities for unlimited expansion in the Valley's dairy industry, Mayor Hugh Ramsey Saturday proclaimed the month of June as "Harlingen Dairy Month," to build sound bodies and increase consumption of dairy products."

Mayor Ramsey's proclamation follows:

"WHEREAS, the possibilities for vast expansion of the Dairy Industry in the Rio Grande Valley are practically unlimited, although great development has been effected in recent years; and

"WHEREAS, the Governor of our State of Texas, W. Lee O'Daniel, has deemed it wise to recognize this fact and proclaim June as Dairy Month in the State of Texas; and

"WHEREAS, the nearest approach to the fabled Fountain of Youth yet discovered is in pure cow's milk; without her milk, children languish, the vigor of the adult declines, and the vitality of the human race runs low. The building of good sound bodies, bone, muscle and good teeth depends upon the liberal use of dairy products, such as milk, ice cream, butter, cheese, etc.; and

"WHEREAS, it is generally recognized that our present consumption of milk is far short of the milk considered by nutrition authorities as proper and practical, namely, one quart daily for children through adolescence and one point daily for adults:

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, Hugh Ramsey, Mayor of the City of Harlingen, Texas, in recognition of this great industry which means so much to the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas, in food and good health, in dollars and jobs, do set aside the month of June, 1940, as HARLINGEN DAIRY MONTH and urge that it be observed by the citizens by increased use of milk and dairy products, and I also urge every merchant and business man in the City of Harlingen to join in this movement to increase milk consumption.

MAN IS HELD IN CAR THEFT

18th Loss Reported In Hidalgo County

EDINBURG — Quintice (Rastus) Everhart, 19-year-old Harlinger and Mercedes Negro, was held in the Hidalgo county jail here Saturday under charges of stealing an auto owned by Pete Garcia, former city officer at Mercedes.

The theft allegedly occurred last Wednesday, and the car was recovered the same day at Harlingen. Assistant District Attorneys Jack Ross and Joe Chapa took statements from Everhart and a Negro who had ridden with him from Mercedes to Harlingen in the machine. The charges were filed before Justice of the Peace J. Loy Ramsour here, who has not set bond late Saturday.

Deputy Sheriff Ben Brooks, Jr., of Mercedes and city officers at Harlingen recovered the stolen machine.

The theft was the eighteenth in the county in recent months and the first since May 19, when a coach driven by Harry Starr of McAllen was stolen while parked and locked on a downtown Weslaco street.

M'ALLEN MAY BUILDING IS ON INCREASE

Year's Total Is Listed At $227,000

McALLEN—Building in McAllen during May doubled the figure for the same time last year as a construction boom which has been under way for the past five months showed no signs of coming to a halt.

During the past month, permits totaled $70,696, for construction of 30 units of which one was a new Queen theatre for $15,000 and 19 were new residences.

Industrial work during the month also moved forward. Six units were for business use, the largest being the $6,000 permit to Sam Goldstein for the remodeling of his Advance Shop. Permits for warehouses totaled $7.200. in addition to a $1,400 beauty parlor.

With construction for the month $34,096 ahead of the same month last year, when new building totaled $36,600, the year's total to date also showed a rise. So far this year, $227,198 worth of new construction has been started, in comparison to $195,495 during the same period last year, City Building Inspector C. C. Eckhoff said.

New building is not confined to the city limits. Approximately 18 homes have been built in the suburban district outside of the city line during the past month.

The following permits have been issued for new homes: Higinio Elizondo, $1,200; Harold Hendricks, Refugio Herrera $26; Dr. A. E. Hoffman, $5,000; B. R. Suttle, $3,000; R. A. Other permits include J. A. Frisby, $200, engine house; Charles Foster, $1,400, beauty parlor; and Sam Goldstein.

Luce For Honesty

Says Drop Our Cloak Of Neutrality

WASHINGTON— (AP) —Henry R. Luce, editor of Time and Life magazines, urged the American people Saturday to call upon their leaders to "strip off our false cloak of neutrality" and express flat hostility to Nazi Germany.

"We can now go a long way toward regaining our spiritual integrity, as God-fearing democrats, if we stand up and speak our mind now," he said in a (CBS) radio address.

"Let every political leader high and low, speaking for himself and for us, state flatly in his own way: 1, that he deeply wishes the defeat of Adolf Hitler and Nazi Germany; 2, that he will never vote to recognize the Nazi domination of once free peoples; 3, that he will never in any way give aid and comfort to the Third Reich; 4, that he will continue to oppose by every wise and practical means the consequences of Nazi victory."

Star Employe's Hand Is Injured By Press

HARLINGEN —Elwood Miley, 21, Valley Morning Star employe, was resting at midnight in Valley Baptist Hospital here with a crushed right hand, suffered when the hand was pulled between rollers on the press.

The accident occurred when Miley was feeding paper between the blanket cylinder and the page roller. A bar on the roller caught his hand and pulled it into the narrow space the length of his fingers. Surgeons thought he might lose one or both of the middle fingers.

Girls Softball Circuit Opens

McALLEN—Several close, hard-fought games featured the first week's play of the Valley girls softball league with Edcouch-Elsa and McAllen turning in two victories. San Perlita, La Feria and Raymondville also chalked up a win.

Edcouch-Elsa surprised Mercedes and the strong San Perlita team to establish themselves as contender in the league. They will meet the potent La Feria girls at La Feria Tuesday night as the feature game of the week Edinburg lost their first start to the McAllen Masterettes by a lone run. They will take on Mercedes and La Feria which gives them a chance to hop up among the leaders.

Sebastian will open its home schedule Friday night if their new lighted field is completed in time. Raymondville and San Perlita will have their private quarrel.

Schedule for the week includes:

Tuesday

Edcouch at La Feria
Edinburg at Mercedes
Raymondville at San Perlita

SOUTH FRANCE HEAVILY BOMBED

newsman, flew over the northern battlefields in a night reconnaissance flight with a French pilot and reported the German-conquered territory resembled a giant flaming torch.

Nelson Claimed Sunk

Authorized Berlin sources announced the sinking—date, place and circumstances unstated—of the 33,950 ton battleship Nelson, flagship of the British home fleet, and the Nazi high command reported three enemy warships and eight transports were sent to the bottom off Dunkerque during the day.

In addition, the Germans said they shot down 40 Allied planes in the day's operations. The British reported the destruction of 40 German planes and 33 others damaged or destroyed in fierce combat off the Allied port of escape.

In addition the high command communique said that German dive bombers made hits on four other warships and 14 commercial vessels which presumably were serving as transports.

The vague announcement about the 33,950-ton Nelson, was reported by authorized sources in Berlin. The announcement told only of the sinking of the dreadnaught with 700 of its 1,320 crewmen but, for "military reasons," omitted when, where or how the Nelson, one of Britain's newest and mightiest capital ships, was sent to the bottom.

Apparently diverting armored divisions from the channel battle, the Germans intensified their Somme offensive in a drive which began Friday and still was continuing Saturday night.

The French held a bridgehead on the north bank of the Somme, needed by the Nazis to get across, but were reported in Paris to be holding also against assaults on the south side between Abbeville and Amiens.

Where Hitler would steer the German war machine next, however, remained his secret.

Invasion Delayed?

There were hints in Berlin, and expectations among the Allies, that the threatened direct invasion of England might be put second in the Nazi plans—after a pincers drive toward Paris with the Germans attacking from the north and the Italians from the south.

Evidence continued that Italy might be on the verge of throwing her full weight into the war on the Nazi side.

The Fascist government Saturday called up 10,000 additional non-commissioned officers. Americans travelling to Genoa to sail for the United States Sunday on the liner Manhattan also reported troop movements indications preparations for an Italian war move.

Some observers speculated that the next step might be a joint German-Italian peace proposal, backed by an Italian ultimatum.

The tattered remnants of the Allied forces in northern France meanwhile continued streaming back to the security of England. The British, hailing the withdrawal as the greatest rearguard action in history, regarded it so well advanced that they called home General Lord Gort, commander of the British expeditionary force, and estimated that all but one battered division of the 175,000 men in his army had been snatched from the Nazi trap.

Dunkerque Shelled

The Germans dragged up heavy artillery to shell Dunkerque as French rearguard units cut their way to that port.

British newspapers called the Allies' defensive fight so successful and the protective screen of their warships and planes so powerful that the German drive to the channel coast was at a price of 500,000 men lost.

The Nazis, however, scoffed at the Allies' reports of a well-ordered escape from the Flanders pocket and declared they had abandoned so much new war material that the booty would replace all that Germany lost.

Both sides reported extensive aerial activity despite adverse weather and boasted of heavy casualties to the enemy against slight losses to themselves.

Berlin said the score Saturday was 49 Allied planes shot down and nine German planes missing; according to a British communique, its was 67 German planes against 19 British Friday and early Saturday.

5 Transports Sunk

The Germans also reported sinking five transports and damaging three warships and 10 merchantmen by air attack off Dunkerque as well as sinking a destroyer and submarine by torpedo boat attack in the English Channel.

The United States, speeding rearmament, launched the 35,000-ton battleship Washington at Philadelphia—the first new capital ship for the American fleet since 1921.

In Washington, the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced the creation of a "national defense investigation unit." One of its jobs will be to investigate "fifth column" and other activities considered inimical to national safety.

Power Rates Slashed By Texas Coop Units

AUSTIN— (AP) —Rate reductions for customers of the Pedernales Electric Cooperative and Lower Colorado River Electric Cooperative Associations, were announced by the Lower Colorado River Authority Saturday.

Under rate agreements with the cooperatives, which cover an extensive Central Texas area and are supplied with power by the LCRA from hydro-electric plants at four dams, minimum bills for consumers were dropped from more than $2 a month to $1.25.

Two-Inch Toy Pistol Is Swallowed By Tot

BRITISH CHEER ARMY ESCAPE

Majority Of Flanders BEF Lands

er—James O'Neill—came back from embarking the Allied troops at Dunkerque by motorboat with the comment:

"It was real hell over there."

The old man was suffering shock and exhaustion because of his frantic service with a group of volunteers who crossed to Dunkerque with six motorboats Friday to load troops into transports.

"As we approached the Dunkerque roads," he said, "German planes were bombing and machinegunning everything and everybody. They were like flies in the air. Machine gun bullets and bombs were falling like hail around the destroyers and other rescue ships, and around the troops massed on the sands and waiting to be taken off."

French Boats Used

The number of French and Belgians brought back with the BEF could not be determined, but it was believed they were about 5,000. Since some of the rescue ships were French it appeared a reasonable presumption that parts of some French detachments had been taken southward to ports on the French coast.

The men of the BEF, after being paid, fed to the ears and given leaves wherever possible, soon will re-form to meet the next thrust of the Germans.

Their commander-in-chief, Lord Gort, was called into the presence of the king and upon him was bestowed the highest mark of chivalry: The Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath.

Children Moved

Trains were ready Saturday night to take the first of 47,000 school children from menaced communities along Britain's east and southern coast. They will start Sunday. Most of them will be taken to Wales and western England.

Authorities urged parents to cooperate with the moving of children to safety and pointed out that even now only 87,000 of London's half million children have been registered for removal to safer areas.

Word of the detention of Tyler Kent, a clerk dismissed by the United States embassy in London, stirred rumors of espionage in high places. Kent was held on order of the home secretary "in cooperation with British authorities."

Talk that Italy may be in the war within a week was met calmly.

Diplomatic sources outside the British government commented: "The Allies have finished making advances to Italy. The next step is up to Mussolini."

Agreement Seen

Greece, Italy Pact Is Believed Made

ATHENS, Greece—(AP)—A secret agreement between Greece and Italy designed to keep Greece from becoming a battleground if Italy enters the European war was believed in Allied and Yugoslav circles Saturday night to have been reached by Premier General John Metaxas and the Italian government.

To avoid a possible lightning Italian attack observers said, the Greek government is ready to let the Italians occupy strategic points of Crete and other islands with only a formal protest as a token of resistance provided Italy spares the remainder of Greece.

It is widely believed that General Metaxas, Greece's dictator, has so informed Italy.

REPORTER SEES ALLIED RAID

rain-clouds, hanging low over the zone.

The commander of the squadron, who, only two days before had bombed his native village in the Ardenes, now German-occupied, lent me flying gear; three suits of heavy coveralls, one heated by electricity; fur-lined boots, a crash helmet and thick gloves.

When we reached the almost completely darkened airport, the plane already was ready. After a quick handshake around, the five of us took our places.

A thin line of red lights flickered on the field to mark our runway. The first pilot—I was listed as a supernumerary second pilot—gave the huge plane the gun and we lifted gracefully into the air, closely circled the field and then headed toward the battle zone.

Below us stretched the peaceful French countryside. Heavy dark masses marked the forests, while the rivers and highways appeared as black ribbons.

Front 10 Minutes Away

Some ten minutes before the front was reached, it was outlined by flashes of artillery fire.

Because of the clouds we were flying low over French-held territory but as we neared the battle zone the plane rose to escape the fire of anti-aircraft guns.

The French pilots have nicknamed the German 20 milimeter anti-aircraft guns "poums-poums," and that is exactly the sound they make as the shells explode in the air.

The heaviest anti-aircraft fire was concentrated by the Germans around St. Quentin and Peronne.

It is not exactly a comfortable feeling to be sitting in a plane while the "poum-poums" burst around.

They explode on almost every side at almost the same moment that you see the flashes on the ground.

Like Fireworks

Unless they are very close they give only the sensation of a gigantic fireworks display.

It takes a direct hit in a vital spot to disable one of these giant planes. Even a hit on the wings makes only a hole a foot square. The plane jolts slightly—and then drones on its way.

From the air at night the battlelines running from Montmedy, where it leaves the Maginot Line, through Stenay, Attigny, Rethel, Neuf-Chateau, Anizy, La Fere, Chauny, Ham and Amiens to Abbeville on the English Channel, shows as a scarcely defined line.

If it were not for the Aisne and Somme rivers, which the line follows, it would be difficut to recognize.

Amiens Area Active

Apparently heavy fighting was going on in the Amiens-Albert region where the French seem to have driven a salient. There the flash of artillery was heavier than at any other part of the line and there we saw minute flames which the observation officer said were from machinegun fire.

Our plane was scouting to learn the effect of the bombing of the other planes.

The squadron already had bombed the Cambrai airport when we arrived over it. The southeast corner of the airport was in flames, indicating that a direct hit had been made either on gasoline tanks or stocks of incendiary bombs.

The squadron skirted the zone where British and French forces were almost cut off in Flanders. It was only a few hours before that we had learned there were Belgian troops still protecting their north flank.

From a distance flames could be seen raking the channel ports which are the only means of supply and evacuation for the two embattled armies there.

As far inland as we were it was difficult to establish the line of the seacoast, but flashes from what we believed were Allied warships indicated the fleets were supporting the Allied armies.

Behind the German lines fast moving convoys were outlined as dark blurs on the roads. Only at crossroads could their movement be distinguished. It was such a crossroad south of Abbeville that had been designated as the second objective of the squadron.

From the air the effect of the bombs dropping was almost undistinguishable. It may have been because they were dropped from another plane, but the only noticeable effect was the blurring of an already obscure mass.

Observers of the plane that dropped the bombs, however, reported direct hits.

The return flight was uneventful except for the delicate task of setting the plane down on an almost darkened field.

CALLING OF MILITIA URGED

Dangerous Situation Seen By Army

bers. On hearing of it, Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) declared:

"It isn't any wonder that I am getting many telegrams asking if it is the intention of the President and congress to get us into war when statements are issued indicating it may be necessary between now and the time congress returns that the national guard be called to active duty.

"This propagandaa to stampede the people of this country into a war hysteria ought to be stopped, and the people who are opposed to war ought to let their congressmen and the administration know about it."

No Adjournment?

Senators George (D-Ga) and Austin (R-Vt), both supporters of the President's foreign policy, joined Senators forecasting that congress might remain in session continuously as a result of the request for authority to summon the guard to active duty.

Calling the request "apparently unwarranted," George told reporters:

"If the President seriously insists on this request, I think congress will say: 'Mr. President, if there is an emergency of this nature in the offing, of which the country now knows nothing, we will stay here to meet it."

Senator Austin, the assistant republican leader, declared:

"I think we will be here all summer before we grant that power. There will have to be some justification that doesn't appear now before congress will be willing to do it, in my judgment."

Another senator suggested privately that the President might be seeking greater control over the citizen soldiers in an effort to stamp out alleged "Fifth Column" activities within the guard.

Fifth Column Aid

This senator said he had heard reports that Communist and Fascist activities were widespread within the ranks of the guard in one state, which he did not name.

The national guard, which has a present strength of about 225,000 men and 15,000 officers, is distinct from the regular army and is supported jointly by federal and state governments.

War department officials said that the President now has authority to call the guard to active duty for either of two purposes: 1, to meet a threatened invasion; 2, to deal with insurrection and disorder.

In the event that congress declares a national emergency to exist, they added, the President can under existing law call the guard out for any purpose.

BRITISH TOMMY LEARNS TO SWIM AFTER FLANDERS

LONDON—(AP)—As disheveled Tommies returning from Flanders stepped off a train under a blacked-out trainshed, one soldier clug wearily a moment to the door of a compartment.

"Had a rough time, chum?" asked a porter.

The Tommy straightened up and, with tightened jaw, said:

"I've ruddy well learned to swim anyhow."

attorneys here said there is little likelihood of such a challenge—the bondholders have only two remaining alternatives. One is to file an entirely new lawsuit asking damages for alleged non-performance of a contract, and the other is to drop the litigation and give up hope for further revenue from this source.

County Auditor B. F. McKee said Saturday the county still has about $12,000 due the bondholders under the contract which has not been paid to them pending settlement of the present litigation. He said the county is ready to pay this amount any time the bondholders want to settle up.

White House Silent On Duce Message

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The White House threw no light Saturday night upon the reported new exchange of messages between President Roosevelt and Premier Mussolini.

Informed of the reports from Rome that there had been such an exchange, Stephen Early, the President's press secretary, would say only that there had been an almost continuous exchange between the President and the heads of various governments.

Thompson Sends Fee With Music Clause

DALLAS—(AP)—Ernest O. Thompson paid his filing fee as a candidate for governor here Saturday with a $100 check. On it was written:

"Filing fee for office of governor without music."

M-Day Plan Copied By Hitler

of the procedure would be guaranteed by the fact that the plan is always subject to congress.

Congress, in fact, would have to adopt legislation to put the plan into effect. The president would have to sign that legislation. Right there is a point that has military men in Washington worried. They are asking "'would he sign it?"

Some months ago the president appointed a "war resources board" headed by Steelman Edward J. Stettinius, Jr., to study the plan. The board did so, and is reliably reported to have approved it with expressions of surprise at how complete it was. The president did not make the board's report public.

By sticking to a mobilization plan developed over two peacetime decades, advocates of the existing plan say, the president could avoid the risk of too highly centralized war government. The war agencies would work side by side with the civil government and would go out of existence at war's end.

But, these advocates continue, if war agencies should be incorporated into the normal machinery of civil government, the whole gigantic set-up would remain at the close of the war and it might be too powerful to dismantle.

President Must Act

The president has the last word. He hasn't said yet what he would do. Meanwhile, however, the plan as revised in 1939 was approved jointly by Louis Johnson and Charles Edison, who at that time were acting secretary of war and navy, respectively, in the president's cabinet.

Eleventh Candidate Seeks Congress Job

AMARILLO —(AP)— Lewis P. Fields, Amarillo insurance man, announced Saturday as a candidate for congress from the 18th Texas district. He was the eleventh man to enter the race to succeed Marvin Jones, who has been appointed to the U. S. Court of Claims.

Local observers predicted that Jones would be petitioned to decline the court appointment and stand as a candidate for reelection. Fields specified in his announcement that he would withdraw should Jones be drafted.

County AAA Group Members Lose Jobs

PLAINVIEW — (AP) — Chairman Earl Beach and members Ed Pope and C. S. Clark, received mail notice Saturday that they had been removed from the Hale county agricultural conservation association county committee.

E. N. Holmgreen, executive secretary of the AAA at College Station, notified the three of their removal by I. W. Duggan, southern division director, of Washington. They will be replaced by two alternate committeemen and a third to be elected.

The committeemen were advised they were removed under association articles which gives the administration that power.

Deadline For Filing For Texas State Offices Falls Monday

'Political Sweepstakes' Interest Is Hotter Now

Dan Moody Dark Horse; Dozen Hopefuls To Date Have Come Out For Governor

AUSTIN—(AP)—The stroke of midnight Monday closes the books on the Texas gubernatorial and other important political sweepstakes.

The approaching deadline—final date for filing notice of candidacy—accentuates speculation on whether red-thatched Dan Moody, twice a winner, will emerge from private law practice in Austin and try for a third victory in a crowded field.

He reiterated Saturday that he would make no hasty decision on a request that he run. In fact, his name is qualified for a place on the July 27 primary ballot by virtue of a group of Williamson county citizens who without consulting Moody filed application with the Democratic state executive committee and paid the filing fee.

Moody himself can scratch his name if he chooses before the committee meets in Austin, June 10, to certify names for the official ballot.

As entries stand a dozen hopefuls will make the race although some will not trek the state in search of votes.

Hill Billies Due

An early posting was Governor W. Lee O'Daniel whose sound wagon and minstrel band soon will tour the state again. Similar tactics already have been adopted by Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler who won his office two years ago, despite the fact O'Daniel endorsed Sadler's opponent in the run-off election, and who now wants to oust the governor.

State Highway Commissioner Harry Hines, Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, twice governor of Texas, and State Representative Albert Derden of Marlin also have launched campaigns to unseat the former flour salesman who tore through a field of a dozen opponents to win in a smashing victory two years ago.

Sharing interest with the governor's race is the battle for the railroad commission post held by Chairman Lon A. Smith who is not seeking re-election.

Nearly a score of candidates have announced and a majority have paid their filing fee. There might be additional aspirants on the list by Monday night.

Stevenson Interested

Lieutenant-Governor Coke Stevenson, drawling southwest Texan and ranchman, wants another two years in his important post as presiding officer of the senate. He has drawn the opposition of Virgil E. Arnold of Houston and Charles L. Sommerville of Dallas.

Apparently the easiest race was in store for Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, former Southern Methodist University football statellite, who has drawn no opposition to renomination for a second term.

Contests are developing for high judiciary posts. George E. Christian, a commissioner in the court of criminal appeals this week formally filed for a judgeship in opposition to Judge Tom L. Beauchamp who wants re-election to a full term. Judge Beauchamp was appointed by O'Daniel to fill the unexpired term of Presiding Judge W. F. Morrow who retired because of age.

Justice Moore Runs

Chief Justice W. F. Moore of the supreme court, appointed by O'Daniel to fill the unexpired term of the late Chief Justice C. M. Cureton, has announced he does not want re-nomination. Vieing for the position are Judge J. P. Alexander of the Waco court of civil appeals and R. Tuck Chapin, San Antonio attorney.

Associate Justice John H. Sharp is a candidate for another term and is opposed by William Richard Watkins of Fort Worth, a lawyer.

TAXPAYERS IN WILLACY MEET

Agreement Reached On Refund Program

RAYMONDVILLE — The Executive Committee of the Tax Payers Association met with the Board of Directors of the Willacy County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 one Friday morning and reached an agreement covering all points of the refunding program.

The commitment of R.F.C. was discussed by the board in which the R.F.C. sets out at $175,000, to be deposited in the Federal Reserve Bank as a cushion to show good faith in the Refinancing Program of the District.

A solution for raising the $175,000 was agreed upon between the Tax Payers Association and the Board of Directors of the Water District by paying 50 percent of all delinquent taxes with no penalty and interest.

It is also agreed between the Tax Payers and Board of Directors that in order to get all outstanding bonds it would be necessary to file court procedure under a Municipal Bankrupt Law not later than June 30. The Tax Payers Association reserved the right to intercede so that the tax payer will be assured representation in the court.

When this refunding program is completed the R.F.C. has agreed that the tax payer will only have to pay the interest on the $3,000,000. "which is the refunding figure" for the first 3 years. After that the District and the tax payers have 30 years in which to retire the $3,000,000 principle and interest.

Upon completion of the refinancing of the District the Water District tax will be cut 50 percent or more.

Dodson, at a loss to explain the circumstances, said Sifuentes was filling the bottle with hydrant water at the station, and had perhaps two gallons in it when it exploded. Dodson said there was no water on the concrete where the bottle burst, and that powdered glass was thrown in every direction.

Deadline Passes For Million Dollar Reward For Capture Of Hitler; U. S. College Official Withdraws Offer

PITSBURGH—(AP)—Dr. Samuel Harden Church, president of Carnegie Institute, announced Saturday the $1,000,000 reward offered for the capture of Adolf Hitler "unfortunately" has not been claimed and "has now expired."

Church, 82-year-old advocate of peace, said he made the offer after receiving a letter of April 27 from a European statesman of high authority forecasting Hitler's attack on the Maginot Line and "intimating" that Germany and Italy would divide the Balkans.

The letter, Church declared, quoted directly "these words uttered by Adolf Hitler":

"'The Germans will send millions of shells on the Maginot Line, and break through, even at the cost of half-a-million lives, and before the end of the year the enemies of Germany will be annihilated.'"

"The letter further intimated," Church's prepared statement continued, "That Mr. Hitler would permit Mr. Mussolini (Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy) to make the Adriatic a closed Italian sea, to absorb Yugoslavia, to take over Slovenia, Bosnia, and part of Croatia, giving another part of it to Hungary, which in time will become German."

Church said he had received letters from every part of the United States, most of them containing "enthusiastic assurance of approbation," but that there were enough to "discordant" replies to indicate that if Hitler "should ever be adle to come to the United States in the captured protection of the British and French fleets, he would be met at the shore by a Fifth Column of so-called Americans who would give him the vociferous and glorifying adoration of the raised hand."

Church made his offer — good only during the month of May—on May 1, specifying in a letter to the New York Times that the German chancellor be delivered alive and uninjured into the custody of the League of Nations "to be tried before a high court of justice for his crimes against the peace and dignity of the world." A group of wealthy Pittsburgh residents subscribed the $1,000,000, he said.

'HOT CHECK' ARTIST HELD

Suspect Is Wanted At McAllen

McALLEN—Apprehension at Fort Worth of a man wanted in McAllen for allegedly passing two bad checks here was announced in a communication received Saturday by Chief of Police Noah Cannon from the state department of public safety.

The suspect, known as Robert B. Hadley, is being held at Fort Worth on a forgery charge. Cannon said he is alleged to have passed worthless checks in the amounts of $8 and $3.

Records of the federal bureau of identification and the state department show that Hadley is accused of passing 43 bad checks in various cities of Texas and Oklahoma from April 23 through May 15 this year. The amounts varied from $1.55 to $42.50. He also is accused of passing a worthless $10 check at Edinburg.

The record on Hadley begins in 1925 when he was sentenced to two years at Fort Worth for swindling. Various aliases employed were Robert Morrell, George Murrell, W. W. Craig, Ed Clark and B. Hadley.

The man poses as an attorney from Austin and claims to be a Mason, the state department said.

Cannon said it was doubtful that Hadley would be returned to McAllen to face charges because the local cases are misdemeanors while the Fort Worth forgery charge is a felony.

LAND SYSTEM MAY BE USED

San Benito's Water District Ready

SAN BENITO—The land commissioner system which has been operated successfully in the Edinburg, Mercedes and Los Fresnos irrigation districts helping land owners to place their property on a paying basis, may soon be tried in the local water district.

Directors of Cameron County Water Improvement District No. 2 have worked in conjunction with a representative of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which refinanced the district's indebtedness in working out a plan adaptable to this community.

Service Is Varied

Under the plan, the district would contract with the land owners to look after their interests. The type of service rendered to the land owners would depend on the requirements in each case. In some cases the land commissioner would look after the planting of crops, care of orchards, marketing of the crop and in fact every phase of farming operation while in other instances possibly only one or two of these services would be performed.

Although letters have been prepared to go out to owners of land on delinquent tax rolls, they have not yet been mailed but word of the plan has already gone out with the result that many inquiries have been received. An effort will be made to confine the plan to property on the delinquent roll. It is expected to be particularly attractive to the absentee land owner but some resident owners probably will take advantage of the service as they have done in some of the other districts.

Smith May Be Head

If the plan is finally placed in effect, Raymond Smith, long with the district, probably will be named the land commissioner. He will function under a contract with the land owner and will have power of attorney to act for him.

Other districts which have operated the plan have received testimonial letters from land owners saying they were obtaining revenues from their Valley property for the first time.

The local irrigation district makes it plain that it is not bidding for the work now being done by competent caretakers.

MARTS CLOSE IRREGULARLY IN NEW YORK

Week Ends Hesitantly After Good Start

(Markets on Page 7, Section 2)

By FREDERICK GARDNER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Hesitancy returned to the stock market Saturday after a week devoted mainly to calming war-shaken speculative nerves.

In Saturday's brief session irregularity persisted with declines of fractions to a point in the majority at the close.

Transfers of 273,445 were the smallest for any Saturday since January 2. They compared with 554,330 a week ago. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .1 of a point at 38.5, but on the week it showed a net gain of .4 of a point. It was the first weekly advance in five weeks.

Among the day's losers were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed, Anaconda, American Smelting, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Great Northern, Texas Corp., Union Carbide and Westinghouse.

General motors and Chrysler were unchanged until the last few minutes when they edged up minor fractions. Ahead small amounts were American Telephone, Western Union, Santa Fe, Sperry and Goodyear.

Bonds and commodities were mixed.

In an uneven curb firmness was displayed by Aluminum of America, American Cyanamid "B" and Jones and Laughlin. Lagging were E. W. Bliss, Gulf Oil, Humble Oil, Electric Bond and Share and Brewster Aero. Activity here was the most sluggish since August 19, last, with transfers of around 44,000 shares comparing with 101, on the previous Saturday.

South Is Center

Air Training To Be In This Area

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The South will be the training ground for virtually all the 7,000 new pilots to be turned out annually under the army's program of air force expansion.

Brig. Gen. Jacob E. Fickel, assistant chief in charge of training, said the general policy would be to use schools and training centers south of the 37th degree latitude. Roughly, this follows the northern boundaries of North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Arizona. Southern California is south of the line.

Mild winter weather is more favorable to uninterrupted work, it was explained.

Tip Service Paid Off Too Well, So Method Exposed

JOLIET, Ill.—(AP)—Justice Edgar H. Johnson found out Saturday how the pals of Andrew Burns, 27, and Edward Coplansky, 43, won so much money on the horse races.

Arraigned on charges of disorderly conduct, the men testified they had been watching the races at Lincoln fields with field glasses and telephoning the results to Chicago in time to place bets in handbooks.

This worked fine, they explained, because Chicago bookies, without wire facilities, accepted bets until regular post times. When the horses were off early it gave Burns and Coplansky time to distribute fool-proof tips.

Justice Johnson fined them each 100 and costs, but agreed to suspend the fines when they promised to leave the county.

Sales Days To End In Bargain Fiesta

BROWNSVILLE—Winding up a five-day series of bargain days, 34 Brownsville merchants will join Monday in offering their customers "Appreciation Day" bargains.

"Appreciation money" distributed the past four weeks on "Dollar Days" will become "cash" on Monday, and can be spent in the purchase of merchandise at the stores participating in the bargain events.

Shoppers spending their "appreciation money" actually will be receiving a new discount, amounting to five per cent, on the goods they purchased at bargain prices during the "Dollar Days."

"Appreciation Money"

"Appreciation Day" is what its name signifies—Brownsville merchants are showing customers their appreciation for the cooperation received on the past four "Dollar Days."

"Appreciation money" may be spent at any one, several or all of the participating stores, regardless of what store issued the coupons.

Good Only Monday

Merchants Saturday urged their customers to be sure all their "appreciation money" is spent Monday. Because the coupons, as indicated, will be accepted only on "Appreciation Day."

The participating merchants have arranged special bargain prices for "Appreciation Day," extending their program of red-hot bargains through Monday.

Clerks in the stores will continue to cooperate with customers, and will assist them in making their bargain selections as they spend their "appreciation money."

Special Prices

The special prices that will be placed on merchandise in the 34 participating stores on "Appreciation Day" will be available to all shoppers, whether they hold coupons or just come to the stores to take advantage of the fifth of the bargain days in the closing series.

The series of "Dollar Days" and Monday's "Appreciation Day" have been sponsored by the Brownsville Chamber of Commerce merchants' committee, of which George Aziz is chairman, and the Brownsville Herald is cooperating.

R. W. Lewis is chairman of the bargain series, and any additional information may be obtained from Mr. Lewis at the F. W. Woolworth store.

Participating Merchants

Merchants participating in the series of bargain events are Woolworth's Store, Western Auto Supply, Valentin's Department Store, Samano's Drug Store, Sherwin Williams Paints, A. Rogers Photo Company, Pipkin-Manske Motors, Piggly-Wiggly Store.

M'ALLEN TAX BOARD WILL MEET MONDAY

City, School Seek Equal Values

McALLEN—The joint city-school board of equalization will go into its first session Monday morning to study valuations on property outside of the city liimts but within the limits of the school district.

The joint board, appointed at the request of both the city and the school taxing units, is composed of K. W. Jones, William Reis and Frank Wheelburger.

The members will study only rural renditions at their first session, which is expected to last about four days. After a recess period, taxpayers will be called to appear before the board in instances which the equalization committee consider necessary.

Date for the beginning of the city work may be suggested Wednesday night at the regular city commissioners' meeting, City Secretary C. D. Martin said.

Use of the joint board was decided upon when both city and school board officials agreed it was time to get tax assessments nearer equalization for their respective units.

Discontent had been voiced among taxpayers over differences in the levies sought by the school and the city, in many cases. While the use of a joint board this year is an experiment, leaders of the two taxing bodies said they feel confident that out of its work will come a more satisfactory situation for the taxpayers.

Officials have impressed upon citizens that the joint board is in no way an effort to raise the existing taxes in their districts but rather a step forward toward equalizing the valuations.

Bombers Shipped

Vessel Departs With Planes For French

NEW YORK—(AP)—The 4,140-ton freighter Gran, flying the Norwegian flag, sailed Saturday with 100 bombing and pursuit planes consigned to the French government.

This was said on the waterfront to be the largest plane shipment to the Allies since the war began.

More than 150 additional planes were ready for shipment Saturday night, and other boats were expected to be available Sunday or Monday.

About 75 of the planes shipped were bombers, it was said.

$72,451,730 Saved Bv Texas Investors

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Federal Home Loan Bank board announced Saturday that Texans had savings totaling $72,451,730 in 122 insured savings and loan associations, as of May 1.

Deposits in the first months of 1940 totaled $9,545,190.

Nazi-Seized Vessel To Start For U. S.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The American freighter Charles R. McCormick, caught in the German invasion of Norway, wirelessed Saturday she was leaving Bergen immediately for the United States.

The McCormick's $2,000,000 cargo of relief supplies consigned to Finland, small arms and trucks, was seized by the Germans as a prize of war.

WPA Men Donate Wages To Red Cross War Fund

McALLEN—What is believed to be the first donation of its kind to the Red Cross war relief fund raising campaign now under way in Hidalgo county was the contribution made by the Works Project Administration laborers on Project 9979 in McAllen.

Approximately 50 workers contributed the equivalent of an hour's wages to the McAllen fund. The exact amount of the donation was not revealed at the request of the donors.

Workers, who are currently paving North Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, earn between 32 cents and 50 cents an hour.

The men presented their contributions to City Inspector C. C. Eckhoff in a surprise gesture Friday afternoon, with the request that it be turned over to Chairman J. R. (Dick) Harris as a "voluntary contribution," which he had urged residents to make.

Eckhoff said he has not heard of a similar donation from any other WPA project in the Valley.

The drive to raise the McAllen $600 quota is still being continued, Harris said. While there are no solicitors calling on residents, money will be taken at the Young Drug store and the City State Bank and Trust Company. Harris reported some of the $600 had already been raised and asked local people not to make it necessary that they have to be soliicted to assist in the fund to help suffering European war refugees.

Valley Secretaries To Get Schooling

McALLEN — Five chamber of commerce managers of the Valley will attend the annual convention school of the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association at Midland, leaving Wednesday.

Carl Blasig of Mercedes is permanent historian of the association and will make an annual report. Don Wallace of San Benito and S. M. Patterson of Mission are on the attendance committee. Paul T. Vickers of McAllen will present a paper on "Membership and a Model Set-Up." Vickers also has been asked to make two other addresses at Midland, where he was secretary for ten and a half years. Mrs. Vickers is on the entertainment program for a tea to be given wives of secretaries.

Worth Heffner, new manager at Harlingen, will attend his first Texas convention. Sidney Kring, formerly of Harlingen, now at Wichita Falls, is state president.

The annual meeting is called a "convention school" because the secretaries actually go to school about six hours a day, studying various phases of chamber of commerce work.

FROLICS OF '40 GIVEN PRAISE

Recital Planned For June Fourth

HARLINGEN—Prevue of "Frolics of 1940," presented to an audience of invited guests Friday night in Mercedes, promises especially delightful entertainment Tuesday night, June 4, when the annual recital presenting pupils from the Markoleta Greer Elstner school of dance will be given in the municipal auditorium. Half of the profits from the elaborate dance production will go to the Red Cross.

Four major features are combined into the production. Especially appropriate is the military number, "To the Colors," presenting 18 girls in costumes, dance steps, and music expressive of the military theme.

"Tulip Time in Holland" is a kiddie number presenting about 16 tots who will wear real wooden shoes.

"Hawaiian Nights" is a native dance of Hawaii which will be presented to the accompaniment of real Hawaiian guitars. To highlight this number a soloist will sing Hawaiian melodies.

Climaxing the show will be a ballet presenting 20 girls in white ballet costumes dancing a beautiful interpretation of Straus' "Waltz."

Rest of the program is a divertissement showing the versatility of the dancers and ranges from classical through character to the modern musical comedy hits.

Creager Is Hit

Alvin Wirtz Replies To Expense Charge

AUSTIN—R. B. Creager, Brownsville, Republican national committeeman from Texas, this week drew the fire of hard-hitting Alvin J. Wirtz, undersecretary of the interior.

Creager charged at the Dallas Republican convention that Wirtz was in Texas on a political mission at the people's expense, and drew a blistering attack from the undersecretary.

Wirtz said in a public letter he took leave of absence without pay when he left Washington, and inquired of Creager whether the leading Republican candidates, Senators Taft and Vandenburg, and Thomas E. Dewey, "have separated themselves from the public payroll while engaged in this campaign."

Isolation Is Urged By Catholic Chief

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, Philadelphia's widely-traveled, 74-year-old archbishop, counselled American isolation from Europe's turmoil Saturday as Pennsylvania Catholics gathered to pay homage to him at an outdoor ceremony.

On the eve of a mass in municipal stadium celebrating his golden anniversary as a priest, the cardinal voiced in an interview solemn belief that "we should mind our own business and not become catspaws" in international rivalries.

KRGV Not To Carry Communist Program

WESLACO — Officials at station KRGV, Weslaco, generally on the NBC blue network, said Saturday the Sunday Communist party broadcast would not be routed over this leg of the networks.

Under the present Federal Communications Commission ruling stations are required to carry both sides of "controversial questions" if they schedule either side. The networks have asked the F.C.C. to allow them to refuse broadcasts to certain individuals or groups talking against "the principles of American democracy."

SHIP OPENS NEW MARTS FOR VALLEY

Carolina Services To Begin Monday

BROWNSVILLE — The Carolinas will be opened to the Valley a new market for its products with the arrival here Monday of the SS Brazos of the Clyde Mallory Lines.

The freighter is to be the first to carry Valley cargo to Charleston, S. C., the port of the rich Carolina milling district.

Water freight rates from the Valley to South Carolina will also give Valley citrus a chance to compete with Florida fruit.

Besides establishing Charleston as a regular port of call for its ships leaving Brownsville, the Clyde Mallory boats will also carry New York and Boston cargo.

Scheduled also to dock here Monday is the SS Shickshinny of the Isthmian Line, with cargo from Pacific coast ports.

The Isthmian ship, handling only inbound cargo here, is bringing lumber, shingles, sugar, canned goods and other Pacific coast products.

The SS Brazos is sailing Monday afternoon, and the SS Shickshinny will leave the following day. The Philen Shipping Company is agent for both lines here.

Visiting here Friday was George J. Horner, assistant to the vice president of the Clyde Mallory Lines, who conferred with Gilbert Philen regarding the lines's new service.

NEW YORKERS HELP VALLEY

State Takes Fifth Of Area Vegetables

HARLINGEN—New York state consumed more than a fifth of the carlot shipments of mixed vegetables that moved from the Valley this season, according to a preliminary report by the Texas-Federal Market News Service issued Friday.

The Valley shipped 7,867 cars of mixed vegetables of which 1,633 went to New York State. Ohio was next best customer with 795 cars going to that state while Pennsylvania took 661, Canada 635, Illinois 627 and Missouri 565.

Yield Of Carrots Same

The average yield of carrots in Texas was estimated at 165 bushels or the same as the year before. Yields in California are indicated at 500 and 166 bushels respectively. The heaviest week's shipment from Texas came during the week ending April 6 when 113 straight cars were shipped out.

Prices after the beet movement started were in most instances a little higher than those received the previous year. Practically the entire Texas crop is marketed in the half crates and at the opening of the season they were quoted at 70 to 85 cents in carloads, f.o.b. usual terms. Prices gradually declined until the January freeze and beets were selling in the half crate at mostly 50 to 60 cents the week of the freeze. The following week prices began to advance and reached $1.00 to $1.25 the last week of February. By the first of April, quotations were down to 60 to 75 cents which level was maintained until close of the season.

Onions Show Decline

The report, prepared by R. E. Winfrey, local representative of the market news service in Weslaco, noted a trend in the green bean deal from planting of Round Stringless varieties towards Bountiful and Valentine varieties.

Decline in the onion shipments and other factors in the vegetable season were noted.

The report included a mass of detailed information on various vegetable deals, figures being made up in form of tables.

Railroads Are Ready For War Emergeny

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The railroad industry reported Saturday that it was prepared to meet the nation's transportation needs — to handle increased traffic resulting from the national defense program or even from American participation in war.

"We're ready to go to bat right now," M. J. Gormley, executive assistant of the Association of American Railroads, told reporters.

Interpreting The War News

Hitler's Stock Soars

American Demand For Another Billion For Defense Shows U. S. Fears Ally Loss

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

American eyes turned from an Allied tragedy in Flanders to scan the sombre implications of President Roosevelt's reaction to it on the national defense home front.

The fresh blow delivered against her foes by Germany in Flanders sent administration estimates of urgent American defense needs skyrocketing up another billion and more before echoes of national reaction to the President's first defense emergency request had died down.

Behind that action must lie a reappraisal by the president of Franco-British ability long to continue the fight.

From that point of view, Mr. Roosevelt's action in doubling his request for emergency defense appropriations has grave significance. It hints at confidential advices from London and Paris painting a far gloomier outlook for Allied recovery than even the stark figures of Allied losses in men, ships and war gear would reveal if known.

The confidence of official Washington in ultimate Allied triumph already had been deeply shaken by successive German victories in Norway, Holland, Belgium and northern France. Even before the "Battle of the Bulge" in Flanders had collapsed, and the Germans reached the English Channel, some American technical experts rated German chances of ultimate complete victory as high as 60-40.

Roosevelt Gloomy

Mr. Roosevelt seemed to share that view even before he doubled his defense appropriation request of two weeks ago. If that is the fact, the new defense budget, out-moding the original before it could be more than roughly sketched into legislation or concrete plans for creation of a vast new industry, is a dark official American commentary on the situation in Europe. It would mean that in Washington inner government circles there is stark fear that the end of Allied resistance might come in months, not years.

Unquestionably only a new factual situation in Europe of gravest import to this country could have moved the President to double his emergency defense estimates within a span of days. Whether it gave rise to doubt that France could again cling grimly to the Somme-Aisne defense line, that Britain could long beat off Nazi air attacks on her fleet upkeep centers and vital sea communications, or to apprehension in Washington over the effect of the Flanders defeat on French and British public morale, the impact on American defense planning would be the same.

Any circumstance of the war, like the battle in Flanders that drew heavily on Allied reserves in men, stores, weapons and air units, would scale down estimates of the time France and Britain could endure and the time this country would have to make ready for whatever the future holds.

E. O. THOMPSON ENTERS RACE

Rail Chief To Run For Governor

AUSTIN—(AP)—Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson Saturday announced his candidacy for governor on a 14-point platform featuring an increase of five cents per barrel in the oil tax to finance social security services.

Thompson

He also expressed unalterable opposition to a sales tax in any form and advocated creation of a separate oil and gas commission and a statewide soil conservation program. Further, he advocated a reduction in the automobile license fee and substitution of free registration for the poll tax.

To Refund Salary

Announcing that his campaign would keep him away from his office much of the time, he asserted he would turn back his salary for the next three months to the old age assistance fund.

"I hope some of those who have been cut $6 per month can be restored," he said.

"If Governor O'Daniel and the other candidates who are on state pay will do the same, many more reductions can be restored to the aged. They will be out of office as much as I will be out of mine."

The commissioner added he would arrange to be in Austin frequently enough to keep up with commission work.

His platform included:

A 5-cent increase per barrel in the tax on oil as it comes out of the ground; a one-cent tax on natural gas for light and fuel purposes, increased tax on sulphur and a fair levy on carbon black.

Creation of an oil and gas conservation commission.

Opposition to a sales tax in any form.

Soil and range conservation laws that will do for the farmer what similar laws have done for the oil industry.

Reduction in the automobile registration fee.

Repeal of the poll tax law and substitution of free registration.

New Insane Hospitals

Construction of enough state hospitals to get the insane out of jails.

Repeal of the poll tax law and substitution of free registration.

Repeal of the 7,000-pound truck load limit law.

Assistance to organized labor in its efforts to improve the living standard of workers.

Creation of a utility commission with teeth in the law for rate regulation.

Slashing the cost of non-resident hunting and fishing licenses to encourage tourists.

Re-enactment every two years of the road bond assumption bill.

Strict anti-loan shark regulation.

A co-operative medical program.

French Youth Helps Trap 'Chutists

PARIS— (AP) —Thirteen-year-old Guy Bocher, of Massy, in the Seine Et Oise, district near Paris, received a 2,000 franc (currency about $36) savings account and a congratulatory letter from Interior Minister Mandel Saturday for taking part in the capture of three German parachutists.

While playing in a garden at his home May 23, the youth saw an airplane maneuvering overhead and then spotted three parachutes fluttering down.

He ran to the town hall to summon police, who rounded up the sky troopers in a running gunfight.

PLEA IS MADE TO AID CHINA

FD Says Should Not Be Forgotten

HARLINGEN—A plea to the American Red Cross not to forget the women and children of China, and to raise the goal of its current drive so that war sufferers in China may be aided without taking a penny from the sum being asked to help European refugees, has been voiced by 90 distinguished Americans including a former secretary of state, two ambassadors, and a number of governors, educators and churchmen.

Part of a letter, voicing the same plea, and written by President Roosevelt to Norman H. Davis as chairman of the National Red Cross, was quoted here Saturday by C. L. Brooks, chairman of the Harlingen chapter of the American Bureau for Medical Aid to China.

"We would not have a single penny diverted from the sum being raised to help the homeless and hungry and wounded in Europe," the president's letter read in part, "On the other hand, we feel that the present Red Cross drive, which asks for funds to aid Europe with no mention of China's plight, puts the American people in the position of turning their backs upon the suffering of a country where one-fourth of the human race is contentrated; a country which has a long tradition of friendship with the people of the United States, and which is fighting for its life just as the countries of Europe are, and against the same forces of aggression. We ask that the American Red Cross increase the goal of its drive and appeal to the generosity of the American people to help all war sufferers, all over the world."

Cameron Families Apply For Cotton To Be Used In Mattress Making For Aid To Surplus; Deadline Is June 30

SAN BENITO — Applications have been received so far from 150 Cameron county families for mattresses to be made from surplus Texas cotton, according to Miss Lu Elsie Nagel, county home demonstration agent.

All farm families with an income of $400 or less per year (half the income must be from some agricultural pursuit), are eligible for the mattresses, Miss Nagel said. Eligible families may receive 50 pounds of cotton and ten yards of eight-ounce ticking. They will make their own mattresses under supervision of the home demonstration department. Cost to the applicant will be only about 30 to 50 cents for thread and rent of needles.

Only one mattress to a family is allowed at the present time. The program is intended for the farmer in order to reduce surplus supplies of cotton. Already Texas families have applied for enough mattresses to use up 7,880 bales of surplus cotton. The deadline for applications is June 30.

Community centers probably will be set up to supervise the mattress making. Half the Cameron county applications received were from the Santa Maria community where a mattress center will be set up.

The Rotary Club will take care of Fitzgerald's expenses in Austin for six days and the legion will pay his transportation expenses both ways. The state legion organization is sponsoring "Boy's State" as a part of its citizenship training program.

PATRONS AND PROSPECTIVE CUSTOMERS

"THE VALLEY", TEXAS

During the past eighteen years we have been privileged to serve the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas. In that length of time we have been able to develop the type of service that we feel is best adapted to the needs of the Valley.

In these eighteen years many changes have been made to modernize our service. In keeping abreast of the times it has been necessary at times to change our entire system at one time or another.

We feel that our service can be improved if we route shipments of outgoing freight not by one carrier exclusively but by any of the lines with which we are connected which can give our patrons the most prompt and efficient service. Since at our terminals we make connections with all lines serving the Valley it will be an easy matter to choose lines which can offer our mutual customer better service at the smallest cost.

Especially do we wish to call the shippers attention to the steamship lines now serving the Valley. The Bull Steamship Line now offers excellent service between Brownsville, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Port Newark. The Clyde-Mallory Lines, represented in the Valley by the Philen Shipping Company, offers also an exceptionally good service between Brownsville, Boston, New York and Charleston. Shipments from and to the west coast can be well serviced by the Isthmian Steamship Lines which serves west coast ports to and from Brownsville. Officials of the Jones Motor Freight Lines feel that Valley shippers, small or large, can profit through the use of the services offered by these lines . . . coordinated with the unexcelled system of the Jones Lines.

We wish to impress upon our customers and prospective patrons that we are glad to give information concerning the best routings both in and out of the Valley. If we can be of service in any other way, please feel free to call us.

Please keep in mind, too, that our company offers several services daily to and from every Valley town. Consult our offices in Harlingen, Brownsville or McAllen for any additional information you might need.

Sincerely Yours,

JONES MOTOR FREIGHT LINES

Jehovah's Witnesses Give Notice To Harlingen Of New Activities

RAMSEY WARNS THEY DO SO ON 'OWN RISK'

Fighting Mayor Gives His Comments

HARLINGEN—Notice to the city's police department that its members will during the next few days carry on their activities in Harlingen, was given here Saturday by the Jehovah's Witness group which has recently been running into trouble in various parts of the Valley and state.

Stating they did not ask permission to do this, claiming that "The Constitution of the United States . . . guarantees our right to do this work;" the Jehovah's Witnesses in their written notice asked that "appropriate action be taken" to see that the police officials will "guarantee" to them "protection from mobs and riots."

Has Two Clashes

Mayor Hugh Ramsey, who on two occasions in the past week has had physical encounters with members of the sect who claimed to be loyal but nevertheless said they would not salute the American flag nor fight for the country, Saturday prepared written comment on the "notice." The mayor said he did not understand viewpoint of a man who exercises his religious liberty through medium of attacks upon convictions of others; and expressed opinion those who evidence disloyalty by disparaging the principles of the nation, will do so at their own risk.

The "notice" by the Jehovah's Witnesses, and Mayor Ramsey's comments follow:

"To the police department of the city of Harlingen:

"In these perilous times it is manifest that the people should receive instruction concerning the worship of Almighty God in spirit and in truth. This is to inform you that during the next few days a number of persons devoted to the service of Almighty God and Christ Jesus will visit the homes of this city and present to the people Bible instruction that they may be better informed as to how they may receive aid and comfort by the study of the Holy Scriptures.

"In the interest of public order and for the good of all in this community and that our work may be understood, we feel that you should receive this information; hence this letter.

"Since the Constitution of the United States and the Decision of the Highest Court in the land guarantee our right to do this work, we are not asking permission; and since Almighty God commands it must be done, we could not ask permission from man to do this work; but we are informing you, that you may know that our work is done in sincerity and in truth for the general welfare. We appreciate police co-operation that has been furnished in the past.

"In some places misguided persons deem it to be their duty to interfere with work such as we are doing. We hope to have no such interference, but if we do we would appreciate your co-operation in restraining the unlawful interruption of the charitable and benevolent work in which we are engaging.

"This is to advise you that Jehovah's Witnesses will continue to exercise their God-given and constitutionally secured rights to distribute literature from door to door and on the streets in Harlingen. This fact is called to your attention now and you are now hereby requested to take appropriate action to see that the police officials will guarantee to Jehovah's Witnesses protection from mobs and riots in the City of Harlingen. You are requested to communicate with them to ascertain this fact immediately.

Respectfully submitted,
JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES"

The following is Mayor Ramsey's comment:

"In taking notice of the above communication it is my comment that "in these perilous times" it behooves all citizens of these United States to take cognizance of the innumerable blessings and privileges of their citizenship. "It is manifest" that our peace, security and perpetuity are dependent upon loyalty and appreciation of the sacrifices which have been made in peace and in war by those men whose names we should ever recollect with gratitude.

"In the list of blessings enjoyed in this Country the right of religious liberty is one of the most valued. My understanding of religious liberty is that all men shall be privileged to worship God in the manner which to them seems right and beneficial. It is my opinion therefore, that each man should worship as he pleases. I am unable to comprehend the ignorant viewpoint which leads to the conviction that One man should exercise his religious liberty through the medium of attacks upon the convictions of others. It is a strange creed which demands respect for its own views and in the same breath condemns the views of other men. I am of the belief that all men and all faiths are entitled to equal protection under the law.

"The fathers of this nation in their wisdom, enunciated the principle that church and state should forever be seperate. In my opinion the respect due this nation and its flag is something entirely separate from religion and forms of worship.

Believes In Government

"I believe in God, and in the worship of God, and I believe in religion, and I will fight for my beliefs. I also believe in my Government. I think it is the best on the face of the earth. I reverence and respect its flag, and the things the flag represents. I denounce and resent attacks upon the flag of the United States. I am of the opinion that a man can, at one and the same time, be a good citizen and a good Christian. I respectfully suggest that, in the interest of understanding and good will, the writer of the foregoing letter, and those whom he represents, confine themselves to the preaching of the gospel and refrain from attacks upon the religious convictions of others, and from statements derogatory to our flag and our system of government.

"The Constitution of the United States guarantees them this privilege. I can find no warrant therein for attacks upon the convictions dear to other men. In times such as these, when patriotic citizens are quick to resent disrespect to our flag and our system of government, it is my private opinion that those who evidence their disloyalty to this Nation and its principles by verbal and printed utterances, disparaging and disrespectful toward the principles for which our fathers fought and died, will do so at their own risk, and should not thereafter be heard to complain about the consequences.

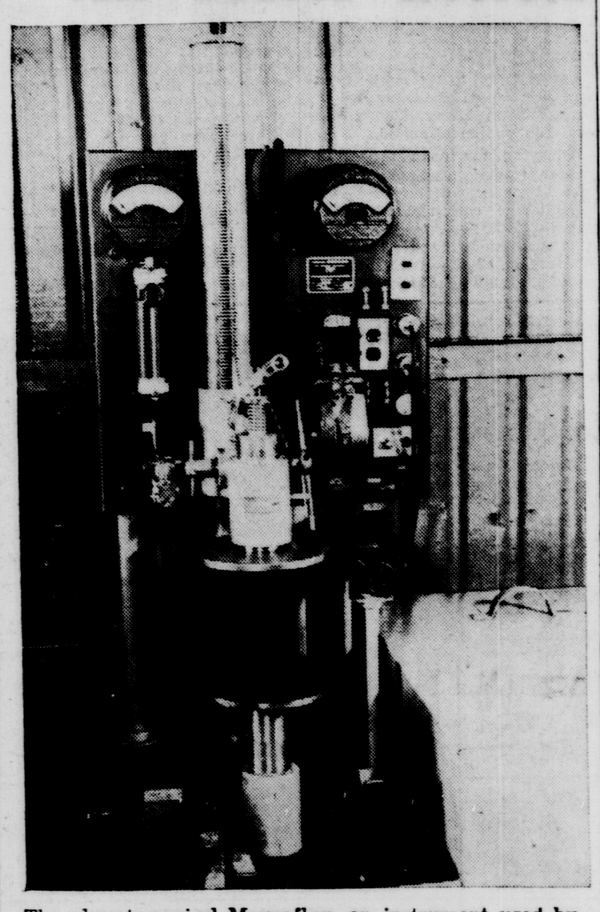
BROWNSVILLE ALSO HAS PROTESTS OVER PAMPHLETS

BROWNSVILLE—Police received numerous calls Saturday afternoon complaining that several members of a religious sect known as Jehovah's Witnesses were distributing pamphlets or magazines in the downtown section of Brownsville.

Acting Police Chief Henry Gordon said he had been advised by City Attorney Ralph Dunkelberg that police could take no action to curb the activities of the group.

That religious sect has been under fire in the Valley recently as well as over the state and nation, in connection with aroused feelings of citizens over possible "fifth column" activities in this country.

'Magic' Device Finds Air Motor Defects



The almost magical Magnaflux, an instrument used by Pan American Airways at Brownsville to locate cracks and other defects in steel and its magnetic alloys, is shown above. The powerful machine locates cracks below the surface too minute to be visible even under powerful microscopes.

By A. D. HAWKINS

BROWNSVILLE — Whiteman's "magic," a miracle of modern science, is used by Pan American Airways here to locate cracks, and other defects in steel and in magnetic alloys.

Folks have heard of lie detectors, water witches, doodle bugs and other devices for searching out the secrets of mind and soil, but few have heard of PAA's almost magical machine.

This scientific instrument, which possesses an uncanny sense, and probes beneath the surface of metals to locate defects, is known as the Magnaflux.

The Magnaflux can locate cracks below the surface of the metal that are not even visible under powerful microscopes.

Important Role

It plays an important, but little heralded role of the PAA shops here where motors are overhauled for PAA's western division, Pacific division, Alaska division, Compania Mexicana de Aviacion and even Pan Air of Brazil.

The crankshafts, connecting rods, piston pins, cylinders, valves, gears, wheels, axles, propeller hubs and all the other motor and airplane parts that are subject to any strain, are tested by the Magnaflux at every overhaul.

Though seldom found defective, new parts, even nuts and bolts, are carefully tested.

The Magnaflux method locates any fatigue cracks, grinding checks, seams, faulty welds, etc., before failures are caused, and effects a great saving in both time and overhaul costs.

Contributes To Safety

Such measures contribute to the safety records of U. S. scheduled air lines, and typifies the policy of U. S. scheduled air lines, and typifies the policy of Pan American Airways in designing, or purchasing the most modern devices known, always striving for better service, and greater safety.

The safety record of the Air Transport Association of America shows 840 million passenger miles flown in 1939 without a single fatal accident.

Here's how the Magnaflux works:

Pieces to be tested are placed between the electrodes of this machine, through which an electric current flows, thoroughly magnetizing them. Some irregular shaped, or large sized parts must be magnetized in several different directions before the test is complete.

The magnetized part is then submerged in a bath of very fine iron particles (Magnaflux paste), dissolved in a special oil known as ultrasene. When removal from this solution, a very careful inspection is made.

Defect Breaks Circuit

Any crack, or defect, causes a break in the magnetic field of force set-up by the electric charge, which had just been given, and forms two magnetic poles. These poles collect the iron particles of the bath just like a toy magnet picks up tacks or nails.

The iron particles which adhere to the crack, or defect, are easily seen during inspection, and all defective parts are immediately discarded.

As for the perfect parts, they are completely demagnetized in a machine expressly designed for this purpose. They are then thoroughly washed in a special solvent to remove all traces of iron powder.

BREEDER MEET TO BE MONDAY

FSA Sponsors Better Valley Cattle

HARLINGEN — Officers will be elected, fees for services set and other business transacted by directors of the newly organized Valley livestock improvement association at a meeting set for 7:30 p. m. Monday at the Reese-Wil-Mond Hotel.

This meeting follows a series held over the Valley by the Farm Security Administration for its clients and other cattle owners who may wish to become members. C. W. Weston of Dallas, supervisor-at-large for the FSA, said following the San Benito meeting Saturday that the members guaranteed by the FSA would be signed by early part of the week.

The Valley-wide organization will require 600 members to function efficiently and the FSA has guaranteed that 300 of its clients will join. The FSA also will assist eligible farmers who are not clients if they lack the original fee of $10. There were 40 clients signed up at a meeting in Edinburg Wednesday, 47 at Raymondville Friday and about an equal number of San Benito Saturday.

The association will provide at least one and possibly two bulls for dairy cow owners, and possibly Hereford, milking shorthorn and shorthorn and Brahma bulls for beef cattle owners.

Directors are Dr. C. C. Conley, Dr. C. M. Corbett and Doc Stovall from Willacy county, Jack Younkin, Jesse L. Prater and A. M. Thompson from Hidalgo county and J. C. Steusser, R. M. King and M. B. Finley of Cameron county.

Babson Says

ALLIES CAN STILL TURN TIDE OF WAR

But Economist Urges U. S. To Rearm

CHARLESTON, S. C. — Without a doubt these are the most critical days in at least a century of world history. Only a few months ago we were talking about a "phoney" war. Only a few weeks ago the Allied generals were talking about that "crazy paper hanger" in Germany. Even the London Times which arrived here a few days back discussed the peace terms which England would inflict on Germany when Hitler was mopped up.

When recently talking with our high government officials, they told me that the French army was invincible. They admitted that the war might be a long struggle, but insisted that no army could whip the French. They stated that it was the largest, most completely-equipped army in the world. They also spoke in highest terms of its commanders and especially of the French strategists. Certainly, it makes one lose confidence in army officials to see what has taken place only a few weeks after such statements. For evidence, read The Congressional Record and the report of committee hearings.

Maginot Line Like Chinese Wall

What has happened to this "invincible" army is now known to everyone. Many are asking the hows and whys of what has recently occurred. The simple truth is that Germany has developed and used an entirely new form of warfare. As this new technique has been explained to readers by other writers, I will not go into details. The great Maginot Line, built at the expense of a billion dollars during the past 20 years seems as obsolete as the Chinese Wall. Get this point, however: The German successes have been due to the willingness of the Allies to depend upon their prestige, material wealth, and "what licked Germany before."

There is still time for the Allies to turn the tide or at least stop the German advances. The war is not hopeless for Great Britain. It is true that the Germans control one side of the English Channel, but England still controls the other side. It is true that London is now only a few miles from Germany's new air fields, but it is likewise true that these German air bases are only a few miles from British shores. Moreover, do not forget that England still has her navy and merchant marine intact.

Right Over Might

The answer to the question, "Will Great Britain collapse?" will be determined not by Germany's blitzkriegs, but by the character of the English people. From time immemorial, new methods of warfare have been developed. Those nations which first grasped and used these new methods, have, temporarily, been successful. The ultimate force, however, which has determined the result has been spiritual rather than material. The "blitzkrieg" is no more important in the eyes of history than the invention of the long bow to take place of spears, of powder and shot to replace battering rams, of iron ships to overcome wooden frigates.

These are days when we should read ancient history. A study of the rise and fall of Babylon, Persia, Egypt, Greece, Rome, and the Spanish Empire shows that new methods of warfare have won battles but have never won wars. This is being demonstrated by what I saw in the Far East last September. There barefooted and poorly - equipped Chinese armies are holding up Japan's modern war machine fully equipped with airplanes, tanks, and artillery.

Gang Warfare

Let us be calm for a moment and visualize what is now happening among the German-conquered nations. As various countries are taken over, a Hitler aide is placed in control. There are now dictators in Czechoslovakia, Austria, and Poland. These already are beginning to differ as to policy. Recently other dictators have been placed in Norway, Denmark, Holland, and Belgium. Considering the native brutality and dishonesty of these sub-dictators, isn't it certain that they will soon begin fighting among themselves?

This is all the more likely when one considers that these nations all have different languages, great traditions, and diverse instincts. Brutality, deceit, and ingenuity will be used by these sub-dictators to trap one another just as they have been used to trap innocent and peaceful neutrals. "A leopard cannot change its spots." History shows that if the English race is willing to stake their lives and property, they in the end will save both; but not in any other way.

Arm Immediately

Here in the United States, we need at least fifty thousand airplanes to protect North and South America. If we can produce four million pleasure cars a year, we certainly ought to be able to produce fifty thousand military planes. I am behind those who demand adequate defense for this hemisphere. We must be in a position to give effective aid to Canada and the West Indies whenever they ask for it, without demanding a penny for our services. We, however, must remember that battleships, airplanes, and tanks will not save America any more than these things have thus far saved the Allies. Security cannot be purchased; it comes only through courage, self-sacrifice, and discipline.

It also should be remembered that these airplanes which we are building can be used against us by an INSIDE enemy just as easily as we can use them against an outside foe. This means a character-building campaign should be a definite part of our defense program. Now, more than ever before in the history of warfare, it is vital that the people of the strongest character should furnish the men who are to be trained for this new and all-important branch of our national defense. Let religious and civic leaders who are serious in their prayers re-read this last sentence.

Oil Show Is Reported In Area Wildcat Test

Proven Fields Have Busy Week When Six Seen

McALLEN — Valley wildcatting was paced Saturday by oil shows on production test in a prospective new field in south central Starr County and similar tests continued in a highly important northeastern Starr wildcat. Other deep Valley wells were drilling, one past 10,000 feet.

About five miles southeast of the Barbacoas field in south central Starr, George E. Boyle et al's No. 1 E. B. Carruth et al, Share 1-B, Portions 91-92, Camargo Jurisdiction, was flowing oil in small heads while cleaning through casing perforations (24 shots) at 3,491-97 feet to open a new field. Total depth was 3,504 feet, where 5 1-2-inch o.d. oil string was cemented. On 1-8-inch tubing choke, the well showed 275 pounds tubing working pressure and 450 pounds closed-in casing pressure and the pressures were rising slightly as the well slowly cleaned.

There seemed to be little doubt that the well would open a considerable acreage to development and apparently proved Boyle's contentions of several years that oil would be found in commercial quantities along a northwest extension of the Samfordyce fault area. Location has been staked about 1,000 feet north of the well for the Boyle et al No. 2 Carruth et al, which will be drilled immediately.

Tests Are Continuing

While considerable acreage and royalty was said to have changed hands or was included in pending deals, little definite information as to prices was available.

In northeastern Starr, Sun Oil Company No. 1 W. G. Lehr, Survey 513, several miles west and a little south of the Sun field, was swabbing a little oil with salt water showings through casing perforations (50 shots) at 4,127-37 feet. Production test was continuing.

One and a half miles to the south of the Lehr wildcat, Sun No. 1 Claude King, Survey 511, was drilling at 2,987 feet on a deep wildcat.

Drilling Stem Test Set

In far northeastern Starr, between the La Reforma distillate discovery well and the southwest extension well of the La Reforma field, Magnolia Petroleum's No. 3 F. G. Guerra, Share 25-B, Santa Cruz Grant, was drilling past 6,100 feet.

In southern Starr a short distance north of Zim field, Glenn Harroun's No. 1 Margaret Seabury, southeast corner of Share 46, Portion 80, Camargo Jurisdiction, cored a new sand at 1,341-46 feet and was reaming down for drill stem test The sand was well-saturated and apparently carried considerable oil.

In western Starr, T. E. Stephens et al's No. 1 H. P. Guerra, Tract 269, Portion 69, north of the old Empire well, was drilling around 1,500 feet.

Cameron Well Is Deep

In western Hidalgo County about two miles east of the Samfordyce field, Homer P. Lee et al's No. A-2 Yturria Town and Improvement Company, Portion 42, Reynosa Jurisdiction, spudded and cemented 10 3-4-inch o.d. surface casing at 222 feet. The test is scheduled for 4,000 feet or deeper. Location is several hundred feet southwest of the No. A-1 Yturria.

In southeastern Cameron County about six miles south of Port Isabel, Pure Oil Company No. 1 Garcia Land and Cattle Company, was drilling around 10,050 feet on the deepest wildcat now under way in the Lower Rio Grande Valley area. Only two wells have ever surpassed it in depth in the Valley, the Shell Petroleum No. 1 Yturria, which went to 10,286 feet, and the Magnolia No. 1 F. Armendaiz, which went to 10,324 feet, both in western Willacy County.

SIX MORE WELLS FINISHED IN VALLEY PROVEN AREAS

McALLEN—Another big week came to a close Saturday for Lower Rio Grande Valley proven fields when six wells were completed, three more had casing cemented and more than a dozen others were drilling. Sun field in northeastern Starr reported two new producers, while one each was completed in the Colorado, Kelsey, Sullivan City and Rincon fields.

By far the most active area was the Rincon field, where seven rigs were running steadily. The new Rincon producer was W. R. Davis and Company No. A-7 Slick Estate, Survey 231, on the north edge of the chief producing area. Through casing perforations (50 shots) at 4,212-28 feet, the well gauged 250 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 275 pounds tubing working pressure and 825 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Two wells in the field had casing cemented on the sand.

Gas-Cut Mud Recovered

Davis No. B-25 Slick Estate, Survey 266, in the west part of the field, recovered 85 feet of gas-cut mud with 615 pounds pressure on 10-minute drill stem test of sand at 4,030-60 feet. In sand at 4,060-87 feet, operators recovered 850 feet of oil with 115 pounds pressure in 17 minutes. Sand at 4,200-11 feet yielded 540 feet of oil and 101 pounds pressure in 17 miutes, while 50 feet of mud without pressure was recovered in sand at 4,289-4,302 feet. Operators cemented 7-inch o.d. oil string at 4,254 feet.

Davis No. A-3 Slick Estate, Survey 231, another north edge well, also recovered oil on three drill stem tests as follows: 3,853-65 feet, recovered 940 feet of oil with 100 pounds pressure in 17 minutes; 4,056-66 feet, recovered 1,280 feet of oil with 133 pounds pressure in 17 minutes; and 4,202-45 feet, recovered 1,470 feet of oil with 180 pounds pressure in 17 minutes. Seven-inch o.d. casing was cemented on bottom at 4,262 feet.

Four other wels in the field were making hole.

Davis Well Coring

The field's north edge well, Davis No. A-9 Slick Estate, Survey 231, 660 feet north of production, recovered oil in two sands: 3,846-70 feet, drill stem test showed 1,980 feet of oil without pressure in 17 minutes; sand at 4,071-4,107 feet flowed oil in 14 minutes with 25 pounds pressure, flowed continuously for 70 minutes and operators recovered 1,890 feet of oil. The well was coring at 4,150 feet.

Davis No. B-27 Slick Estate, Survey 266, in the west part of the field, recovered 375 feet of oil with 60 pounds pressure in 17 minutes from sand at 4,054-72 feet and recovered 580 feet of oil and 180 feet of oil-cut mud with 100 pounds pressure on 17-minute drill stem test of sand at 4,074-92 feet. Sand at 4,187-4,215 feet yielded 120 feet of oil and 30 feet of mud with 55 pounds pressure in 15 minutes, and operators continued coring at 4,290 feet.

At the southwestern extremity of the producing area, Davis No. A-2 F. (Dee) Davenport, Survey 944, recovered 935 feet of oil with 60 pounds pressure in 17 minutes from sand at 3,786-3,815 feet, while a second sand at 4,044-67 feet yielded 800 feet of oil with 155 pounds pressure in 17 minutes. Operators continued coring at 4,102 feet.

Two New Producers

Davis No. A-10 Slick Estate, Survey 231, another north well, was drilling at 1,534 feet.

Sun reported two new producers and three new wells started in the Sun field in northeastern Starr, while Humble Oil and Refining Company had another new test in the northwest part of the field going down.

Sun's No. 8-A, Olivares, Survey 239, an inside location, gun-perforated with 72 shots at 4,615-28 feet and the well made an estimated 100 barrels daily on 9-64 inch tubing choke with 425 pounds tubing working pressure and 565 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

On the west edge of the field, Sun's No. B-2, Speer, Survey 236, made about 250 barrels daily on 3-16 inch tubing choke with 300 pounds tubing working pressure and 90 pounds closed-in casing pressure through casing perforations (20 shots) at 4,950-53 feet.

Inside Wells Spudded

A new southwest edge well is Sun No. C-1 Spear, in the northeast corner of Survey 234. Operators spudded and cemented 10 3-4 inch o.d. surface casing at 1,010 feet.

Two new inside wells were also spudded. Sun's No. 8 Geo. H. Speer, Survey 238, was drilling at 2,365 feet, and Sun's No. 9 A Olivares, Survey 239, cemented 10 3-4 inch o.d. surface pipe at 1,018 feet.

In the northwestern part of the Sun field, Humble No. 8 N. R. Montalvo, northeast corner of Survey 237, made salt water on drill stem test at 4,129-37 feet and was drilling below 4,890 feet.

New Producer 'In'

One new producer was completed in the Kelsey field in Brooks county and one new well was drilling. Humble's No. 54 J. C. McGill, La Blanca Grant, Brooks county, gauged 101 barrels daily on 7-64 inch tubing choke with 600 pounds tubing working pressure and 650 pounds closed-in casing pressure from sand at 4,716-23 feet.

Humble's No. 50 J. C. McGill, also in La Blanca Grant, Brooks county, was drilling below 3,000 feet.

One new producer and two wells under way provided steady development for the Colorado field in western Jim Hogg county.

Humble No. 13 Atwood Heirs, Survey 36, on the east edge of the field, gauged 134 barrels daily on 3-16 inch tubing choke with 150 pounds tubing working pressure and 650 pounds closed-in casing pressure from sand at 3,081-88 feet.

Royal Has Producer

Humble's No. 12 King Ranch-Colorado, Survey 42, was coring around 3,000 feet.

Sun spudded its first well in the Colorado field, the No. 1 N. S. Thaxton, Survey 670, in the north part of the area. Operators cemented 10 3-4 inch o.d. surface pipe around 100 feet and were drilling past 800 feet.

In the Sullivan City field in western Hidalgo county, Royal Oil and Gas Company completed a good producer in the field's 4,100-foot sand, and two other wells were under way as operations began to resume in the area. There are now about four proved locations on the north edge of the field which will probably be drilled shortly.

New Location Given

Royal's No. A-2 V. G. Chapa, Tract 236, Por. 39, Reynosa Jurisdiction, gauged 107 barrels daily on 9-64 inch tubing choke with 1,050 pounds tubing working pressure and 1,550 pounds closed-in casing pressure. Casing was gun-perforated with 24 shots at 4,093-4,100 feet after the hole had been bottomed and pipe set at 4,121 feet.

Royal's B-1 V. G. Chapa, Tract 239, Portion 40, Reynosa Jurisdiction, was coring past 3,000 feet.

Derrick was up and machinery was being moved in for H. J. Porter et al's No. 1 Febronio Flores, 330 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east lines of Tract 240, Portion 40, Reynosa Jurisdiction.

LOZAS SAID NEAR DEATH

Mexico Resident Is Crash Victim

EDINBURG — Florentino Lozas, 24-year-old resident of Mexico who arrived recently in the Valley, lay near death at County-City hospital here Saturday as the result of an auto crash Friday night which threatened to climax fatally a visit to a brother he had not seen for 22 years.

Lozas was struck by a car driven by Lee Kidder, 18, of Mercedes, as he walked across U. S. Highway 83 a few blocks east of the East Donna read near that city. Occupied by Ralph Powell, 18, Miss Jean Kirkpatrick, 16, and Miss Billy Powell, 18, all of Mercedes, the machine was going west at the time. A car moving east narrowly escaped striking Lozas, who walked into the center lane of the three-lane highway and then moved in front of the Kidder car, Assistant District Attorney Jack Ross said.

Several officers investigated the case Saturday morning when the victim, first identified as Apolonio Lozas of San Juan, was later found to be the brother of Apolonio Friends who identified him at the hospital said he had not seen his brother since he was two years old and had been living with relatives on a ranch in Mexico.

The victim wore two pairs of trousers, had an extra undershirt stuffed into one of his pants pocket, and carried a packet containing two photographs, which aided his identification.

Other officers aiding the investigation were State Patrolmen J. H Hollyfield and W. M. Miller and County Patrolmen Truett Jordan and George Murray.

Fifty persons have been killed in Valley auto crashes thus far this year.

AIR DEFENSE SESSION DUE

McAllen Is Seeking Plane Base

McALLEN—H. M. Smith of Fort Worth, airport engineer for the Civil Aeronautics Authority, is expected to arrive in McAllen next week to confer with a local committee seeking to launch a Valley air defense project.

Members of the McAllen committee plan to ask Smith for suggestions on steps to secure adequate air defense for the Valley area.

The committee, headed by H. H. Hensley, met Friday afternoon to discuss preliminary plans to obtain the cooperation of other Valley cities in their efforts to get an air base in this section.

At a meeting of the McAllen Chamber of Commerce directors last week it was pointed out that immediate action has to be taken by Valley citizens to assure defense bases located along the border, which military strategists claim could be subject to invasion.

Captain Abbott served as best man, and Mrs. Abbott attended Miss Bryson. Captain Foreman came to Harlingen Saturday morning, but the marriage was a surprise to their acquaintances here.

TOM SHIPPING ON INCREASE

Trackholdings Go Up As Result

HARLINGEN—Heavy shipments of the past few days have piled up tomatoes in the markets and trackholdings by Monday may be up to 600 cars, well ahead of the consumption at this time of the year, a local factor in the tomato deal said Saturday.

Trackholdings Saturday were 410 cars, highest of the season, and week-end accumulations are expected to send the total away up. Saturday's shipments from all areas totaled 245 cars but earlier in the week shipments reached 290 and 322 cars.

Saturday's total consisted of 77 from Texas and 168 from Florida. The Valley moved 42 cars out of the state total.

Prices to the growers were around two cents a pound field run or two to two and a half cents for U. S. No. 1, grade, 6x6 pack and one and a half cents for 6x7 pack.

Rains Thursday, Friday and Saturday have interfered with shipments from the Florida East Coast and Lake sections which have been going out at the rate of 90 to 100 cars a day but the West Coast and Ocala sections are still pitching in the tomato league with 125 to 150 cars daily.

A Tough Job

Did you ever have a real case of spring fever and at the same time have to do a chore? If you have had, then you will understand exactly how we feel as we sit at our desk trying to think of something to write about that might be of some interest to those who by chance read this column.

Possibly it doesn't make any difference to you, but after the games of Thursday, the Boston Red Sox, leading the American League, and the Brooklyn Dodgers, in second place in the National League, had the same number of wins and loses.

Two new football coaches will be seen in action at McAllen this fall. Kenneth Grimes, who did quite a job of fulbacking at Texas A. and I. last year, will become assistant to Maco Stewart and Phil Cage, recently at Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos, will take over the duties of junior high coach. . . . .

Fort Worth is all pepped up over getting the National Open in 1941. And why shouldn't they be? It is the first time the big golfing event has been held in the Southwest. From what we can learn, every golfer in Texas is happy over the result of Fort Worth's fine work. It would not be surprising to see the biggest gallery in the history of the event. . . . .

Baseball's a funny game. Just a few short months ago Roy Cullenbine was worth $25,000 just to sign a contract. Now he went for $7,500, the waiver price. Cullenbine was picked up by the St. Louis Browns and we will be very much interested to see how he goes for Fred Haney who has long been a big booster for the lad who played for him when he was manager of the Toledo club. . . . .

Why doesn't someone start the ball rolling to get an Open for the Valley next year? We believe the top pros would flock here if the dates were set at a time to catch them on their way East after playing the West coast schedule of tournaments. The Valley has two courses they could play over, Harlingen and Brownsville. The publicity the Valley would receive would be more than worth whatever it cost to stage the tourney. . . .

Isn't it nice and peaceful now that the ballyhoo artists have nothing to say about a heavyweight fight. But it won't be long now until we hear all about what great fighters Max Baer, Tony Galento, Arturo Godoy, etc. are. And how they will put up a great fight against Joe Louis. . . .

Wonder why we can't get our mind off fishing conditions in our coastal waters? Guess it is just that we remember when we should get reds and trout in the bay, out of the surf and off the jetties. Surely something can be done to remedy the situation but it should be done as quickly as possible. Personally we think Hart Stilwell's idea for a governmental survey is the best idea of all to determine the cause of lack of fish. . . .

"Dutch" Flory and "Chili" Stone, coaches in the Harlingen school system, postcard from Windsor, Ontario, that they are having a fine time on their vacation trip and in the same mail comes an invitation from Thomas Glynne "Baldy" Magee, popular assistant coach at Edinburg, to attend his wedding on June 24 in Fort Worth. . . .

Do you suppose that San Benito is the only town in the Valley without a softball league in action? For that matter they may have one and there might be others without one.

Have you noticed how that young fellow, Howard Pollet, is going for the Houston Buffs? Friday night he hung up his eleventh consecutive mound victory which is a modern record for the circuit.. If he keeps going his name will appear in the St. Louis Cardinals' box score before long. . . .

Whether it means anything or not, the league radio announcers have picked the Cincinnati Reds and Boston Red Sox to meet in the World Series. Makes our pick bad since we selected the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees. . . .

Of all the youngsters who broke into organized baseball with the champion Harlingen Hubs, it appears that Tommy Tatum (Red Mays to most of you) has the best chance of going places. Holding down the utility job with Nashville, Tommy is hitting the ball hard and has done a swell job of filling in at several positions. Damon Phillips, Gene Hinrichs and Dale Jones are other former Hubs who are still playing in the top minors.

Has anyone tried for Spanish mackerel off the jetties? Reports are coming in that the water is clear and still but we have had no chance to make a definite check on this. That sort of fishing is great sport.

McAllen Schedules Tennis Tournament

McALLEN—A Valley men's tennis tournament July 4-6 on the local clay courts was announced Saturday by Chuck Wagner, court manager.

Chief feature of the tournament will be rankings given entrants on the basis of their play. Thus Valley players will know how they stand, Wagner said. In addition, trophies will be awarded champions and runner-ups.

Entry fees are $1 for singles and $1.50 for doubles. Closing entry date is June 28. A boys tournament will be staged July 12, 13.

Few Changes Adopted In Rule Setup

Interest Mounts In Big Event

PORT ISABEL — With several new features added which are expected to meet with the hearty approval of all prospective entrants in the big sports event, plans for the Seventh Annual Rio Grande Valley Fishing Rodeo, to be held at Port Isabel, August 1-4, are virtually complete, officials announced Saturday.

Perhaps the greatest change from former set-ups of the fishing rodeo is in the marlin division of the event. Any size line may be used with the award going to the contestant catching the largest marlin. This is expected to increase the catch of the big fellows for in the past many have been lost due to inexperienced anglers using light tackle. For the first time a worthwhile award will be made for catching the second largest marlin.

Another change in the rules has been made and will affect the sailfish division. This year the championship sailfish trophy will go to the person scoring the greatest number of points accordng to the size of line and weight of fish.

In the tarpon division, the championship trophy will be won by the entrant scoring the greatest number of points on tarpon ONLY. Previously a mixed bag was allowed with the provision that at least one tarpon must be caught.

For the information of all interested persons, the following rules and regulations of the 1940 event have been approved by the directors of the rodeo as well as other information concerning the rodeo:

RULES AND REGULATIONS

During some of our past contests we have allowed an extended period covering several weeks in some divisions particularly the marlin and sailfish divisions. This extended period was allowed for the convenience of our out of Valley participants who might not be able to be present during the three day Rodeo Roundup. Experience has taught us however that on the contrary such arrangement involked a handicap upon contestants from beyond the boundaries of the Valley and gave contestants who lived close at hand an advantage. This policy has been abandoned and we have returned to our original plan of a three day contest. The only exception being that we are allowing a full week in the marlin division.

The contest (in the marlin division only) shall begin the morning of July 28 and shall close at the end of the day of August 3. All Marlin caught during this period shall be considered in the contest. Fishing in the 3 day Rodeo Roundup shall begin at daylight on the morning of August 1 and shall stop at the end of the day August 3, during which time all fish, including marlin will be scored.

Class A

The contest shall be divided into two classes which shall be known as class A and Class B. Class A contestants shall be all who compete for the championship trophies and awards and such other prizes as are designated as Class A prizes. Class A contestants, signifies those fishing off shore for such fish as marlin, sailfish, tarpon, wahoo, tuna, king mackerel, spanish mackrel, jackfish, bonita, etc., fish being taken from a power boat by trolling. The registration fee for Class A contestants shall be $5.00.

Class B

Class B fishing shall be what is known as the inland water class and shall include fish which are usually caught in the bay, passes, river's mouth, off of jetties, docks and from surf or near the coast in open water, such as trout, redfish, channel bass, spanish mackrel, king mackrel, pike, jackfish and etc. A separate attractive selection of Class B prizes has been designed for the separate contests in class B. The registration fee for all class B contestants shall be $1.00.

Scoring Points

In the marlin division no system of scoring points will be adhered to, the prizes being awarded upon the basis of the size of the marlin caught. Any size line will be permitted at the discretion of the contestant. NOTE: a word of warning is thought advisable to those of inexperience, fishing for marlin, that they not attempt to catch marlin with inadequate tackle. Not less than forty marlin have been lost during the past three years due to the use of tackle entirely too light for these fish.

For all other fish caught during the 3 day roundup a system of scoring similar to that used in recent years are again being used in 1940. The classification of tackle into heavy, medium and light or into 6-9, 4-6, etc will not be adhered to. The following system of scoring will be used for all fish caught during the 3 day roundup period, except marlin: the weight of the fish shall be divided by the size of line. result to be multiplied by 10 (size of line to mean number of threads of any standard line except Cable Laid line—in case Cable Laid line is used the judges of the contest shall determine in advance the relationship such line shall bear to standard line): A fish weighing 108 pounds caught on number 9 line; divide 108 the weight of fish, by 9, the size of line, which equals 12, which multiplied by 10, given a score of 120 points. Were the same fish caught on number 12 line, the result would be 90 points, and if caught on number 24 would be 45 points.

All fish caught in either A or B class (less than 20 lbs.) shall be weighed as a mixed bag and the days catch shall be scored according to the weight of the line the same as for larger fish. Regulation tackle (except in the marlin division) shall mean any rod and reel with a line not to exceed number 30. All tackle used in the contest must be inspected and classified by the judges before the contestant enters the contest and upon submitting the fish for recording each contestant shall be required to produce the tackle upon which the fish was caught if so demanded by the judges. If the contestant carries more than one size of line upon his boat he may be required to produce an affadivit as to the size of line used when the fish was taken, if so demanded by the judges. All fish taken in the contest must be delivered to the judges of the contest at the close of each day of fishing if the boat touches port, to be weighed and registered and proper points scored. NOTE: This rule shall not be interpreted so that all contestants must return to port at the end of each day of fishing. Those wishing to remain at anchor well off shore through the night shall deliver their fish to the judges whenever they come to port.

Each boat fishing in inland waters or near shore shall carry a white pennant or white flag which shall be hoisted upon a staff when a large fish is hooked. Any boat with a fish hooked that has displayed the proper flag shall have the right-of-way over any boat that has no fish hooked. Any boatman who interferes with any contestant who has a fish hooked shall forfeit all rights to prizes and shall be further penalized at the discretion of the judges.

All boats when coming into port whether fishing in inland waters or off shore shall fly their white flag at the top of their mast or staff to indicate if they have been successful in catching a marlin, sailfish, tarpon or any other fish of importance.

A receiving station will be established and all fish caught during the contest must be delivered to the judges or clerks for recording as soon as the boat reaches port.

It shall be the duty of the judges to supervise fishing at all times while fishing is in progress in the inland waters.

Entertainment

An interesting full day of entertainment will be arranged for Sunday, August 4 in connection with the ceremony of awarding the prizes.

The program will be in charge of a special committee. It will include events of interest to all persons, adults and juvenile. This program will have the cooperation of all Port Isabel civic organizations who will be aided by some of the affiliated organizations of the Valley.

Boats and Guides

Port Isabel boatmen and fishing guides have resided there many years and are capable and reliable licensed pilots and expert fishermen, familiar with every inch of the surrounding waters. Charges range upward from $15.00 per day for guides and boats, depending upon the class and capacity of the boats. Guides, without boats $5.00 per day.

All boats and guides are required to register with the Organization committee. A list of boats and guides will be supplied to any contestant in advance of the rodeo dates if requested, with a description of the boat, etc. The contestant may make his arrangements with the guide in advance by corresponding direct with him. There will be ample supply of good boats, but advance arrangements will prevent possibilty of disappointment. Sportsmen are invited to bring their own boats, and guides at other points are urged to contact the Rodeo Organization regarding charter of their boats and services.

Pittsburgh Takes First In Big Meet

Al Blozis Hangs Up New Marks

By BILL KING

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. —(AP)— Although without a single first-place winner in a competition that saw five new meet records set and another equalled, the University of Pittsburgh gained its second IC4A track and field championship in four years Saturday at Harvard stadium.

By putting together five and a half second places, plus a third, a fourth and a fifth, the Panthers rolled up 29½ points and nullified the mighty left that Norwood Ewell, sensational Negro sophomore, gave his Pennsylvania State forces by winning both dashes and the broad jump.

Ewell's "triple," the first in IC4A competition since 1937, when Columbia's Ben Johnson won the same three events while Pittsburgh was gaining the team title, enabled Penn State to take second place with 24 points.

California, the pre-meet favorite, tied with Yale for third honors with 20 points and New York University was fifth with 19.

The other team scores were Tufts and Georgetown 13 each, Maine and Manhattan 12 each, Harvard 11½, Cornell 9½, Princeton 9, Michigan State 8½, Brown and Pennsylvania 7 each, Rhode Island State and Fordham 6 each, Boston College 5, HollyCross 4 and Syracuse and Temple 2 each.

Crowding the versatile Ewell Hard for the individual glory was Al Blozis, the Georgetown giant, who established new meet marks for the shot put and discus. Another double winner, Eddie Dugger, Tufts' Negro hurdles star, clipped a tenth second off the 14.4 seconds mark that Earl Thompson of Dartmouth set for the 120-yard high timber event 20 years ago. Dugger also won the 220-yard low hurdles.

Guernsey Seeks Another Title

HOUSTON —(AP)— Bantamweight Frank Guernsey, National Intercollegiate tennis champion the past two years, sets about Monday to regain the Texas title he won two years ago.

The stolid little Rice Institute star, who did not compete for the title last year, must unseat Bobby Curtis, a stout blond Rice teammate whom he recently defeated for the Southwest Conference championship.

Guernsey was the top man in a brilliant field that starts singles play on the 16 Golfcrest Country Club courts.

But such stars as Lefty Brown, the Baylor freshman; Reuben Riskind and Maurice Fincher of the University of Texas; Wilbur and Jake Hess, the Houston veterans; Dick Morris and Rodgers of Rice, Ed Umstaedter of LSU, Bobby Kamrath and a flock of others are solid contenders.

Reigning doubles champions are Fincher and Kamrath, but is expected Fincher will team with Riskind this season.

Ben Nixon, San Antonio youngster, will defend his junior title while Grover Cantrell of Sherman and Warren McMillan of Fort Worth are scheduled to defend the doubles title. Prominent boys' division entries include Wade Spilman of Mission, defending titlist and Ted Norpoth and Bill Tabola of Houston.

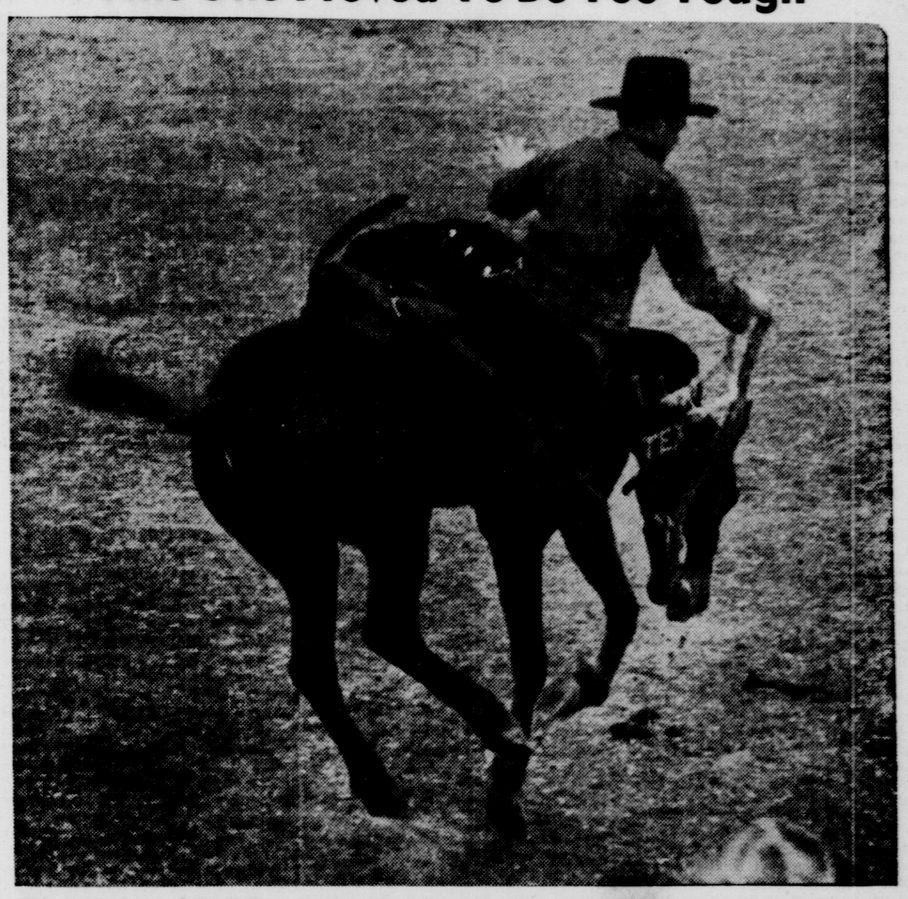
Doubles play will not start until Wednesday.

The sectional tournament, one of 13 sponsored by the United States Lawn Tennis Association, is held to determine the better players of the country, by sections.

PALS 6; TIGERS 3

PALESTINE—(AP)—The Palestine Pals spotted Marshall three runs in the first inning Saturday night, then counter-attacked to win, 6 to 3, behind John Dobby's pitching. Frank Simontacchi was seriously injured when struck by a thrown ball at second base in the sixth.

This One Proved To Be Too Tough



This scene at one of the Valley's former rodeos shows D. Music of Weslaco bucking off of a bronco that proved to be a little too rough for him to ride. There will be plenty of such thrilling action Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p. m. at the rodeo in Harlingen. Valley rodeo fans are assured of seeing a wild and wooly show with Brahma bull riding, bronco riding, bulldogging, wild mule riding, calf roping and wild cow milking.

Edinburg Stars Boost Lead In Hidalgo League

Sharyland Holding Second Place

McALLEN — The Edinburg All Stars continued to set a torrid pace in the Hidalgo County Softball League with the half way mark at hand. The Stars won an exciting 5 to 4 game over the Sharyland team while McAllen dropped the Engelman Garden's Won Up ten 6 to 2 to widen the gap between the leaders and the remaining clubs.

Old Travis Wallace held the hard hitting league leaders to 6 blows Thursday night but loose play afield cost him the ball game. Southwell started for Edinburg and was relieved by Mike McKinney who turned in a brilliant relief job.

Wallace and the Shary ten smothered Engelman Garden's on the Grapefruiter's own diamond Tuesday night although Stovall garnered 12 strikeouts.

The Engelman Gardens club took a close one from Whalen's Monday night 6 to 5.

Complete results of last week's play:

Engelman's 6; Whalen's 5.
Edinburg 5; Sharyland 5.
Sharyland 5; Engelman's 2.
McAllen 6; Engelman's 2.
Sharyland 11; McAllen 9.
Whalen's at Edinburg Tuesday night, postponed, rain.

Rifle Shoot At Mercedes Today

MERCEDES—A large aggregation of Valley riflemen is expected to compete in the first match in the Baum Trophy tournament Sunday afternoon on the Mercedes rifle range.

This 3-match tournament to be fired alternately on the Mercedes and McAllen ranges is being staged under the joint sponsorship of the Mercedes and McAllen rifle and pistol clubs with Abe Baum, prominent Mercedes - McAllen - Harlingen men's ready-to-wear merchant, furnishing the trophy and medals. The trophy depicts a prone rifleman in sun-ray gold mounted on a mahogany base with a gold plate for the inscription of the name of the tournament champion. Gold, silver and bronze medals will also be awarded to the three highest winners.

Each contestant, firing from prone position, will be alloted 20 shots at 50 yards and 20 shots at 100 yards. A .22 caliber rim fire rifle will be used. Entrance fee is $1.00 for the three matches with any Valley rifleman, whether a club member or not, allowed to enter.

The second match will be held on the McAllen range on Sunday afternoon, June 16, and the final match again on the Mercedes range on Sunday, June 30.

League-Leading Buffs Drawing Slim Crowds

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

HOUSTON—(AP)—It just doesn't make sense.

The Houston Buffs—a minor league copy of the New York Yankees (1939 variety)—are playing their home games before crowds slimmer than a debutante's waistline.

Ten and a half games ahead of the pack, the Buffs have approached the qualifications of a dream team —with murderous slugging, expert pitching and the league's finest fielding finesse.

The list of Texas League leaders—teams and players—is dotted with the key word "Houston."

For instance:

The Buffs lead the loop in batting and fielding.

The team set a record in winning seven straight doubleheaders.

Howard Pollet, 18-year-old pitcher, has won 11 consecutive victories without the shadow of defeat—a modern high mark.

Johnny Antonelli, second baseman, is runner-up in the batting race with .365 and is top man in runs and hits.

Old Nick Cullop, hustling outfielder, has batted in 53 runs and smashed nine homers.

Five Buff pitchers boast perfect fielding averages.

Four regulars are batting better than .300.

Despite this nightly exhibition of superiority, the crowds stay away in great numbers.

One sad night, for instance, a grand total of 416 persons sat in the huge Buffalo Stadium.

Be it said, however, the front office is not so worried as the die-hard fans.

"We're running about like we did last year at this time," said President Fred Ankenman. "Last season we recovered nicely to finish with the best attendance record in six years. Anyway, we never draw as well early in the season as we do after school is out.

"Things will pick up now."

Ankelman said "everybody's stirred up over the war situation and that hurts attendance, too."

The club has run into some foul weather tricks which played havoc with the turnstile operations.

Near-freezing temperatures opening night ruined prospects for a fine getaway and unfavorable weather at odd times since has damaged the financial end of the business.

The cruelest luck came the night young Pollet went after his tenth straight victory. Besides this drawing card, it was Negro Night and Ankelman was prepared to seat a big batch of customers.

During the hours just previous to game time, rain poured down all around Buffalo Stadium and over town.

Nary a drop fell on the field, however, and the game went on as scheduled—before a handful of paying patrons.

New Stars Shine On Senior Loop Diamonds

Many Young Fellows In Spotlight

Junior Replacements Set Record

By BILL BRANDT

May is the month major league managers mobilize their forces to fighting strength. Tryout season is over. By league law they must carve their corps to the 25-player limit.

Counting new noses in National League clubhouses reveals that this year baseball's oldest league is younger than ever before, its manpower showing a greater influx of junior replacements than in any previous spring. More than one-fourth of all the players listed on National League rosters are freshmen—selected from the cream of the minor league crop.

Roll-call when the eight clubs announced their 25-player personnel showed that 55 of the 200 athletes marked present played all or most of the 1939 season in minor league settings. They were the stars of the higher class little leagues who qualified for baseball's top flight by their brave deeds last summer.

Big Influx

This tremendous influx of new talent made its mark early in the spring pennant race by revising the picture of the league set-up as of September, 1939. Brooklyn's sensational starting streak of 9 straight was the season's first startling message of new power in the old league, new frontiers and boundaries to be drawn. Later the Phillies, consigned to last place in February's expert balloting by 73 votes of of a possible 76, forged to the fore in the second division by winning of their first six games against western invaders of Quaker Town.

Replacements are thicker, of course, in clubs of lowly 1939 rating than with the front-runners, but in May's last week every National League club sported at least five newcomers on its roster. Nearly every day since the season's start, there has been at least one freshman in every club's lineup.

May 20, for instance, when all eight clubs saw action, offered a graphic picture of the new-blood distribution. Mike McCormick, last year with Indianapolis, was Cincinnati centerfielder. Bill Baker, last year's Indianapolis catcher and runner-up for the American Association batting championship, took Lombardi's place in the sixth inning. Two rookie pitchers, Johnny Hutchings, last year's strikeout king of the Southern League, and Elmer Riddle, Birmingham's 1939 mound ace, saw action in the box for the league champions.

Lake Shows Well

Playing second base and leading off for the St. Louis Cardinals was Eddie Lake, last year the Texas League's leading runmaker and so talented a leadoffer that his 153 bases on balls broke an all-time Lone Star loop record which had stood for 14 years. Other new cards in action were Joe Orengo, last year's Sacramento shortstop, and Southpaw Ernie White, who last year at Houston pitched the first no-hit game ever recorded in the 11-year history of Buffalo Stadium.

Brooklyn's leadoff man was Pee-Wee Reese, Louisville's hero in its Little World Series triumph last fall. The Dodgers' centerfield was covered by Charlie Gilbert, 20-year-older whose first year of pro ball at Nashville last season earned a .317 batting average and the reputation of being one of the greatest young ball hawks in the minor leagues.

Bill Nicholson and Bobby Mattick, in the Chicago Cubs' lineup, spent the latter half of last year with the Bruins. This is their first full year in the majors. Ken Raffensberger, on the mound, pitched the entire 1939 International League campaign as a Rochester Red Wing ace, though he wore Cardinal spangles when the Centennial Year's season launched.

Giants Have Two

The New York Giants' first-baseman was Babe Young, Southern Association's Most-Valuable-Player of 1939, with Jersey City's second-baseman, Al Glossop, throwing to him. Pittsburgh had on view a complete new outfield of Double-A slugging stars, International Leaguers Bob (.328) Elliott and Maurice (.320) VanRobays, plus Vince DiMaggio, American Association home run champion. The last Pirate pitcher was Dick Lanham, who no-hitted into the Southern A. Hall of Fame last summer while tying for the league leadership in total victories.

Boston showed Chet Ross, Evansville's 111-run-driver and leader of the National League in three-baggers to date, and Carvel Roswell, Eastern League base-stealing champion. The Phillies flashed a new star shortstop, Busy Bragan, holder of the all-time Southeastern League record for assists, also a sport model first-sacker, Art Mahan, from Little Rock, a 400 hitter his first 10 days in the major leagues.

The May 20 picture helps tell the story of the National League's sparkling pennant race. For several years past, the drive of the senior circuit for new stars has been the talk of the baseball world, but by the evidence at hand to date, the year 1940 bids fair to set a new high for increase in general all-around playing strength throughout all eight clubs in the circuit.

The five largest states in area, in order of size, are Texas, California, Montana, New Mexico, and Arizona.

Setting For Church Rites Is Beautiful

Pletcher-Morris Wedding Is Today

HARLINGEN — White calla lilies predominate to empnasize the traditional bridal white in floral arrangements that create a perfect setting for the marriage of Miss Rachel Morris, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Morris, and George Henry Pletcher Jr., which will be celebrated at eight o'clock this morning in the First Methodist church. Rev. Bert A. Salter will officiate for the marriage service.

Touches of pink have been introduced into the altar-like scene by occasional use of pink roses and pink gladiolas. The stately flower spikes are silhouetted against a background of green developed with banking of palms in the loft and by tall trees of fern. Graceful sprays of the fern encircled the pipes of the organ.

Miss Virginia Perry will play a concert of nuptial music preceding the ceremony and will accompany Miss Ivy Boone, soloist. Miss Boone is to sing "I Love You Truly" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." Miss Perry will give the traditional wedding marches and during the ceremony organ music will sound softly.

The bride will enter with her father and will be given by him in marriage.

Preceding her will be the diminutive flowergirls, Janice Pimlott and Frankie Morris. Their floor-length dresses are blue net and their hats

Elaborate Church Rites Performed For Wedding In Georgetown Saturday

A strikingly attractive bride, was Miss Charlyne Shaw of Georgetown and a former McAllen resident, married Saturday night in Georgetown to Jack Lomax of McAllen. The ceremony, an eminent social event in the bride's home city, commanded the interest of Valley socialites among whom his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Lomax, have long been prominent.

McALLEN—The marriage of Miss Charlyne Shaw and Jack Lomax Saturday night at Georgetown ushered in this romantic month with all the exquisite beauty befitting the age-old tradition of June wedding parties.

Dr. John William Bergin, president of Southwestern University, officiated at the single ring ceremony at which Miss Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John William Shaw of Georgetown became the bride of Jack Lomax, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Lomax of McAllen.

With the shadows of approaching twilight slightly darkening the recesses of the First Methodist Church, the ceremony was performed at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Burgin Dunn at the organ played a brief concert of nuptial music and accompanied Miss Lenair Richardson who sang "Because."

The church was decorated with masses of greenery, against which were placed white gladiolias in silver cathedral vases and shasta daisies in silver baskets. The chancel rail was entwined with lace fern and nestling gardenias.

Only altar light was lent from ivory tapers in floor candelabra, lighted before the ceremony began by Miss Peggy Beaver, whose camellia pink taffeta frock gave an ethereal touch to the pretty ceremony.

As bridesmaids were Misses Jane Brown, Jane Burcham, Ellagene Eanes, and Sarah Frank Thompson with Miss Martha Jane Shaw, sister of the bride, as maid-of-honor and Mrs. W. M. Scott of San Antonio, sister of the groom, the matron-of-honor.

Both Mrs. Scott and Miss Shaw were stunning in gowns of hydrangea blue silk net, billowing over taffeta of the same shade. The dresses were fashioned with a square neckline, outlined in lace; a fitted bodice of lace, puffed sleeves and bouffant skirts adorned with two panels of lace in the back. For hats, they wore halos of starched blue net, caught coyly with a half wreath of blue and pink cornflowers. To complete their piquant ensembles they carried bouquets of pink cornflowers, formed like nosegays.

The bridesmaids were smartly similar in camellia pink net frocks, whose styles were like the honored attendants. They wore halos of starched pink net and carried nosegays of blue cornflowers.

Traditionally bride-like in the midst of the soft pastel tones of pink and blue, the bride, beautifully lovely in her bridal white, entered

Mrs. Olin Coleman Jones, Jr., of Brownsville and Fort Worth, is the former Miss Mary Jane Groom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Groom of Brownsville. They plan to spend the remainder of the summer in Fort Worth, returning to Brownsville in the fall. Mrs. Jones is pictured in her lovely bridal costume. (A. Rogers Photo)

Taking her place among the loveliest of June 1 brides is Miss Marian Mayer of Birmingham, Alabama, whose marriage to David Bergin of McAllen and Georgetown was celebrated Saturday at 8 p. m. at the First Methodist Church in her home city. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mayer at whose home a throng of guests assembled after the wedding. The groom, a member of the McAllen Senior High School faculty, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John William Bergin of Georgetown where Dr. Bergin is president of Southwestern University. After a trip to Austin where Mr. Bergin will present his master's thesis at the University of Texas, the newly weds will go to Mexico City for the summer. They promise to be a delightful adition to McAllen's young married set

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore of West Point, Texas announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Midie Hart, to Charley Cox of San Benito. The marriage is to take place the midle of June at West Point. Miss Moore has made her home with her sister, Mrs. Jack Ehlers, in San Benito for the past three years.

Margaret Jean Voiers To Wed James L. Goode In Early July Nuptials

LA FERIA — Announcement of the coming marriage of Miss Margaret Jean Voirs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Voiers, and James Landrum Goode, son of Mrs. Pauline Landrum Goode of Kingsville, was made at a large tea given by the bride-elect's mother Saturday afternoon at their home. The affair, which was attended by about 250 guests, claimed widespread interest in several Valley towns. Receiving hours were from three to six o'clock.

Alternating in greeting guests at the door were Miss Marjorie Breedlove of Harlingen wearing pink chiffon with a matching ruffled jacket and Miss Elsie Thompson in a frock of starched aqua lace.

Receiving the guests were the bride-to-be's mother, her grandmother, Mrs. David T. Voiers, Miss Voiers, Mrs. Goode, Mrs. James D. Ward, San Benito, aunt of the bridegroom-elect, and Mrs. Redford Callis, Indianapolis, cousin of the honoree.

The honor guest was charming in a frock of hyacinth marquisette and net worn over taffeta. The shirred bodice was made with sweetheart neckline and was caught at the shoulders with miniature corsages while shirring emphasized the sleeves. She wore a wrist corsage of daisies.

The mother of the bride-elect wore powder blue chiffon with shirred sleeves and Mrs. David T. Voiers' costume of black crepe was topped with a stitched bolero jacket. Mrs. Goode chose an all-white model of embroidered organdy, Mrs. Ward was in amethyst chiffon trimmed with lace, and Mrs. Callis wore black lace.

Lavish arrangements of pastel blossoms throughout the reception rooms blended with the delicately tinted frocks worn by young friends of the honoree assisting in hostess duties.

In charge of the guest register at different hours were Miss Virginia Pile of Harlingen, in pink net; Miss Jean Phipps of Harlingen whose costume was blue and white striped silk jersey; and Miss Hassie Browning Foster of Harlingen, attired in yellow marquisette. Each wore a bandeau of roses in her hair.

The guest book was centered with in a striking arrangement of waxy magnolia blossoms encircled by glossy green magnolia leaves.

Unusual and artistic representation to the bridal theme was noted in flowers arranged on the tea table to simulate a huge ring. Rich hued marigolds formed the ring circle and white gardenias set in a jeweler's box of white satin represented the stone. Here the message, "Peggy-Jim, July 2," was lettered in gold, engraving style. The mirror base for the centerpiece was bordered by white and yellow shasta daisies.

The table, laid with an imported Italian cloth, was appointed in crystal. Cut glass punch bowl, crystal candelabrums holding white tapers and tea dainties in pastel flower tints held in crystal trays and comforts blended with the decorative scheme.

On the buffet was a fan-shaped arrangement of yellow and white gladiolas against a background of palmetto leaves.

Presiding at the punch bowl for alternate periods were Mrs. O. King Mason of Brownsville, wearing a frock of lace, Mrs. Leonard Hargrove in white satin, and Mrs. Adine E. Cope in dusty pink. Their corsages were of daisies.

Others assisting in the dining room and reception suite were Mrs. E. C. Breedlove of Harlingen, Mrs. James L. Landrum of San Benito, Mrs. Tom Foster of Harlingen, and Mrs. T. C. Thompson of La Feria.

Both Miss Voiers and Mr. Goode attended Brownsville Junior College and both are graduates of the University of Texas. The bride-elect is a member of Chi Omega sorority, Pi Lambda Theta, honorary educational fraternity, and was a Bluebonnet belle in 1938. She has been a member of the La Feria school faculty the past two years.

Mr. Goode is the grandson of the late James L. Landrum of San Benito who became one of the county's most prominent citizens after settling there nearly a half century ago.

A number of interesting prenuptial courtesies are being planned for Miss Voiers.

BROWNSVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Stilwell, Jr., and family are spending a month at Del Mar.

LOMAX-SHAW RITES SUNDAY

with her father who gave her in marriage.

Her frock was tops of bridal fashion, made from white mousseline de soie with a tightly shirred bodice and wide bouffant skirt. The V-shaped neckline and long sleeves pointed at the wrists, were edged in Alencon lace. The veil of tulle, fingertip length at the sides, was caught in halo effect with a Juliet cap of Alencon lace, fastened at the back with orange blossoms. The same veil had been worn by the bridegroom's sister and at weddings of several of their friends.

The back of the veil featured a panel of the same lace which fell in billows over the sweeping train. The bride's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, belonging to her mother, and an heirloom cameo hand hammered gold bracelet, the gift of the bridegroom's father to the former's mother at their marriage. To add a touch of sentiment the bride carried a handkerchief which Mr. Lomax' mother and grandmother had carried at their weddings.

The young bride's bouquet was of white orchids, showered with lilies-of-the-valley.

Charles Ferguson of McAllen served as best man with the groomsm Henry B. Barnes of San Antonio, Robert H. Kern of Mercedes, James Karnes of Dallas, Captain W. M. Scott of Randolph Field and Kenneth Alley of McAllen.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The reception suite was decorated with pink and blue cornflowers, Queen Anne's lace and gladiolias.

The bride's table was laid with a Cluny lace cloth featured by a bower of gardenias from which streamers of white satin ribbon were looped to tiny crystal slippers filled with lilies-of-the-valley. A large double-ring embossed cake centered the table.

Mrs. Ruth Ferguson, dean of women at Southwestern University, presided at the wedding cake after the bride cut the first piece and Mrs. Sam V. Stone and Mrs. Emzy Cooper served the punch. Mrs. J. O. Carwin presided at the guest book. Assisting with the reception duties were Mrs. R. J. Stone, Mrs. Charles Shaw, Miss Elizabeth Amsler, Miss Kathryn Shaw, Miss Wynona Hutcherson, Mrs. Howard Wheeler, Miss Doris May and Miss Trudy Evans.

When the reception was over the young couple left for an extended wedding trip to the west coast. They expect to be at home at the Casa de Palmas Hotel in McAllen after July 1.

For her going away outfit, Mrs. Lomax chose a natural and rust costume with accessories to match and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Lomax member of the Delta, Delta, Delta sorority, was a graduate of Southwestern University while the groom attended University of Texas and is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Lomax and Mrs. J. W. Ferguson of McAllen; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Corwin and Mrs. Thomas McIlhenny of Austin.

are fashioned of sweetheart roses. Each will carry a blue flower umbrella, upside down with the crook held over the arm, as she picks out rose petals to drop in the pathway of the bride.

Lloyd Morris, wearing a white suit, will carry the ring on a satin pillow.

The bride's dress of white net over slipper satin is distinguished by simple, graceful lines. The leg-o'-mutton sleeves are lace from the puff to the wrist and the bodice is joined by a wide close-fitting band at the waist to the gored skirt which sweeps into graceful width to form a slight train.

Her fingertip veil is held in place with a coronet of real boúvardia, the blossoms being placed over the veil in front and showing through the filmy folds at the back. The bride's only ornament is a strand of pearls and her bouquet will be of orchids, valley lilies, and bouvardia showered with valley lilies.

Miss Vida Belle Morris, sister of the bride and her only attendant, is wearing a formal frock of tea rose, the full skirt being ornamented with huge rosettes of the material made like pinwheels with blue ribbon in the centers. Smaller rosettes cover each shoulder. Her shoes are in tea rose and her hat of blue net worn off the face is trimmed in velvet ribbon of darker blue which forms streamers at the back. Her flowers are blue gladiolas.

Miss Boone has chosen a costume of green lace and her corsage will be of gardenias while gardenias and pink roses form the corsage to be worn by Miss Perry.

Bill Pletcher, brother of the bridegroom, will be best man.

Mrs. Morris, mother of the bride, is wearing a rose lace costume with a corsage of talisman roses. Mrs. G. H. Pletcher Sr., mother of the groom, will wear gardenias complementing her frock of black marquisette which has touches of white.

The couple are leaving immediately after the ceremony for an extended wedding tour through the West including visits to California, Yellowstone Park, and many other points. A visit to Pike's Peak is planned as a trip of sentimental interest in view of the fact that Mr. Pletcher's parents visited the same spot on their honeymoon.

The couple will return in about a month to establish a home in Harlingen.

Miss Morris, who received her high school education in Harlingen, has been assistant laboratory technician at the Valley Baptist Hospital.

Mr. Pletcher graduated from Texas A. and M. College and was a fellowship student for a year of graduate study at Ohio State University.

This 'N' That

JUNE MONTH IS going to maintain its reputation as bride month in the Valley.

Large weddings claiming particular interest have been calendared for early June and the grapevine foreshadows other prominent Valley couples heading for the altar.

THE GIRLS in Birmingham have what it takes to enslave youths from the Rio Grande Valley, judging from Cupid's count for early July.

David Paul Bergen of McAllen is the lucky man who is to wed "Sallie" Marion Mayer of Birmingham and we have it from an unimpeachable source that John Franklin Sanders, erstwhile Harlingen youth now doing well for himself in Alabama, has her promise from a Birmingham girl for this June.

The two brides-to-be, it so happens, were college mates.

PATTY HANKS and Andrew Shelton, who have named June 8 their day, could have met about ten years earlier.

Patty's father, Bernard Hanks, well-known newspaper owner, was once owner of the Harlingen Star and the child, Patty, and her mother stayed quite a while at the Reese-Wil-Mond hotel.

The couple's first meeting ,to their knowledge, was when "Stormy" as his friends call him, was a student at Simmons University in Abilene.

AND FRANCES Ezzell and Jim McMillan stole a march on folks expecting them to speak the solemn words today by getting married Saturday afternoon and leaving town pronto.

GEORGE PLETCHER JR., who has handled decorations for gobs of weddings, had a free hand—if you overlook his mother's competent aid and advice—when he completed floral arrangements for his own wedding this morning.

Rachel Morris, his bride, didn't even know what flowers were to be in the church, but she was quite satisfied they would be perfect.

MIDDIE HART MOORE, who's been making her home with her sister, Sue Ehlers (Mrs. Jack) the past three years in San Benito will go to her home at West Point, Texas for her marriage about the middle of the month to Charley Cox of San Benito.

JAMES GOODE of Brownsville and Peggy Jean Voiers of La Feria will form another June twosome.

JACK LOMAX of McAllen will go to Georgetown to claim Charlyne Shaw as his bride in an elaborate church ceremony.

RECIPES ARE always being thrust upon June brides who usually fail to appreciate such help until they suddenly discover cooking is the main job in homemaking.

Most successful housewives admit their store of receipes was mainly obtained from friends and relatives.

Marjorie Rawlings, known to the reading public as author of "The Yearling" and other prize winning fiction, has a reputation among her friends as a delightful hostess who likes to serve foods cooked by her own hands.

Her favorite dish is blackbird pie which she cooks for special guests at her home in Florida which, incidentally is the original for the description of the springs in "The Yearling."

And the celebrated author, who writes for a living and cooks for fun, shoots the birds herself.

GIVE YOUR LAWN a dose of calomel.

From the Extension Service at College Station comes advice on how to doctor St. Augustine grass (the usual variety of carpet grass in the Valley) which has brown patches caused by a fungus.

The statement says the usual practice of plowing manure into the soil preparatory to planting St. Augustine cuttings is inadvisable since richness in organic matter is favorable to growth of the fungus.

The formula generally recommended for treatment of lawns is a mixture of two ounces of calomel and one ounce of corrosive sublimate (bichloride of mercury) mixed with six or eight quarts of fine dry sand. This amount is sufficient for 1,000 square feet of lawn.

The mixture should be spread on the affected parts and watered thoroughly.

WILLIAM HORN, former Valley youth, will be aboard the President Roosevelt when the ship begins its dangerous crossing of the Atlantic in a few days.

His mother, formerly of McAllen, will leave San Antonio to greet her son in New York.

He is making the trip to escort Mary Jane Kennedy, daughter of the U. S. Ambassador, home. Other members of the Kennedy family have already left England except the one daughter who elected to remain with her father.

STRETCHING THE BUDGET to include regular contributions to the Red Cross is the matter-of-fact method one Valley woman has adopted to give effectiveness to her sympathies in the European conflict.

Explaining that the amount her family can contribute from their wage at any one time is necessarily small, they have agreed that a specified amount from each pay check will be earmarked to aid war refugees

In reply to a gibe that everyone soon will be paying heavy taxes to carry out the national defense program, she answered sturdily that her family had talked that over, too, and were resolved to cheerfully meet any demands made on their income.

May there be many like her!

At least sixteen South American peaks are higher than North America's highest, Mount McKinley, Alaska.

Accenting the springtime motif were delightful corsages of blue baby's breath and sweetheart roses which were grouped to make a centerpiece for each table. After the dessert course, the individual corsages were presented to the guests.

Helen Robinson Weds Harvey Storm In Rites Read In La Feria Home

LA FERIA—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Robinson announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to Harvey Storm, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Storm of San Marcos. The ceremony took place Thursday evening, May 30, at six o'clock at the home of the bride with the bridegroom's grandfather, Rev. J. W. Storm, officiating.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with fern and corona and baskets of pink roses and white and yellow gladiolas.

Mrs. Eugene Robinson, sister-in-law of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always" preceding the ceremony.

The traditional melody of the Wedding March from Wagner's Lohengrin was played by Miss Clarice Storm, sister of the groom, as the bride entered with the groom. She was becomingly attired in a blue crepe redingote ensemble with white accessories. Her corsage was of spring blossoms in harmonizing pastels.

At the reception immediaely following the ceremony the bride observed age-old tradition by cutting the first slice from the pretty three-tiered wedding cake. The table was especially lovely with its lace cloth and centerpiece of fern, corona, and daisies surrounding the cake.

Twenty-four were guests. Guests in addition to members of the family included Rev. and Mrs. Joe Amerine and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Durham.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Charles Simpson and Mrs. Mary Frances Atwood of Harlingen; Mr and Mrs. H. H. Storm, Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Storm, and Miss Clarice Storm of San Marcos; and Mrs. Joe Holloway and Mary Holloway of Donna.

After a wedding trip the couple will be at home in San Marcos where Mr. Storm is military instructor in the San Marcos Academy. He is a graduate of Texas A. & M. College.

Mrs. Storm, who received her high school education in La Feria, is a graduate of Baylor University and has been a member of the Harlingen high school faculty for the past two years. She was student assistant at San Marcos Academy and has been outstanding as a leader of young people and in music in the Baptist Church.

Home Rites Performed For Couple

McMillan-Ezell Nuptials Announced

HARLINGEN—In a simple ceremony performed Saturday afternoon at two-thirty at the home of the bride, Miss Helen Frances Ezzell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. Ezzell, became the bride of James L. McMillan, son of Mrs. Lula McMillan of Thorndale, Texas. Reading the marriage service was the Rev. C. W. Ferguson, pastor of the First Christian Church.

Only relatives and a few close friends were present.

Orchid and pink gladiolas in floor baskets and urns made the bridal setting, the long spikes of bloom being massed at an archway to the sunporch to make a frame for the couple. They were unattended.

For her wedding the bride chose a smart white tailored suit with redingote coat and matching white turban. Only note of contrasting color was her corsage of orchids. She wore an heirloom locket of pearls fashioned to represent a cluster of grapes and antique diamond earrings. Her real lace handkerchief came from Denmark.

The mother of the bride was attired in a printed sheer and wore a corsage of sweetheart roses.

A reception followed the ceremony when coffee, punch, and wedding cake were served from a table laid with a hand crocheted cloth. Orchid and sweetpeas in a crystal bowl formed the centerpiece. The bride's cake, a delicately embossed confection was decorated with a faint tracery in pink on the white icing. Mrs. Joe Penry served the cake and Mrs. E. L. Davis coffee and punch.

The couple left immediately afterwards for Colorado and later will go to New York City. They will be at home for the summer at Pecos, Texas.

Bridegroom-Elect Moves Into Party Picture As Date For Wedding Nears

HARLINGEN — Waning days of the period left for prenuptial parties for Miss Patty Hanks, bride-elect of Andrew Brackett Shelton of Corpus Christi, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Shelton of Harlingen, are to be crammed with parties which have been almost continuous since announcement of the couple's engagement a few weeks ago.

Two of the young matrons who will serve as attendants to Miss Hanks at her marriage Saturday, June 8, will be in mid-week hostess roles in Abilene, home of the bride-elect who is the daughter of Bernard Hanks of Abilene. Mrs. Thomas H. Sweeney, Jr., of Brownsville, Miss Hanks' matron of honor, will join her mother, Mrs. W. R. Ely, as hostesses for a luncheon for 24 Tuesday at the Hilton in Abilene. Other events are scheduled during the week.

Mrs. E. A .Shelton and daughter, Louise, will leave Thursday for Corpus Christi to join the bridegroom-elect for the trip to Abilene. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Jack West and Miss Edith Rollins. The party will spend Thursday night in Corpus Christi.

Prenuptial spotlight turned to Mr. Shelton at the weekend as two parties were given, an interesting report in the Abilene News-Reporter relates. "Guests for a luncheon at the Lytle Lake home of Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Maddox were reminded that Mr. Shelton's home is on the coast as a seashore theme was emphasized in all party appointments, while his business (he is connected with the Commercial Credit Company) set the keynote for an informal supper at which Wilma Kendrick was hostess at the North Fifth street home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Kendrick.

"Lunch at the Lytle home was served in view of the lake on a porch which had nets, seines, fishing poles and yucca blooms in rustic wall holders as a background for tables overlaid with seagreen covers printed in seashell motif. The featured theme was reflected in the menu.

"Answering the ringing of a 'ship's bell,' Miss Hanks found a 'ship's cargo', her favored crystal pattern. Mr. Shelton's nickname "Stormy" was used with that of "Patty" in the naming of the ship which was banked with orange blossoms. Red hearts dotted the sails.

'Guests were dressed in slacks, Miss Hanks wearing a tailored suit in sunrise blue silk, with flame sports sandals."

Bomb Tossed

Think Irish Theater Was Target

BELFAST, Northern Ireland—(AP)—A bomb explosion in Londonderry Friday night shattered windows, but caused no casualties.

The bomb apparently was aimed at a moving picture theatre. Shots were fired by police at persons believed responsible.

The bomb was tossed into a Londonderry street and police on duty at the Midland Theatre fired two shots at a man running from the neighborhood.

Police swarmed into the area quickly, searching houses and halting many automobiles.

Further Reduction Association Says

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—A further reduction in markets for cotton, the south's largest cash crop, was predicted Thursday by E. A. Gastrock of New Orleans, chief of the chemical engineering division of the Southern Regional Research Laboratory.

He stated that cotton, which provides a livelihood to more people in the United tSates than any other crop, is suffering from an acutely curtailed export market brought on by the adverse economic situation prior to the present war and the war itself.

Trotsky Denies Part In Attack Plot

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Two secretaries of Leon Trotsky were released Friday by police after 48 hours of questioning in Friday's machine-gun attack on Trotsky's walled-in residence in the nearby village of Coyoacan.

About the same time, police announced 13 Mexicans, some of them Communists, had been arrested for "participation" in the attack.

Trotsky described as "stupid" any theory that he might have arranged the attack.

Meanwhile, two other friends of Trotsky, one of them a former guard, still were detained for questioning.

Police refused to give any details of the new wholesale arrests, except to say the men were in the federal military barracks being questioned.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO—(AP)—Sale of 50,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat to Great Britain, sufficient for normal British requirements for three months, was enough to produce a small advance in domestic prices here Saturday, offsetting the forecast of a total U. S. harvest only slightly smaller than last year.

Chicago prices were almost a cent higher at one time but then fell below the previous close only to rally again and finish ¾-⅞ cent higher than Friday, July 81⅛, September 82¼-⅛. Corn closed ⅛-¾ up, July 61⅛, September 60⅞; oats unchanged to ¼ up; rye ¼-1 cent higher and lard 5-8 higher.

The James E. Bennett crop report, indicated wheat harvest prospects have improved materially as a result of good weather. It forecast a winter wheat crop of 495,703,000 bushels compared with 563,631,000 last year, and a spring wheat crop of 225,000,000 against 191,000,000 last year, the largest spring wheat harvest since 1932 with the exception of 1938. If this materializes production will be in excess of domestic requirements for the fourth consecutive season. Other private reports will be issued next week.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK—(AP)—Increased domestic and foreign selling tripped the cotton futures market after early gains Saturday. Final prices were down 1 to 3 points.

The market played over a fairly wide range as traders tried to adjust their positions to the coming weekend and possibility of more violent European disruptions.

The throat of curtailed textile mill activity, said to be due in part to too high raw cotton prices, also was rated a market influence.

Short covering and price fixing for mill account pulled the market up from the lows.

Worth Street reported gray goods sales were well below current production.

Exports Friday 3,434 bales; season so far 6,120,087. Port receipts 4,867; port stocks 2,574,539.

Anna Neagle Stars In Famed Musical Comedy

Favorite Of British Stage And Screen Seen In 'Irene'; Other Hit Films Scheduled At Valley Theatres

"IRENE," one of the most popular musical comedies of all time, comes to the screen with the lovely British star, Anna Neagle, in the title-role and Ray Milland co-starred as a New York playboy who falls in love with the peppery heroine.

Running for almost two years on Broadway, and having half a dozen road companies covering the nation at the time it made its appearance, "Irene" scored an unqualified hit with audiences the country over, and the picture promises to be an even greater success. The four tunes that were featured on the stage, "Alice Blue Gown," "Castle of Dreams," "Irene" and "There's Something in the Air," are stressed in the picture, and a brand new number by the same composers, "You've Got Me Out on a Limb," is also woven into the offering.

The plot deals with the adventures of a fiery little Irish girl, who, sponsored by a pair of wealthy young society men, quits her salesgirl job to become a model at Madame Lucy's, a fashionable gown shop in which the young men own stock. Her modelling of a gown of her mother's at an elaborate social affair attracts much attention and leads to her being established in a luxurious apartment as an Irish heiress, although her real job is to boost Madame Lucy's gowns.

Such favorites as Roland Young, May Robson, Billie Burke, Arthur Treacher, Isabel Jewell, Marsha Hunt and Doris Nolan also have featured roles in "Irene." Young as the busy manager of Madame Lucy's, Miss Robson as the heroine's stubborn grandmother and Miss Burke as a fluttery society woman.

"Irene" is booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen.

ALICE FAYE FEATURED IN MUSICAL HIT

ALICE FAYE is featured as Broadway's famed glamour Queen in the screen production of "Lillian Russell" which revives all the splendor and magnificence of America's most fabulous era.

Lillian Russell was famous for her marvelous voice as well as her splendid acting and great beauty, and Alice Faye sings many of the songs Lillian popularized. Among these are "After The Ball Is Over," "Rosie, You Are My Posie," "My Evening Star," "The Band Played On" ("Strawberry Blond"), and many others.

Don Ameche has the role of Lillian's composer-husband, who struggled to author her greatest stage success. It is Ameche's third composer role and his acting again is outstanding as it was in "Alexander's Ragtime Band" and "Swanee River."

Henry Fonda is cast as Alexander Moore, the newspaperman who fell in love with the gorgeous Lillian when they were both young, but failed to tell her about it. Other featured players include Edward Arnold as Diamond Jim Brady, Warren William and Leo Carillo.

"Lillian Russell" is scheduled for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito; Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and at the State Theatre in Mercedes Thursday and Friday.

TOP-FLIGHT STARS IN ROMANTIC DRAMA

HEADING the cast of "Til We Meet Again," currently featured Sunday and Monday at both the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville and the Palace Theatre in McAllen are stars of two of the season's most outstanding hits—"The Fighting 69th" and "Wuthering Heights." George Brent, who played the reckless hero, and Pat O'Brien, who portrayed Father Duffy in "Fighting 69th" are the male stars of the new picture; Merle Oberon and Geraldine Fitzgerald, lustrous stars of "Wuthering Heights," are the feminine stars of " 'Til We Meet Again."

The setting for the film is a luxurious liner travelling from Hong Kong to San Francisco, and there is action, drama, romance and comedy all along the way. Miss Oberon and Brent carry the romantic interest as the pair of star-crossed lovers who know that when the trip is over they will never meet again. She is under sentence of death from a heart ailment; he knows that when the ship docks at San Francisco he will be taken to San Quentin to pay the death penalty for murder. Each tries to spare the other the knowledge of their fate, and to cram into the brief time they have together all the love of a normal lifetime.

O'Brien's romantic interest in the film centers around Binnie Barnes, that lovely blonde queen of comedy, who plays the role of a phoney French countess, fourflushing her way across the Pacific.

Geraldine Fitzgerald plays the role of Miss Oberon's friend and confidante, and Frank McHugh, Eric Blore, Regis Toomey, Henry O'Neill are also featured.

DOROTHY LAMOUR IN TROPIC ROMANCE

ALL THE romance and color of the South Seas are combined with the loveliness of Dorothy Lamour as a sun-tanned, sarong-clad island beauty in the Technicolor adventure-romance "Typhoon," scheduled for showing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and at the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Miss Lamour's newest role since "Road to Singapore" places her on an uninhabited Polynesian island, far from the sea lanes, where she has grown to woman hood after being shipwrecked as a little girl. Robert Preston, Lynne Overman and J. Carol Naish are co-featured with Dotty in top roles.

The awe-inspiring spectacle of tropical fury is reported on a par with if not greater than the effects achieved for the earthquake in "San Francisco." Torrential rains are followed by a gale which uproots whole palm trees. No expense was spared to squeeze every bit of thrill from the fury.

'BUCK BENNY RIDES AGAIN' IS COMEDY

THE STORY of Jack Benny's latest starring picture "Buck Benny Rides Again," is just a peg on which to hang the hilarious and romantic antics of Benny and his numerous supporting players including Ellen Drew, Phil Harris, Andy Devine, Virginia Dale and Eddie "Rochester" Anderson.

Benny, radio top-notcher as he is, can't get anywhere in the affections of Ellen drew because she has been told to watch out for city slickers and to stick to the western cowboy for romance. The rest of it is that Pack turns western cowboy trying to make that big impression on Ellen.

With Benny being funnier than he has ever been in films, "Buck Benny Rides Again" is completely slap-happy, right up to its ending and through the couple of brief appearances of Carmichael, the polar bear, making his screen debut in the picture.

"Buck Benny Rides Again" is scheduled for showing Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre in Mercedes and at the Palace Theatre in McAllen, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

FRENCH INDUSTRIAL AREA IS BOMBED

Sabotage Hinted As Navy Bomber Crashes And Kills 4

EXPERT SAYS CONTROLS OF SHIP JAMMED

Los Angeles Youth Is Indirect Victim

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A nine-ton transport plane of new high-winged design, scheduled shortly for delivery to the U. S. Navy, crashed and exploded in a flower bed Saturday, killing four employes of the Douglas Aircraft Company.

The dead:

HARRY E. (BUD) Bogen, 29, pilot.

WILLIAM BENON, flight engineer.

W. M. MULVONEY, 28, crew chief.

JAMES JEWART, inspector.

Probe Is Launched

Inquiries started quickly from three directions—the navy, Civil Aeronautics Authority and Douglas. Wreckage of the great DC-5 was still flaming when police threw a guard about it pending a probe into possible sabotage. Douglas officials declared in a statement:

"Until the CAA, the navy and our own engineers and experts have completed their investigations, we cannot state the cause of this regrettable accident. Preliminary investigation fails to produce any evidence or indication that would explain the reason for the crash."

An experienced pilot who watched the tragedy told naval authorities that from the craft's maneuvering, it appeared that the controls had jammed.

An indirect casualty was John Robert McClary, 12, who died of a heart attack as he watched the great ship dive to the ground. His parents said he long had suffered from a weak heart.

Of Unusual Design

The ship's high-winged design, on top of the fuselage, contrasts with the more familiar low-wing. Powered by two 1000-horsepower engines, it was built at a cost of $125,000 and could carry 16 passengers and a crew of three.

Engineers regarded it as a particularly rugged ship, with exceptional performance possibilities. It had 78-foot wingspan and a 60-foot fuselage.

After acceptance by the navy, the ship was to have gone to the District of Columbia for service at Anacostia naval depot. Its naval insignia already had been painted on.

Spear Kills Youth In Sham Battle At Chicago Orphanage

CHICAGO—(AP)—Four 16-year-old orphan boys engaged in a make-believe-war on the grounds of the Guardian Angel Orphange — the "Allies" against the "Nazis."

The youths' weapons were simulated spears—thin metal rods with sharp ends—taken from the orphanage greenhouse.

One of the spears struck Wilfredo Aqueros in the left temple. He was killed instantly.

Launch Warship

30,000 Philadelphians Witness Event

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — With all the grace of its pretty 15-year-old sponsor, the 35,000-ton battleship Washington slid down the ways of the Philadelphia Navy Yard Saturday to make its maiden "curtsy" to the Delaware river as the first naval link in America's accelerated rearmament program.

While 30,000 cheering spectators looked on, Miss Virginia Marshall, of Spokane, Wash., shattered a bottle of champagne on the bow with one decisive blow and the gaily-decorated "battle wagon" eased swiftly into the water. Miss Marshall is a lineal descendant of John Marshall, chief justice of the United States from 1801 to 1835.

"It was a perfect launching," commented one high-ranking naval officer as the Washington's stern turned downstream and a dozen tugs churned up to lead the $65,000,000 ship to a temporary berth. Later it will be placed in drydock for completion. The newest and largest addition to the navy will not join the fleet for more than a year.

German Blitzkrieg Copied After American Plan

Evidence Proves Hitler 'Borrowed' His Program From United States Elaborate Mobilization Plan Now On File For M-Day Over Here

By JOHN LEAR
Copyright, 1940, by The Associated Press

WASHINGTON —(AP)— There is evidence in the files of the federal government that a substantial part of the plans for Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg were "borrowed" from the United States.

These plans would answer the most interesting question of the war in the low countries and in France.

How have the Germans been able to strike such repeated sledge hammer blows without serious interruption over so long a time?

For these plans are America's plan for mobilization in event we go to war, and then gear up men and machines and every other resource of the nation to win war as swiftly as possible.

Plans of "Total War"

They are plans for "total war." They cover every conceivable factor in preparation for battle. Nothing approaching their efficiency had been devised anywhere in the world before the organizing genius of the United States began drawing them up 20 years ago.

No treachery—not even clever espionage—is responsible for the fact that the Nazis were aware of them.

The plans were available also to the English and the French, who did not "borrow" them.

I cannot name the source of the following information, but I can vouch for the fact that it is both official and reliable:

(1) Within a year after Hitler came to power in Germany in 1933, the Nazi military attache here began studying the American war mobilization blueprints.

The attache had the right to do so under ordinary diplomatic procedure.

He spent six months making his examination.

(2) Not until a year after he completed his study was the first of the Nazis' national defense laws passed—on May 21, 1935.

(3) The war mobilization system which took shape in Germany after that was a striking parallel to the American plan in all its principal characteristics.

"Conscientious Imitation"

Agents from this country, working in Germany, described it as a "conscientious imitation."

(4) The similarity was sharply illustrated in the Nazis' very first conquest—the "anschluss" with Austria.

Immediately after occupying Vienna, the Germans made a census of Austrian industries and allocated their respective share in supplying war needs—in identically the same way as the same step is outlined under the American plan.

(5) Then came the invasion of the low countries, and the repeated overpowering blows against the Allies which military men agree can be explained only by highly concentrated resources poured into the fighting front through ultra-efficient lines of communication.

This method of "winding up" for a "haymaker" punch and following through with all the strength the nation can muster is the very essence of the American mobilization scheme. It starts by teaming up all the factories where munitions and machines are made, integrating the roads and railroads over which they must travel, allocating fuel and electric power to vital points, and keeping men flowing up to the front while putting those behind the lines into jobs where they will do the most good. All war plans must follow this pattern, but this one operates on an exact time table from start to finish.

The advantage to this country if the plan should go into effect would be that the United States has more resources than Germany to pour into it.

The mobilization plan is one of the most thorough blueprints ever drawn up for anything. It is based on three suppositions:

(1) That the people of the United States, if they must go to war, want to win that war as quickly as possible.

(2) That they want to wage war with as little disturbance as possible to our civil peacetime life.

(3) That when the war is over we can return to peacetime economy as quickly and easily as possible.

American Plan

Although the plan (shaped during twenty years of both Republican and Democratic administrations) as it now stands has marked out every industrial plant in the country for the part it can play in war, no plant is scheduled to turn more than 50 per cent of its normal output to war purposes. This would keep peacetime industry from shutting down.

Ten thousand factories already have been told what they are to do, and all of them have agreed to do it. The government has given them educational orders to buy dies and machine tools and test the speed of production. The floor plans of these plants have even been marked out for placement of the needed machinery when the time comes.

The plan sets up a system of priorities so that war necessities always would come first. War factories would have first call on raw materials. Men would be encouraged, by higher wages and by deferments from draft for military service, to work in plants where their output would mean most in winning the war. Money would be regulated in the same way.

Profits and wages would be controlled so that no worker would suffer and no capitalist wax fat on the war effort.

Blackout of Liberties

Necessarily, as in all warring countries, individual liberties would have to be subjugated to the national will. But the basic democracy

MARSEILLE IS HEAVILY HIT; 46 ARE DEAD

Swiss Patrol Downs German Raider

By The Associated Press

A great aerial expedition of Nazi bombing planes swarmed over southern France Saturday afternoon, sowing death and destruction in the heart of the famed Rhone Valley industrial section and striking the port of Marseille heavily.

At least 46 persons were killed in the mass bombing raid, one of the heaviest of the war, which came in the wake of Adolf Hitler's military victory in Flanders.

In Marseille, Mediterranean port and France's second largest city, 30 persons were killed. In the Lyon industrial area 16 met death and 80 or 90 were wounded.

The French said 56 German planes were downed in all the day's fighting against 16 French losses. Of the losses inflicted on the Rhone Valley raiders they said only a "certain number" were downed.

Two heavy bombs fell in Marseille. A British ship laden with cotton was sunk in the harbor.

Industrial sections of central eastern France were heavily bombed.

Some observers believed the raids were a German gesture to show Premier Mussolini, a prospective entrant into the war at Hitler's side, that Nazi air power is sufficient to give the Italians help even during the present German northern offensive.

The Nazi armada roared into France across the Rhine north of Basel, Switzerland, in droves of 21 to 36 planes. They struck first at French air bases, communications and factories in the Rhone Valley around Lyon.

Swiss patrols tangled with one of the raiders which ventured over neutral Switzerland's border, downing the craft and killing its four occupants.

While the French blocked an attempted Nazi "on to Paris" drive against the Somme Line, the Germans hurled shell after shell into Dunkerque, where the last of the Allied northern armies were embarking for England.

Lord Gort, commander of the British expeditionary force, returned to England from Flanders with this firm declaration:

"We shall meet them again. Next time victory will be with us."

Listeners' Boycott Threatened Sunday On Browder Speech

NEW YORK—(AP)—A nation-wide 'listeners' boycott' against three major network broadcasts Sunday of the Communist party's national convention proceedings was urged Saturday as more than a score of individual radio stations declined to carry the broadcasts.

The appeal was directed principally against scheduled speeches of Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party.

Radio stations at Philadelphia, Cincinnati, New Orleans, Nashville, Atlanta, Syracuse, Rochester, Lincoln, Neb., Milwaukee, Indianapolis and Wichita, Kas., were among those announcing they would not carry the Communist broadcasts.

FDR RELAXES

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Roosevelt embarked on the yacht Potomac at the navy yard late Saturday for an overnight cruise and rest from the extra labors occasioned by the war in Europe.

CALLING OF U.S. MILITIA URGED

Gen. Marshall Hints Of Developments

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Amid mounting opposition in congress to President Roosevelt's request for authority to call the national guard to active duty, the army high command contended Saturday that the possibility of "dangerous developments" in this hemisphere made it essential that the request be granted.

General George C. Marshall, the army chief of staff, issued a formal statement supporting the President's proposal after opposition among senators had reached formidable proportions.

Would Change Law

Mr. Roosevelt already had authority to call the guard into service, General Marshall said, "But under that call it would be impossible to send any units of the national guard to assist a regular division in any one of the possible situations which might arise in this hemisphere."

"It is necessary that more troops be made available, trained, and seasoned, to enable missions to be carried out without denuding this country of ground troops in a state of sufficient preparation to meet unexpected eventualities in some other direction."

The chief of staff did not say what the possible "dangerous developments" in this hemisphere might be. But Senator Minton of Indiana, the democratic whip, had expressed belief to newsmen previously that the President might have in mind the possibility of having to occupy British, French and Dutch possessions in the new world if the Allies were defeated.

Home Defense Use

If need for such action arose, minton said, regular troops would have to be used and the national guard called out to man defenses in the continental United States.

General Marshall's statement failed to quiet criticism of the Presidential request among senate mem-

FDR And Mussolini Exchange Messages But Peace Fades

ROME—(AP)—A new exchange of messages between President Roosevelt and Premier Mussolini was reported Saturday night while Italy's warlike motions multiplied, especially near the French border.

The messages, reported by a source usually competent, were described as "courteous" although their exact nature was not divulged.

Exultant British Cheer Return Of 120,000 Vets

Retreat Termed Most Spectacular In History Soldiers Want Another Crack At Nazis

LONDON—(AP)—Britain's veterans of the north—the men who helped hold the fields of Flanders until the last and then withdrew in the most spectacular retreat of modern history—still were coming home Saturday night to an exultant welcome from a rarely emotional people.

The success of the withdrawal—one made across the English Channel in a gale of fire from every weapon at the Nazis' command—was illustrated in estimates from various sources that of the original expeditionary force of 175,000 men, from 100,000 to 140,000 had been brought safely back.

Too, it was stated unofficially that every division, or its remnant, save one, had been disembarked.

Suicide Men Stay

This British division, and two French divisions remained to hold off the attacking Germans.

Beneath the cheering, tear-drenched reception ran the somber undercurrent of preparations to evacuate school children and spread England's population outside packed cities. For Britain awaits the next blow—long-theatened invasion, and hell from the heavens by Nazi dive bombers.

Saturday Britain's own air force reported downing 56 German planes over Dunkerque Friday and 14 more Saturday, with a loss of only 16 British fighters.

Nazis Lose Boat

One British naval plane claimed a direct hit, wrecking a torpedo boat of the Nazi mosquito fleet off the Belgian coast.

On the embankments and bridges along the route of the troop trains to London civilians stood to cheer and listen with mouths agape while the returned Tommies told of the bloody business in Flanders.

Many were soaked and one detachment flew their pants like ensigns from the windows of their train.

At a station a shower of postcards flew from the windows. The spectators scrambled for them, and found that they carried messages to the families of wounded men.

French Are Praised

A hard-faced Scotch private pounded a smiling French Poilu on the back and swore at length.

"These little so and sos," he roared. "They get in a position and you can't get them oot. This lad here would be there yet if we hadn't given him orders.

"Just smiling and shooting they were, and giving Jerry proper hell."

A lance corporal spat and said:

"The Jerries drove women and children refugees ahead of them and we had to hold our fire. We got a chance and went at them with bayonets.

"Jerry's No Fighter"

"Jerry's no fighter. He has to have ten to one odds before he attacks. Give us more machine guns, more tanks and more planes and we will run the blighters into Berlin."

HIDALGO WINS BOND DISPUTE

Court Denies Plea Of Bondholders

EDINBURG—A $106,000 dispute in federal court between Hidalgo county and a group of big bondholders has been settled in favor of the county according to word received here Saturday.

The dispute involved terms of contract made with bondholders several years ago under which the county agreed to apply all delinquent taxes for certain years to pay off certain defaulted interest coupons on old bonds at a reduced rate. The contract expired March 1 of this year. Shortly thereafter bondholders complained the county had not been diligent in collecting old taxes and sought relief in federal court.

Privilege Denied

T. M. Kennerly, federal district judge, heard arguments in the case on April 23 and issued a memorandum May 16 denying to bondholders the privilege of reopening the original case under which the contract was drawn up. Notice that the memorandum had been received for filing at Brownsville was received here Saturday.

In their arguments to the federal court, attorneys for the bondholders had contended the county failed to be diligent in collecting delinquent taxes and that consequently bondholders received less than they were due for the old coupons. At the time the contract expired, a large number of coupons still were unredeemed and for these the bondholders claimed they should be paid an additional $106,000. They asked the federal court to order this payment made and to require an additional county tax levy if necessary to raise the funds.

Contract Expired

J. E. Watkins, of the Mission firm of Strickland, Ewers and Wilkins, and chief counsel for the county in the suit, contended the bondholders had no right to ask for relief under the original contract which had expired nor to ask the court to re-open the proceedings which had led up to the contract. He said if the bondholders had any claim to damages they should bring a new lawsuit and re-state their claims.

If the bondholders do not challenge Judge Kennerly's ruling—and

Refugee Ship Sails With 824 Today

GALWAY, Ireland — (AP) — The United States repatriation liner President Roosevelt, with 824 Americans fleeing the dangers of war aboard her, stood anchored a mile offshore Saturday night, ready for an early Sunday sailing.

A hundred and ten passengers who had booked "standing room" were told at the last moment that orders from Washington specified no such passengers would be permitted to sail.

Many of those left were without funds to domicile themselves but the Galway hotels took them in despite their lack of ready cash and it was a moot question who would be responsible for their keep.

Leche Convicted

Ex-Governor Faces Prison Term

ALEXANDRIA, La.—(AP)—Richard W. Leche, Louisiana's governor from 1936 until he resigned under fire last June 26, was convicted Saturday of using the mails to defraud the state of $31,000, and faced a possible maximum sentence of 15 years in prison.

The government charged he pocketed the money through a deal involving the purchase of highway trucks.

Sentence was deferred until June 11 to permit arguments on motion for a new trial. The maximum penalty is five years in prison and $1,000 fine on each of three counts on which he was convicted.

Car Kills Soldier Back From Flanders

Texas Stations Not To Carry Red Speech

By The Associated Press

Only one large city radio station in Texas has scheduled a broadcast Sunday of Communist Earl Browder's speech from New York.

Houston reported that Station KTRH, the Columbia outlet there, had scheduled Browder's talk.

Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio stations will not carry the broadcast. No reasons were given by station officials at Fort Worth. Some stations reported they had other commitments.

Under the law all three nationwide networks (National, Columbia and Mutual) are required to offer the talk of their stations.

'Northern France Is A Burning Torch'

American Reporter Makes Flight With Ally Airmen, Sees Raid

By TAYLOR HENRY

WITH THE FRENCH BOMBER COMMAND ON THE NORTHERN FRONT—(AP)—Seen from the air from a French plane at night, the entire northern front of France looks like a flaming torch.

I have just made a long night reconnaissance flight over the northern battlefields.

The red glow from the flaming cities and towns gave the low-hanging night clouds the appearance of a late summer sunset.

Far below along the battlelines of the Somme and Aisne rivers, flashes of artillery fire looked like matches flaring.

To the north and east there was an almost continuous line of burning towns—Cambrai, St. Quentin, Arras, Peronne, Valenciennes—linked by smoldering fires in the little villages between.

Most of these were fired by incendiary bombs and torch-bearing parachutists days ago, but still the flames rise.

It was just at nightfall that the night bombing squadron, of which I was a guest, received its orders: "Attack in force against Cambrai airport and the crossroads south of Abbeville where important German troop concentrations have been observed."

When I read the orders I caught my breath. Only two weeks ago, as I had left Cambrai, squadrons of German planes were bombing that same airport on the outskirts of this town, which was then being evacuated by the French.

The night was dark and moonless, and only an occasional star peeped in and out of the late spring

Odessa Threatens Religious Sect Saturday

ODESSA, Tex.—(AP)—A sudden wind, rain and electrical storm Saturday night enabled officers to rescue 50 religious sect workers from a ranch house where they had sought refuge from an angry crowd that threatened them when the workers refused to salute the flag.

The 50 persons were brought to the county jail here, where 20 others had been held since a crowd of 1200 persons Saturday stopped the religious workers from distributing literature on the streets. The literature was seized and burned.

County Attorney O. E. Gerrson said the 70 sect members would be held in jail "until they salute the American flag."

Fist fights broke out on the streets Saturday when the sect workers began passing out their literature. A flag was produced and the sect members refused to salute it. A spokesman said they could not salute anything man made.

Ten men and ten women were placed in jail and the others were escorted out of town by state and county officers. The group went to a ranch house a mile from town.

After dusk the crowd formed again. The wind and rain blew up, causing an electrical power breakdown that plunged the city into darkness.

It was then Sheriff Webb and deputies managed to bring the group to jail.

Elliott Sees Texas Border As Vulnerable Spot

INVASION OF U. S. EXPECTED IN THIS AREA

Fifth Columnists In Mexico, He Says

ATHENS, Texas — (AP) — Elliott Roosevelt says if hostile action should come to the United States, the Texas frontier—which borders on Mexico—in all, probability would be the first to be violated.

"The people of other states do not have the knowledge of the gravity of the situation that faces our future as clearly as we do," the son of the president declared here Friday in an address before the old fiddlers' convention.

Roosevelt warned of "Fifth Columnists" in Mexico and suggested that it was common knowledge "to many informed persons the fact that a poisonous hatred has been instilled in the minds of the Mexican people against the United States by representatives of foreign powers."

Seed Received

Edible Soybeans To Be Experimented

WESLACO—Seed of several varieties of edible soybeans have been received by the Valley experiment station and will be planted next fall, according to W. H. Friend, superintendent.

Although the soy bean has long been used as a food by the Chinese, it has been used mostly in soil building and similar practices in this country. A number of edible varieties have been developed. They usually are eaten as green beans instead of dried.

Rabbits are a great menace to soy beans. Friend reports that they will pass up nearly everything else in order to nibble at soy beans. The experiment station once tried spraying the plants with a repellant solution but the rabbits merely waited for tender young shoots to appear and promptly ate them.

American Wounded In German Air Raid At Malo-Les-Bains

PARIS—(AP)—United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt said Saturday he had received a handwritten letter signed by Lloyd R. Stark of Mystic, Conn., stating that Stark was seriously wounded and a friend was killed when his house at Malo-Les-Bains, near Dunkerque, was destroyed by German bombs May 24.

The letter identified the dead friend only as Dr. Cole. His nationality was not given.

This picture, cabled from London to the United States, shows a destroyer laden with British soldiers, from Flanders, nearing a southeastern English port, unidentified in the British caption. Survivors said German planes showered them with a blizzard of bombs and machine gun bullets until the ship neared the British port.

SERG. SMITH DUE IN AREA

Highway Patrolman To Replace Carr

HARLINGEN — Sergeant Guy Smith, stationed at El Paso the past three years, will come here immediately to succeed Sergeant J. D. Carr, of the Texas State Highway Patrol, who has been transferred to Fort Worth.

Sergeant Smith, according to announcement at Austin Saturday, made the best grade among 160 patrolmen who took a competitive examination for the one vacancy in the state patrol. He has been stationed at El Paso the past three years, is married.

Sergeant Carr will leave Harlingen Sunday with his family. Captain Glen Rose said Sergeant Smith would probably arrive here sometime next week. Carr was second-in-command of the Valley patrol sector under Captain Dan Abbott, transferred to San Antonio earlier this year, and remained in that capacity under Captain Rose, who succeeded Captain Abbott.

Only one patrolman of those stationed in the Lower Valley went to Austin to take the examination for the sergeant's post. He was Patrolman J. O. Musick. Musick returned here Saturday.

Publicity Starts

McAllen July Fourth Plans Shaped

McALLEN—Publicity committeemen for the McAllen Fourth of July celebration expect the event to receive more advertising throughout the state this year than ever before.

Three Gulf Oil company sound trucks will make announcements of the celebration in 22 cities of the state to be visited in June. A dozen other cities are expected to be added to the itinerary. Announcements written by the publicity men give a brief outline of the program.

One 15-minute state-wide radio program and several small announcements over a state-wide station have already been arranged for. Through personal connection of members of the publicity department, requests have also been filed for complimentary "plugs" over three other large radio stations.

The Fourth of July celebration has also been listed in various calendars of events published in periodicals circulated throughout Texas.

Leche, appearing as the only witness in his own defense on mail fraud charges, Friday denied he received $31,000 in a deal involving purchase of state trucks, and then angrily defended the $500,000 income he said he received in business while governor and since his resignation 11 months ago.

SEATTLE—(AP)—The "Hermit of the Olympics" came to Seattle Saturday for the second time since he built a wilderness cabin across Puget Sound 55 years ago, and observed:

"Holy Smoke! Back to short skirts again."

The last time W. H. Schmidt, who admits 81 years, came to the metropolis 13 years ago, he stayed a couple of days and then hit out for the hills again, he explained, "where I didn't feel so blamed lonesome."

The total number of instruments filed the first five months of 1940 is 9,383, a decrease as compared with 10,228 filed the same period of 1939 and with 10,264 filed the same period of 1938.

The plane will be piloted by Bob Trego, president of the line. Al Trego, Dallas, vice-president, said here Friday regular flights on the line new McAllen to Dallas air freight schedule are expected to start within a week.

Trego said operations of the new line would be designed to co-operate with the defense policy of the government should this be required.

EDINBURG—Pete Scallion, Pineville, La., arrived here Thursday to return his 1940 Ford allegedly stolen Tuesday by Osbon Simpson, 17, and Bruce Pope, 16, arrested Thursday at San Manuel after they had sought to trade silverware for gasoline.

In statements to Assistant District Attorney J. M. Chapa, Simpson and Pope said they took the car at Pineville Tuesday night and started for the Valley via Galveston and Corpus Christi. Officers said rifles were also found in the car, along with silverware Pope said belonged to his mother.

Pegging Of Grain Prices Is Sought

BISHOP BACK TO OLD HOME

Rev. Moore Returning To Georgia

BROWNSVILLE—Far off in the Georgia low country, where he had been ordained as a young preacher 31 years ago, Bishop Arthur J. Moore of San Antonio, has returned to become the leader of Methodists in the First Episcopal area.

He has been transferred to the area, which includes Florida and the North and South Georgia conferences of the Methodist church, it was learned here Saturday.

Bishop Moore had entered the ministry in South Georgia, and rose to take charge of foreign mission work for the Methodist church throughout the world.

For the past six years, he has been in charge of foreign missions, and returned only recently from the Orient.

He is the father of the Rev. William Harry Moore, pastor of the First Methodist church of Brownsville, and has visited Brownsville several times.

The bishop's headquarters will probably be in Atlanta, Ga., it was said.

War Plan Aids

U. S. Attaches Watch Fight Records

WASHINGTON—(AP)—With more than 60 attaches abroad, a majority of them in Europe, the army and navy are watching the war closely for lessons that may be of value in bolstering United States defenses.

When the war started there were 11 army attaches in belligerent countries and seven in bordering neutral nations.

Those observation posts have been constantly reinforced, particularly as new danger spots have appeared in Scandinavia, the Balkans and elsewhere.

Despite secrecy and censorship, army officials believe American attaches are getting more information than those of any other neutrals, and attaches are shuttling back and forth across the Atlantic rapidly with what information they can obtain.

Hatch Politics Law Permits Government Men To Toot Horns

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(AP)—One angle of the Hatch politics law was set to music Saturday—permitting federal employes to toot their horns and beat the drum at a political rally, if they're in a band.

Senator Hatch (D-NM) wrote Attorney Peter McAtee that a new interpretation of his measure would permit federal employes who are members of "a band or orchestra available for hire" to participate in political parades or rallies.

New Mexico Gets Valley Publicity

McALLEN—Literature advertising McAllen and the Valley is being distributed at Hot Springs, N. M., by Mr. and Mrs. John I. Gwin.

Mrs. Gwin wrote the McAllen Chamber of Commerce that she could use a "cart load" of literature, for distribution to people of means who are spending the summer there. She said scores of persons asked her about the Valley. Gwin, formerly a prominent business man of Rensselaer, and Mrs. Gwin, former state Democratic committee woman of Indiana, are now among the Valley's biggest boosters. They own considerable property in McAllen.

24 States Receive Valley Literature

McALLEN — Twenty-four states will receive 77 batches of advertising booklets depicting the advantages of the Valley and McAllen as a farming country, vacation spot, and other attributes, McAllen Chamber of Commerce officials said Saturday.

The 77 inquiries came to Governor W. Lee O'Daniel as a result of his radio broadcasts. He sent names of the interested persons to C. H. Britton, chairman of the governor's industrial committee, and other committee heads in Texas.

Merit System Seen For State Workers

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Travis county grand jury Friday recommended that the legislature establish a merit system for state employes to end a "wild scramble for spoils" and other asserted abuses.

The jury said its investigation showed that state workers engaged in political campaigns and that present laws were too indefinite and ineffective to prevent this "dangerous practice."

It added that the turnover in state employes following elections introduces into the service of the state a "host of new and inexperienced employes" at great waste to the taxpayer.

Texas Cities Seek New Water Supply

AUSTIN—(AP)—With a view toward discovery of new water supplies, 150 counties have sent 23,000 water samples to the University of Texas for analysis, Dr. E. P. Schoch, industrial chemistry bureau director, reported Friday.

BROWNSVILLE — Rev. William Harry Moore will preach on the subject, "Is America in Danger," at the 8 o'clock service Sunday and ex-service men are especially invited.

Style Show, Comedy Skits To Be In McAllen Revue

Valley Little Theatre Drops Straight Drama For Outdoor Presentation

McALLEN — Dropping their flair for the regular stage play, members of the Valley Little Theatre are going informal Monday night in the patio of the Casa de Palmas Hotel to present the first outdoor revue shown by the organization in its brief but meteoric career.

Final rehearsals went on all last week. Their results were so outstanding that Director Paul Moore is convinced the audience will see something like they have never seen before.

Highlight is the style show—not like the ordinary style parade with just a display of costumes but an entertainment feature presented by members of the Junior Service League of McAllen. Music and comedy have been put in this act to give it the acme of dash.

Other acts the director is sure will be popular with the audience include a black face female impersonation by Josef Eiler; a singing chorus of 15 of the Valley's best voices with Lois Petsch as soloist singing the "Italian Street Song" in the finale; Connie Green and Eva Sue Murphy in a take-off on the popular radio combine, "Cobina and Brenda;" Marvin Downs in a comedy scene with Nikki St. Ore doing a hula-hula; Stanley Addington of Raymondville in several songs with special scenic effect; Lester Brecht, a series of dramatic monologues and David Calvin with an all-girl chorus in a dramatized setting of a popular song.

In addition there are scattered throughout the revue comedy sketches and blackouts played by Mrs. H. R. Kamlah, Mrs. Downs, Gwendolyn Crawford, Brecht and others. A special feature of the show will be the dancing of Frances Jennings and a line of eight girls doing a tap routine, can-can and toe number. Frank Crabtree will present two numbers especially designed for this show.

And that does not close the entertainment for the night. When the show is over and the props cleared away there will be dancing in the patio.

Tickets may be bough from Little Theatre members or purchased at the door.

DREDGE WILL RETURN SOON

Galveston Due Back About June 10

BROWNSVILLE — Unofficial reports here Saturday were that the Dredge Galveston would return about June 10 to continue the dredging of Brazos Santiago pass and the bay channel.

The dredge was called several weeks ago to do emergency work at the southwest pass of the Mississippi river.

Its maintenance program in the Port Isabel area included dredging of Brazos Santiago Pass to 34 feet and the bay channel to 32 feet, each with three feet of allowable overdepth.

It is believed all flowers of the world belong to only nine primary types.

Valley's Water Problems Unlike Any Other In Texas, For Ours Is International As Well As Financial; Solution Due

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Tex.— (AP) —Difficulties of Texas water conservation agencies, in the main, are problems of obtaining financial aid principally from federal government sources, while those in the Lower Rio Grande Valley encompass, in addition, international negotiations.

This lush garden spot of North America is dependent for irrigation on the capricious flow of a lazy, treacherous stream which originates in far northwestern Colorado and has several tributaries in both Texas and the southern Republic of Mexico.

Once carrying steamships almost 200 miles inland, the Rio Grande winding through mountains for most of its length, finally flows through the delta of the lower valley where alluvial soil, cleared of underbrush, has become one of the most productive vegetable and citrus growing areas on the continent.

Sometimes only a trickle which can be [illegible] by a yarkstick, the Rio Grande at other times becomes a sprawling, debris-strewn stream which, dividing two nations, can be controlled only by agreements negotiated between the state departments and ratified by the government of the United and Mexico.

For a quarter century and more, Valley conservation and reclamation districts and county water improvement districts have battled for an equitable division of the stream's waters—a problem ramified by divergent interests and slow-moving international diplomacy.

The Valley conservation and reclamation district, with a main objective of trying to solve water problems arising from inadequate supplies for irrigational and domestic uses, is trying to build storage space for Rio Grande flood waters on the Texas side.

The district contemplates one storage dam to hold about 70,000 acre feet near Mission and another of about 400,000 acre-feet near Rio Grande City, the water to be carried from the Rio Grande by a gravity canal between Zapata and Laredo.

Embracing Cameron, Hidalgo and Willacy counties, the Cameron County Water District No. 2, a voluntary association, has spent $4,000,000 on a system with which to trap flood waters both for flood prevention and storage purposes.

"The average flow of the river at the head of the Valley," says F. S. Robertson, general manager for the district, "is nearly 5,000,000 acre-feet, less than 20 per cent of which is being or is usable under the uncontrolled flow of the stream.

Need Storage Dams

"If storage dams could be built in the main stream, at least 80 per cent of this annual flow could be made available for beneficial use, but no dams can be built in the river without a treaty with Mexico, and the Valley has been trying to induce our government to negotiate such a treaty—but without success."

Building of dams across the Rio Grande, one north of Laredo and another above Roma, to store water for us of both nations is the association's principal objective.

"Realizing the difficulty of making a water treaty with Mexico," Robertson continued, "the American section of the international boundary commisison proposes to build a dam across Los Olmos Creek, back of Rio Grande City, for off-channel storage of up to 400,000 acre feet of water to be distributed by a gravity canal.

"This off-channel storage can be accomplished without asking Mexico anything about it. However, it would control only a small fraction of the flood waters now going to waste."

Engineers have calculated that 70 per cent of the Rio Grande's water in the Valley area washes into the stream from foreign soil.

"For a number of years," says Emery W. Watts of Donna, "Mexico has been carrying on a constantly expanding program of irrigation development on tributaries which have been supplying such a large percentage of our water in the lower Rio Grande Valley."

Mexico Takes Water

Watts said dams and canals for irrigation had been constructed by Mexico on their own San Juan, Sabinas, Conchos, San Diego, San Rodrigo, Escondido and Salado rivers, all cutting off water which would otherwise contribute to the Rio Grande's volume.

Ralph G. Bray of McAllen, newspaper man and secretary to the growers' committee of the citrus industry, attributes the Mexican government's conservation work to drainage of the Rio Grande by Texans.

"More than once," he said, "waters of the stream have ceased to flow, being sucked dry by 20 or more huge irrigation pumps on the Texas side."

Bray urged action by the United States Department of State in negotiating a treaty with the southern republic.

"The Valley has had its share of troubles," he said, referring to gulf storms and occasional freezes which have damaged crops, "but the area's destiny in wrapped up in the Rio Grande and unless concrete results in the way of either an impounding or diversion dam are forthcoming, the day of a water famine is not far distant.

"More than a quarter million people are affected, their investments approaching a quarter of a billion dollars."

Valley water conservation authorities apparently are agreed a United States treaty with Mexico on damming the "great river," meanderings of which have changed the territorial areas of nations, is the only solution to the district's water problems.

Townsend Meeting Is Set For Monday

HARLINGEN—Regular meeting of the Harlingen Townsend Club will be held at the city hall auditorium here Monday at 8 p. m., according to I. A. Baker, president.

It is estimated that 850,000 migratory farm laborers have entered California since 1935.

CITRUS GROUP PLANS PARLEY

15 Directors Are To Be Selected

MERCEDES—An appeal to all citrus growers to attend the election of the board of directors of the Texas Citriculture Institute at the Mercedes city hall at 8 p. m. Tuesday night was made Saturday by George Darnell of Mission, acting director.

Fifteen directors are to be elected.

Purpose of the non-profit organization, according to Darnell, is to improve conditions of the growers chiefly through improvement of marketing methods. The group is to work strictly for the good of the growers, he said.

Darnell pointed out that in view of conditions facing the growers, it was imperative they "get behind the institute with full strength."

Until the election, Darnell, L. H. Henry of Mercedes, and Ben Asche of Mission, are serving as acting directors.

Republican Women Will Meet Monday

BROWNSVILLE— The Cameron County Republican Women's party will meet Monday noon at Landrum's restaurant here.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Randall Mathers of Brownsville. Mrs. Millicent Hill, Harlingen, is president of the organization.

An interesting program has been arranged for the meeting, and probably will include a report on the recent Republican state convention.

Christian filed application for a place on the primary ballot and the $100 fee with E. B. Germany of Dallas, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee.

He has served as one of the two commissioners in the three-judge court since 1927.

The Dakotas' name comes from a Sioux Indian word meaning "alliance of friends."

Dies Urges Congress To Outlaw Communists And Bundsmen In America

HEAVY FINES ARE PROPOSED AS PENALTIES

Legislation Is Slated During Week

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Representative Dies (D-Tex) proposed Saturday night that Congress outlaw the Communist party and the German-American Bund and fix heavy penalties for membership in those groups "or any organizations controlled by them."

Dies, chairman of the House committee investigating un-American activities, said legislation to do this would be introduced next week, based on the committee's conclusion that the Communists were controlled from Moscow and the Bund from Berlin.

Like Europe

The legislation, the Texan said, would "outlaw the Communists and Nazis just as they have been outlawed in France and would take away from them the legal standing which gives them a certain amount of protection as political groups."

"It would not," he added, "prevent any person from advocating the ideology of Communism or Nazism but would prevent them from being members of these organizations which are known to be foreign-controlled.

With the drive against "Trojan horses" expanding, Dies suggested that President Roosevelt create a council of home defense to co-ordinate all counter-subversive activities of the FBI, secret service, army and navy intelligence and the Dies committee. He suggested "constructive, sane leaderhsip" of "men who are level-headed and would not become hysterical."

Hearings Set Monday

Dies said his committee would begin hearings here Monday on "Fifth Column" activities in the South." An informed source said the hearings, to be closed to the public, would concern reports that Communists had obtained positions with the Tennessee Valley Authority and in the Birmingham, Ala., steel industry.

The committee's widespread investigation had brought forth, Dies asserted, a statement from "a reputable citizen of Dallas, Texas, "that he has photographs of airbases along the southern United States border in Mexico and would forward them to the committee."

The committee plans hearings along the Mexican border in Texas, he said, two or three weeks after the adjournment of Congress. These hearings, he added, would concern reports that American Communists and Nazis were co-operating in a move to bring on a revolution in Mexico.

During the day, Attorney General Jackson created a "National Defense Investigation Unit," within the Federal Bureau of Investigation, headed by Veteran G-Man Hugh H. Clegg, to deal with "Fifth Column" and similar activities. About 250 agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will be made available for this duty by July 1.

Hoboes Of America Join Fight Against U. S. Fifth Column

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— An army of hoboes is joining the fight against "Fifth Column" activities in this country.

The International Intinerant workers Union, hoboes of America, called upon its claimed 1,025,000 members Saturday to help protect their country by furnishing "tips" of undercover movements of saboteurs and spies.

CITRUS UNIT MEET CALLED

Better Prices Will Be Sought Here

MERCEDES — Citrus growers throughout the Valley will start their campaign for better fruit prices in earnest next Tuesday at 8 p.m. when first regular meeting of the recently roganized Texas Citriculture Institute will be held in the City Hall Auditorium at Mercedes.

This co-operative organization is the outgrowth of a series of meetings and hearings conducted throughout the Valley during recent months under auspices of a general organization committee and a number of sub-committees. A large number of growers is expected to attend the initial meeting to elect a permanent board of fifteen directors to represent every section of the Valley. Adoption of the by-laws and other details in connection with the organization set-up will be perfected.

Among the key men who will have interesting reports to make to the growers will be George Darnell of Mission, General Chairman of the central organization committee, and Judge L. H. Henry of Mercedes, chairman of the sub-committee which conducted a number of public hearings and received suggestions for formulation of the proposed marketing plan by which Valley growers expect to improve the price situation for their crops, particularly grapefruit prices.

DAIRY MONTH SET FOR JUNE

Proclamation Issued By Mayor Ramsey

HARLINGEN — Recognizing the possibilities for unlimited expansion in the Valley's dairy industry, Mayor Hugh Ramsey Saturday proclaimed the month of June as "Harlingen Dairy Month," to build sound bodies and increase consumption of dairy products."

Mayor Ramsey's proclamation follows:

"WHEREAS, the possibilities for vast expansion of the Dairy Industry in the Rio Grande Valley are practically unlimited, although great development has been effected in recent years; and

"WHEREAS, the Governor of our State of Texas, W. Lee O'Daniel, has deemed it wise to recognize this fact and proclaim June as Dairy Month in the State of Texas; and

"WHEREAS, the nearest approach to the fabled Fountain of Youth yet discovered is in pure cow's milk; without her milk, children languish, the vigor of the adult declines, and the vitality of the human race runs low. The building of good sound bodies, bone, muscle and good teeth depends upon the liberal use of dairy products, such as milk, ice cream, butter, cheese, etc.; and

"WHEREAS, it is generally recognized that our present consumption of milk is far short of the milk considered by nutrition authorities as proper and practical, namely, one quart daily for children through adolescence and one point daily for adults:

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, Hugh Ramsey, Mayor of the City of Harlingen, Texas, in recognition of this great industry which means so much to the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas, in food and good health, in dollars and jobs, do set aside the month of June, 1940, as HARLINGEN DAIRY MONTH and urge that it be observed by the citizens by increased use of milk and dairy products, and I also urge every merchant and business man in the City of Harlingen to join in this movement to increase milk consumption.

"IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name and caused the Seal of the City of Harlingen to be affixed hereon, this the 1st day of June, A. D., 1940.

HUGH RAMSEY,
Mayor of Harlingen."

MAN IS HELD IN CAR THEFT

18th Loss Reported In Hidalgo County

EDINBURG — Quintice (Rastus) Everhart, 19-year-old Harlinger and Mercedes Negro, was held in the Hidalgo county jail here Saturday under charges of stealing an auto owned by Pete Garcia, former city officer at Mercedes.

The theft allegedly occurred last Wednesday, and the car was recovered the same day at Harlingen. Assistant District Attorneys Jack Ross and Joe Chapa took statements from Everhart and a Negro who had ridden with him from Mercedes to Harlingen in the machine. The charges were filed before Justice of the Peace J. Loy Ramsour here, who has not set bond late Saturday.

Deputy Sheriff Ben Brooks, Jr., of Mercedes and city officers at Harlingen recovered the stolen machine.

The theft was the eighteenth in the county in recent months and the first since May 19, when a coach driven by Harry Starr of McAllen was stolen while parked and locked on a downtown Weslaco street.

M'ALLEN MAY BUILDING IS ON INCREASE

Year's Total Is Listed At $227,000

McALLEN—Building in McAllen during May doubled the figure for the same time last year as a construction boom which has been under way for the past five months showed no signs of coming to a halt.

During the past month, permits totaled $70,696, for construction of 30 units of which one was a new Queen theatre for $15,000 and 19 were new residences.

Industrial work during the month also moved forward. Six units were for business use, the largest being the $6,000 permit to Sam Goldstein for the remodeling of his Advance Shop. Permits for warehouses totaled $7,200, in addition to a $1,400 beauty parlor.

With construction for the month $34,096 ahead of the same month last year, when new building totaled $36,600, the year's total to date also showed a rise. So far this year, $227,198 worth of new construction has been started, in comparison to $195,495 during the same period last year, City Building Inspector C. C. Eckhoff said.

New building is not confined to the city limits. Approximately 18 homes have been built in the suburban district outside of the city line during the past month.

The following permits have been issued for new homes: Higinio Elizondo, $1,200; Harold Hendricks, Refugio Herrera $26; Dr. A. E. Hoffman, $5,000; B. R. Suttle, $3,000; R. A. Weaver, $3,000; Jesus Villacuna, $80; H. E. Waldron, $3,200; Scott Ford, $2,000 and $200 garage apartment; R. J. Potter, $2,600; Pedro Flores, $150; Luis S. Garza, $50; P. E. McDonald, $2,400; A. J. Ehlers, repairing, $1,000; Servando Cantu, $90; Dr. S. Joe McKinsey, $3,500; J. B. Rodriguez, $100; Roy Carter, $3,500.

Warehouse construction permits were taken out by Missouri Pacific Railroad Company, $3,500 for the Valley Sales Company; M. R. Nelson, $1,200; R. A. Weaver, $3,000; Elvis Russell, $500.

Other permits include J. A. Frisby, $200, engine house; Charles Foster, $1,400, beauty parlor; and Sam Goldstein.

Luce For Honesty

Says Drop Our Cloak Of Neutrality

WASHINGTON— (AP) —Henry R. Luce, editor of Time and Life magazines, urged the American people Saturday to call upon their leaders to "strip off our false cloak of neutrality" and express flat hostility to Nazi Germany.

"We can now go a long way toward regaining our spiritual integrity, as God-fearing democrats, if we stand up and speak our mind now," he said in a (CBS) radio address.

"Let every political leader high and low, speaking for himself and for us, state flatly in his own way: 1, that he deeply wishes the defeat of Adolf Hitler and Nazi Germany; 2, that he will never vote to recognize the Nazi domination of once free peoples; 3, that he will never in any way give aid and comfort to the Third Reich; 4, that he will continue to oppose by every wise and practical means the consequences of Nazi victory."

Star Employe's Hand Is Injured By Press

HARLINGEN —Elwood Miley, 21, Valley Morning Star employe, was resting at midnight in Valley Baptist Hospital here with a crushed right hand, suffered when the hand was pulled between rollers on the press.

The accident occurred when Miley was feeding paper between the blanket cylinder and the page roller. A bar on the roller caught his hand and pulled it into the narrow space the length of his fingers. Surgeons thought he might lose one or both of the middle fingers.

Girls Softball Circuit Opens

McALLEN—Several close, hard-fought games featured the first week's play of the Valley girls softball league with Edcouch-Elsa and McAllen turning in two victories. San Perlita, La Feria and Raymondville also chalked up a win.

Edcouch-Elsa surprised Mercedes and the strong San Perlita team to establish themselves as contender in the league. They will meet the potent La Feria girls at La Feria Tuesday night as the feature game of the week. Edinburg lost their first start to the McAllen Masterettes by a lone run. They will take on Mercedes and La Feria which gives them a chance to hop up among the leaders.

Sebastian will open its home schedule Friday night if their new lighted field is completed in time. Raymondville and San Perlita will have their private quarrel.

Schedule for the week includes:

Tuesday

Edcouch at La Feria
Edinburg at Mercedes
Raymondville at San Perlita

Wednesday

Sebastian at McAllen

Thursday

La Feria at Edinburg
McAllen at Edcouch-Elsa
San Perlita at Raymondville

Friday

Mercedes at Sebastian.

newsman, flew over the northern battlefields in a night reconnaissance flight with a French pilot and reported the German-conquered territory resembled a giant flaming torch.

Nelson Claimed Sunk

Authorized Berlin sources announced the sinking—date, place and circumstances unstated—of the 33,950 ton battleship Nelson, flagship of the British home fleet, and the Nazi high command reported three enemy warships and eight transports were sent to the bottom off Dunkerque during the day.

In addition, the Germans said they shot down 40 Allied planes in the day's operations. The British reported the destruction of 40 German planes and 33 others damaged or destroyed in fierce combat off the Allied port of escape.

In addition the high command communique said that German dive bombers made hits on four other warships and 14 commercial vessels which presumably were serving as transports.

The vague announcement about the 33,950-ton Nelson, was reported by authorized sources in Berlin. The announcement told only of the sinking of the dreadnaught with 700 of its 1,320 crewmen but, for "military reasons," omitted when, where or how the Nelson, one of Britain's newest and mightiest capital ships, was sent to the bottom.

Apparently diverting armored divisions from the channel battle, the Germans intensified their Somme offensive in a drive which began Friday and still was continuing Saturday night.

The French held a bridgehead on the north bank of the Somme, needed by the Nazis to get across, but were reported in Paris to be holding also against assaults on the south side between Abbeville and Amiens.

Where Hitler would steer the German war machine next, however, remained his secret.

Invasion Delayed?

There were hints in Berlin, and expectations among the Allies, that the threatened direct invasion of England might be put second in the Nazi plans—after a pincers drive toward Paris with the Germans attacking from the north and the Italians from the south.

Evidence continued that Italy might be on the verge of throwing her full weight into the war on the Nazi side.

The Fascist government Saturday called up 10,000 additional non-commissioned officers. Americans travelling to Genoa to sail for the United States Sunday on the liner Manhattan also reported troop movements indications preparations for an Italian war move.

Some observers speculated that the next step might be a joint German-Italian peace proposal, backed by an Italian ultimatum.

The tattered remnants of the Allied forces in northern France meanwhile continued streaming back to the security of England. The British, hailing the withdrawal as the greatest rearguard action in history, regarded it so well advanced that they called home General Lord Gort, commander of the British expeditionary force, and estimated that all but one battered division of the 175,000 men in his army had been snatched from the Nazi trap.

Dunkerque Shelled

The Germans dragged up heavy artillery to shell Dunkerque as French rearguard units cut their way to that port.

British newspapers called the Allies' defensive fight so successful and the protective screen of their warships and planes so powerful that the German drive to the channel coast was at a price of 500,000 men lost.

The Nazis, however, scoffed at the Allies' reports of a well-ordered escape from the Flanders pocket and declared they had abandoned so much new war material that the booty would replace all that Germany lost.

Both sides reported extensive aerial activity despite adverse weather and boasted of heavy casualties to the enemy against slight losses to themselves.

Berlin said the score Saturday was 49 Allied planes shot down and nine German planes missing; according to a British communique, its was 67 German planes against 19 British Friday and early Saturday.

5 Transports Sunk

The Germans also reported sinking five transports and damaging three warships and 10 merchantmen by air attack off Dunkerque as well as sinking a destroyer and submarine by torpedo boat attack in the English Channel.

The United States, speeding rearmament, launched the 35,000-ton battleship Washington at Philadelphia—the first new capital ship for the American fleet since 1921.

In Washington, the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced the creation of a "national defense investigation unit." One of its jobs will be to investigate "fifth column" and other activities considered inimical to national safety.

Power Rates Slashed By Texas Coop Units

AUSTIN— (AP) —Rate reductions for customers of the Pedernales Electric Cooperative and Lower Colorado River Electric Cooperative Associations, were announced by the Lower Colorado River Authority Saturday.

Under rate agreements with the cooperatives, which cover an extensive Central Texas area and are supplied with power by the LCRA from hydro-electric plants at four dams, minimum bills for consumers were dropped from more than $2 a month to $1.25.

Two-Inch Toy Pistol Is Swallowed By Tot

BRITISH CHEER ARMY ESCAPE

er—James O'Neill—came back from embarking the Allied troops at Dunkerque by motorboat with the comment:

"It was real hell over there."

The old man was suffering shock and exhaustion because of his frantic service with a group of volunteers who crossed to Dunkerque with six motorboats Friday to load troops into transports.

"As we approached the Dunkerque roads," he said, "German planes were bombing and machinegunning everything and everybody. They were like flies in the air. Machine gun bullets and bombs were falling like hail around the destroyers and other rescue ships, and around the troops massed on the sands and waiting to be taken off."

French Boats Used

The number of French and Belgians brought back with the BEF could not be determined, but it was believed they were about 5,000. Since some of the rescue ships were French it appeared a reasonable presumption that parts of some French detachments had been taken southward to ports on the French coast.

The men of the BEF, after being paid, fed to the ears and given leaves wherever possible, soon will re-form to meet the next thrust of the Germans.

Their commander-in-chief, Lord Gort, was called into the presence of the king and upon him was bestowed the highest mark of chivalry: The Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath.

Children Moved

Trains were ready Saturday night to take the first of 47,000 school children from menaced communities along Britain's east and southern coast. They will start Sunday. Most of them will be taken to Wales and western England.

Authorities urged parents to cooperate with the moving of children to safety and pointed out that even now only 87,000 of London's half million children have been registered for removal to safer areas.

Word of the detention of Tyler Kent, a clerk dismissed by the United States embassy in London, stirred rumors of espionage in high places. Kent was held on order of the home secretary "in cooperation with British authorities."

Talk that Italy may be in the war within a week was met calmly.

Diplomatic sources outside the British government commented: "The Allies have finished making advances to Italy. The next step is up to Mussolini."

Agreement Seen

Greece, Italy Pact Is Believed Made

ATHENS, Greece—(AP)—A secret agreement between Greece and Italy designed to keep Greece from becoming a battleground if Italy enters the European war was believed in Allied and Yugoslav circles Saturday night to have been reached by Premier General John Metaxas and the Italian government.

To avoid a possible lightning Italian attack observers said, the Greek government is ready to let the Italians occupy strategic points of Crete and other islands with only a formal protest as a token of resistance provided Italy spares the remainder of Greece.

It is widely believed that General Metaxas, Greece's dictator, has so informed Italy.

rain-clouds, hanging low over the zone.

The commander of the squadron, who, only two days before had bombed his native village in the Ardenes, now German-occupied, lent me flying gear; three suits of heavy coveralls, one heated by electricity; fur-lined boots, a crash helmet and thick gloves.

When we reached the almost completely darkened airport, the plane already was ready. After a quick handshake around, the five of us took our places.

A thin line of red lights flickered on the field to mark our runway. The first pilot—I was listed as a supernumerary second pilot—gave the huge plane the gun and we lifted gracefully into the air, closely circled the field and then headed toward the battle zone.

Below us stretched the peaceful French countryside. Heavy dark masses marked the forests, while the rivers and highways appeared as black ribbons.

Front 10 Minutes Away

Some ten minutes before the front was reached, it was outlined by flashes of artillery fire.

Because of the clouds we were flying low over French-held territory but as we neared the battle zone the plane rose to escape the fire of anti-aircraft guns.

The French pilots have nicknamed the German 20 milimeter anti-aircraft guns "poums-poums," and that is exactly the sound they make as the shells explode in the air.

The heaviest anti-aircraft fire was concentrated by the Germans around St. Quentin and Peronne.

It is not exactly a comfortable feeling to be sitting in a plane while the "poum-poums" burst around.

They explode on almost every side at almost the same moment that you see the flashes on the ground.

Like Fireworks

Unless they are very close they give only the sensation of a gigantic fireworks display.

It takes a direct hit in a vital spot to disable one of these giant planes. Even a hit on the wings makes only a hole a foot square. The plane jolts slightly—and then drones on its way.

From the air at night the battlelines running from Montmedy, where it leaves the Maginot Line, through Stenay, Attigny, Rethel, Neuf-Chateau, Anizy, La Fere, Chauny, Ham and Amiens to Abbeville on the English Channel, shows as a scarcely defined line.

If it were not for the Aisne and Somme rivers, which the line follows, it would be difficut to recognize.

Amiens Area Active

Apparently heavy fighting was going on in the Amiens-Albert region where the French seem to have driven a salient. There the flash of artillery was heavier than at any other part of the line and there we saw minute flames which the observation officer said were from machinegun fire.

Our plane was scouting to learn the effect of the bombing of the other planes.

The squadron already had bombed the Cambrai airport when we arrived over it. The southeast corner of the airport was in flames, indicating that a direct hit had been made either on gasoline tanks or stocks of incendiary bombs.

The squadron skirted the zone where British and French forces were almost cut off in Flanders. It was only a few hours before that we had learned there were Belgian troops still protecting their north flank.

From a distance flames could be seen raking the channel ports which are the only means of supply and evacuation for the two embattled armies there.

As far inland as we were it was difficult to establish the line of the seacoast, but flashes from what we believed were Allied warships indicated the flects were supporting the Allied armies.

Behind the German lines fast moving convoys were outlined as dark blurs on the roads. Only at crossroads could their movement be distinguished. It was such a crossroad south of Abbeville that had been designated as the second objective of the squadron.

From the air the effect of the bombs dropping was almost undistinguishable. It may have been because they were dropped from another plane, but the only noticeable effect was the blurring of an already obscure mass.

Observers of the plane that dropped the bombs, however, reported direct hits.

The return flight was uneventful except for the delicate task of setting the plane down on an almost darkened field.

CALLING OF MILITIA URGED

bers. On hearing of it, Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) declared:

"It isn't any wonder that I am getting many telegrams asking if it is the intention of the President and congress to get us into war when statements are issued indicating it may be necessary between now and the time congress returns that the national guard be called to active duty.

"This propagandaa to stampede the people of this country into a war hysteria ought to be stopped, and the people who are opposed to war ought to let their congressmen and the administration know about it."

No Adjournment?

Senators George (D-Ga) and Austin (R-Vt), both supporters of the President's foreign policy, joined Senators forecasting that congress might remain in session continuously as a result of the request for authority to summon the guard to active duty.

Calling the request "apparently unwarranted," George told reporters:

"If the President seriously insists on this request, I think congress will say: 'Mr. President, if there is an emergency of this nature in the offing, of which the country now knows nothing, we will stay here to meet it."

Senator Austin, the assistant republican leader, declared:

"I think we will be here all summer before we grant that power. There will have to be some justification that doesn't appear now before congress will be willing to do it, in my judgment."

Another senator suggested privately that the President might be seeking greater control over the citizen soldiers in an effort to stamp out alleged "Fifth Column" activities within the guard.

Fifth Column Aid

This senator said he had heard reports that Communist and Fascist activities were widespread within the ranks of the guard in one state, which he did not name.

The national guard, which has a present strength of about 225,000 men and 15,000 officers, is distinct from the regular army and is supported jointly by federal and state governments.

War department officials said that the President now has authority to call the guard to active duty for either of two purposes: 1, to meet a threatened invasion; 2, to deal with insurrection and disorder.

In the event that congress declares a national emergency to exist, they added, the President can under existing law call the guard out for any purpose.

BRITISH TOMMY LEARNS TO SWIM AFTER FLANDERS

LONDON—(AP)—As disheveled Tommies returning from Flanders stepped off a train under a blacked-out trainshed, one soldier clug wearily a moment to the door of a compartment.

"Had a rough time, chum?" asked a porter.

The Tommy straightened up and, with tightened jaw, said:

"I've ruddy well learned to swim anyhow."

attorneys here said there is little likelihood of such a challenge—the bondholders have only two remaining alternatives. One is to file an entirely new lawsuit asking damages for alleged non-performance of a contract, and the other is to drop the litigation and give up hope for further revenue from this source.

County Auditor B. F. McKee said Saturday the county still has about $12,000 due the bondholders under the contract which has not been paid to them pending settlement of the present litigation. He said the county is ready to pay this amount any time the bondholders want to settle up.

White House Silent On Duce Message

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The White House threw no light Saturday night upon the reported new exchange of messages between President Roosevelt and Premier Mussolini.

Informed of the reports from Rome that there had been such an exchange, Stephen Early, the President's press secretary, would say only that there had been an almost continuous exchange between the President and the heads of various governments.

Thompson Sends Fee With Music Clause

of the procedure would be guaranteed by the fact that the plan is always subject to congress.

Congress, in fact, would have to adopt legislation to put the plan into effect. The president would have to sign that legislation. Right there is a point that has military men in Washington worried. They are asking "would he sign it?"

Some months ago the president appointed a "war resources board" headed by Steelman Edward J. Stettinius, Jr., to study the plan. The board did so, and is reliably reported to have approved it with expressions of surprise at how complete it was. The president did not make the board's report public.

By sticking to a mobilization plan developed over two peacetime decades, advocates of the existing plan say, the president could avoid the risk of too highly centralized war government. The war agencies would work side by side with the civil government and would go out of existence at war's end.

But, these advocates continue, if war agencies should be incorporated into the normal machinery of civil government, the whole gigantic set-up would remain at the close of the war and it might be too powerful to dismantle.

President Must Act

The president has the last word. He hasn't said yet what he would do. Meanwhile, however, the plan as revised in 1939 was approved jointly by Louis Johnson and Charles Edison, who at that time were acting secretary of war and navy, respectively, in the president's cabinet.

Eleventh Candidate Seeks Congress Job

AMARILLO —(AP)— Lewis P. Fields, Amarillo insurance man, announced Saturday as a candidate for congress from the 18th Texas district. He was the eleventh man to enter the race to succeed Marvin Jones, who has been appointed to the U. S. Court of Claims.

Local observers predicted that Jones would be petitioned to decline the court appointment and stand as a candidate for reelection. Fields specified in his announcement that he would withdraw should Jones be drafted.

County AAA Group Members Lose Jobs

PLAINVIEW — (AP) — Chairman Earl Beach and members Ed Pope and C. S. Clark, received mail notice Saturday that they had been removed from the Hale county agricultural conservation association county committee.

E. N. Holmgreen, executive secretary of the AAA at College Station, notified the three of their removal by I. W. Duggan, southern division director, of Washington. They will be replaced by two alternate committeemen and a third to be elected.

The committeemen were advised they were removed under association articles which gives the administration that power.

Deadline For Filing For Texas State Offices Falls Monday

'Political Sweepstakes' Interest Is Hotter Now

Dan Moody Dark Horse; Dozen Hopefuls To Date Have Come Out For Governor

AUSTIN—(AP)—The stroke of midnight Monday closes the books on the Texas gubernatorial and other important political sweepstakes.

The approaching deadline—final date for filing notice of candidacy—accentuates speculation on whether red-thatched Dan Moody, twice a winner, will emerge from private law practice in Austin and try for a third victory in a crowded field.

He reiterated Saturday that he would make no hasty decision on a request that he run. In fact, his name is qualified for a place on the July 27 primary ballot by virtue of a group of Williamson county citizens who without consulting Moody filed application with the Democratic state executive committee and paid the filing fee.

Moody himself can scratch his name if he chooses before the committee meets in Austin, June 10, to certify names for the official ballot.

As entries stand a dozen hopefuls will make the race although some will not trek the state in search of votes.

Hill Billies Due

An early posting was Governor W. Lee O'Daniel whose sound wagon and minstrel band soon will tour the state again. Similar tactics already have been adopted by Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler who won his office two years ago, despite the fact O'Daniel endorsed Sadler's opponent in the run-off election, and who now wants to oust the governor.

State Highway Commissioner Harry Hines, Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, twice governor of Texas, and State Representative Albert Derden of Marlin also have launched campaigns to unseat the former flour salesman who tore through a field of a dozen opponents to win in a smashing victory two years ago.

Sharing interest with the governor's race is the battle for the railroad commission post held by Chairman Lon A. Smith who is not seeking re-election.

Nearly a score of candidates have announced and a majority have paid their filing fee. There might be additional aspirants on the list by Monday night.

Stevenson Interested

Lieutenant-Governor Coke Stevenson, drawling southwest Texan and ranchman, wants another two years in his important post as presiding officer of the senate. He has drawn the opposition of Virgil E. Arnold of Houston and Charles L. Sommerville of Dallas.

Apparently the easiest race was in store for Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, former Southern Methodist University football statellite, who has drawn no opposition to renomination for a second term.

Contests are developing for high judiciary posts. George E. Christian, a commissioner in the court of criminal appeals this week formally filed for a judgeship in opposition to Judge Tom L. Beauchamp who wants re-election to a full term. Judge Beauchamp was appointed by O'Daniel to fill the unexpired term of Presiding Judge W. F. Morrow who retired because of age.

Justice Moore Runs

Chief Justice W. F. Moore of the supreme court, appointed by O'Daniel to fill the unexpired term of the late Chief Justice C. M. Cureton, has announced he does not want re-nomination. Vieing for the position are Judge J. P. Alexander of the Waco court of civil appeals and R. Tuck Chapin, San Antonio attorney.

Associate Justice John H. Sharp is a candidate for another term and is opposed by William Richard Watkins of Fort Worth, a lawyer.

Bottle Explodes As It Is Filled

SAN BENITO — Mysterious explosion of a five-gallon water bottle at the service station operated by Marcus Dodson at Stenger and Crockett streets here at 4:30 p. m. Friday cut the leg of Pete Sifuentes, 26, who was filling the bottle, and blew glass across the street.

Dodson, at a loss to explain the circumstances, said Sifuentes was filling the bottle with hydrant water at the station, and had perhaps two gallons in it when it exploded. Dodson said there was no water on the concrete where the bottle burst, and that powdered glass was thrown in every direction.

TAXPAYERS IN WILLACY MEET

Agreement Reached On Refund Program

RAYMONDVILLE — The Executive Committee of the Tax Payers Association met with the Board of Directors of the Willacy County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 one Friday morning and reached an agreement covering all points of the refunding program.

The commitment of R.F.C. was discussed by the board in which the R.F.C. sets out at $175,000, to be deposited in the Federal Reserve Bank as a cushion to show good faith in the Refinancing Program of the District.

A solution for raising the $175,000 was agreed upon between the Tax Payers Association and the Board of Directors of the Water District by paying 50 percent of all delinquent taxes with no penalty and interest.

It is also agreed between the Tax Payers and Board of Directors that in order to get all outstanding bonds it would be necessary to file court procedure under the Municipal Bankrupt Law not later than June 30. The Tax Payers Association reserved the right to intercede so that the tax payer will be assured representation in the court.

When this refunding program is completed the R.F.C. has agreed that the tax payer will only have to pay the interest on the $3,000,000, "which is the refunding figure" for the first 3 years. After that the District and the tax payers have 30 years in which to retire the $3,000,000 principle and interest.

Upon completion of the refinancing of the District the Water District tax will be cut 50 percent or more.

Deadline Passes For Million Dollar Reward For Capture Of Hitler; U. S. College Official Withdraws Offer

PITSBURGH—(AP)—Dr. Samuel Harden Church, president of Carnegie Institute, announced Saturday the $1,000,000 reward offered for the capture of Adolf Hitler "unfortunately" has not been claimed and "has now expired."

Church, 82-year-old advocate of peace, said he made the offer after receiving a letter of April 27 from a European statesman of high authority forecasting Hitler's attack on the Maginot Line and "intimating" that Germany and Italy would divide the Balkans.

The letter, Church declared, quoted directly "these words uttered by Adolf Hitler":

"'The Germans will send millions of shells on the Maginot Line, and break through, even at the cost of half-a-million lives, and before the end of the year the enemies of Germany will be annihilated.'"

"The letter further intimated," Church's prepared statement continued, "That Mr. Hitler would permit Mr. Mussolini (Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy) to make the Adriatic a closed Italian sea, to absorb Yugoslavia, to take over Slovenia, Bosnia, and part of Croatia, giving another part of it to Hungary, which in time will become German."

Church said he had received letters from every part of the United States, most of them containing "enthusiastic assurance of approbation," but that there were enough to "discordant" replies to indicate that if Hitler "should ever be adle to come to the United States in the captured protection of the British and French fleets, he would be met at the shore by a Fifth Column of so-called Americans who would give him the vociferous and glorifying adoration of the raised hand."

Church made his offer — good only during the month of May—on May 1, specifying in a letter to the New York Times that the German chancellor be delivered alive and uninjured into the custody of the League of Nations "to be tried before a high court of justice for his crimes against the peace and dignity of the world." A group of wealthy Pittsburgh residents subscribed the $1,000,000, he said.

'HOT CHECK' ARTIST HELD

Suspect Is Wanted At McAllen

McALLEN—Apprehension at Fort Worth of a man wanted in McAllen for allegedly passing two bad checks here was announced in a communication received Saturday by Chief of Police Noah Cannon from the state department of public safety.

The suspect, known as Robert B. Hadley, is being held at Fort Worth on a forgery charge. Cannon said he is alleged to have passed worthless checks in the amounts of $8 and $3.

Records of the federal bureau of identification and the state department show that Hadley is accused of passing 43 bad checks in various cities of Texas and Oklahoma from April 23 through May 15 this year. The amounts varied from $1.55 to $42.50. He also is accused of passing a worthless $10 check at Edinburg.

The record on Hadley begins in 1925 when he was sentenced to two years at Fort Worth for swindling. Various aliases employed were Robert Morrell, George Murrell, W. W. Craig, Ed Clark and B. Hadley.

The man poses as an attorney from Austin and claims to be a Mason, the state department said.

Cannon said it was doubtful that Hadley would be returned to McAllen to face charges because the local cases are misdemeanors while the Fort Worth forgery charge is a felony.

LAND SYSTEM MAY BE USED

San Benito's Water District Ready

SAN BENITO—The land commissioner system which has been operated successfully in the Edinburg, Mercedes and Los Fresnos irrigation districts helping land owners to place their property on a paying basis, may soon be tried in the local water district.

Directors of Cameron County Water Improvement District No. 2 have worked in conjunction with a representative of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which refinanced the district's indebtedness in working out a plan adaptable to this community.

Service Is Varied

Under the plan, the district would contract with the land owners to look after their interests. The type of service rendered to the land owners would depend on the requirements in each case. In some cases the land commissioner would look after the planting of crops, care of orchards, marketing of the crop and in fact every phase of farming operation while in other instances possibly only one or two of these services would be performed.

Although letters have been prepared to go out to owners of land on delinquent tax rolls, they have not yet been mailed but word of the plan has already gone out with the result that many inquiries have been received. An effort will be made to confine the plan to property on the delinquent roll. It is expected to be particularly attractive to the absentee land owner but some resident owners probably will take advantage of the service as they have done in some of the other districts.

Smith May Be Head

If the plan is finally placed in effect, Raymond Smith, long with the district, probably will be named the land commissioner. He will function under a contract with the land owner and will have power of attorney to act for him.

Other districts which have operated the plan have received testimonial letters from land owners saying they were obtaining revenues from their Valley property for the first time.

The local irrigation district makes it plain that it is not bidding for the work now being done by competent caretakers.

...ARTS CLOSE ...RREGULARLY ... IN NEW YORK

...eek Ends Hesitantly After Good Start

(Markets on Page 7, Section 2)

By FREDERICK GARDNER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Hesitancy returned to the stock market Saturday after a week devoted mainly to calming war-shaken speculative nerves.

In Saturday's brief session irregularity persisted with declines of fractions to a point in the majority at the close.

Transfers of 273,445 were the smallest for any Saturday since January 2. They compared with 554,330 a week ago. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .1 of a point at 38.5, but on the week it showed a net gain of .4 of a point. It was the first weekly advance in five weeks.

Among the day's losers were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed, Anaconda, American Smelting, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Great Northern, Texas Corp., Union Carbide and Westinghouse.

General motors and Chrysler were unchanged until the last few minutes when they edged up minor fractions. Ahead small amounts were American Telephone, Western Union, Santa Fe, Sperry and Goodyear.

Bonds and commodities were mixed.

In an uneven curb firmness was displayed by Aluminum of America, American Cyanamid "B" and Jones and Laughlin. Lagging were E. W. Bliss, Gulf Oil, Humble Oil, Electric Bond and Share and Brewster Aero. Activity here was the most sluggish since August 19, last, with transfers of around 44,000 shares comparing with 101, on the previous Saturday.

Roughly, this follows the northern boundaries of North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Arizona. Southern California is south of the line.

Mild winter weather is m... favorable to uninterrupted work, it was explained.

Tip Service Paid Off Too Well, So Method Exposed

JOLIET, Ill.—(AP)—Justice Edgar H. Johnson found out Saturday how the pals of Andrew Burns, 27, and Edward Coplansky, 43, won so much money on the horse races.

Arraigned on charges of disorderly conduct, the men testified they had been watching the races at Lincoln fields with field glasses and telephoning the results to Chicago in time to place bets in handbooks.

This worked fine, they explained, because Chicago bookies, without wire facilities, accepted bets until regular post times. When the horses were off early it gave Burns and Coplansky time to distribute fool-proof tips.

Justice Johnson fined them each 100 and costs, but agreed to suspend the fines when they promised to leave the county.

Sales Days To End In Bargain Fiesta

BROWNSVILLE—Winding up a five-day series of bargain days, 34 Brownsville merchants will join Monday in offering their customers "Appreciation Day" bargains.

"Appreciation money" distributed the past four weeks on "Dollar Days" will become "cash" on Monday, and can be spent in the purchase of merchandise at the stores participating in the bargain events.

Shoppers spending their "appreciation money" actually will be receiving a new discount, amounting to five per cent, on the goods they purchased at bargain prices during the "Dollar Days."

"Appreciation Money"

"Appreciation Day" is what its name signifies—Brownsville merchants are showing customers their appreciation for the cooperation received on the past four "Dollar Days."

"Appreciation money" may be spent at any one, several or all of the participating stores, regardless of what store issued the coupons.

Good Only Monday

Merchants Saturday urged their customers to be sure all their "appreciation money" is spent Monday. Because the coupons, as indicated, will be accepted only on "Appreciation Day."

The participating merchants have arranged special bargain prices for "Appreciation Day," extending their program of red-hot bargains through Monday.

Clerks in the stores will continue to cooperate with customers, and will assist them in making their bargain selections as they spend their "appreciation money."

Special Prices

The special prices that will be placed on merchandise in the 34 participating stores on "Appreciation Day" will be available to all shoppers, whether they hold coupons or just come to the stores to take advantage of the fifth of the bargain days in the closing series.

The series of "Dollar Days" and Monday's "Appreciation Day" have been sponsored by the Brownsville Chamber of Commerce merchants' committee, of which George Aziz is chairman, and the Brownsville Herald is cooperating.

R. W. Lewis is chairman of the bargain series, and any additional information may be obtained from Mr. Lewis at the F. W. Woolworth store.

Participating Merchants

Merchants participating in the series of bargain events are Woolworth's Store, Western Auto Supply, Valentin's Department Store, Samano's Drug Store, Sherwin Williams Paints, A. Rogers Photo Company, Pipkin-Manske Motors, Piggly-Wiggly Store.

M'ALLEN TAX BOARD WILL MEET MONDAY

City, School Seek Equal Values

McALLEN—The joint city-school board of equalization will go into its first session Monday morning to study valuations on property outside of the city liimts but within the limits of the school district.

The joint board, appointed at the request of both the city and the school taxing units, is composed of K. W. Jones, William Reis and Frank Wheelburger.

The members will study only rural renditions at their first session, which is expected to last about four days. After a recess period, taxpayers will be called to appear before the board in instances which the equalization committee consider necessary.

Date for the beginning of the city work may be suggested Wednesday night at the regular city commissioners' meeting, City Secretary C. D. Martin said.

Use of the joint board was decided upon when both city and school board officials agreed it was time to get tax assessments nearer equalization for their respective units.

Discontent had been voiced among taxpayers over differences in the levies sought by the school and the city, in many cases. While the use of a joint board this year is an experiment, leaders of the two taxing bodies said they feel confident that out of its work will come a more satisfactory situation for the taxpayers.

Officials have impressed upon citizens that the joint board is in no way an effort to raise the existing taxes in their districts but rather a step forward toward equalizing the valuations.

Bombers Shipped

Vessel Departs With Planes For French

NEW YORK—(AP)—The 4,140-ton freighter Gran, flying the Norwegian flag, sailed Saturday with 100 bombing and pursuit planes consigned to the French government.

This was said on the waterfront to be the largest plane shipment to the Allies since the war began.

More than 150 additional planes were ready for shipment Saturday night, and other boats were expected to be available Sunday or Monday.

About 75 of the planes shipped were bombers, it was said.

$72,451,730 Saved By Texas Investors

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Federal Home Loan Bank board announced Saturday that Texans had savings totaling $72,451,730 in 122 insured savings and loan associations, as of May 1.

Deposits in the first months of 1940 totaled $9,545,190.

Nazi-Seized Vessel To Start For U. S.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The American freighter Charles R. McCormick, caught in the German invasion of Norway, wirelessed Saturday she was leaving Bergen immediately for the United States.

The McCormick's $2,000,000 cargo of relief supplies consigned to Finland, small arms and trucks, was seized by the Germans as a prize of war.

WPA Men Donate Wages To Red Cross War Fund

McALLEN—What is believed to be the first donation of its kind to the Red Cross war relief fund raising campaign now under way in Hidalgo county was the contribution made by the Works Project Administration laborers on Project 9979 in McAllen.

Approximately 50 workers contributed the equivalent of an hour's wages to the McAllen fund. The exact amount of the donation was not revealed at the request of the donors.

Workers, who are currently paving North Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, earn between 32 cents and 50 cents an hour.

The men presented their contributions to City Inspector C. C. Eckhoff in a surprise gesture Friday afternoon, with the request that it be turned over to Chairman J. R. (Dick) Harris as a "voluntary contribution," which he had urged residents to make.

Eckhoff said he has not heard of a similar donation from any other WPA project in the Valley.

The drive to raise the McAllen $600 quota is still being continued, Harris said. While there are no solicitors calling on residents, money will be taken at the Young Drug store and the City State Bank and Trust Company. Harris reported some of the $600 had already been raised and asked local people not to make it necessary that they have to be soliicted to assist in the fund te help suffering European war refugees.

Valley Secretaries To Get Schooling

McALLEN — Five chamber of commerce managers of the Valley will attend the annual convention school of the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association at Midland, leaving Wednesday.

Carl Blasig of Mercedes is permanent historian of the association and will make an annual report. Don Wallace of San Benito and S. M. Patterson of Mission are on the attendance committee. Paul T. Vickers of McAllen will present a paper on "Membership and a Model Set-Up." Vickers also has been asked to make two other addresses at Midland, where he was secretary for ten and a half years. Mrs. Vickers is on the entertainment program for a tea to be given wives of secretaries.

Worth Heffner, new manager at Harlingen, will attend his first Texas convention. Sidney Kring, formerly of Harlingen, now at Wichita Falls, is state president.

The annual meeting is called a "convention school" because the secretaries actually go to school about six hours a day, studying various phases of chamber of commerce work.

FROLICS OF '40 GIVEN PRAISE

Recital Planned For June Fourth

HARLINGEN—Prevue of "Frolics of 1940," presented to an audience of invited guests Friday night in Mercedes, promises especially delightful entertainment Tuesday night, June 4, when the annual recital presenting pupils from the Markoleta Greer Elstner school of dance will be given in the municipal auditorium. Half of the profits from the elaborate dance production will go to the Red Cross.

Four major features are combined into the production. Especially appropriate is the military number, "To the Colors," presenting 18 girls in costumes, dance steps, and music expressive of the military theme.

"Tulip Time in Holland" is a kiddie number presenting about 16 tots who will wear real wooden shoes.

"Hawaiian Nights" is a native dance of Hawaii which will be presented to the accompaniment of real Hawaiian guitars. To highlight this number a soloist will sing Hawaiian melodies.

Climaxing the show will be a ballet presenting 20 girls in white ballet costumes dancing a beautiful interpretation of Straus' "Waltz."

Rest of the program is a divertissement showing the versatility of the dancers and ranges from classical through character to the modern musical comedy hits.

Creager Is Hit

Alvin Wirtz Replies To Expense Charge

AUSTIN—R. B. Creager, Brownsville, Republican national committeeman from Texas, this week drew the fire of hard-hitting Alvin J. Wirtz, undersecretary of the interior.

Creager charged at the Dallas Republican convention that Wirtz was in Texas on a political mission at the people's expense, and drew a blistering attack from the undersecretary.

Wirtz said in a public letter he took leave of absence without pay when he left Washington, and inquired of Creager whether the leading Republican candidates, Senators Taft and Vandenburg, and Thomas E. Dewey, "have separated themselves from the public payroll while engaged in this campaign."

Isolation Is Urged By Catholic Chief

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, Philadelphia's widely-traveled, 74-year-old archbishop, counselled American isolation from Europe's turmoil Saturday as Pennsylvania Catholics gathered to pay homage to him at an outdoor ceremony.

On the eve of a mass in municipal stadium celebrating his golden anniversary as a priest, the cardinal voiced in an interview solemn belief that "we should mind our own business and not become catspaws" in international rivalries.

Levelland Laundry Man Dies Of Wound

LEVELLAND—(AP)—M. M. Black, 47, owner and operator of a laundry here 11 years, was found fatally shot early Saturday afternoon in Levelland. He died at 6 p. m.

KRGV Not To Carry Communist Program

WESLACO — Officials at station KRGV, Weslaco, generally on the NBC blue network, said Saturday the Sunday Communist party broadcast would not be routed over this leg of the networks.

Under the present Federal Communications Commission ruling stations are required to carry both sides of "controversial questions" if they schedule either side. The networks have asked the F.C.C. to allow them to refuse broadcasts to certain individuals or groups talking against "the principles of American democracy."

CHRYSLER MEETING SET

SHIP OPENS NEW MARTS FOR VALLEY

Carolina Services To Begin Monday

BROWNSVILLE—The Carolinas will be opened to the Valley a new market for its products with the arrival here Monday of the SS Brazos of the Clyde Mallory Lines.

The freighter is to be the first to carry Valley cargo to Charleston, S. C., the port of the rich Carolina milling district.

Water freight rates from the Valley to South Carolina will also give Valley citrus a chance to compete with Florida fruit.

Besides establishing Charleston as a regular port of call for its ships leaving Brownsville, the Clyde Mallory boats will also carry New York and Boston cargo.

Scheduled also to dock here Monday is the SS Shickshinny of the Isthmian Line, with cargo from Pacific coast ports.

The Isthmian ship, handling only inbound cargo here, is bringing lumber, shingles, sugar, canned goods and other Pacific coast products.

The SS Brazos is sailing Monday afternoon, and the SS Shickshinny will leave the following day. The Philen Shipping Company is agent for both lines here.

Visiting here Friday was George J. Horner, assistant to the vice president of the Clyde Mallory Lines, who conferred with Gilbert Philen regarding the lines's new service.

NEW YORKERS HELP VALLEY

State Takes Fifth Of Area Vegetables

HARLINGEN—New York state consumed more than a fifth of the carlot shipments of mixed vegetables that moved from the Valley this season, according to a preliminary report by the Texas-Federal Market News Service issued Friday.

The Valley shipped 7,867 cars of mixed vegetables of which 1,633 went to New York State. Ohio was next best customer with 795 cars going to that state while Pennsylvania took 661, Canada 635, Illinois 627 and Missouri 565.

Yield Of Carrots Same

The average yield of carrots in Texas was estimated at 165 bushels or the same as the year before. Yields in California are indicated at 500 and 166 bushels respectively. The heaviest week's shipment from Texas came during the week ending April 6 when 113 straight cars were shipped out.

Prices after the beet movement started were in most instances a little higher than those received the previous year. Practically the entire Texas crop is marketed in the half crates and at the opening of the season they were quoted at 70 to 85 cents in carloads, f.o.b. usual terms. Prices gradually declined until the January freeze and beets were selling in the half crate at mostly 50 to 60 cents the week of the freeze. The following week prices began to advance and reached $1.00 to $1.25 the last week of February. By the first of April, quotations were down to 60 to 75 cents which level was maintained until close of the season.

Onions Show Decline

The report, prepared by R. E. Winfrey, local representative of the market news service in Weslaco, noted a trend in the green bean deal from planting of Round Stringless varieties towards Bountiful and Valentine varieties.

Decline in the onion shipments and other factors in the vegetable season were noted.

The report included a mass of detailed information on various vegetable deals, figures being made up in form of tables.

Railroads Are Ready For War Emergeny

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The railroad industry reported Saturday that it was prepared to meet the nation's transportation needs — to handle increased traffic resulting from the national defense program or even from American participation in war.

"We're ready to go to bat right now," M. J. Gormley, executive assistant of the Association of American Railroads, told reporters.

Interpreting The War News

Hitler's Stock Soars

American Demand For Another Billion For Defense Shows U. S. Fears Ally Loss

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

American eyes turned from an Allied tragedy in Flanders to scan the sombre implications of President Roosevelt's reaction to it on the national defense home front.

The fresh blow delivered against her foes by Germany in Flanders sent administration estimates of urgent American defense needs skyrocketing up another billion and more before echoes of national reaction to the President's first defense emergency request had died down.

Behind that action must lie a reappraisal by the president of Franco-British ability long to continue the fight.

From that point of view, Mr. Roosevelt's action in doubling his request for emergency defense appropriations has grave significance. It hints at confidential advices from London and Paris painting a far gloomier outlook for Allied recovery than even the stark figures of Allied losses in men, ships and war gear would reveal if known.

The confidence of official Washington in ultimate Allied triumph already had been deeply shaken by successive German victories in Norway, Holland, Belgium and northern France. Even before the "Battle of the Bulge" in Flanders had collapsed, and the Germans reached the English Channel, some American technical experts rated German chances of ultimate complete victory as high as 60-40.

Roosevelt Gloomy

Mr. Roosevelt seemed to share that view even before he doubled his defense appropriation request of two weeks ago. If that is the fact, the new defense budget, out-moding the original before it could be more than roughly sketched into legislation or concrete plans for creation of a vast new industry, is a dark official American commentary on the situation in Europe. It would mean that in Washington inner government circles there is stark fear that the end of Allied resistance might come in months, not years.

Unquestionably only a new factual situation in Europe of gravest import to this country could have moved the President to double his emergency defense estimates within a span of days. Whether it gave rise to doubt that France could again cling grimly to the Somme-Aisne defense line, that Britain could long beat off Nazi air attacks on her fleet upkeep centers and vital sea communications, or to apprehension in Washington over the effect of the Flanders defeat on French and British public morale, the impact on American defense planning would be the same.

Any circumstance of the war, like the battle in Flanders that drew heavily on Allied reserves in men, stores, weapons and air units, would scale down estimates of the time France and Britain could endure and the time this country would have to make ready for whatever the future holds.

E. O. THOMPSON ENTERS RACE

Rail Chief To Run For Governor

AUSTIN—(AP)—Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson Saturday announced his candidacy for governor on a 14-point platform featuring an increase of five cents per barrel in the oil tax to finance social security services.

Thompson

He also expressed unalterable opposition to a sales tax in any form and advocated creation of a separate oil and gas commission and a statewide soil conservation program. Further, he advocated a reduction in the automobile license fee and substitution of free registration for the poll tax.

To Refund Salary

Announcing that his campaign would keep him away from his office much of the time, he asserted he would turn back his salary for the next three months to the old age assistance fund.

"I hope some of those who have been cut $6 per month can be restored," he said.

"If Governor O'Daniel and the other candidates who are on state pay will do the same, many more reductions can be restored to the aged. They will be out of office as much as I will be out of mine."

The commissioner added he would arrange to be in Austin frequently enough to keep up with commission work.

His platform included:

A 5-cent increase per barrel in the tax on oil as it comes out of the ground; a one-cent tax on natural gas for light and fuel purposes, increased tax on sulphur and a fair levy on carbon black.

Creation of an oil and gas conservation commission.

Opposition to a sales tax in any form.

Soil and range conservation laws that will do for the farmer what similar laws have done for the oil industry.

Reduction in the automobile registration fee.

Repeal of the poll tax law and substitution of free registration.

New Insane Hospitals

Construction of enough state hospitals to get the insane out of jails.

Repeal of the poll tax law and substitution of free registration.

Repeal of the 7,000-pound truck load limit law.

Assistance to organized labor in its efforts to improve the living standard of workers.

Creation of a utility commission with teeth in the law for rate regulation.

Slashing the cost of non-resident hunting and fishing licenses to encourage tourists.

Re-enactment every two years of the road bond assumption bill.

Strict anti-loan shark regulation.

A co-operative medical program.

French Youth Helps Trap 'Chutists

PARIS—(AP)—Thirteen-year-old Guy Bocher, of Massy, in the Seine Et Oise, district near Paris, received a 2,000 franc (currency about $36) savings account and a congratulatory letter from Interior Minister Mandel Saturday for taking part in the capture of three German parachutists.

While playing in a garden at his home May 23, the youth saw an airplane maneuvering overhead and then spotted three parachutes fluttering down.

He ran to the town hall to summon police, who rounded up the sky troopers in a running gunfight.

PLEA IS MADE TO AID CHINA

FD Says Should Not Be Forgotten

HARLINGEN—A plea to the American Red Cross not to forget the women and children of China, and to raise the goal of its current drive so that war sufferers in China may be aided without taking a penny from the sum being asked to help European refugees, has been voiced by 90 distinguished Americans including a former secretary of state, two ambassadors, and a number of governors, educators and churchmen.

Part of a letter, voicing the same plea, and written by President Roosevelt to Norman H. Davis as chairman of the National Red Cross, was quoted here Saturday by C. L. Brooks, chairman of the Harlingen chapter of the American Bureau for Medical Aid to China.

"We would not have a single penny diverted from the sum being raised to help the homeless and hungry and wounded in Europe," the president's letter read in part, "On the other hand, we feel that the present Red Cross drive, which asks for funds to aid Europe with no mention of China's plight, puts the American people in the position of turning their backs upon the suffering of a country where one-fourth of the human race is contentrated; a country which has a long tradition of friendship with the people of the United States, and which is fighting for its life just as the countries of Europe are, and against the same forces of aggression. We ask that the American Red Cross increase the goal of its drive and appeal to the generosity of the American people to help all war sufferers, all over the world."

Cameron Families Apply For Cotton To Be Used In Mattress Making For Aid To Surplus; Deadline Is June 30

SAN BENITO — Applications have been received so far from 150 Cameron county families for mattresses to be made from surplus Texas cotton, according to Miss Lu Elsie Nagel, county home demonstration agent.

All farm families with an income of $400 or less per year (half the income must be from some agricultural pursuit), are eligible for the mattresses, Miss Nagel said. Eligible families may receive 50 pounds of cotton and ten yards of eight-ounce ticking. They will make their own mattresses under supervision of the home demonstration department. Cost to the applicant will be only about 30 to 50 cents for thread and rent of needles.

Only one mattress to a family is allowed at the present time. The program is intended for the farmer in order to reduce surplus supplies of cotton. Already Texas families have applied for enough mattresses to use up 7,880 bales of surplus cotton. The deadline for applications is June 30.

Community centers probably will be set up to supervise the mattress making. Half the Cameron county applications received were from the Santa Maria community where a mattress center will be set up.

The Rotary Club will take care of Fitzgerald's expenses in Austin for six days and the legion will pay his transportation expenses both ways. The state legion organization is sponsoring "Boy's State" as a part of its citizenship training program.

PATRONS AND PROSPECTIVE CUSTOMERS

"THE VALLEY", TEXAS

During the past eighteen years we have been privileged to serve the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas. In that length of time we have been able to develop the type of service that we feel is best adapted to the needs of the Valley.

In these eighteen years many changes have been made to modernize our service. In keeping abreast of the times it has been necessary at times to change our entire system at one time or another.

We feel that our service can be improved if we route shipments of outgoing freight not by one carrier exclusively but by any of the lines with which we are connected which can give our patrons the most prompt and efficient service. Since at our terminals we make connections with all lines serving the Valley it will be an easy matter to choose lines which can offer our mutual customer better service at the smallest cost.

Especially do we wish to call the shippers attention to the steamship lines now serving the Valley. The Bull Steamship Line now offers excellent service between Brownsville, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Port Newark. The Clyde-Mallory Lines, represented in the Valley by the Philen Shipping Company, offers also an exceptionally good service between Brownsville, Boston, New York and Charleston. Shipments from and to the west coast can be well serviced by the Isthmian Steamship Lines which serves west coast ports to and from Brownsville. Officials of the Jones Motor Freight Lines feel that Valley shippers, small or large, can profit through the use of the services offered by these lines . . . coordinated with the unexcelled system of the Jones Lines.

We wish to impress upon our customers and prospective patrons that we are glad to give information concerning the best routings both in and out of the Valley. If we can be of service in any other way, please feel free to call us.

Please keep in mind, too, that our company offers several services daily to and from every Valley town. Consult our offices in Harlingen, Brownsville or McAllen for any additional information you might need.

Sincerely Yours,

JONES MOTOR FREIGHT LINES

Jehovah's Witnesses Give Notice To Harlingen Of New Activities

RAMSEY WARNS THEY DO SO ON 'OWN RISK'

Fighting Mayor Gives His Comments

HARLINGEN—Notice to the city's police department that its members will during the next few days carry on their activities in Harlingen, was given here Saturday by the Jehovah's Witness group which has recently been running into trouble in various parts of the Valley and state.

Stating they did not ask permission to do this, claiming that "The Constitution of the United States . . . guarantees our right to do this work;" the Jehovah's Witnesses in their written notice asked that "appropriate action be taken" to see that the police officials will "guarantee" to them "protection from mobs and riots."

Has Two Clashes

Mayor Hugh Ramsey, who on two occasions in the past week has had physical encounters with members of the sect who claimed to be loyal but nevertheless said they would not salute the American flag nor fight for the country, Saturday prepared written comment on the "notice." The mayor said he did not understand viewpoint of a man who exercises his religious liberty through medium of attacks upon convictions of others; and expressed opinion those who evidence disloyalty by disparaging the principles of the nation, will do so at their own risk.

The "notice" by the Jehovah's Witnesses, and Mayor Ramsey's comments follow:

"To the police department of the city of Harlingen:

"In these perilous times it is manifest that the people should receive instruction concerning the worship of Almighty God in spirit and in truth. This is to inform you that during the next few days a number of persons devoted to the service of Almighty God and Christ Jesus will visit the homes of this city and present to the people Bible instruction that they may be better informed as to how they may receive aid and comfort by the study of the Holy Scriptures.

"In the interest of public order and for the good of all in this community and that our work may be understood, we feel that you should receive this information; hence this letter.

"Since the Constitution of the United States and the Decision of the Highest Court in the land guarantee our right to do this work, we are not asking permission; and since Almighty God commands it must be done, we could not ask permission from man to do this work; but we are informing you, that you may know that our work is done in sincerity and in truth for the general welfare. We appreciate police co-operation that has been furnished in the past.

"In some places misguided persons deem it to be their duty to interfere with work such as we are doing. We hope to have no such interference, but if we do we would appreciate your co-operation in restraining the unlawful interruption of the charitable and benevolent work in which we are engaging.

"This is to advise you that Jehovah's Witnesses will continue to exercise their God-given and constitutionally secured rights to distribute literature from door to door and on the streets in Harlingen. This fact is called to your attention now and you are now hereby requested to take appropriate action to see that the police officials will guarantee to Jehovah's Witnesses protection from mobs and riots in the City of Harlingen. You are requested to communicate with them to ascertain this fact immediately.

Respectfully submitted,
JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES"

The following is Mayor Ramsey's comment:

"In taking notice of the above communication it is my comment that "in these perilous times" it behooves all citizens of these United States to take cognizance of the innumerable blessings and privileges of their citizenship. "It is manifest" that our peace, security and perpetuity are dependent upon loyalty and appreciation of the sacrifices which have been made in peace and in war by those men whose names we should ever recollect with gratitude.

"In the list of blessings enjoyed in this Country the right of religious liberty is one of the most valued. My understanding of religious liberty is that all men shall be privileged to worship God in the manner which to them seems right and beneficial. It is my opinion therefore, that each man should worship as he pleases. I am unable to comprehend the ignorant viewpoint which leads to the conviction that One man should exercise his religious liberty through the medium of attacks upon the convictions of others. It is a strange creed which demands respect for its own views and in the same breath condemns the views of other men. I am of the belief that all men and all faiths are entitled to equal protection under the law.

"The fathers of this nation in their wisdom, enunciated the principle that church and state should forever be seperate. In my opinion the respect due this nation and its flag is something entirely separate from religion and forms of worship.

Believes In Government

"I believe in God, and in the worship of God, and I believe in religion, and I will fight for my beliefs. I also believe in my Government. I think it is the best on the face of the earth. I reverence and respect its flag, and the things the flag represents. I denounce and resent attacks upon the flag of the United States. I am of the opinion that a man can, at one and the same time, be a good citizen and a good Christian. I respectfully suggest that, in the interest of understanding and good will, the writer of the foregoing letter, and those whom he represents, confine themselves to the preaching of the gospel and refrain from attacks upon the religious convictions of others, and from statements derogatory to our flag and our system of government.

"The Constitution of the United States guarantees them this privilege. I can find no warrant therein for attacks upon the convictions dear to other men. In times such as these, when patriotic citizens are quick to resent disrespect to our flag and our system of government, it is my private opinion that those who evidence their disloyalty to this Nation and its principles by verbal and printed utterances, disparaging and disrespectful toward the principles for which our fathers fought and died, will do so at their own risk, and should not thereafter be heard to complain about the consequences.

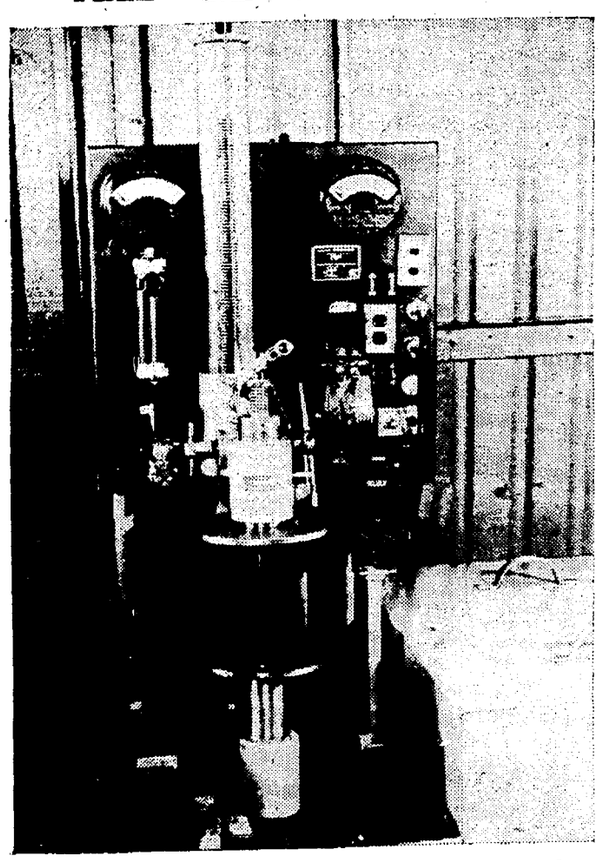
BROWNSVILLE ALSO HAS PROTESTS OVER PAMPHLETS

BROWNSVILLE—Police received numerous calls Saturday afternoon complaining that several members of a religious sect known as Jehovah's Witnesses were distributing pamphlets or magazines in the downtown section of Brownsville.

Acting Police Chief Henry Gordon said he had been advised by City Attorney Ralph Dunkelberg that police could take no action to curb the activities of the group.

That religious sect has been under fire in the Valley recently as well as over the state and nation, in connection with aroused feelings of citizens over possible "fifth column" activities in this country.

'Magic' Device Finds Air Motor Defects



The almost magical Magnaflux, an instrument used by Pan American Airways at Brownsville to locate cracks and other defects in steel and its magnetic alloys, is shown above. The powerful machine locates cracks below the surface too minute to be visible even under powerful microscopes.

By A. D. HAWKINS

BROWNSVILLE — Whiteman's "magic," a miracle of modern science, is used by Pan American Airways here to locate cracks, and other defects in steel and in magnetic alloys.

Folks have heard of lie detectors, water witches, doodle bugs and other devices for searching out the secrets of mind and soil, but few have heard of PAA's almost magical machine.

This scientific instrument, which possesses an uncanny sense, and probes beneath the surface of metals to locate defects, is known as the Magnaflux.

The Magnaflux can locate cracks below the surface of the metal that are not even visible under powerful microscopes.

Important Role

It plays an important, but little heralded role of the PAA shops here where motors are overhauled for PAA's western division, Pacific division, Alaska division, Compania Mexicana de Aviacion and even Pan Air of Brazil.

The crankshafts, connecting rods, piston pins, cylinders, valves, gears, wheels, axles, propeller hubs and all the other motor and airplane parts that are subject to any strain, are tested by the Magnaflux at every overhaul.

Though seldom found defective, new parts, even nuts and bolts, are carefully tested.

The Magnaflux method locates any fatigue cracks, grinding checks, seams, faulty welds, etc., before failures are caused, and effects a great saving in both time and overhaul costs.

Contributes To Safety

Such measures contribute to the safety records of U. S. scheduled air lines, and typifies the policy of U. S. scheduled air lines, and typifies the policy of Pan American Airways in designing, or purchasing the most modern devices known, always striving for better service, and greater safety.

The safety record of the Air Transport Association of America shows 840 million passenger miles flown in 1939 without a single fatal accident.

Here's how the Magnaflux works:

Pieces to be tested are placed between the electrodes of this machine, through which an electric current flows, thoroughly magnetizing them. Some irregular shaped, or large sized parts must be magnetized in several different directions before the test is complete.

The magnetized part is then submerged in a bath of very fine iron particles (Magnaflux paste), dissolved in a special oil known as ultrasene. When removal from this solution, a very careful inspection is made.

Defect Breaks Circuit

Any crack, or defect, causes a break in the magnetic field of force set-up by the electric charge, which had just been given, and forms two magnetic poles. These poles collect the iron particles of the bath just like a toy magnet picks up tacks or nails.

The iron particles which adhere to the crack, or defect, are easily seen during inspection, and all defective parts are immediately discarded.

As for the perfect parts, they are completely demagnetized in a machine expressly designed for this purpose. They are then thoroughly washed in a special solvent to remove all traces of iron powder.

BREEDER MEET TO BE MONDAY

FSA Sponsors Better Valley Cattle

HARLINGEN — Officers will be elected, fees for services set and other business transacted by directors of the newly organized Valley livestock improvement association at a meeting set for 7:30 p. m. Monday at the Reese-Wil-Mond Hotel.

This meeting follows a series held over the Valley by the Farm Security Administration for its clients and other cattle owners who may wish to become members. C. W. Weston of Dallas, supervisor-at-large for the FSA, said following the San Benito meeting Saturday that the members guaranteed by the FSA would be signed by early part of the week.

The Valley-wide organization will require 600 members to function efficiently and the FSA has guaranteed that 300 of its clients will join. The FSA also will assist eligible farmers who are not clients if they lack the original fee of $10. There were 40 clients signed up at a meeting in Edinburg Wednesday, 47 at Raymondville Friday and about an equal number of San Benito Saturday.

The association will provide at least one and possibly two bulls for dairy cow owners, and possibly Hereford, milking shorthorn and shorthorn and Brahma bulls for beef cattle owners.

Directors are Dr. C. C. Conley, Dr. C. M. Corbett and Doc Stovall from Willacy county, Jack Younkin, Jesse L. Prater and A. M. Thompson from Hidalgo county and J. C. Steusser, R. M. King and M. B. Finley of Cameron county.

ALLIES CAN STILL TURN TIDE OF WAR

But Economist Urges U. S. To Rearm

CHARLESTON, S. C. — Without a doubt these are the most critical days in at least a century of world history. Only a few months ago we were talking about a "phoney" war. Only a few weeks ago the Allied generals were talking about that "crazy paper hanger" in Germany. Even the London Times which arrived here a few days back discussed the peace terms which England would inflict on Germany when Hitler was mopped up.

When recently talking with our high government officials, they told me that the French army was invincible. They admitted that the war might be a long struggle, but insisted that no army could whip the French. They stated that it was the largest, most completely-equipped army in the world. They also spoke in highest terms of its commanders and especially of the French strategists. Certainly, it makes one lose confidence in army officials to see what has taken place only a few weeks after such statements. For evidence, read The Congressional Record and the report of committee hearings.

Maginot Line Like Chinese Wall

What has happened to this "invincible" army is now known to everyone. Many are asking the hows and whys of what has recently occurred. The simple truth is that Germany has developed and used an entirely new form of warfare. As this new technique has been explained to readers by other writers, I will not go into details. The great Maginot Line, built at the expense of a billion dollars during the past 20 years seems as obsolete as the Chinese Wall. Get this point, however: The German successes have been due to the willingness of the Allies to depend upon their prestige, material wealth, and "what licked Germany before."

There is still time for the Allies to turn the tide or at least stop the German advances. The war is not hopeless for Great Britain. It is true that the Germans control one side of the English Channel, but England still controls the other side. It is true that London is now only a few miles from Germany's new air fields, but it is likewise true that these German air bases are only a few miles from British shores. Moreover, do not forget that England still has her navy and merchant marine intact.

Right Over Might

The answer to the question, "Will Great Britain collapse?" will be determined not by Germany's blitzkriegs, but by the character of the English people. From time immemorial, new methods of warfare have been developed. Those nations which first grasped and used these new methods, have, temporarily, been successful. The ultimate force, however, which has determined the result has been spiritual rather than material. The "blitzkrieg" is no more important in the eyes of history than the invention of the long bow to take place of spears, of powder and shot to replace battering rams, of iron ships to overcome wooden frigates.

These are days when we should read ancient history. A study of the rise and fall of Babylon, Persia, Egypt, Greece, Rome, and the Spanish Empire shows that new methods of warfare have won battles but have never won wars. This is being demonstrated by what I saw in the Far East last September. There barefooted and poorly - equipped Chinese armies are holding up Japan's modern war machine fully equipped with airplanes, tanks, and artillery.

Gang Warfare

Let us be calm for a moment and visualize what is now happening among the German-conquered nations. As various countries are taken over, a Hitler aide is placed in control. There are now dictators in Czechoslovakia, Austria, and Poland. These already are beginning to differ as to policy. Recently other dictators have been placed in Norway, Denmark, Holland, and Belgium. Considering the native brutality and dishonesty of these sub-dictators, isn't it certain that they will soon begin fighting among themselves?

This is all the more likely when one considers that these nations all have different languages, great traditions, and diverse instincts. Brutality, deceit, and ingenuity will be used by these sub-dictators to trap one another just as they have been used to trap innocent and peaceful neutrals. "A leopard cannot change its spots." History shows that if the English race is willing to stake their lives and property, they in the end will save both; but not in any other way.

Arm Immediately

Here in the United States, we need at least fifty thousand airplanes to protect North and South America. If we can produce four million pleasure cars a year, we certainly ought to be able to produce fifty thousand military planes. I am behind those who demand adequate defense for this hemisphere. We must be in a position to give effective aid to Canada and the West Indies whenever they ask for it, without demanding a penny for our services. We, however, must remember that battleships, airplanes, and tanks will not save America any more than these things have thus far saved the Allies. Security cannot be purchased; it comes only through courage, self-sacrifice, and discipline.

It also should be remembered that these airplanes which we are building can be used against us by an INSIDE enemy just as easily as we can use them against an outside foe. This means a character-building campaign should be a definite part of our defense program. Now, more than ever before in the history of warfare, it is vital that the people of the strongest character should furnish the men who are to be trained for this new and all-important branch of our national defense. Let religious and civic leaders who are serious in their prayers re-read this last sentence.

Oil Show Is Reported In Area Wildcat Test

Proven Fields Have Busy Week When Six Seen

McALLEN — Valley wildcatting was paced Saturday by oil shows on production test in a prospective new field in south central Starr County and similar tests continued in a highly important northeastern Starr wildcat. Other deep Valley wells were drilling, one past 10,000 feet.

About five miles southeast of the Barbacoas field in south central Starr, George R. Boyle et al's No. 1 E. B. Carruth et al, Share 1-B, Portions 91-92, Camargo Jurisdiction, was flowing oil in small heads while cleaning through casing perforations (24 shots) at 3,491-97 feet to open a new field. Total depth was 3,504 feet, where 5 1-2-inch o.d. oil string was cemented. On 1-8-inch tubing choke, the well showed 275 pounds tubing working pressure and 450 pounds closed-in casing pressure and the pressures were rising slightly as the well slowly cleaned.

There seemed to be little doubt that the well would open a considerable acreage to development and apparently proved Boyle's contentions of several years that oil would be found in commercial quantities along a northwest extension of the Samfordyce fault area. Location has been staked about 1,000 feet north of the well for the Boyle et al No. 2 Carruth et al, which will be drilled immediately.

Tests Are Continuing

While considerable acreage and royalty was said to have changed hands or was included in pending deals, little definite information as to prices was available.

In northeastern Starr, Sun Oil Company No. 1 W. G. Lehr, Survey 513, several miles west and a little south of the Sun field, was swabbing a little oil with salt water showings through casing perforations (50 shots) at 4,127-37 feet. Production test was continuing.

One and a half miles to the south of the Lehr wildcat, Sun No. 1 Claude King, Survey 511, was drilling at 2,937 feet on a deep wildcat.

Drilling Stem Test Set

In far northeastern Starr, between the La Reforma distillate discovery well and the southwest extension well of the La Reforma field, Magnolia Petroleum's No. 3 F. G. Guerra, Share 25-B, Santa Cruz Grant, was drilling past 6,100 feet.

In southern Starr a short distance north of Zim field, Glenn Harroun's No. 1 Margaret Seabury, southeast corner of Share 46, Portion 80, Camargo Jurisdiction, cored a new sand at 1,341-46 feet and was reaming down for drill stem test. The sand was well-saturated and apparently carried considerable oil.

In western Starr, T. E. Stephens et al's No. 1 H. P. Guerra, Tract 269, Portion 69, north of the old Empire well, was drilling around 1,500 feet.

Cameron Well Is Deep

In western Hidalgo County about two miles east of the Samfordyce field, Homer P. Lee et al's No. A-2 Yturria Town and Improvement Company, Portion 42, Reynosa Jurisdiction, spudded and cemented 10 3-4-inch o.d. surface casing at 222 feet. The test is scheduled for 4,000 feet or deeper. Location is several hundred feet southwest of the No. A-1 Yturria.

In southeastern Cameron County about six miles south of Port Isabel, Pure Oil Company No. 1 Garcia Land and Cattle Company, was drilling around 10,050 feet on the deepest wildcat now under way in the Lower Rio Grande Valley area. Only two wells have ever surpassed it in depth in the Valley, the Shell Petroleum No. 1 Yturria, which went to 10,286 feet, and the Magnolia No. 1 F. Armendaiz, which went to 10,324 feet, both in western Willacy County.

SIX MORE WELLS FINISHED IN VALLEY PROVEN AREAS

McALLEN—Another big week came to a close Saturday for Lower Rio Grande Valley proven fields when six wells were completed, three more had casing cemented and more than a dozen others were drilling. Sun field in northeastern Starr reported two new producers, while one each was completed in the Colorado, Kelsey, Sullivan City and Rincon fields.

By far the most active area was the Rincon field, where seven rigs were running steadily. The new Rincon producer was W. R. Davis and Company No. A-7 Slick Estate, Survey 231, on the north edge of the chief producing area. Through casing perforations (50 shots) at 4,212-28 feet, the well gauged 250 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 275 pounds tubing working pressure and 825 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Two wells in the field had casing cemented on the sand.

Gas-Cut Mud Recovered

Davis No. B-25 Slick Estate, Survey 266, in the west part of the field, recovered 85 feet of gas-cut mud with 615 pounds pressure on 10-minute drill stem test of sand at 4,030-60 feet. In sand at 4,060-87 feet, operators recovered 850 feet of oil with 115 pounds pressure in 17 minutes. Sand at 4,200-11 feet yielded 540 feet of oil and 101 pounds pressure in 17 miutes, while 50 feet of mud without pressure was recovered in sand at 4,289-4,302 feet. Operators cemented 7-inch o.d. oil string at 4,254 feet.

Davis No. A-8 Slick Estate, Survey 231, another north edge well, also recovered oil on three drill stem tests as follows: 3,853-65 feet, recovered 940 feet of oil with 100 pounds pressure in 17 minutes; 4,056-86 feet, recovered 1,280 feet of oil with 133 pounds pressure in 17 minutes; and 4,202-45 feet, recovered 1,470 feet of oil with 180 pounds pressure in 17 minutes. Seven-inch o.d. casing was cemented on bottom at 4,262 feet.

Four other wels in the field were making hole.

Davis Well Coring

The field's north edge well, Davis No. A-9 Slick Estate, Survey 231, 660 feet north of production, recovered oil in two sands: 3,846-70 feet, drill stem test showed 1,980 feet of oil without pressure in 17 minutes; sand at 4,071-4,107 feet flowed oil in 14 minutes with 25 pound pressure, flowed continuously for 70 minutes and operators recovered 1,890 feet of oil. The well was coring at 4,150 feet.

Davis No. B-27 Slick Estate, Survey 266, in the west part of the field, recovered 375 feet of oil with 60 pounds pressure in 17 minutes from sand at 4,054-72 feet and recovered 580 feet of oil and 180 feet of oil-cut mud with 100 pounds pressure on 17-minute drill stem test of sand at 4,074-92 feet. Sand at 4,187-4,215 feet yielded 120 feet of oil and 30 feet of mud with 55 pounds pressure in 15 minutes, and operators continued coring at 4,290 feet.

Two New Producers

Davis No. A-10 Slick Estate, Survey 231, another north well, was drilling at 1,534 feet.

Sun reported two new producers and three new wells started in the Sun field in northeastern Starr, while Humble Oil and Refining Company had another new test in the northwest part of the field going down.

Sun's No. 8-A, Olivares, Survey 239, an inside location, gun-perforated with 72 shots at 4,615-28 feet and the well made an estimated 100 barrels daily on 9-64 inch tubing choke with 425 pounds tubing working pressure and 565 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

On the west edge of the field, Sun's No. B-2, Speer, Survey 236, made about 250 barrels daily on 3-16 inch tubing choke with 300 pounds tubing working pressure and 90 pounds closed-in casing pressure through casing perforations (20 shots) at 4,950-53 feet.

Inside Wells Spudded

A new southwest edge well is Sun No. C-1 Spear, in the northeast corner of Survey 234. Operators spudded and cemented 10 3-4 inch o.d. surface casing at 1,010 feet.

Two new inside wells were also spudded. Sun's No. 8 Geo. H. Speer, Survey 238, was drilling at 2,365 feet, and Sun's No. 9 A Olivares, Survey 239, cemented 10 3-4 inch o.d. surface pipe at 1,018 feet.

In the northwestern part of the Sun field, Humble No. 8 N. R. Montalvo, northeast corner of Survey 237, made salt water on drill stem test at 4,129-37 feet and was drilling below 4,890 feet.

New Producer 'In'

One new producer was completed in the Kelsey field in Brooks county and one new well was drilling. Humble's No. 54 J. C. McGill, La Blanca Grant, Brooks county, gauged 101 barrels daily on 7-64 inch tubing choke with 600 pounds tubing working pressure and 650 pounds closed-in casing pressure from sand at 4,716-23 feet.

Humble's No. 50 J. C. McGill, also in La Blanca Grant, Brooks county, was drilling below 3,000 feet.

One new producer and two wells under way provided steady development for the Colorado field in western Jim Hogg county.

Humble No .13 Atwood Heirs, Survey 36, on the east edge of the field, gauged 134 barrels daily on 3-16 inch tubing choke with 150 pounds tubing working pressure and 650 pounds closed-in casing pressure from sand at 3,081-88 feet.

Royal Has Producer

Humble's No. 12 King Ranch-Colorado, Survey 42, was coring around 3,000 feet.

Sun spudded its first well in the Colorado field, the No. 1 N. S. Thaxton, Survey 670, in the north part of the area. Operators cemented 10 3-4 inch o.d. surface pipe around 100 feet and were drilling past 800 feet.

In the Sullivan City field in western Hidalgo county, Royal Oil and Gas Company completed a good producer in the field's 4,100-foot sand, and two other wells were under way as operations began to resume in the area. There are now about four proved locations on the north edge of the field which will probably be drilled shortly.

New Location Given

Royal's No. A-2 V. G. Chapa, Tract 236, Por. 39, Reynosa Jurisdiction, gauged 107 barrels daily on 9-64 inch tubing choke with 1,050 pounds tubing working pressure and 1,550 pounds closed-in casing pressure. Casing was gun-perforated with 24 shots at 4,093-4,100 feet after the hole had been bottomed and pipe set at 4,121 feet.

Royal's B-1 V. G. Chapa, Tract 239, Portion 40, Reynosa Jurisdiction, was coring past 3,000 feet.

Derrick was up and machinery was being moved in for H. J. Porter et al's No. 1 Febronio Flores, 330 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east lines of Tract 240, Portion 40, Reynosa Jurisdiction.

LOZAS SAID NEAR DEATH

Mexico Resident Is Crash Victim

EDINBURG — Florentino Lozas, 24-year-old resident of Mexico who arrived recently in the Valley, lay near death at County-City hospital here Saturday as the result of an auto crash Friday night which threatened to climax fatally a visit to a brother he had not seen for 22 years.

Lozas was struck by a car driven by Lee Kidder, 18, of Mercedes, as he walked across U. S. Highway 83 a few blocks east of the East Donna read near that city. Occupied by Ralph Powell, 18, Miss Jean Kirkpatrick, 16, and Miss Billy Powell, 18, all of Mercedes, the machine was going west at the time. A car moving east narrowly escaped striking Lozas, who walked into the center lane of the three-lane highway and then moved in front of the Kidder car, Assistant District Attorney Jack Ross said.

Several officers investigated the case Saturday morning when the victim, first identified as Apolonio Lozas of San Juan, was later found to be the brother of Apolonio. Friends who identified him at the hospital said he had not seen his brother since he was two years old and had been living with relatives on a ranch in Mexico.

The victim wore two pairs of trousers, had an extra undershirt stuffed into one of his pants pocket, and carried a packet containing two photographs, which aided his identification.

Other officers aiding the investigation were State Patrolmen J. H. Hollyfield and W. M. Miller and County Patrolmen Truett Jordan and George Murray.

Fifty persons have been killed in Valley auto crashes thus far this year.

During the month of May this year gross receipts were $9,295.20, against $8,471.31 for the same month in 1939.

AIR DEFENSE SESSION DUE

McAllen Is Seeking Plane Base

McALLEN—H. M. Smith of Fort Worth, airport engineer for the Civil Aeronautics Authority, is expected to arrive in McAllen next week to confer with a local committee seeking to launch a Valley air defense project.

Members of the McAllen committee plan to ask Smith for suggestions on steps to secure adequate air defense for the Valley area.

The committee, headed by H. H. Hensley, met Friday afternoon to discuss preliminary plans to obtain the cooperation of other Valley cities in their efforts to get an air base in this section.

At a meeting of the McAllen Chamber of Commerce directors last week it was pointed out that immediate action has to be taken by Valley citizens to assure defense bases located along the border, which military strategists claim could be subject to invasion.

Foreman-Bryson

HARLINGEN—Miss Sudie Kay Bryson, employe of the Arcadia Theatre here since 1927, was married to Captain Hill Foreman of the state highway patrol, at San Antonio Saturday at 6:45 p.m., according to information from Captain Dan Abbott, San Antonio.

Captain Abbott said Miss Bryson and Foreman, who was also formerly a resident of the Valley, were married by Rev. M. C. Stearn, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church there. The couple will be at home in Austin after a trip to the groom's home in Polk county, Texas.

Captain Abbott served as best man, and Mrs. Abbott attended Miss Bryson. Captain Foreman came to Harlingen Saturday morning, but the marriage was a surprise to their acquaintances here.

TOM SHIPPING ON INCREASE

Trackholdings Go Up As Result

HARLINGEN—Heavy shipments of the past few days have piled up tomatoes in the markets and trackholdings by Monday may be up to 600 cars, well ahead of the consumption at this time of the year, a local factor in the tomato deal said Saturday.

Trackholdings Saturday were 410 cars, highest of the season, and week-end accumulations are expected to send the total away up. Saturday's shipments from all areas totaled 245 cars but earlier in the week shipments reached 290 and 322 cars.

Saturday's total consisted of 77 from Texas and 168 from Florida. The Valley moved 42 cars out of the state total.

Prices to the growers were around two cents a pound field run or two to two and a half cents for U. S. No. 1, grade, 6x6 pack and one and a half cents for 6x7 pack.

Rains Thursday, Friday and Saturday have interfered with shipments from the Florida East Coast and Lake sections which have been going out at the rate of 90 to 100 cars a day but the West Coast and Ocala sections are still pitching in the tomato league with 125 to 150 cars daily.

1940 Valley Fishing Rodeo Plans Complete

A Tough Job

Did you ever have a real case of spring fever and at the same time have to do a chore? If you have had, then you will understand exactly how we feel as we sit at our desk trying to think of something to write about that might be of some interest to those who by chance read this column.

Possibly it doesn't make any difference to you, but after the games of Thursday, the Boston Red Sox, leading the American League, and the Brooklyn Dodgers, in second place in the National League, had the same number of wins and loses.

Two new football coaches will be seen in action at McAllen this fall. Kenneth Grimes, who did quite a job of fulbacking at Texas A. and I. last year, will become assistant to Maco Stewart and Phil Cage, recently at Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos, will take over the duties of junior high coach. . . . .

Fort Worth is all pepped up over getting the National Open in 1941. And why shouldn't they be? It is the first time the big golfing event has been held in the Southwest. From what we can learn, every golfer in Texas is happy over the result of Fort Worth's fine work. It would not be surprising to see the biggest gallery in the history of the event. . . . .

Baseball's a funny game. Just a few short months ago Roy Cullenbine was worth $25,000 just to sign a contract. Now he went for $7,500, the waiver price. Cullenbine was picked up by the St. Louis Browns and we will be very much interested to see how he goes for Fred Haney who has long been a big booster for the lad who played for him when he was manager of the Toledo club. . . . .

Why doesn't someone start the ball rolling to get an Open for the Valley next year? We believe the top pros would flock here if the dates were set at a time to catch them on their way East after playing the West coast schedule of tournaments. The Valley has two courses they could play over, Harlingen and Brownsville. The publicity the Valley would receive would be more than worth whatever it cost to stage the tourney. . . .

Isn't it nice and peaceful now that the ballyhoo artists have nothing to say about a heavyweight fight. But it won't be long now until we hear all about what great fighters Max Baer, Tony Galento, Arturo Godoy, etc. are. And how they will put up a great fight against Joe Louis. . . .

Wonder why we can't get our mind off fishing conditions in our coastal waters? Guess it is just that we remember when we should get reds and trout in the bay, out of the surf and off the jetties. Surely something can be done to remedy the situation but it should be done as quickly as possible. Personally we think Hart Stilwell's idea for a governmental survey is the best idea of all to determine the cause of lack of fish. . . .

"Dutch" Flory and "Chili" Stone, coaches in the Harlingen school system, postcard from Windsor, Ontario, that they are having a fine time on their vacation trip and in the same mail comes an invitation from Thomas Glynne "Baldy" Magee, popular assistant coach at Edinburg, to attend his wedding on June 24 in Fort Worth. . . .

Do you suppose that San Benito is the only town in the Valley without a softball league in action? For that matter they may have one and there might be others without one.

Have you noticed how that young fellow, Howard Pollet, is going for the Houston Buffs? Friday night he hung up his eleventh consecutive mound victory which is a modern record for the circuit. If he keeps going his name will appear in the St. Louis Cardinals' box score before long. . . .

Whether it means anything or not, the league radio announcers have picked the Cincinnati Reds and Boston Red Sox to meet in the World Series. Makes our pick bad since we selected the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees. . . .

Of all the youngsters who broke into organized baseball with the champion Harlingen Hubs, it appears that Tommy Tatum (Red Mays to most of you) has the best chance of going places. Holding down the utility job with Nashville, Tommy is hitting the ball hard and has done a swell job of filling in at several positions. Damon Phillips, Gene Hinrichs and Dale Jones are other former Hubs who are still playing in the top minors.

Has anyone tried for Spanish mackerel off the jetties? Reports are coming in that the water is clear and still but we have had no chance to make a definite check on this. That sort of fishing is great sport.

McAllen Schedules Tennis Tournament

McALLEN—A Valley men's tennis tournament July 4-6 on the local clay courts was announced Saturday by Chuck Wagner, court manager.

Chief feature of the tournament will be rankings given entrants on the basis of their play. Thus Valley players will know how they stand, Wagner said. In addition, trophies will be awarded champions and runner-ups.

Entry fees are $1 for singles and $1.50 for doubles. Closing entry date is June 28. A boys tournament will be staged July 12, 13.

Few Changes Adopted In Rule Setup

Interest Mounts In Big Event

PORT ISABEL — With several new features added which are expected to meet with the hearty approval of all prospective entrants in the big sports event, plans for the Seventh Annual Rio Grande Valley Fishing Rodeo, to be held at Port Isabel, August 1-4, are virtually complete, officials announced Saturday.

Perhaps the greatest change from former set-ups of the fishing rodeo is in the marlin division of the event. Any size line may be used with the award going to the contestant catching the largest marlin. This is expected to increase the catch of the big fellows for in the past many have been lost due to inexperienced anglers using light tackle. For the first time a worthwhile award will be made for catching the second largest marlin.

Another change in the rules has been made and will affect the sailfish division. This year the championship sailfish trophy will go to the person scoring the greatest number of points accordng to the size of line and weight of fish.

In the tarpon division, the championship trophy will be won by the entrant scoring the greatest number of points on tarpon ONLY. Previously a mixed bag was allowed with the provision that at least one tarpon must be caught.

For the information of all interested persons, the following rules and regulations of the 1940 event have been approved by the directors of the rodeo as well as other information concerning the rodeo:

RULES AND REGULATIONS

During some of our past contests we have allowed an extended period covering several weeks in some divisions particularly the marlin and sailfish divisions. This extended period was allowed for the convenience of our out of Valley participants who might not be able to be present during the three day Rodeo Roundup. Experience has taught us however that on the contrary such arrangement involked a handicap upon contestants from beyond the boundaries of the Valley and gave contestants who lived close at hand an advantage. This policy has been abandoned and we have returned to our original plan of a three day contest. The only exception being that we are allowing a full week in the marlin division.

The contest (in the marlin division only) shall begin the morning of July 28 and shall close at the end of the day of August 3. All Marlin caught during this period shall be considered in the contest. Fishing in the 3 day Rodeo Roundup shall begin at daylight on the morning of August 1 and shall stop at the end of the day August 3, during which time all fish, including marlin will be scored.

Class A

The contest shall be divided into two classes which shall be known as class A and Class B. Class A contestants shall be all who compete for the championship trophies and awards and such other prizes as are designated as Class A prizes. Class A contestants, signifies those fishing off shore for such fish as marlin, sailfish, tarpon, wahoo, tuna, king mackerel, spanish mackrel, jackfish, bonita, etc., fish being taken from a power boat by trolling. The registration fee for Class A contestants shall be $5.00.

Class B

Class B fishing shall be what is known as the inland water class and shall include fish which are usually caught in the bay, passes, river's mouth, off of jetties, docks and from surf or near the coast in open water, such as trout, redfish, channel bass, spanish mackrel, king mackrel, pike, jackfish and etc. A separate attractive selection of Class B prizes has been designed for the separate contests in class B. The registration fee for all class B contestants shall be $1.00.

Scoring Points

In the marlin division no system of scoring points will be adhered to, the prizes being awarded upon the basis of the size of the marlin caught. Any size line will be permitted at the discretion of the contestant. NOTE: a word of warning is thought advisable to those of inexperience, fishing for marlin, that they not attempt to catch marlin with inadequate tackle. Not less than forty marlin have been lost during the past three years due to the use of tackle entirely too light for these fish.

For all other fish caught during the 3 day roundup a system of scoring similar to that used in recent years are again being used in 1940. The classification of tackle into heavy, medium and light or into 6-9, 4-6, etc will not be adhered to. The following system of scoring will be used for all fish caught during the 3 day roundup period, except marlin: the weight of the fish shall be divided by the size of line, result to be multiplied by 10 (size of line to mean number of threads of any standard line except Cable Laid line—in case Cable Laid line is used the judges of the contest shall determine in advance the relationship such line shall bear to standard line): A fish weighing 108 pounds caught on number 9 line; divide 108 the weight of fish, by 9, the size of line, which equals 12, which multiplied by 10, given a score of 120 points. Were the same fish caught on number 12 line, the result would be 90 points, and if caught on number 24 would be 45 points.

All fish caught in either A or B class (less than 20 lbs.) shall be weighed as a mixed bag and the days catch shall be scored according to the weight of the line the same as for larger fish. Regulation tackle (except in the marlin division) shall mean any rod and reel with a line not to exceed number 30. All tackle used in the contest must be inspected and classified by the judges before the contestant enters the contest and upon submitting the fish for recording each contestant shall be required to produce the tackle upon which the fish was caught if so demanded by the judges. If the contestant carries more than one size of line upon his boat he may be required to produce an affadivit as to the size of line used when the fish was taken, if so demanded by the judges. All fish taken in the contest must be delivered to the judges of the contest at the close of each day of fishing if the boat touches port, to be weighed and registered and proper points scored. NOTE: This rule shall not be interpreted so that all contestants must return to port at the end of each day of fishing. Those wishing to remain at anchor well off shore through the night shall deliver their fish to the judges whenever they come to port.

Each boat fishing in inland waters or near shore shall carry a white pennant or white flag which shall be hoisted upon a staff when a large fish is hooked. Any boat with a fish hooked that has displayed the proper flag shall have the right-of-way over any boat that has no fish hooked. Any boatman who interferes with any contestant who has a fish hooked shall forfeit all rights to prizes and shall be further penalized at the discretion of the judges.

All boats when coming into port whether fishing in inland waters or off shore shall fly their white flag at the top of their mast or staff to indicate if they have been successful in catching a marlin, sailfish, tarpon or any other fish of importance.

A receiving station will be established and all fish caught during the contest must be delivered to the judges or clerks for recording as soon as the boat reaches port.

It shall be the duty of the judges to supervise fishing at all times while fishing is in progress in the inland waters.

Entertainment

An interesting full day of entertainment will be arranged for Sunday, August 4 in connection with the ceremony of awarding the prizes.

The program will be in charge of a special committee. It will include events of interest to all persons, adults and juvenile. This program will have the cooperation of all Port Isabel civic organizations who will be aided by some of the affiliated organizations of the Valley.

Boats and Guides

Port Isabel boatmen and fishing guides have resided there many years and are capable and reliable licensed pilots and expert fishermen, familiar with every inch of the surrounding waters. Charges range upward from $15.00 per day for guides and boats, depending upon the class and capacity of the boats. Guides, without boats $5.00 per day.

All boats and guides are required to register with the Organization committee. A list of boats and guides will be supplied to any contestant in advance of the rodeo dates if requested, with a description of the boat, etc. The contestant may make his arrangements with the guide in advance by corresponding direct with him. There will be ample supply of good boats, but advance arrangements will prevent possibilty of disappointment. Sportsmen are invited to bring their own boats, and guides at other points are urged to contact the Rodeo Organization regarding charter of their boats and services.

Pittsburgh Takes First In Big Meet

Al Blozis Hangs Up New Marks

By BILL KING

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. —(AP)— Although without a single first-place winner in a competition that saw five new meet records set and another equalled, the University of Pittsburgh gained its second IC4A track and field championship in four years Saturday at Harvard stadium.

By putting together five and a half second places, plus a third, a fourth and a fifth, the Panthers rolled up 29½ points and nullified the mighty left that Norwood Ewell, sensational Negro sophomore, gave his Pennsylvania State forces by winning both dashes and the broad jump.

Ewell's "triple," the first in IC4A competition since 1937, when Columbia's Ben Johnson won the same three events while Pittsburgh was gaining the team title, enabled Penn State to take second place with 24 points.

California, the pre-meet favorite, tied with Yale for third honors with 20 points and New York University was fifth with 19.

The other team scores were Tufts and Georgetown 13 each, Maine and Manhattan 12 each, Harvard 11½, Cornell 9½, Princeton 9, Michigan State 8½, Brown and Pennsylvania 7 each, Rhode Island State and Fordham 6 each, Boston College 5, HollyCross 4 and Syracuse and Temple 2 each.

Crowding the versatile Ewell Hard for the individual glory was Al Blozis, the Georgetown giant, who established new meet marks for the shot put and discus. Another double winner, Eddie Dugger, Tufts' Negro hurdles star, clipped a tenth second off the 14.4 seconds mark that Earl Thompson of Dartmouth set for the 120-yard high timber event 20 years ago. Dugger also won the 220-yard low hurdles.

Guernsey Seeks Another Title

HOUSTON —(AP)— Bantamweight Frank Guernsey, National Intercollegiate tennis champion the past two years, sets about Monday to regain the Texas title he won two years ago.

The stolid little Rice Institute star, who did not compete for the title last year, must unseat Bobby Curtis, a stout blond Rice teammate whom he recently defeated for the Southwest Conference championship.

Guernsey was the top man in a brilliant field that starts singles play on the 16 Golfcrest Country Club courts.

But such stars as Lefty Brown, the Baylor freshman; Reuben Riskind and Maurice Fincher of the University of Texas; Wilbur and Jake Hess, the Houston veterans; Dick Morris and Rodgers of Rice, Ed Umstaedter of LSU, Bobby Kamrath and a flock of others are solid contenders.

Reigning doubles champions are Fincher and Kamrath, but is expected Fincher will team with Riskind this season.

Ben Nixon, San Antonio youngster, will defend his junior title while Grover Cantrell of Sherman and Warren McMillan of Fort Worth are scheduled to defend the doubles title. Prominent boys' division entries include Wade Spilman of Mission, defending titlist and Ted Norpoth and Bill Tabola of Houston.

Doubles play will not start until Wednesday.

The sectional tournament, one of 13 sponsored by the United States Lawn Tennis Association, is held to determine the better players of the country, by sections.

PALS 6; TIGERS 3

PALESTINE—(AP)—The Palestine Pals spotted Marshall three runs in the first inning Saturday night, then counter-attacked to win, 6 to 3, behind John Dobby's pitching. Frank Simontacchi was seriously injured when struck by a thrown ball at second base in the sixth.

This One Proved To Be Too Tough

This scene at one of the Valley's former rodeos shows D. Music of Weslaco bucking off of a bronco that proved to be a little too rough for him to ride. There will be plenty of such thrilling action Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p. m. at the rodeo in Harlingen. Valley rodeo fans are assured of seeing a wild and wooly show with Brahma bull riding, bronco riding, bulldogging, wild mule riding, calf roping and wild cow milking.

Edinburg Stars Boost Lead In Hidalgo League

Sharyland Holding Second Place

McALLEN — The Edinburg All Stars continued to set a torrid pace in the Hidalgo County Softball League with the half way mark at hand. The Stars won an exciting 5 to 4 game over the Sharyland team while McAllen dropped the Engelman Garden's Won Up ten 6 to 2 to widen the gap between the leaders and the remaining clubs.

Old Travis Wallace held the hard hitting league leaders to 6 blows Thursday night but loose play afield cost him the ball game. Southwell started for Edinburg and was relieved by Mike McKinney who turned in a brilliant relief job.

Wallace and the Shary ten smothered Engelman Garden's on the Grapefruiter's own diamond Tuesday night although Stovall garnered 12 strikeouts.

The Engelman Gardens club took a close one from Whalen's Monday night 6 to 5.

Complete results of last week's play:

Engelman's 6; Whalen's 5.
Edinburg 5; Sharyland 5.
Sharyland 5; Engelman's 2.
McAllen 6; Engelman's 2.
Sharyland 11; McAllen 9.

Rifle Shoot At Mercedes Today

MERCEDES—A large aggregation of Valley riflemen is expected to compete in the first match in the Baum Trophy tournament Sunday afternoon on the Mercedes rifle range.

This 3-match tournament to be fired alternately on the Mercedes and McAllen ranges is being staged under the joint sponsorship of the Mercedes and McAllen rifle and pistol clubs with Abe Baum, prominent Mercedes - McAllen - Harlingen men's ready-to-wear merchant, furnishing the trophy and medals. The trophy depicts a prone rifleman in sun-ray gold mounted on a mahogany base with a gold plate for the inscription of the name of the tournament champion. Gold, silver and bronze medals will also be awarded to the three highest winners.

Each contestant, firing from prone position, will be alloted 20 shots at 50 yards and 20 shots at 100 yards. A .22 caliber rim fire rifle will be used. Entrance fee is $1.00 for the three matches with any Valley rifleman, whether a club member or not, allowed to enter.

The second match will be held on the McAllen range on Sunday afternoon, June 16, and the final match again on the Mercedes range on Sunday, June 30.

League-Leading Buffs Drawing Slim Crowds

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

HOUSTON—(AP)—It just doesn't make sense.

The Houston Buffs—a minor league copy of the New York Yankees (1939 variety)—are playing their home games before crowds slimmer than a debutante's waistline.

Ten and a half games ahead of the pack, the Buffs have approached the qualifications of a dream team—with murderous slugging, expert pitching and the league's finest fielding finesse.

The list of Texas League leaders—teams and players—is dotted with the key word "Houston."

For instance:

The Buffs lead the loop in batting and fielding.

The team set a record in winning seven straight doubleheaders.

Howard Pollet, 18-year-old pitcher, has won 11 consecutive victories without the shadow of defeat—a modern high mark.

Johnny Antonelli, second baseman, is runner-up in the batting race with .365 and is top man in runs and hits.

Old Nick Cullop, hustling outfielder, has batted in 53 runs and smashed nine homers.

Five Buff pitchers boast perfect fielding averages.

Four regulars are batting better than .300.

Despite this nightly exhibition of superiority, the crowds stay away in great numbers.

One sad night, for instance, a grand total of 416 persons sat in the huge Buffalo Stadium.

Be it said, however, the front office is not so worried as the die-hard fans.

"We're running about like we did last year at this time," said President Fred Ankenman. "Last season we recovered nicely to finish with the best attendance record in six years. Anyway, we never draw as well early in the season as we do after school is out.

"Things will pick up now."

Ankelman said "everybody's stirred up over the war situation and that hurts attendance, too."

The club has run into some foul weather tricks which played havoc with the turnstile operations.

Near-freezing temperatures opening night ruined prospects for a fine getaway and unfavorable weather at odd times since has damaged the financial end of the business.

The cruelest luck came the night young Pollet went after his tenth straight victory. Besides this drawing card, it was Negro Night and Ankelman was prepared to seat a big batch of customers.

During the hours just previous to game time, rain poured down all around Buffalo Stadium and over town.

Nary a drop fell on the field, however, and the game went on as scheduled—before a handful of paying patrons.

New Stars Shine On Senior Loop Diamonds

Many Young Fellows In Spotlight

Junior Replacements Set Record

By BILL BRANDT

May is the month major league managers mobilize their forces to fighting strength. Tryout season is over. By league law they must carve their corps to the 25-player limit.

Counting new noses in National League clubhouses reveals that this year baseball's oldest league is younger than ever before, its manpower showing a greater influx of junior replacements than in any previous spring. More than one-fourth of all the players listed on National League rosters are freshmen—selected from the cream of the minor league crop.

Roll-call when the eight clubs announced their 25-player personnel showed that 55 of the 200 athletes marked present played all or most of the 1939 season in minor league settings. They were the stars of the higher class little leagues who qualified for baseball's top flight by their brave deeds last summer.

Big Influx

This tremendous influx of new talent made its mark early in the spring pennant race by revising the picture of the league set-up as of September, 1939. Brooklyn's sensational starting streak of 9 straight was the season's first startling message of new power in the old league, new frontiers and boundaries to be drawn. Later the Phillies, consigned to last place in February's expert balloting by 73 votes of of a possible 76, forged to the fore in the second division by winning of their first six games against western invaders of Quaker Town.

Replacements are thicker, of course, in clubs of lowly 1939 rating than with the front-runners, but in May's last week every National League club sported at least five newcomers on its roster. Nearly every day since the season's start, there has been at least one freshman in every club's lineup.

May 20, for instance, when all eight clubs saw action, offered a graphic picture of the new-blood distribution. Mike McCormick, last year with Indianapolis, was Cincinnati centerfielder. Bill Baker, last year's Indianapolis catcher and runner-up for the American Association batting championship, took Lombardi's place in the sixth inning. Two rookie pitchers, Johnny Hutchings, last year's strikeout king of the Southern League, and Elmer Riddle, Birmingham's 1939 mound ace, saw action in the box for the league champions.

Lake Shows Well

Playing second base and leading ooff for the St. Louis Cardinals was Eddie Lake, last year the Texas League's leading runmaker and so talented a leadoffer that his 153 bases on balls broke an all-time Lone Star loop record which had stood for 14 years. Other new Cards in action were Joe Orengo, last year's Sacramento shortstop, and Southpaw Ernie White, who last year at Houston pitched the first no-hit game ever recorded in the 11-year history of Buffalo Stadium.

Brooklyn's leadoff man was Pee-Wee Reese, Louisville's hero in its Little World Series triumph last fall. The Dodgers' centerfield was covered by Charlie Gilbert, 20-year-older whose first year of pro ball at Nashville last season earned a .317 batting average and the reputation of being one of the greatest young ball hawks in the minor leagues.

Bill Nicholson and Bobby Mattick, in the Chicago Cubs' lineup, spent the latter half of last year with the Bruins. This is their first full year in the majors. Ken Raffensberger, on the mound, pitched the entire 1939 International League campaign as a Rochester Red Wing ace, though he wore Cardinal spangles when the Centennial Year's season launched.

Giants Have Two

The New York Giants' first-baseman was Babe Young, Southern Association's Most-Valuable-Player of 1939, with Jersey City's second-baseman, Al Glossop, throwing to him. Pittsburgh had on view a complete new outfield of Double-A slugging stars, International Leaguers Bob (.328) Elliott and Maurice (.320) VanRobays, plus Vince DiMaggio, American Association home run champion. The last Pirate pitcher was Dick Lanham, who no-hitted into the Southern A. Hall of Fame last summer while tying for the league leadership in total victories.

Boston showed Chet Ross, Evansville's 111-run-driver and leader of the National League in three-baggers to date, and Carvel Roswell, Eastern League base-stealing champion. The Phillies flashed a new star shortstop, Busy Bragan, holder of the all-time Southeastern League record for assists, also a sport model first-sacker, Art Mahan, from Little Rock, a 400 hitter his first 10 days in the major leagues.

The May 20 picture helps tell the story of the National League's sparkling pennant race. For several years past, the drive of the senior circuit for new stars has been the talk of the baseball world, but by the evidence at hand to date, the year 1940 bids fair to set a new high for increase in general all-around playing strength throughout all eight clubs in the circuit.

The five largest states in area, in order of size, are Texas, California, Montana, New Mexico, and Arizona.

FRENCH INDUSTRIAL AREA IS BOMBED

Sabotage Hinted As Navy Bomber Crashes And Kills 4

EXPERT SAYS CONTROLS OF CRASH PLANE JAMMED

Los Angeles Youth Is Indirect Victim

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A nine-ton prototype of new high-winged bomber, scheduled shortly for delivery to the U. S. Navy, crashed and burned in a flower bed Saturday, killing four employes of the Consolidated Aircraft Company.

Dead were Ensign E. (BUD) Bogen, 29, pilot.

Ensign J. BENON, flight engineer.

W. MULVONEY, 28, crew chief.

JA[illegible] JEWART, inspector.

Probe Is Launched

Inquiry started quickly from three sources—the navy, Civil Aeronautics Authority and Douglas, builders of the great DC-5 plane. Lightning when police threw a guard around it pending a probe for sabotage. Douglas officials said in a statement:

"The CAA, the navy and our engineers and experts have started their investigations, we cannot comment on the cause of this regrettable accident. Preliminary investigation fails to produce any evidence or indication that would explain the reason for the crash."

Engineer pilot who watched Saturday told naval authorities from the craft's maneuvers it appeared that the controls jammed.

An eyewitness usually was John Robert Clay, 17, who died of a heart attack as he watched the great ship dive to the ground. His parents said he long had suffered from a heart.

Unusual Design

The ship's high-winged design, on which the fuselage, contrasts with the more familiar low-wing. Powered by two 1000-horsepower engines, it was built at a cost of $125,000 and could carry 16 passengers and a crew of three.

Engineers regarded it as a particularly rugged ship, with exceptional performance possibilities. It had 78-foot wingspan and a 60-foot fuselage.

After acceptance by the navy, the ship was to have gone to the District of Columbia for service at Anacostia naval depot. Its naval insignia already had been painted on.

German Blitzkrieg Copied After American Plan

Evidence Proves Hitler 'Borrowed' His Program From United States Elaborate Mobilization Plan Now On File For M-Day Over Here

By JOHN LEAR
Copyright, 1940, by The Associated Press

WASHINGTON —(AP)— There is evidence in the files of the federal government that a substantial part of the plans for Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg were "borrowed" from the United States.

These plans would answer the most interesting question of the war in the low countries and in France.

How have the Germans been able to strike such repeated sledge hammer blows without serious interruption over so long a time?

For these plans are America's plan for mobilization in event we go to war, and then gear up men and machines and every other resource of the nation to win war as swiftly as possible.

Plans of "Total War"

They are plans for "total war." They cover every conceivable factor in preparation for battle. Nothing approaching their efficiency had been devised anywhere in the world before the organizing genius of the United States began drawing them up 20 years ago.

No treachery—not even clever espionage—is responsible for the fact that the Nazis were aware of them.

The plans were available also to the English and the French, who did not "borrow" them.

I cannot name the source of the following information, but I can vouch for the fact that it is both official and reliable:

(1) Within a year after Hitler came to power in Germany in 1933, the Nazi military attache here began studying the American war mobilization blueprints.

The attache had the right to do so under ordinary diplomatic procedure.

He spent six months making his examination.

(2) Not until a year after he completed his study was the first of the Nazis' national defense laws passed —on May 21, 1935.

(3) The war mobilization system which took shape in Germany after that was a striking parallel to the American plan in all its principal characteristics.

"Conscientious Imitation"

Agents from this country, working in Germany, described it as a "conscientious imitation."

(4) The similarity was sharply illustrated in the Nazis' very first conquest—the "anschluss" with Austria.

Immediately after occupying Vienna, the Germans made a census of Austrian industries and allocated their respective share in supplying war needs—in identically the same way as the same step is outlined under the American plan.

(5) Then came the invasion of the low countries, and the repeated overpowering blows against the Allies which military men agree can be explained only by highly concentrated resources poured into the fighting front through ultra-efficient lines of communication.

This method of "winding up" for a "haymaker" punch and following through with all the strength the nation can muster is the very essence of the American mobilization scheme. It starts by teaming up all the factories where munitions and machines are made, integrating the roads and railroads over which they must travel, allocating fuel and electric power to vital points, and keeping men flowing up to the front while putting those behind the lines into jobs where they will do the most good. All war plans must follow this pattern, but this one operates on an exact time table from start to finish.

The advantage to this country if the plan should go into effect would be that the United States has more resources than Germany to pour into it.

The mobilization plan is one of the most thorough blueprints ever drawn up for anything. It is based on three suppositions:

(1) That the people of the United States, if they must go to war, want to win that war as quickly as possible.

(2) That they want to wage war with as little disturbance as possible to our civil peacetime life.

(3) That when the war is over we can return to peacetime economy as quickly and easily as possible.

American Plan

Although the plan (shaped during twenty years of both Republican and Democratic administrations) as it now stands has marked out every industrial plant in the country for the part it can play in war, no plant is scheduled to turn more than 50 per cent of its normal output to war purposes. This would keep peacetime industry from shutting down.

Ten thousand factories already have been told what they are to do, and all of them have agreed to do it. The government has given them educational orders to buy dies and machine tools and test the speed of production. The floor plans of these plants have even been marked out for placement of the needed machinery when the time comes.

The plan sets up a system of priorities so that war necessities always would come first. War factories would have first call on raw materials. Men would be encouraged, by higher wages and by deferments from draft for military service, to work in plants where their output would mean most in winning the war. Money would be regulated in the same way.

Profits and wages would be controlled so that no worker would suffer and no capitalist wax fat on the war effort.

Blackout of Liberties

Necessarily, as in all warring countries, individual liberties would have to be subjugated to the national will. But the basic democracy

MARSEILLE IS HEAVILY HIT; 46 ARE DEAD

Swiss Patrol Downs German Raider

By The Associated Press

A great aerial expedition of Nazi bombing planes swarmed over southern France Saturday afternoon, sowing death and destruction in the heart of the famed Rhone Valley industrial section and striking the port of Marseille heavily.

At least 46 persons were killed in the mass bombing raid, one of the heaviest of the war, which came in the wake of Adolf Hitler's military victory in Flanders.

In Marseille, Mediterranean port and France's second largest city, 30 persons were killed. In the Lyon industrial area 16 met death and 80 or 90 were wounded.

The French said 56 German planes were downed in all the day's fighting against 16 French losses. Of the losses inflicted on the Rhone Valley raiders they said only a "certain number" were downed.

Two heavy bombs fell in Marseille. A British ship laden with cotton was sunk in the harbor.

Industrial sections of central eastern France were heavily bombed.

Some observers believed the raids were a German gesture to show Premier Mussolini, a prospective entrant into the war at Hitler's side, that Nazi air power is sufficient to give the Italians help even during the present German northern offensive.

The Nazi armada roared into France across the Rhine north of Basel, Switzerland, in droves of 21 to 36 planes. They struck first at French air bases, communications and factories in the Rhone Valley around Lyon.

Swiss patrols tangled with one of the raiders which ventured over neutral Switzerland's border, downing the craft and killing its four occupants.

While the French blocked an attempted Nazi "on to Paris" drive against the Somme Line, the Germans hurled shell after shell into Dunkerque, where the last of the Allied northern armies were embarking for England.

Lord Gort, commander of the British expeditionary force, returned to England from Flanders with this firm declaration:

"We shall meet them again. Next time victory will be with us."

FDR RELAXES

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Roosevelt embarked on the yacht Potomac at the navy yard late Saturday for an overnight cruise and rest from the extra labors occasioned by the war in Europe.

CALLING OF U.S. MILITIA URGED

Gen. Marshall Hints Of Developments

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Amid mounting opposition in congress to President Roosevelt's request for authority to call the national guard to active duty, the army high command contended Saturday that the possibility of "dangerous developments" in this hemisphere made it essential that the request be granted.

General George C. Marshall, the army chief of staff, issued a formal statement supporting the President's proposal after opposition among senators had reached formidable proportions.

Would Change Law

Mr. Roosevelt already had authority to call the guard into service, General Marshall said, "But under that call it would be impossible to send any units of the national guard to assist a regular division in any one of the possible situations which might arise in this hemisphere."

"It is necessary that more troops be made available, trained, and seasoned, to enable missions to be carried out without denuding this country of ground troops in a state of sufficient preparation to meet unexpected eventualities in some other direction."

The chief of staff did not say what the possible "dangerous developments" in this hemisphere might be. But Senator Minton of Indiana, the democratic whip, had expressed belief to newsmen previously that the President might have in mind the possibility of having to occupy British, French and Dutch possessions in the new world if the Allies were defeated.

Home Defense Use

If need for such action arose, Minton said, regular troops would have to be used and the national guard called out to man defenses of the continental United States.

General Marshall's statement failed to quiet criticism of the Presidential request among senate mem-

FDR And Mussolini Exchange Messages But Peace Fades

Exultant British Cheer Return Of 120,000 Vets

Retreat Termed Most Spectacular In History Soldiers Want Another Crack At Nazis

LONDON—(AP)—Britain's veterans of the north—the men who helped hold the fields of Flanders until the last and then withdrew in the most spectacular retreat of modern history—still were coming home Saturday night to an exultant welcome from a rarely emotional people.

The success of the withdrawal—one made across the English Channel in a gale of fire from every weapon at the Nazis' command—was illustrated in estimates from various sources that of the original expeditionary force of 175,000 men, from 100,000 to 140,000 had been brought safely back.

Too, it was stated unofficially that every division, or its remnant, save one, had been disembarked.

Suicide Men Stay

This British division, and two French divisions remained to hold off the attacking Germans.

Beneath the cheering, tear-drenched reception ran the somber undercurrent of preparations to evacuate school children and spread England's population outside packed cities. For Britain awaits the next blow—long-theatened invasion, and hell from the heavens by Nazi dive bombers.

Saturday Britain's own air force reported downing 56 German planes over Dunkerque Friday and 14 more Saturday, with a loss of only 16 British fighters.

Nazis Lose Boat

One British naval plane claimed a direct hit, wrecking a torpedo boat of the Nazi mosquito fleet off the Belgian coast.

On the embankments and bridges along the route of the troop trains to London civilians stood to cheer and listen with mouths agape while the returned Tommies told of the bloody business in Flanders.

Many were soaked and one detachment flew their pants like ensigns from the windows of their train.

At a station a shower of postcards flew from the windows. The spectators scrambled for them, and found that they carried messages to the families of wounded men.

French Are Praised

A hard-faced Scotch private pounded a smiling French Poilu on the back and swore at length.

"These little so and sos," he roared. "They get in a position and you can't get them oot. This lad here would be there yet if we hadn't given him orders.

"Just smiling and shooting they were, and giving Jerry proper hell."

A lance corporal spat and said:

"The Jerries drove women and children refugees ahead of them and we had to hold our fire. We got a chance and went at them with bayonets.

"Jerry's No Fighter"

"Jerry's no fighter. He has to have ten to one odds before he attacks. Give us more machine guns, more tanks and more planes and we will run the blighters into Berlin."

HIDALGO WINS BOND DISPUTE

Court Denies Plea Of Bondholders

EDINBURG—A $106,000 dispute in federal court between Hidalgo county and a group of big bondholders has been settled in favor of the county according to word received here Saturday.

The dispute involved terms of contract made with bondholders several years ago under which the county agreed to apply all delinquent taxes for certain years to pay off certain defaulted interest coupons on old bonds at a reduced rate. The contract expired March 1 of this year. Shortly thereafter bondholders complained the county had not been diligent in collecting old taxes and sought relief in federal court.

Privilege Denied

T. M. Kennerly, federal district judge, heard arguments in the case on April 23 and issued a memorandum May 16 denying to bondholders the privilege of reopening the original case under which the contract was drawn up. Notice that the memorandum had been received for filing at Brownsville was received here Saturday.

In their arguments to the federal court, attorneys for the bondholders had contended the county failed to be diligent in collecting delinquent taxes and that consequently bondholders received less than they were due for the old coupons. At the time the contract expired, a large number of coupons still were unredeemed and for these the bondholders claimed they should be paid an additional $106,000. They asked the federal court to order this payment made and to require an additional county tax levy if necessary to raise the funds.

Contract Expired

J. E. Watkins, of the Mission firm of Strickland, Ewers and Wilkins, and chief counsel for the county in the suit, contended the bondholders had no right to ask for relief under the original contract which had expired nor to ask the court to re-open the proceedings which had led up to the contract. He said if the bondholders had any claim to damages they should bring a new lawsuit and re-state their claims.

If the bondholders do not challenge Judge Kennerly's ruling—and

Refugee Ship Sails With 824 Today

GALWAY, Ireland — (AP) — The United States repatriation liner President Roosevelt, with 824 Americans fleeing the dangers of war aboard her, stood anchored a mile offshore Saturday night, ready for an early Sunday sailing.

A hundred and ten passengers who had booked "standing room" were told at the last moment that orders from Washington specified no such passengers would be permitted to sail.

Many of those left were without funds to domicile themselves but the Galway hotels took them in despite their lack of ready cash and it was a moot question who would be responsible for their keep.

Texans Mob 75 'Witnesses

Odessa Threatens Religious Sect Saturday

ODESSA, Tex.—(AP)—A sudden wind, rain and electrical storm Saturday night enabled officers to rescue 50 religious sect workers from a ranch house where they had sought refuge from an angry crowd that threatened them when the workers refused to salute the flag.

The 50 persons were brought to the county jail here, where 20 others had been held since a crowd of 1200 persons Saturday stopped the religious workers from distributing literature on the streets. The literature was seized and burned.

County Attorney O. E. Gerrson said the 70 sect members would be held in jail "until they salute the American flag."

Fist fights broke out on the streets Saturday when the sect workers began passing out their literature. A flag was produced and the sect members refused to salute it. A spokesman said they could not salute anything man made.

Ten men and ten women were placed in jail and the others were escorted out of town by state and county officers. The group went to a ranch house a mile from town.

After dusk the crowd formed again. The wind and rain blew up, causing an electrical power breakdown that plunged the city into darkness.

It was then Sheriff Webb and deputies managed to bring the group to jail.

Texas Stations Not To Carry Red Speech

Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio stations will not carry the broadcast. No reasons were given by station officials at Fort Worth. Some stations reported they had other commitments.

Under the law all three nationwide networks (National, Columbia and Mutual) are required to offer the talk of their stations.

'Northern France Is A Burning Torch'

American Reporter Makes Flight With Ally Airmen, Sees Raid

By TAYLOR HENRY

WITH THE FRENCH BOMBER COMMAND ON THE NORTHERN FRONT—(AP)—Seen from the air from a French plane at night, the entire northern front of France looks like a flaming torch.

I have just made a long night reconnaissance flight over the northern battlefields.

The red glow from the flaming cities and towns gave the low-hanging night clouds the appearance of a late summer sunset.

Far below along the battlelines of the Somme and Aisne rivers, flashes of artillery fire looked like matches flaring.

To the north and east there was an almost continuous line of burning towns—Cambrai, St. Quentin, Arras, Peronne, Valenciennes—linked by smoldering fires in the little villages between.

Most of these were fired by incendiary bombs and torch-bearing parachutists days ago, but still the flames rise.

It was just at nightfall that the night bombing squadron, of which I was a guest, received its orders:

"Attack in force against Cambrai airport and the crossroads south of Abbeville where important German troop concentrations have been observed."

When I read the orders I caught my breath. Only two weeks ago, as I had left Cambrai, squadrons of German planes were bombing that same airport on the outskirts of this town, which was then being evacuated by the French.

The night was dark and moonless, and only an occasional star peeped in and out of the late spring

PHI[illegible]ELPHIA — (AP) — With all the [illegible]ce of its pretty 15-year-old spo[illegible]r, the 35,000-ton battleship Washington slid down the ways of the Philadelphia Navy Yard Saturday to make its maiden "curtsy" to the Delaware river as the first naval link in America's accelerated rearmament program.

While 30,000 cheering spectators looked on, Miss Virginia Marshall, of Spokane, Wash., shattered a bottle of champagne on the bow with one decisive blow and the gaily-decorated "battle wagon" eased swiftly into the water. Miss Marshall is a lineal descendant of John Marshall, chief justice of the United States from 1801 to 1835.

"It was a perfect launching," commented one high-ranking naval officer as the Washington's stern turned downstream and a dozen tugs churned up to lead the $85,000,000 ship to a temporary berth. Later it will be placed in drydock for completion. The newest and largest addition to the navy will not join the fleet for more than a year.

Fifth Columnists In Mexico, He Says

ATHENS, Texas — (AP) — Elliott Roosevelt says if hostile action should come to the United States, the Texas frontier—which borders on Mexico—in all, probability would be the first to be violated.

"The people of other states do not have the knowledge of the gravity of the situation that faces our future as clearly as we do," the son of the president declared here Friday in an address before the old fiddlers' convention.

Roosevelt warned of "Fifth Columnists" in Mexico and suggested that it was common knowledge "to many informed persons the fact that a poisonous hatred has been instilled in the minds of the Mexican people against the United States by representatives of foreign powers."

Seed Received

Edible Soybeans To Be Experimented

WESLACO—Seed of several varieties of edible soybeans have been received by the Valley experiment station and will be planted next fall, according to W. H. Friend, superintendent.

Although the soy bean has long been used as a food by the Chinese, it has been used mostly in soil building and similar practices in this country. A number of edible varieties have been developed. They usually are eaten as green beans instead of dried.

Rabbits are a great menace to soy beans. Friend reports that they will pass up nearly everything else in order to nibble at soy beans. The experiment station once tried spraying the plants with a repellant solution but the rabbits merely waited for tender young shoots to appear and promptly ate them.

War Plan Aids

U. S. Attaches Watch Fight Records

WASHINGTON—(AP)—With more than 60 attaches abroad, a majority of them in Europe, the army and navy are watching the war closely for lessons that may be of value in bolstering United States defenses.

When the war started there were 11 army attaches in belligerent countries and seven in bordering neutral nations.

Those observation posts have been constantly reinforced, particularly as new danger spots have appeared in Scandinavia, the Balkans and elsewhere.

Despite secrecy and censorship, army officials believe American attaches are getting more information than those of any other neutrals, and attaches are shuttling back and forth across the Atlantic rapidly with what information they can obtain.

New Mexico Gets Valley Publicity

McALLEN—Literature advertising McAllen and the Valley is being distributed at Hot Springs, N. M., by Mr. and Mrs. John I. Gwin.

Mrs. Gwin wrote the McAllen Chamber of Commerce that she could use a "cart load" of literature, for distribution to people of means who are spending the summer there. She said scores of persons asked her about the Valley. Gwin, formerly a prominent business man of Rensselaer, and Mrs. Gwin, former state Democratic committee woman of Indiana, are now among the Valley's biggest boosters. They own considerable property in McAllen.

24 States Receive Valley Literature

McALLEN — Twenty-four states will receive 77 batches of advertising booklets depicting the advantages of the Valley and McAllen as a farming country, vacation spot, and other attributes, McAllen Chamber of Commerce officials said Saturday.

The 77 inquiries came to Governor W. Lee O'Daniel as a result of his radio broadcasts. He sent names of the interested persons to C. H. Britton, chairman of the governor's industrial committee, and other committee heads in Texas.

Merit System Seen For State Workers

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Travis county grand jury Friday recommended that the legislature establish a merit system for state employes to end a "wild scramble for spoils" and other asserted abuses.

The jury said its investigation showed that state workers engaged in political campaigns and that present laws were too indefinite and ineffective to prevent this "dangerous practice."

It added that the turnover in state employes following elections introduces into the service of the state a "host of new and inexperienced employes" at great waste to the taxpayer.

Texas Cities Seek New Water Supply

AUSTIN—(AP)—With a view toward discovery of new water supplies, 150 counties have sent 23,000 water samples to the University of Texas for analysis, Dr. E. P. Schoch, industrial chemistry bureau director, reported Friday.

'Danger' Sermon

BROWNSVILLE — Rev. William Harry Moore will preach on the subject, "Is America in Danger," at the 8 o'clock service Sunday and ex-service men are especially invited.

Style Show, Comedy Skits To Be In McAllen Revue

Valley Little Theatre Drops Straight Drama For Outdoor Presentation

McALLEN — Dropping their flair for the regular stage play, members of the Valley Little Theatre are going informal Monday night in the patio of the Casa de Palmas Hotel to present the first outdoor revue shown by the organization in its brief but meteoric career.

Final rehearsals went on all last week. Their results were so outstanding that Director Paul Moore is convinced the audience will see something like they have never seen before.

Highlight is the style show—not like the ordinary style parade with just a display of costumes but an entertainment feature presented by members of the Junior Service League of McAllen. Music and comedy have been put in this act to give it the acme of dash.

Other acts the director is sure will be popular with the audience include a black face female impersonation by Josef Eiler; a singing chorus of 15 of the Valley's best voices with Lois Petsch as soloist singing the "Italian Street Song" in the finale; Connie Green and Eva Sue Murphy in a take-off on the popular radio combine, "Cobina and Brenda;" Marvin Downs in a comedy scene with Nikki St. Ore doing a hula-hula; Stanley Addington of Raymondville in several songs with special scenic effect; Lester Brecht, a series of dramatic monologues and David Calvin with an all-girl chorus in a dramatized setting of a popular song.

In addition there are scattered throughout the revue comedy sketches and blackouts played by Mrs. H. R. Kamlah, Mrs. Downs, Gwendolyn Crawford, Brecht and others. A special feature of the show will be the dancing of Frances Jennings and a line of eight girls doing a tap routine, can-can and toe number. Frank Crabtree will present two numbers especially designed for this show.

And that does not close the entertainment for the night. When the show is over and the props cleared away there will be dancing in the patio.

Tickets may be bough from Little Theatre members or purchased at the door.

DREDGE WILL RETURN SOON

Galveston Due Back About June 10

BROWNSVILLE — Unofficial reports here Saturday were that the Dredge Galveston would return about June 10 to continue the dredging of Brazos Santiago pass and the bay channel.

The dredge was called several weeks ago to do emergency work at the southwest pass of the Mississippi river.

Its maintenance program in the Port Isabel area included dredging of Brazos Santiago Pass to 34 feet and the bay channel to 32 feet, each with three feet of allowable overdepth.

It is believed all flowers of the world belong to only nine primary types.

Valley's Water Problems Unlike Any Other In Texas, For Ours Is International As Well As Financial; Solution Due

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Tex.— (AP) —Difficulties of Texas water conservation agencies, in the main, are problems of obtaining financial aid principally from federal government sources, while those in the Lower Rio Grande Valley encompass, in addition, international negotiations.

This lush garden spot of North America is dependent for irrigation on the capricious flow of a lazy, treacherous stream which originates in far northwestern Colorado and has several tributaries in both Texas and the southern Republic of Mexico.

Once carrying steamships almost 200 miles inland, the Rio Grande winding through mountains for most of its length, finally flows through the delta of the lower valley where alluvial soil, cleared of underbrush, has become one of the most productive vegetable and citrus growing areas on the continent.

Sometimes only a trickle which can be [illegible] by a yarkstick, the Rio Grande at other times becomes a sprawling, debris-strewn stream which, dividing two nations, can be controlled only by agreements negotiated between the state departments and ratified by the government of the United and Mexico.

For a quarter century and more, Valley conservation and reclamation districts and county water improvement districts have battled for an equitable division of the stream's waters—a problem ramified by divergent interests and slow-moving international diplomacy.

The Valley conservation and reclamation district, with a main objective of trying to solve water problems arising from inadequate supplies for irrigational and domestic uses, is trying to build storage space for Rio Grande flood waters on the Texas side.

The district contemplates one storage dam to hold about 70,000 acre feet near Mission and another of about 400,000 acre-feet near Rio Grande City, the water to be carried from the Rio Grande by a gravity canal between Zapata and Laredo.

Embracing Cameron, Hidalgo and Willacy counties, the Cameron County Water District No. 2, a voluntary association, has spent $4,000,000 on a system with which to trap flood waters both for flood prevention and storage purposes.

"The average flow of the river at the head of the Valley," says F. S. Robertson, general manager for the district, "is nearly 5,000,000 acre-feet, less than 20 per cent of which is being or is usable under the uncontrolled flow of the stream.

Need Storage Dams

"If storage dams could be built in the main stream, at least 80 per cent of this annual flow could be made available for beneficial use, but no dams can be built in the river without a treaty with Mexico, and the Valley has been trying to induce our government to negotiate such a treaty—but without success."

Building of dams across the Rio Grande, one north of Laredo and another above Roma, to store water for us of both nations is the association's principal objective.

"Realizing the difficulty of making a water treaty with Mexico," Robertson continued, "the American section of the international boundary commisison proposes to build a dam across Los Olmos Creek, back of Rio Grande City, for off-channel storage of up to 400,000 acre feet of water to be distributed by a gravity canal.

"This off-channel storage can be accomplished without asking Mexico anything about it. However, it would control only a small fraction of the flood waters now going to waste."

Engineers have calculated that 70 per cent of the Rio Grande's water in the Valley area washes into the stream from foreign soil.

"For a number of years," says Emery W. Watts of Donna, "Mexico has been carrying on a constantly expanding program of irrigation development on tributaries which have been supplying such a large percentage of our water in the lower Rio Grande Valley."

Mexico Takes Water

Watts said dams and canals for irrigation had been constructed by Mexico on their own San Juan, Sabinas, Conchos, San Diego, San Rodrigo, Escondido and Salado rivers, all cutting off water which would otherwise contribute to the Rio Grande's volume.

Ralph G. Bray of McAllen, newspaper man and secretary to the growers' committee of the citrus industry, attributes the Mexican government's conservation work to drainage of the Rio Grande by Texans.

"More than once," he said, "waters of the stream have ceased to flow, being sucked dry by 20 or more huge irrigation pumps on the Texas side."

Bray urged action by the United States Department of State in negotiating a treaty with the southern republic.

"The Valley has had its share of troubles," he said, referring to gulf storms and occasional freezes which have damaged crops, "but the area's destiny in wrapped up in the Rio Grande and unless concrete results in the way of either an impounding or diversion dam are forthcoming, the day of a water famine is not far distant.

"More than a quarter million people are affected, their investments approaching a quarter of a billion dollars."

Valley water conservation authorities apparently are agreed a United States treaty with Mexico on damming the "great river," meanderings of which have changed the territorial areas of nations, is the only solution to the district's water problems.

Townsend Meeting Is Set For Monday

HARLINGEN — Regular meeting of the Harlingen Townsend Club will be held at the city hall auditorium here Monday at 8 p. m., according to I. A. Baker, president.

It is estimated that 850,000 migratory farm laborers have entered California since 1935.

CITRUS GROUP PLANS PARLEY

15 Directors Are To Be Selected

MERCEDES—An appeal to all citrus growers to attend the election of the board of directors of the Texas Citriculture Institute at the Mercedes city hall at 8 p. m. Tuesday night was made Saturday by George Darnell of Mission, acting director.

Fifteen directors are to be elected.

Purpose of the non-profit organization, according to Darnell, is to improve conditions of the growers chiefly through improvement of marketing methods. The group is to work strictly for the good of the growers, he said.

Darnell pointed out that in view of conditions facing the growers, it was imperative they "get behind the institute with full strength."

Until the election, Darnell, L. H. Henry of Mercedes, and Ben Asche of Mission, are serving as acting directors.

Republican Women Will Meet Monday

BROWNSVILLE — The Cameron County Republican Women's party will meet Monday noon at Landrum's restaurant here.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Randall Mathers of Brownsville. Mrs. Millicent Hill, Harlingen, is president of the organization.

An interesting program has been arranged for the meeting, and probably will include a report on the recent Republican state convention.

Dies Urges Congress To Outlaw Communists And Bundsmen In America

HEAVY FINES ARE PROPOSED AS PENALTIES

Legislation Is Slated During Week

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Representative Dies (D-Tex) proposed Saturday night that Congress outlaw the Communist party and the German-American Bund and fix heavy penalties for membership in those groups "or any organizations controlled by them."

Dies, chairman of the House committee investigating un-American activities, said legislation to do this would be introduced next week, based on the committee's conclusion that the Communists were controlled from Moscow and the Bund from Berlin.

Like Europe

The legislation, the Texan said, would "outlaw the Communists and Nazis just as they have been outlawed in France and would take away from them the legal standing which gives them a certain amount of protection as political groups."

"It would not," he added, "prevent any person from advocating the ideology of Communism or Nazism but would prevent them from being members of these organizations which are known to be foreign-controlled.

With the drive against "Trojan horses" expanding, Dies suggested that President Roosevelt create a council of home defense to co-ordinate all counter-subversive activities of the FBI, secret service, army and navy intelligence and the Dies committee. He suggested "constructive, sane leadership" of "men who are level-headed and would not become hysterical."

Hearings Set Monday

Dies said his committee would begin hearings here Monday on "Fifth Column" activities in the South." An informed source said the hearings, to be closed to the public, would concern reports that Communists had obtained positions with the Tennessee Valley Authority and in the Birmingham, Ala., steel industry.

The committee's widespread investigation had brought forth, Dies asserted, a statement from "a reputable citizen of Dallas, Texas, "that he has photographs of airbases along the southern United States border in Mexico and would forward them to the committee."

The committee plans hearings along the Mexican border in Texas, he said, two or three weeks after the adjournment of Congress. These hearings, he added, would concern reports that American Communists and Nazis were co-operating in a move to bring on a revolution in Mexico.

During the day, Attorney General Jackson created a "National Defense Investigation Unit," within the Federal Bureau of Investigation, headed by Veteran G-Man Hugh H. Clegg, to deal with "Fifth Column" and similar activities. About 250 agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will be made available for this duty by July 1.

CITRUS UNIT MEET CALLED

Better Prices Will Be Sought Here

MERCEDES — Citrus growers throughout the Valley will start their campaign for better fruit prices in earnest next Tuesday at 8 p.m. when first regular meeting of the recently roganized Texas Citriculture Institute will be held in the City Hall Auditorium at Mercedes.

This co-operative organization is the outgrowth of a series of meetings and hearings conducted throughout the Valley during recent months under auspices of a general organization committee and a number of sub-committees. A large number of growers is expected to attend the initial meeting to elect a permanent board of fifteen directors to represent every section of the Valley. Adoption of the by-laws and other details in connection with the organization set-up will be perfected.

Among the key men who will have interesting reports to make to the growers will be George Darnell of Mission, General Chairman of the central organization committee, and Judge L. H. Henry of Mercedes, chairman of the sub-committee which conducted a number of public hearings and received suggestions for formulation of the proposed marketing plan by which Valley growers expect to improve the price situation for grapefruit prices.

DAIRY MONTH SET FOR JUNE

Proclamation Issued By Mayor Ramsey

HARLINGEN — Recognizing the possibilities for unlimited expansion in the Valley's dairy industry, Mayor Hugh Ramsey Saturday proclaimed the month of June as "Harlingen Dairy Month," to build sound bodies and increase consumption of dairy products."

Mayor Ramsey's proclamation follows:

"WHEREAS, the possibilities for vast expansion of the Dairy Industry in the Rio Grande Valley are practically unlimited, although great development has been effected in recent years; and

"WHEREAS, the Governor of our State of Texas, W. Lee O'Daniel, has deemed it wise to recognize this fact and proclaim June as Dairy Month in the State of Texas; and

"WHEREAS, the nearest approach to the fabled Fountain of Youth yet discovered is in pure cow's milk; without her milk, children languish, the vigor of the adult declines, and the vitality of the human race runs low. The building of good sound bodies, bone, muscle and good teeth depends upon the liberal use of dairy products, such as milk, ice cream, butter, cheese, etc.; and

"WHEREAS, it is generally recognized that our present consumption of milk is far short of the milk considered by nutrition authorities as proper and practical, namely, one quart daily for children through adolescence and one point daily for adults:

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, Hugh Ramsey, Mayor of the City of Harlingen, Texas, in recognition of this great industry which means so much to the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas, in food and good health, in dollars and jobs, do set aside the month of June, 1940, as HARLINGEN DAIRY MONTH and urge that it be observed by the citizens by increased use of milk and dairy products, and I also urge every merchant and business man in the City of Harlingen to join in this movement to increase milk consumption.

"IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name and caused the Seal of the City of Harlingen to be affixed hereon, this, the 1st day of June, A. D., 1940.

HUGH RAMSEY,
Mayor of Harlingen."

M'ALLEN MAY BUILDING IS ON INCREASE

Year's Total Is Listed At $227,000

McALLEN—Building in McAllen during May doubled the figure for the same time last year as a construction boom which has been under way for the past five months showed no signs of coming to a halt.

During the past month, permits totaled $70,696, for construction of 30 units of which one was a new Queen theatre for $15,000 and 19 were new residences.

Industrial work during the month also moved forward. Six units were for business use, the largest being the $6,000 permit to Sam Goldstein for the remodeling of his Advance Shop. Permits for warehouses totaled $7,200, in addition to a $1,400 beauty parlor.

With construction for the month $34,096 ahead of the same month last year, when new building totaled $36,600, the year's total to date also showed a rise. So far this year, $227,198 worth of new construction has been started, in comparison to $195,495 during the same period last year, City Building Inspector C. C. Eckhoff said.

New building is not confined to the city limits. Approximately 18 homes have been built in the suburban district outside of the city line during the past month.

The following permits have been issued for new homes: Higinio Elizondo, $1,200; Harold Hendricks, Refugio Herrera $28; Dr. A. E. Hoffman, $5,000; B. R. Suttle, $3,000; R. A. Weaver, $3,000; Jesus Villacuna, $80; H. E. Waldron, $3,200; Scott Ford, $2,000 and $200 garage apartment; R. J. Potter, $2,600; Pedro Flores, $150; Luis S. Garza, $50; P. E. McDonald, $2,400; A. J. Ehlers, repairing, $1,000; Servando Cantu, $90; Dr. S. Joe McKinsey, $3,500; J. B. Rodriguez, $100; Roy Carter, $3,500.

Warehouse construction permits were taken out by Missouri Pacific Railroad Company, $3,500 for the Valley Sales Company; M. R. Nelson, $1,200; R. A. Weaver, $3,000; Elvis Russell, $500.

Other permits include J. A. Frisby, $200, engine house; Charles Foster, $1,400, beauty parlor; and Sam Goldstein.

Luce For Honesty

Says Drop Our Cloak Of Neutrality

WASHINGTON— (AP) —Henry R. Luce, editor of Time and Life magazines, urged the American people Saturday to call upon their leaders to "strip off our false cloak of neutrality" and express flat hostility to Nazi Germany.

"We can now go a long way toward regaining our spiritual integrity, as God-fearing democrats, if we stand up and speak our mind now," he said in a (CBS) radio address.

"Let every political leader high and low, speaking for himself and for us, state flatly in his own way: 1, that he deeply wishes the defeat of Adolf Hitler and Nazi Germany; 2, that he will never vote to recognize the Nazi domination of once free peoples; 3, that he will never in any way give aid and comfort to the Third Reich; 4, that he will continue to oppose by every wise and practical means the consequences of Nazi victory."

Star Employe's Hand Is Injured By Press

HARLINGEN —Elwood Miley, 21, Valley Morning Star employe, was resting at midnight in Valley Baptist Hospital here with a crushed right hand, suffered when the hand was pulled between rollers on the press.

The accident occurred when Miley was feeding paper between the blanket cylinder and the page roller. A bar on the roller caught his hand and pulled it into the narrow space the length of his fingers. Surgeons thought he might lose one or both of the middle fingers.

Girls Softball Circuit Opens

McALLEN—Several close, hard-fought games featured the first week's play of the Valley girls softball league with Edcouch-Elsa and McAllen turning in two victories. San Perlita, La Feria and Raymondville also chalked up a win.

Edcouch-Elsa surprised Mercedes and the strong San Perlita team to establish themselves as contender in the league. They will meet the potent La Feria girls at La Feria Tuesday night as the feature game of the week. Edinburg lost their first start to the McAllen Masterettes by a lone run. They will take on Mercedes and La Feria which gives them a chance to hop up among the leaders.

Sebastian will open its home schedule Friday night if their new lighted field is completed in time. Raymondville and San Perlita will have their private quarrel.

Schedule for the week includes:

Tuesday

Edcouch at La Feria
Edinburg at Mercedes
Raymondville at San Perlita

Wednesday

Sebastian at McAllen

Thursday

La Feria at Edinburg

newsman, flew over the northern battlefields in a night reconnaissance flight with a French pilot and reported the German-conquered territory resembled a giant flaming torch.

Nelson Claimed Sunk

Authorized Berlin sources announced the sinking—date, place and circumstances unstated—of the 33,950 ton battleship Nelson, flagship of the British home fleet, and the Nazi high command reported three enemy warships and eight transports were sent to the bottom off Dunkerque during the day.

In addition, the Germans said they shot down 40 Allied planes in the day's operations. The British reported the destruction of 40 German planes and 33 others damaged or destroyed in fierce combat off the Allied port of escape.

In addition the high command communique said that German dive bombers made hits on four other warships and 14 commercial vessels which presumably were serving as transports.

The vague announcement about the 33,950-ton Nelson, was reported by authorized sources in Berlin. The announcement told only of the sinking of the dreadnaught with 700 of its 1,320 crewmen but, for "military reasons," omitted when, where or how the Nelson, one of Britain's newest and mightiest capital ships, was sent to the bottom.

Apparently diverting armored divisions from the channel battle, the Germans intensified their Somme offensive in a drive which began Friday and still was continuing Saturday night.

The French held a bridgehead on the north bank of the Somme, needed by the Nazis to get across, but were reported in Paris to be holding also against assaults on the south side between Abbeville and Amiens.

Where Hitler would steer the German war machine next, however, remained his secret.

Invasion Delayed?

There were hints in Berlin, and expectations among the Allies, that the threatened direct invasion of England might be put second in the Nazi plans—after a pincers drive toward Paris with the Germans attacking from the north and the Italians from the south.

Evidence continued that Italy might be on the verge of throwing her full weight into the war on the Nazi side.

The Fascist government Saturday called up 10,000 additional non-commissioned officers. Americans travelling to Genoa to sail for the United States Sunday on the liner Manhattan also reported troop movements indications preparations for an Italian war move.

Some observers speculated that the next step might be a joint German-Italian peace proposal, backed by an Italian ultimatum.

The tattered remnants of the Allied forces in northern France meanwhile continued streaming back to the security of England. The British, hailing the withdrawal as the greatest rearguard action in history, regarded it so well advanced that they called home General Lord Gort, commander of the British expeditionary force, and estimated that all but one battered division of the 175,000 men in his army had been snatched from the Nazi trap.

Dunkerque Shelled

The Germans dragged up heavy artillery to shell Dunkerque as French rearguard units cut their way to that port.

British newspapers called the Allies' defensive fight so successful and the protective screen of their warships and planes so powerful that the German drive to the channel coast was at a price of 500,000 men lost.

The Nazis, however, scoffed at the Allies' reports of a well-ordered escape from the Flanders pocket and declared they had abandoned so much new war material that the booty would replace all that Germany lost.

Both sides reported extensive aerial activity despite adverse weather and boasted of heavy casualties to the enemy against slight losses to themselves.

Berlin said the score Saturday was 49 Allied planes shot down and nine German planes missing; according to a British communique, its was 67 German planes against 19 British Friday and early Saturday.

5 Transports Sunk

The Germans also reported sinking five transports and damaging three warships and 10 merchantmen by air attack off Dunkerque as well as sinking a destroyer and submarine by torpedo boat attack in the English Channel.

The United States, speeding rearmament, launched the 35,000-ton battleship Washington at Philadelphia—the first new capital ship for the American fleet since 1921.

In Washington, the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced the creation of a "national defense investigation unit." One of its jobs will be to investigate "fifth columns" and other activities considered inimical to national safety.

Power Rates Slashed By Texas Coop Units

AUSTIN— (AP) —Rate reductions for customers of the Pedernales Electric Cooperative and Lower Colorado River Electric Cooperative Associations, were announced by the Lower Colorado River Authority Saturday.

Under rate agreements with the cooperatives, which cover an extensive Central Texas area and are supplied with power by the LCRA from hydro-electric plants at four dams, minimum bills for consumers were dropped from more than $2 a month to $1.25.

Two-Inch Toy Pistol Is Swallowed By Tot

BRITISH CHEER ARMY ESCAPE

Majority Of Flanders BEF Lands

er—James O'Neill—came back from embarking the Allied troops at Dunkerque by motorboat with the comment:

"It was real hell over there."

The old man was suffering shock and exhaustion because of his frantic service with a group of volunteers who crossed to Dunkerque with six motorboats Friday to load troops into transports.

"As we approached the Dunkerque roads," he said, "German planes were bombing and machinegunning everything and everybody. They were like flies in the air. Machine gun bullets and bombs were falling like hail around the destroyers and other rescue ships, and around the troops massed on the sands and waiting to be taken off."

French Boats Used

The number of French and Belgians brought back with the BEF could not be determined, but it was believed they were about 5,000. Since some of the rescue ships were French it appeared a reasonable presumption that parts of some French detachments had been taken southward to ports on the French coast.

The men of the BEF, after being paid, fed to the ears and given leaves wherever possible, soon will re-form to meet the next thrust of the Germans.

Their commander-in-chief, Lord Gort, was called into the presence of the king and upon him was bestowed the highest mark of chivalry: The Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath.

Children Moved

Trains were ready Saturday night to take the first of 47,000 school children from menaced communities along Britain's east and southern coast. They will start Sunday. Most of them will be taken to Wales and western England.

Authorities urged parents to cooperate with the moving of children to safety and pointed out that even now only 87,000 of London's half million children have been registered for removal to safer areas.

Word of the detention of Tyler Kent, a clerk dismissed by the United States embassy in London, stirred rumors of espionage in high places. Kent was held on order of the home secretary "in cooperation with British authorities."

Talk that Italy may be in the war within a week was met calmly.

Diplomatic sources outside the British government commented: "The Allies have finished making advances to Italy. The next step is up to Mussolini."

Agreement Seen

Greece, Italy Pact Is Believed Made

ATHENS, Greece—(AP)—A secret agreement between Greece and Italy designed to keep Greece from becoming a battleground if Italy enters the European war was believed in Allied and Yugoslav circles Saturday night to have been reached by Premier General John Metaxas and the Italian government.

To avoid a possible lightning Italian attack observers said, the Greek government is ready to let the Italians occupy strategic points of Crete and other islands with only a formal protest as a token of resistance provided Italy spares the remainder of Greece.

It is widely believed that General Metaxas, Greece's dictator, has so informed Italy.

rain-clouds, hanging low over the zone.

The commander of the squadron, who, only two days before had bombed his native village in the Ardenes, now German-occupied, lent me flying gear; three suits of heavy coveralls, one heated by electricity; fur-lined boots, a crash helmet and thick gloves.

When we reached the almost completely darkened airport, the plane already was ready. After a quick handshake around, the five of us took our places.

A thin line of red lights flickered on the field to mark our runway. The first pilot—I was listed as a supernumerary second pilot—gave the huge plane the gun and we lifted gracefully into the air, closely circled the field and then headed toward the battle zone.

Below us stretched the peaceful French countryside. Heavy dark masses marked the forests, while the rivers and highways appeared as black ribbons.

Front 10 Minutes Away

Some ten minutes before the front was reached, it was outlined by flashes of artillery fire.

Because of the clouds we were flying low over French-held territory but as we neared the battle zone the plane rose to escape the fire of anti-aircraft guns.

The French pilots have nicknamed the German 20 milimeter anti-aircraft guns "poums-poums," and that is exactly the sound they make as the shells explode in the air.

The heaviest anti-aircraft fire was concentrated by the Germans around St. Quentin and Peronne.

It is not exactly a comfortable feeling to be sitting in a plane while the "poum-poums" burst around.

They explode on almost every side at almost the same moment that you see the flashes on the ground.

Like Fireworks

Unless they are very close they give only the sensation of a gigantic fireworks display.

It takes a direct hit in a vital spot to disable one of these giant planes. Even a hit on the wings makes only a hole a foot square. The plane jolts slightly—and then drones on its way.

From the air at night the battlelines running from Montmedy, where it leaves the Maginot Line, through Stenay, Attigny, Rethel, Neuf-Chateau, Anizy, La Fere, Chauny, Ham and Amiens to Abbeville on the English Channel, shows as a scarcely defined line.

If it were not for the Aisne and Somme rivers, which the line follows, it would be difficut to recognize.

Amiens Area Active

Apparently heavy fighting was going on in the Amiens-Albert region where the French seem to have driven a salient. There the flash of artillery was heavier than at any other part of the line and there we saw minute flames which the observation officer said were from machinegun fire.

Our plane was scouting to learn the effect of the bombing of the other planes.

The squadron already had bombed the Cambrai airport when we arrived over it. The southeast corner of the airport was in flames, indicating that a direct hit had been made either on gasoline tanks or stocks of incendiary bombs.

The squadron skirted the zone where British and French forces were almost cut off in Flanders. It was only a few hours before that we had learned there were Belgian troops still protecting their north flank.

From a distance flames could be seen raking the channel ports which are the only means of supply and evacuation for the two embattled armies there.

As far inland as we were it was difficult to establish the line of the seacoast,. but flashes from what we believed were Allied warships indicated the fleets were supporting the Allied armies.

Behind the German lines fast moving convoys were outlined as dark blurs on the roads. Only at crossroads could their movement be distinguished. It was such a crossroad south of Abbeville that had been designated as the second objective of the squadron.

From the air the effect of the bombs dropping was almost undistinguishable. It may have been because they were dropped from another plane, but the only noticeable effect was the blurring of an already obscure mass.

Observers of the plane that dropped the bombs, however, reported direct hits.

The return flight was uneventful except for the delicate task of setting the plane down on an almost darkened field.

CALLING OF MILITIA URGED

bers. On hearing of it, Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) declared:

"It isn't any wonder that I am getting many telegrams asking if it is the intention of the President and congress to get us into war when statements are issued indicating it may be necessary between now and the time congress returns that the national guard be called to active duty.

"This propagandaa to stampede the people of this country into a war hysteria ought to be stopped, and the people who are opposed to war ought to let their congressmen and the administration know about it."

No Adjournment?

Senators George (D-Ga) and Austin (R-Vt), both supporters of the President's foreign policy, joined Senators forecasting that congress might remain in session continuously as a result of the request for authority to summon the guard to active duty.

Calling the request "apparently unwarranted," George told reporters:

"If the President seriously insists on this request, I think congress will say: 'Mr. President, if there is an emergency of this nature in the offing, of which the country now knows nothing, we will stay here to meet it."

Senator Austin, the assistant republican leader, declared:

"I think we will be here all summer before we grant that power. There will have to be some justification that doesn't appear now before congress will be willing to do it, in my judgment."

Another senator suggested privately that the President might be seeking greater control over the citizen soldiers in an effort to stamp out alleged "Fifth Column" activities within the guard.

Fifth Column Aid

This senator said he had heard reports that Communist and Fascist activities were widespread within the ranks of the guard in one state, which he did not name.

The national guard, which has a present strength of about 225,000 men and 15,000 officers, is distinct from the regular army and is supported jointly by federal and state governments.

War department officials said that the President now has authority to call the guard to active duty for either of two purposes: 1, to meet a threatened invasion; 2, to deal with insurrection and disorder.

In the event that congress declares a national emergency to exist, they added, the President can under existing law call the guard out for any purpose.

BRITISH TOMMY LEARNS TO SWIM AFTER FLANDERS

LONDON—(AP)—As disheveled Tommies returning from Flanders stepped off a train under a blacked-out trainshed, one soldier clug wearily a moment to the door of a compartment.

"Had a rough time, chum?" asked a porter.

The Tommy straightened up and, with tightened jaw, said:

"I've ruddy well learned to swim anyhow."

HIDALGO WINS BOND DISPUTE

attorneys here said there is little likelihood of such a challenge—the bondholders have only two remaining alternatives. One is to file an entirely new lawsuit asking damages for alleged non-performance of a contract, and the other is to drop the litigation and give up hope for further revenue from this source.

County Auditor B. F. McKee said Saturday the county still has about $12,000 due the bondholders under the contract which has not been paid to them pending settlement of the present litigation. He said the county is ready to pay this amount any time the bondholders want to settle up.

White House Silent On Duce Message

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The White House threw no light Saturday night upon the reported new exchange of messages between President Roosevelt and Premier Mussolini.

Informed of the reports from Rome that there had been such an exchange, Stephen Early, the President's press secretary, would say only that there had been an almost continuous exchange between the President and the heads of various governments.

of the procedure would be guaranteed by the fact that the plan is always subject to congress.

Congress, in fact, would have to adopt legislation to put the plan into effect. The president would have to sign that legislation. Right there is a point that has military men in Washington worried. They are asking "would he sign it?"

Some months ago the president appointed a "war resources board" headed by Steelman Edward J. Stettinius, Jr., to study the plan. The board did so, and is reliably reported to have approved it with expressions of surprise at how complete it was. The president did not make the board's report public.

By sticking to a mobilization plan developed over two peacetime decades, advocates of the existing plan say, the president could avoid the risk of too highly centralized war government. The war agencies would work side by side with the civil government and would go out of existence at war's end.

But, these advocates continue, if war agencies should be incorporated into the normal machinery of civil government, the whole gigantic set-up would remain at the close of the war and it might be too powerful to dismantle.

President Must Act

The president has the last word. He hasn't said yet what he would do. Meanwhile, however, the plan as revised in 1939 was approved jointly by Louis Johnson and Charles Edison, who at that time were acting secretary of war and navy, respectively, in the president's cabinet.

Eleventh Candidate Seeks Congress Job

AMARILLO —(AP)— Lewis P. Fields, Amarillo insurance man, announced Saturday as a candidate for congress from the 18th Texas district. He was the eleventh man to enter the race to succeed Marvin Jones, who has been appointed to the U. S. Court of Claims.

Local observers predicted that Jones would be petitioned to decline the court appointment and stand as a candidate for reelection. Fields specified in his announcement that he would withdraw should Jones be drafted.

County AAA Group Members Lose Jobs

PLAINVIEW — (AP) — Chairman Earl Beach and members Ed Pope and C. S. Clark, received mail notice Saturday that they had been removed from the Hale county agricultural conservation association county committee.

E. N. Holmgreen, executive secretary of the AAA at College Station, notified the three of their removal by I. W. Duggan, southern division director, of Washington. They will be replaced by two alternate committeemen and a third to be elected.

The committeemen were advised they were removed under association articles which gives the administration that power.

Deadline For Filing For Texas State Offices Falls Monday

'Political Sweepstakes' Interest Is Hotter Now

Dan Moody Dark Horse; Dozen Hopefuls To Date Have Come Out For Governor

AUSTIN—(AP)—The stroke of midnight Monday closes the books on the Texas gubernatorial and other important political sweepstakes.

The approaching deadline—final date for filing notice of candidacy—accentuates speculation on whether red-thatched Dan Moody, twice a winner, will emerge from private law practice in Austin and try for a third victory in a crowded field.

He reiterated Saturday that he would make no hasty decision on a request that he run. In fact, his name is qualified for a place on the July 27 primary ballot by virtue of a group of Williamson county citizens who without consulting Moody filed application with the Democratic state executive committee and paid the filing fee.

Moody himself can scratch his name if he chooses before the committee meets in Austin, June 10, to certify names for the official ballot.

As entries stand a dozen hopefuls will make the race although some will not trek the state in search of votes.

Hill Billies Due

An early posting was Governor W. Lee O'Daniel whose sound wagon and minstrel band soon will tour the state again. Similar tactics already have been adopted by Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler who won his office two years ago, despite the fact O'Daniel endorsed Sadler's opponent in the run-off election, and who now wants to oust the governor.

State Highway Commissioner Harry Hines, Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, twice governor of Texas, and State Representative Albert Derden of Marlin also have launched campaigns to unseat the former flour salesman who tore through a field of a dozen opponents to win in a smashing victory two years ago.

Sharing interest with the governor's race is the battle for the railroad commission post held by Chairman Lon A. Smith who is not seeking re-election.

Nearly a score of candidates have announced and a majority have paid their filing fee. There might be additional aspirants on the list by Monday night.

Stevenson Interested

Lieutenant-Governor Coke Stevenson, drawling southwest Texan and ranchman, wants another two years in his important post as presiding officer of the senate. He has drawn the opposition of Virgil E. Arnold of Houston and Charles L. Sommerville of Dallas.

Apparently the easiest race was in store for Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, former Southern Methodist University football statellite, who has drawn no opposition to renomination for a second term.

Contests are developing for high judiciary posts. George E. Christian, a commissioner in the court of criminal appeals this week formally filed for a judgeship in opposition to Judge Tom L. Beauchamp who wants re-election to a full term. Judge Beauchamp was appointed by O'Daniel to fill the unexpired term of Presiding Judge W. F. Morrow who retired because of age.

Justice Moore Runs

Chief Justice W. F. Moore of the supreme court, appointed by O'Daniel to fill the unexpired term of the late Chief Justice C. M. Cureton, has announced he does not want re-nomination. Vieing for the position are Judge J. P. Alexander of the Waco court of civil appeals and R. Tuck Chapin, San Antonio attorney.

Associate Justice John H. Sharp is a candidate for another term and is opposed by William Richard Watkins of Fort Worth, a lawyer.

Bottle Explodes As It Is Filled

SAN BENITO — Mysterious explosion of a five-gallon water bottle at the service station operated by Marcus Dodson at Stenger and Crockett streets here at 4:30 p. m. Friday cut the leg of Pete Sifuentes, 26, who was filling the bottle, and blew glass across the street.

Dodson, at a loss to explain the circumstances, said Sifuentes was filling the bottle with hydrant water at the station, and had perhaps two gallons in it when it exploded. Dodson said there was no water on the concrete where the bottle burst, and that powdered glass was thrown in every direction.

TAXPAYERS IN WILLACY MEET

Agreement Reached On Refund Program

RAYMONDVILLE — The Executive Committee of the Tax Payers Association met with the Board of Directors of the Willacy County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 one Friday morning and reached an agreement covering all points of the refunding program.

The commitment of R.F.C. was discussed by the board in which the R.F.C. sets out at $175,000, to be deposited in the Federal Reserve Bank as a cushion to show good faith in the Refinancing Program of the District.

A solution for raising the $175,000 was agreed upon between the Tax Payers Association and the Board of Directors of the Water District by paying 50 percent of all delinquent taxes with no penalty and interest.

It is also agreed between the Tax Payers and Board of Directors that in order to get all outstanding bonds it would be necessary to file court procedure under the Municipal Bankrupt Law not later than June 30. The Tax Payers Association reserved the right to intercede so that the tax payer will be assured representation in the court.

When this refunding program is completed the R.F.C. has agreed that the tax payer will only have to pay the interest on the $3,000,000. "which is the refunding figure" for the first 3 years. After that the District and the tax payers have 30 years in which to retire the $3,000,000 principle and interest.

Upon completion of the refinancing of the District the Water District tax will be cut 50 percent or more.

Deadline Passes For Million Dollar Reward For Capture Of Hitler; U. S. College Official Withdraws Offer

PITSBURGH—(AP)—Dr. Samuel Harden Church, president of Carnegie Institute, announced Saturday the $1,000,000 reward offered for the capture of Adolf Hitler "unfortunately" has not been claimed and "has now expired."

Church, 82-year-old advocate of peace, said he made the offer after receiving a letter of April 27 from a European statesman of high authority forecasting Hitler's attack on the Maginot Line and "intimating" that Germany and Italy would divide the Balkans.

The letter, Church declared, quoted directly "these words uttered by Adolf Hitler":

"'The Germans will send millions of shells on the Maginot Line, and break through, even at the cost of half-a-million lives, and before the end of the year the enemies of Germany will be annihilated.'"

"The letter further intimated," Church's prepared statement continued, "That Mr. Hitler would permit Mr. Mussolini (Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy) to make the Adriatic a closed Italian sea, to absorb Yugoslavia, to take over Slovenia, Bosnia, and part of Croatia, giving another part of it to Hungary, which in time will become German."

Church said he had received letters from every part of the United States, most of them containing "enthusiastic assurance of approbation," but that there were enough to "discordant" replies to indicate that if Hitler "should ever be adle to come to the United States in the captured protection of the British and French fleets, he would be met at the shore by a Fifth Column of so-called Americans who would give him the vociferous and glorifying adoration of the raised hand."

Church made his offer — good only during the month of May—on May 1, specifying in a letter to the New York Times that the German chancellor be delivered alive and uninjured into the custody of the League of Nations "to be tried before a high court of justice for his crimes against the peace and dignity of the world." A group of wealthy Pittsburgh residents subscribed the $1,000,000, he said.

'HOT CHECK' ARTIST HELD

Suspect Is Wanted At McAllen

McALLEN—Apprehension at Fort Worth of a man wanted in McAllen for allegedly passing two bad checks here was announced in a communication received Saturday by Chief of Police Noah Cannon from the state department of public safety.

The suspect, known as Robert B. Hadley, is being held at Fort Worth on a forgery charge. Cannon said he is alleged to have passed worthless checks in the amounts of $8 and $3.

Records of the federal bureau of identification and the state department show that Hadley is accused of passing 43 bad checks in various cities of Texas and Oklahoma from April 23 through May 15 this year. The amounts varied from $1.55 to $42.50. He also is accused of passing a worthless $10 check at Edinburg.

The record on Hadley begins in 1925 when he was sentenced to two years at Fort Worth for swindling. Various aliases employed were Robert Morrell, George Murrell, W. W. Craig, Ed Clark and B. Hadley.

The man poses as an attorney from Austin and claims to be a Mason, the state department said.

Cannon said it was doubtful that Hadley would be returned to McAllen to face charges because the local cases are misdemeanors while the Fort Worth forgery charge is a felony.

LAND SYSTEM MAY BE USED

San Benito's Water District Ready

SAN BENITO—The land commissioner system which has been operated successfully in the Edinburg, Mercedes and Los Fresnos irrigation districts helping land owners to place their property on a paying basis, may soon be tried in the local water district.

Directors of Cameron County Water Improvement District No. 2 have worked in conjunction with a representative of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which refinanced the district's indebtedness in working out a plan adaptable to this community.

Service Is Varied

Under the plan, the district would contract with the land owners to look after their interests. The type of service rendered to the land owners would depend on the requirements in each case. In some cases the land commissioner would look after the planting of crops, care of orchards, marketing of the crop and in fact every phase of farming operation while in other instances possibly only one or two of these services would be performed.

Although letters have been prepared to go out to owners of land on delinquent tax rolls, they have not yet been mailed but word of the plan has already gone out with the result that many inquiries have been received. An effort will be made to confine the plan to property on the delinquent roll. It is expected to be particularly attractive to the absentee land owner but some resident owners probably will take advantage of the service as they have done in some of the other districts.

Smith May Be Head

If the plan is finally placed in effect, Raymond Smith, long with the district, probably will be named the land commissioner. He will function under a contract with the land owner and will have power of attorney to act for him.

Other districts which have operated the plan have received testimonial letters from land owners saying they were obtaining revenues from their Valley property for the first time.

The local irrigation district makes it plain that it is not bidding for the work now being done by competent caretakers.

MARTS CLOSE IRREGULARLY IN NEW YORK

Week Ends Hesitantly After Good Start

(Markets on Page 7, Section 2)

By FREDERICK GARDNER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Hesitancy returned to the stock market Saturday after a week devoted mainly to calming war-shaken speculative nerves.

In Saturday's brief session irregularity persisted with declines of fractions to a point in the majority at the close.

Transfers of 273,445 were the smallest for any Saturday since January 2. They compared with 554,330 a week ago. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .1 of a point at 38.5, but on the week it showed a net gain of .4 of a point. It was the first weekly advance in five weeks.

Among the day's losers were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed, Anaconda, American Smelting, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Great Northern, Texas Corp., Union Carbide and Westinghouse.

General motors and Chrysler were unchanged until the last few minutes when they edged up minor fractions. Ahead small amounts were American Telephone, Western Union, Santa Fe, Sperry and Goodyear.

Bonds and commodities were mixed.

In an uneven curb firmness was displayed by Aluminum of America, American Cyanamid "B" and Jones and Laughlin. Lagging were E. W. Bliss, Gulf Oil, Humble Oil, Electric Bond and Share and Brewster Aero. Activity here was the most sluggish since August 19, last, with transfers of around 44,000 shares comparing with 101, on the previous Saturday.

South Is Center

Air Training To Be In This Area

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The South will be the training ground for virtually all the 7,000 new pilots to be turned out annually under the army's program of air force expansion.

Brig. Gen. Jacob E. Fickel, assistant chief in charge of training, said the general policy would be to use schools and training centers south of the 37th degree latitude. Roughly, this follows the northern boundaries of North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Arizona. Southern California is south of the line.

Mild winter weather is more favorable to uninterrupted work, it was explained.

Tip Service Paid Off Too Well, So Method Exposed

JOLIET, Ill.—(AP)—Justice Edgar H. Johnson found out Saturday how the pals of Andrew Burns, 27, and Edward Coplansky, 43, won so much money on the horse races.

Arraigned on charges of disorderly conduct, the men testified they had been watching the races at Lincoln fields with field glasses and telephoning the results to Chicago in time to place bets in handbooks.

This worked fine, they explained, because Chicago bookies, without wire facilities, accepted bets until regular post times. When the horses were off early it gave Burns and Coplansky time to distribute fool-proof tips.

Justice Johnson fined them each 100 and costs, but agreed to suspend the fines when they promised to leave the county.

LEAP YEAR'S MYTH FADES

Marriage Licenses In County Drop

BROWNSVILLE—Sixty-four marriage licenses were issued during May at Cameron County Clerk H. D. Seago's office here, bringing the total so far this year to 280.

May showed a decrease as compared both with the preceding month of April, when 70 licenses were issued, and with May a year ago when 67 licenses were issued.

The 280 total for the first five months of this year is out of keeping with the Leap Year legend, showing a decrease as compared with 299 issued the same period of 1939 and 314 the same period of 1938.

Sales Days To End In Bargain Fiesta

BROWNSVILLE—Winding up a five-day series of bargain days, 34 Brownsville merchants will join Monday in offering their customers "Appreciation Day" bargains.

"Appreciation money" distributed the past four weeks on "Dollar Days" will become "cash" on Monday, and can be spent in the purchase of merchandise at the stores participating in the bargain events.

Shoppers spending their "appreciation money" actually will be receiving a new discount, amounting to five per cent, on the goods they purchased at bargain prices during the "Dollar Days."

"Appreciation Money"

"Appreciation Day" is what its name signifies—Brownsville merchants are showing customers their appreciation for the cooperation received on the past four "Dollar Days."

"Appreciation money" may be spent at any one, several or all of the participating stores, regardless of what store issued the coupons.

Good Only Monday

Merchants Saturday urged their customers to be sure all their "appreciation money" is spent Monday. Because the coupons, as indicated, will be accepted only on "Appreciation Day."

The participating merchants have arranged special bargain prices for "Appreciation Day," extending their program of red-hot bargains through Monday.

Clerks in the stores will continue to cooperate with customers, and will assist them in making their bargain selections as they spend their "appreciation money."

Special Prices

The special prices that will be placed on merchandise in the 34 participating stores on "Appreciation Day" will be available to all shoppers, whether they hold coupons or just come to the stores to take advantage of the fifth of the bargain days in the closing series.

The series of "Dollar Days" and Monday's "Appreciation Day" have been sponsored by the Brownsville Chamber of Commerce merchants' committee, of which George Aziz is chairman, and the Brownsville Herald is cooperating.

R. W. Lewis is chairman of the bargain series, and any additional information may be obtained from Mr. Lewis at the F. W. Woolworth store.

Participating Merchants

Merchants participating in the series of bargain events are Woolworth's Store, Western Auto Supply, Valentin's Department Store, Samano's Drug Store, Sherwin Williams Paints, A. Rogers Photo Company, Pipkin-Manske Motors, Piggly-Wiggly Store.

M'ALLEN TAX BOARD WILL MEET MONDAY

City, School Seek Equal Values

McALLEN—The joint city-school board of equalization will go into its first session Monday morning to study valuations on property outside of the city liimts but within the limits of the school district.

The joint board, appointed at the request of both the city and the school taxing units, is composed of K. W. Jones, William Reis and Frank Wheelburger.

The members will study only rural renditions at their first session, which is expected to last about four days. After a recess period, taxpayers will be called to appear before the board in instances which the equalization committee considers necessary.

Date for the beginning of the city work may be suggested Wednesday night at the regular city commissioners' meeting, City Secretary C. D. Martin said.

Use of the joint board was decided upon when both city and school board officials agreed it was time to get tax assessments nearer equalization for their respective units.

Discontent had been voiced among taxpayers over differences in the levies sought by the school and the city, in many cases. While the use of a joint board this year is an experiment, leaders of the two taxing bodies said they feel confident that out of its work will come a more satisfactory situation for the taxpayers.

Officials have impressed upon citizens that the joint board is in no way an effort to raise the existing taxes in their districts but rather a step forward toward equalizing the valuations.

Vessel Departs With Planes For French

NEW YORK—(AP)—The 4,140-ton freighter Gran, flying the Norwegian flag, sailed Saturday with 100 bombing and pursuit planes consigned to the French government.

This was said on the waterfront to be the largest plane shipment to the Allies since the war began.

More than 150 additional planes were ready for shipment Saturday night, and other boats were expected to be available Sunday or Monday.

About 75 of the planes shipped were bombers, it was said.

$72,451,730 Saved By Texas Investors

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Federal Home Loan Bank board announced Saturday that Texans had savings totaling $72,451,730 in 122 insured savings and loan associations, as of May 1.

Deposits in the first months of 1940 totaled $9,545,190.

Nazi-Seized Vessel To Start For U. S.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The American freighter Charles R. McCormick, caught in the German invasion of Norway, wirelessed Saturday she was leaving Bergen immediately for the United States.

The McCormick's $2,000,000 cargo of relief supplies consigned to Finland, small arms and trucks, was seized by the Germans as a prize of war.

WPA Men Donate Wages To Red Cross War Fund

McALLEN—What is believed to be the first donation of its kind to the Red Cross war relief fund raising campaign now under way in Hidalgo county was the contribution made by the Works Project Administration laborers on Project 9979 in McAllen.

Approximately 50 workers contributed the equivalent of an hour's wages to the McAllen fund. The exact amount of the donation was not revealed at the request of the donors.

Workers, who are currently paving North Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, earn between 32 cents and 50 cents an hour.

The men presented their contributions to City Inspector C. C. Eckhoff in a surprise gesture Friday afternoon, with the request that it be turned over to Chairman J. R. (Dick) Harris as a "voluntary contribution," which he had urged residents to make.

Eckhoff said he has not heard of a similar donation from any other WPA project in the Valley.

The drive to raise the McAllen $600 quota is still being continued, Harris said. While there are no solicitors calling on residents, money will be taken at the Young Drug store and the City State Bank and Trust Company. Harris reported some of the $600 had already been raised and asked local people not to make it necessary that they have to be solicted to assist in the fund to help suffering European war refugees.

Valley Secretaries To Get Schooling

McALLEN — Five chamber of commerce managers of the Valley will attend the annual convention school of the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association at Midland, leaving Wednesday.

Carl Blasig of Mercedes is permanent historian of the association and will make an annual report. Don Wallace of San Benito and S. M. Patterson of Mission are on the attendance committee. Paul T. Vickers of McAllen will present a paper on "Membership and a Model Set-Up." Vickers also has been asked to make two other addresses at Midland, where he was secretary for ten and a half years. Mrs. Vickers is on the entertainment program for a tea to be given wives of secretaries.

Worth Heffner, new manager at Harlingen, will attend his first Texas convention. Sidney Kring, formerly of Harlingen, now at Wichita Falls, is state president.

The annual meeting is called a "convention school" because the secretaries actually go to school about six hours a day, studying various phases of chamber of commerce work.

FROLICS OF '40 GIVEN PRAISE

Recital Planned For June Fourth

HARLINGEN—Prevue of "Frolics of 1940," presented to an audience of invited guests Friday night in Mercedes, promises especially delightful entertainment Tuesday night, June 4, when the annual recital presenting pupils from the Markoleta Greer Elstner school of dance will be given in the municipal auditorium. Half of the profits from the elaborate dance production will go to the Red Cross.

Four major features are combined into the production. Especially appropriate is the military number, "To the Colors," presenting 18 girls in costumes, dance steps, and music expressive of the military theme.

"Tulip Time in Holland" is a kiddie number presenting about 16 tots who will wear real wooden shoes.

"Hawaiian Nights" is a native dance of Hawaii which will be presented to the accompaniment of real Hawaiian guitars. To highlight this number a soloist will sing Hawaiian melodies.

Climaxing the show will be a ballet presenting 20 girls in white ballet costumes dancing a beautiful interpretation of Straus' "Waltz."

Rest of the program is a divertissement showing the versatility of the dancers and ranges from classical through character to the modern musical comedy hits.

Creager Is Hit

Alvin Wirtz Replies To Expense Charge

AUSTIN—R. B. Creager, Brownsville, Republican national committeeman from Texas, this week drew the fire of hard-hitting Alvin J. Wirtz, undersecretary of the interior.

Creager charged at the Dallas Republican convention that Wirtz was in Texas on a political mission at the people's expense, and drew a blistering attack from the undersecretary.

Wirtz said in a public letter he took leave of absence without pay when he left Washington, and inquired of Creager whether the leading Republican candidates, Senators Taft and Vandenburg, and Thomas E. Dewey, "have separated themselves from the public payroll while engaged in this campaign."

Isolation Is Urged By Catholic Chief

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, Philadelphia's widely-traveled, 74-year-old archbishop, counselled American isolation from Europe's turmoil Saturday as Pennsylvania Catholics gathered to pay homage to him at an outdoor ceremony.

On the eve of a mass in municipal stadium celebrating his golden anniversary as a priest, the cardinal voiced in an interview solemn belief that "we should mind our own business and not become catspaws" in international rivalries.

Levelland Laundry Man Dies Of Wound

KRGV Not To Carry Communist Program

WESLACO — Officials at station KRGV, Weslaco, generally on the NBC blue network, said Saturday the Sunday Communist party broadcast would not be routed over this leg of the networks.

Under the present Federal Communications Commission ruling stations are required to carry both sides of "controversial questions" if they schedule either side. The networks have asked the F.C.C. to allow them to refuse broadcasts to certain individuals or groups talking against "the principles of American democracy."

SHIP OPENS NEW MARTS FOR VALLEY

Carolina Services To Begin Monday

BROWNSVILLE—The Carolinas will be opened to the Valley a new market for its products with the arrival here Monday of the SS Brazos of the Clyde Mallory Lines.

The freighter is to be the first to carry Valley cargo to Charleston, S. C., the port of the rich Carolina milling district.

Water freight rates from the Valley to South Carolina will also give Valley citrus a chance to compete with Florida fruit.

Besides establishing Charleston as a regular port of call for its ships leaving Brownsville, the Clyde Mallory boats will also carry New York and Boston cargo.

Scheduled also to dock here Monday is the SS Shickshinny of the Isthmian Line, with cargo from Pacific coast ports.

The Isthmian ship, handling only inbound cargo here, is bringing lumber, shingles, sugar, canned goods and other Pacific coast products.

The SS Brazos is sailing Monday afternoon, and the SS Shickshinny will leave the following day. The Philen Shipping Company is agent for both lines here.

Visiting here Friday was George J. Horner, assistant to the vice president of the Clyde Mallory Lines, who conferred with Gilbert Philen regarding the lines's new service.

NEW YORKERS HELP VALLEY

State Takes Fifth Of Area Vegetables

HARLINGEN—New York state consumed more than a fifth of the carlot shipments of mixed vegetables that moved from the Valley this season, according to a preliminary report by the Texas-Federal Market News Service issued Friday.

The Valley shipped 7,867 cars of mixed vegetables of which 1,633 went to New York State. Ohio was next best customer with 795 cars going to that state while Pennsylvania took 661, Canada 635, Illinois 627 and Missouri 565.

Yield Of Carrots Same

The average yield of carrots in Texas was estimated at 165 bushels or the same as the year before. Yields in California are indicated at 500 and 166 bushels respectively. The heaviest week's shipment from Texas came during the week ending April 6 when 113 straight cars were shipped out.

Prices after the beet movement started were in most instances a little higher than those received the previous year. Practically the entire Texas crop is marketed in the half crates and at the opening of the season they were quoted at 70 to 85 cents in carloads, f.o.b. usual terms. Prices gradually declined until the January freeze and beets were selling in the half crate at mostly 50 to 60 cents the week of the freeze. The following week prices began to advance and reached $1.00 to $1.25 the last week of February. By the first of April, quotations were down to 60 to 75 cents which level was maintained until close of the season.

Onions Show Decline

The report, prepared by R. E. Winfrey, local representative of the market news service in Weslaco, noted a trend in the green bean deal from planting of Round Stringless varieties towards Bountiful and Valentine varieties.

Decline in the onion shipments and other factors in the vegetable season were noted.

The report included a mass of detailed information on various vegetable deals, figures being made up in form of tables.

The Brownsville postoffice was notified that "For you a rose in Portland grows."

Railroads Are Ready For War Emergeny

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The railroad industry reported Saturday that it was prepared to meet the nation's transportation needs — to handle increased traffic resulting from the national defense program or even from American participation in war.

"We're ready to go to bat right now," M. J. Gormley, executive assistant of the Association of American Railroads, told reporters.

American Demand For Another Billion For Defense Shows U. S. Fears Ally Loss

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

American eyes turned from an Allied tragedy in Flanders to scan the sombre implications of President Roosevelt's reaction to it on the national defense home front.

The fresh blow delivered against her foes by Germany in Flanders sent administration estimates of urgent American defense needs skyrocketing up another billion and more before echoes of national reaction to the President's first defense emergency request had died down.

Behind that action must lie a reappraisal by the president of Franco-British ability long to continue the fight.

From that point of view, Mr. Roosevelt's action in doubling his request for emergency defense appropriations has grave significance. It hints at confidential advices from London and Paris painting a far gloomier outlook for Allied recovery than even the stark figures of Allied losses in men, ships and war gear would reveal if known.

The confidence of official Washington in ultimate Allied triumph already had been deeply shaken by successive German victories in Norway, Holland, Belgium and northern France. Even before the "Battle of the Bulge" in Flanders had collapsed, and the Germans reached the English Channel, some American technical experts rated German chances of ultimate complete victory as high as 60-40.

Roosevelt Gloomy

Mr. Roosevelt seemed to share that view even before he doubled his defense appropriation request of two weeks ago. If that is the fact, the new defense budget, out-moding the original before it could be more than roughly sketched into legislation or concrete plans for creation of a vast new industry, is a dark official American commentary on the situation in Europe. It would mean that in Washington inner government circles there is stark fear that the end of Allied resistance might come in months, not years.

Unquestionably only a new factual situation in Europe of gravest import to this country could have moved the President to double his emergency defense estimates within a span of days. Whether it gave rise to doubt that France could again cling grimly to the Somme-Aisne defense line, that Britain could long beat off Nazi air attacks on her fleet upkeep centers and vital sea communications, or to apprehension in Washington over the effect of the Flanders defeat on French and British public morale, the impact on American defense planning would be the same.

Any circumstance of the war, like the battle in Flanders that drew heavily on Allied reserves in men, stores, weapons and air units, would scale down estimates of the time France and Britain could endure and the time this country would have to make ready for whatever the future holds.

E. O. THOMPSON ENTERS RACE

Rail Chief To Run For Governor

AUSTIN—(AP)—Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson Saturday announced his candidacy for governor on a 14-point platform featuring an increase of five cents per barrel in the oil tax to finance social security services.

Thompson

He also expressed unalterable opposition to a sales tax in any form and advocated creation of a separate oil and gas commission and a statewide soil conservation program. Further, he advocated a reduction in the automobile license fee and substitution of free registration for the poll tax.

To Refund Salary

Announcing that his campaign would keep him away from his office much of the time, he asserted he would turn back his salary for the next three months to the old age assistance fund.

"I hope some of those who have been cut $6 per month can be restored," he said.

"If Governor O'Daniel and the other candidates who are on state pay will do the same, many more reductions can be restored to the aged. They will be out of office as much as I will be out of mine."

The commissioner added he would arrange to be in Austin frequently enough to keep up with commission work.

His platform included:

A 5-cent increase per barrel in the tax on oil as it comes out of the ground; a one-cent tax on natural gas for light and fuel purposes, increased tax on sulphur and a fair levy on carbon black.

Creation of an oil and gas conservation commission.

Opposition to a sales tax in any form.

Soil and range conservation laws that will do for the farmer what similar laws have done for the oil industry.

Reduction in the automobile registration fee.

Repeal of the poll tax law and substitution of free registration.

New Insane Hospitals

Construction of enough state hospitals to get the insane out of jails.

Repeal of the poll tax law and substitution of free registration.

Repeal of the 7,000-pound truck load limit law.

Assistance to organized labor in its efforts to improve the living standard of workers.

Creation of a utility commission with teeth in the law for rate regulation.

Slashing the cost of non-resident hunting and fishing licenses to encourage tourists.

Re-enactment every two years of the road bond assumption bill.

Strict anti-loan shark regulation.

A co-operative medical program.

French Youth Helps Trap 'Chutists

PARIS— (AP) —Thirteen-year-old Guy Bocher, of Massy, in the Seine Et Oise, district near Paris, received a 2,000 franc (currency about $36) savings account and a congratulatory letter from Interior Minister Mandel Saturday for taking part in the capture of three German parachutists.

While playing in a garden at his home May 23, the youth saw an airplane maneuvering overhead and then spotted three parachutes fluttering down.

He ran to the town hall to summon police, who rounded up the sky troopers in a running gunfight.

PLEA IS MADE TO AID CHINA

FD Says Should Not Be Forgotten

HARLINGEN—A plea to the American Red Cross not to forget the women and children of China, and to raise the goal of its current drive so that war sufferers in China may be aided without taking a penny from the sum being asked to help European refugees, has been voiced by 90 distinguished Americans including a former secretary of state, two ambassadors, and a number of governors, educators and churchmen.

Part of a letter, voicing the same plea, and written by President Roosevelt to Norman H. Davis as chairman of the National Red Cross, was quoted here Saturday by C. L. Brooks, chairman of the Harlingen chapter of the American Bureau for Medical Aid to China.

"We would not have a single penny diverted from the sum being raised to help the homeless and hungry and wounded in Europe," the president's letter read in part, "On the other hand, we feel that the present Red Cross drive, which asks for funds to aid Europe with no mention of China's plight, puts the American people in the position of turning their backs upon the suffering of a country where one-fourth of the human race is contentrated; a country which has a long tradition of friendship with the people of the United States, and which is fighting for its life just as the countries of Europe are, and against the same forces of aggression. We ask that the American Red Cross increase the goal of its drive and appeal to the generosity of the American people to help all war sufferers, all over the world."

McCanse Elected

HARLINGEN — Keith McCanse, Adams Gardens, Friday night was re-elected president of the Rio Grande Valley Real Estate Association at the annual meeting held at Halliburton's near La Feria.

Craig, Raymondville; L. W. Pratt, San Benito; Sid Berley and Elmer Johnson, Harlingen; J. G. Karle, Mercedes; and Gerald McKenna, Harlingen.

Changes in the constitution, voted at the Friday meeting to meet the new license law situation, included lowered the membership fee to $3 annually; recognizing local boards as affiliate members; and elimination of the former ruling which required membership in state and national realtors associations before membership in the Valley group.

Officials said virtually all of the several hundred real estate dealers of the Valley would be expected to join the association with the new liberal changes.

Cameron Families Apply For Cotton To Be Used In Mattress Making For Aid To Surplus; Deadline Is June 30

SAN BENITO — Applications have been received so far from 150 Cameron county families for mattresses to be made from surplus Texas cotton, according to Miss Lu Elsie Nagel, county home demonstration agent.

All farm families with an income of $400 or less per year (half the income must be from some agricultural pursuit), are eligible for the mattresses, Miss Nagel said. Eligible families may receive 50 pounds of cotton and ten yards of eight-ounce ticking. They will make their own mattresses under supervision of the home demonstration department. Cost to the applicant will be only about 30 to 50 cents for thread and rent of needles.

Only one mattress to a family is allowed at the present time. The program is intended for the farmer in order to reduce surplus supplies of cotton. Already Texas families have applied for enough mattresses to use up 7,880 bales of surplus cotton. The deadline for applications is June 30.

Community centers probably will be set up to supervise the mattress making. Half the Cameron county applications received were from the Santa Maria community where a mattress center will be set up.

Citizenship

Carl Fitzgerald Is To Receive Course

WESLACO — The American Legion and Rotary Club are cooperating in sending Carl Fitzgerald, nominated by the high school faculty for the honor, to the "Boy's State" in Austin this month.

Fitzgerald, along with other boys from over Texas, will receive a course in citizenship. The boys, mostly seniors and juniors from high schools over the state, will elect a governor and will act as senators, representatives and other state officials in order to learn how a democratic government is administered.

The Rotary Club will take care of Fitzgerald's expenses in Austin for six days and the legion will pay his transportation expenses both ways. The state legion organization is sponsoring "Boy's State" as a part of its citizenship training program.

PATRONS AND PROSPECTIVE CUSTOMERS
"THE VALLEY", TEXAS

During the past eighteen years we have been privileged to serve the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas. In that length of time we have been able to develop the type of service that we feel is best adapted to the needs of the Valley.

In these eighteen years many changes have been made to modernize our service. In keeping abreast of the times it has been necessary at times to change our entire system at one time or another.

We feel that our service can be improved if we route shipments of outgoing freight not by one carrier exclusively but by any of the lines with which we are connected which can give our patrons the most prompt and efficient service. Since at our terminals we make connections with all lines serving the Valley it will be an easy matter to choose lines which can offer our mutual customer better service at the smallest cost.

Especially do we wish to call the shippers attention to the steamship lines now serving the Valley. The Bull Steamship Line now offers excellent service between Brownsville, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Port Newark. The Clyde-Mallory Lines, represented in the Valley by the Philen Shipping Company, offers also an exceptionally good service between Brownsville, Boston, New York and Charleston. Shipments from and to the west coast can be well serviced by the Isthmian Steamship Lines which serves west coast ports to and from Brownsville. Officials of the Jones Motor Freight Lines feel that Valley shippers, small or large, can profit through the use of the services offered by these lines ... coordinated with the unexcelled system of the Jones Lines.

We wish to impress upon our customers and prospective patrons that we are glad to give information concerning the best routings both in and out of the Valley. If we can be of service in any other way, please feel free to call us.

Please keep in mind, too, that our company offers several services daily to and from every Valley town. Consult our offices in Harlingen, Brownsville or McAllen for any additional information you might need.

Sincerely Yours,
JONES MOTOR FREIGHT LINES

Jehovah's Witnesses Give Notice To Harlingen Of New Activities

RAMSEY WARNS THEY DO SO ON 'OWN RISK'

Fighting Mayor Gives His Comments

HARLINGEN—Notice to the city's police department that its members will during the next few days carry on their activities in Harlingen, was given here Saturday by the Jehovah's Witness group which has recently been running into trouble in various parts of the Valley and state.

Stating they did not ask permission to do this, claiming that "The Constitution of the United States . . . guarantees our right to do this work;" the Jehovah's Witnesses in their written notice asked that "appropriate action be taken" to see that the police officials will "guarantee" to them "protection from mobs and riots."

Has Two Clashes

Mayor Hugh Ramsey, who on two occasions in the past week has had physical encounters with members of the sect who claimed to be loyal but nevertheless said they would not salute the American flag nor fight for the country, Saturday prepared written comment on the "notice." The mayor said he did not understand viewpoint of a man who exercises his religious liberty through medium of attacks upon convictions of others; and expressed opinion those who evidence disloyalty by disparaging the principles of the nation, will do so at their own risk.

The "notice" by the Jehovah's Witnesses, and Mayor Ramsey's comments follow:

"To the police department of the city of Harlingen:

"In these perilous times it is manifest that the people should receive instruction concerning the worship of Almighty God in spirit and in truth. This is to inform you that during the next few days a number of persons devoted to the service of Almighty God and Christ Jesus will visit the homes of this city and present to the people Bible instruction that they may be better informed as to how they may receive aid and comfort by the study of the Holy Scriptures.

"In the interest of public order and for the good of all in this community and that our work may be understood, we feel that you should receive this information; hence this letter.

"Since the Constitution of the United States and the Decision of the Highest Court in the land guarantee our right to do this work, we are not asking permission; and since Almighty God commands it must be done, we could not ask permission from man to do this work; but we are informing you, that you may know that our work is done in sincerity and in truth for the general welfare. We appreciate police co-operation that has been furnished in the past.

"In some places misguided persons deem it to be their duty to interfere with work such as we are doing. We hope to have no such interference, but if we do we would appreciate your co-operation in restraining the unlawful interruption of the charitable and benevolent work in which we are engaging.

"This is to advise you that Jehovah's Witnesses will continue to exercise their God-given and constitutionally secured rights to distribute literature from door to door and on the streets in Harlingen. This fact is called to your attention now and you are now hereby requested to take appropriate action to see that the police officials will guarantee to Jehovah's Witnesses protection from mobs and riots in the City of Harlingen. You are requested to communicate with them to ascertain this fact immediately.

Respectfully submitted,
JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES"

The following is Mayor Ramsey's comment:

"In taking notice of the above communication it is my comment that "in these perilous times" it behooves all citizens of these United States to take cognizance of the innumerable blessings and privileges of their citizenship. "It is manifest" that our peace, security and perpetuity are dependent upon loyalty and appreciation of the sacrifices which have been made in peace and in war by those men whose names we should ever recollect with gratitude.

"In the list of blessings enjoyed in this Country the right of religious liberty is one of the most valued. My understanding of religious liberty is that all men shall be privileged to worship God in the manner which to them seems right and beneficial. It is my opinion therefore, that each man should worship as he pleases. I am unable to comprehend the ignorant viewpoint which leads to the conviction that One man should exercise his religious liberty through the medium of attacks upon the convictions of others. It is a strange creed which demands respect for its own views and in the same breath condemns the views of other men. I am of the belief that all men and all faiths are entitled to equal protection under the law.

"The fathers of this nation in their wisdom, enunciated the principle that church and state should forever be seperate. In my opinion the respect due this nation and its flag is something entirely separate from religion and forms of worship.

Believes In Government

"I believe in God, and in the worship of God, and I believe in religion, and I will fight for my beliefs. I also believe in my Government. I think it is the best on the face of the earth. I reverence and respect its flag, and the things the flag represents. I denounce and resent attacks upon the flag of the United States. I am of the opinion that a man can, at one and the same time, be a good citizen and a good Christian. I respectfully suggest that, in the interest of understanding and good will, the writer of the foregoing letter, and those whom he represents, confine themselves to the preaching of the gospel and refrain from attacks upon the religious convictions of others, and from statements derogatory to our flag and our system of government.

"The Constitution of the United States guarantees them this privilege. I can find no warrant therein for attacks upon the convictions dear to other men. In times such as these, when patriotic citizens are quick to resent disrespect to our flag and our system of government, it is my private opinion that those who evidence their disloyalty to this Nation and its principles by verbal and printed utterances, disparaging and disrespectful toward the principles for which our fathers fought and died, will do so at their own risk, and should not thereafter be heard to complain about the consequences.

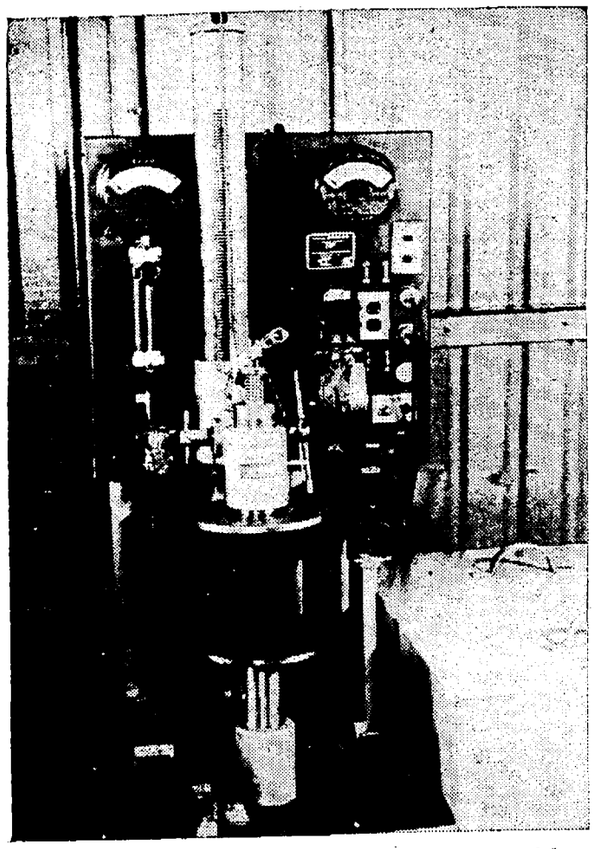
BROWNSVILLE ALSO HAS PROTESTS OVER PAMPHLETS

BROWNSVILLE—Police received numerous calls Saturday afternoon complaining that several members of a religious sect known as Jehovah's Witnesses were distributing pamphlets or magazines in the downtown section of Brownsville.

Acting Police Chief Henry Gordon said he had been advised by City Attorney Ralph Dunkelberg that police could take no action to curb the activities of the group.

That religious sect has been under fire in the Valley recently as well as over the state and nation, in connection with aroused feelings of citizens over possible "fifth column" activities in this country.

'Magic' Device Finds Air Motor Defects



The almost magical Magnaflux, an instrument used by Pan American Airways at Brownsville to locate cracks and other defects in steel and its magnetic alloys, is shown above. The powerful machine locates cracks below the surface too minute to be visible even under powerful microscopes.

By A. D. HAWKINS

BROWNSVILLE — Whiteman's "magic," a miracle of modern science, is used by Pan American Airways here to locate cracks, and other defects in steel and in magnetic alloys.

Folks have heard of lie detectors, water witches, doodle bugs and other devices for searching out the secrets of mind and soil, but few have heard of PAA's almost magical machine.

This scientific instrument, which possesses an uncanny sense, and probes beneath the surface of metals to locate defects, is known as the Magnaflux.

The Magnaflux can locate cracks below the surface of the metal that are not even visible under powerful microscopes.

Important Role

It plays an important, but little heralded role of the PAA shops here where motors are overhauled for PAA's western division, Pacific division, Alaska division, Compania Mexicana de Aviacion and even Pan Air of Brazil.

The crankshafts, connecting rods, piston pins, cylinders, valves, gears, wheels, axles, propeller hubs and all the other motor and airplane parts that are subject to any strain, are tested by the Magnaflux at every overhaul.

Though seldom found defective, new parts, even nuts and bolts, are carefully tested.

The Magnaflux method locates any fatigue cracks, grinding checks, seams, faulty welds, etc., before failures are caused, and effects a great saving in both time and overhaul costs.

Contributes To Safety

Such measures contribute to the safety records of U. S. scheduled air lines, and typifies the policy of U. S. scheduled air lines, and typifies the policy of Pan American Airways in designing, or purchasing the most modern devices known, always striving for better service, and greater safety.

The safety record of the Air Transport Association of America shows 840 million passenger miles flown in 1939 without a single fatal accident.

Here's how the Magnaflux works:

Pieces to be tested are placed between the electrodes of this machine, through which an electric current flows, thoroughly magnetizing them. Some irregular shaped, or large sized parts must be magnetized in several different directions before the test is complete.

The magnetized part is then submerged in a bath of very fine iron particles (Magnaflux paste), dissolved in a special oil known as ultrasene. When removal from this solution, a very careful inspection is made.

Defect Breaks Circuit

Any crack, or defect, causes a break in the magnetic field of force set-up by the electric charge, which had just been given, and forms two magnetic poles. These poles collect the iron particles of the bath just like a toy magnet picks up tacks or nails.

The iron particles which adhere to the crack, or defect, are easily seen during inspection, and all defective parts are immediately discarded.

As for the perfect parts, they are completely demagnetized in a machine expressly designed for this purpose. They are then thoroughly washed in a special solvent to remove all traces of iron powder.

Babson Says

ALLIES CAN STILL TURN TIDE OF WAR

But Economist Urges U. S. To Rearm

CHARLESTON, S. C. — Without a doubt these are the most critical days in at least a century of world history. Only a few months ago we were talking about a "phoney" war. Only a few weeks ago the Allied generals were talking about that "crazy paper hanger" in Germany. Even the London Times which arrived here a few days back discussed the peace terms which England would inflict on Germany when Hitler was mopped up.

When recently talking with our high government officials, they told me that the French army was invincible. They admitted that the war might be a long struggle, but insisted that no army could whip the French. They stated that it was the largest, most completely-equipped army in the world. They also spoke in highest terms of its commanders and especially of the French strategists. Certainly, it makes one lose confidence in army officials to see what has taken place only a few weeks after such statements. For evidence, read The Congressional Record and the report of committee hearings.

Maginot Line Like Chinese Wall

What has happened to this "invincible" army is now known to everyone. Many are asking the hows and whys of what has recently occurred. The simple truth is that Germany has developed and used an entirely new form of warfare. As this new technique has been explained to readers by other writers, I will not go into details. The great Maginot Line, built at the expense of a billion dollars during the past 20 years seems as obsolete as the Chinese Wall. Get this point, however: The German successes have been due to the willingness of the Allies to depend upon their prestige, material wealth, and "what licked Germany before."

There is still time for the Allies to turn the tide or at least stop the German advances. The war is not hopeless for Great Britain. It is true that the Germans control one side of the English Channel, but England still controls the other side. It is true that London is now only a few miles from Germany's new air fields, but it is likewise true that these German air bases are only a few miles from British shores. Moreover, do not forget that England still has her navy and merchant marine intact.

Right Over Might

The answer to the question, "Will Great Britain collapse?" will be determined not by Germany's blitzkriegs, but by the character of the English people. From time immemorial, new methods of warfare have been developed. Those nations which first grasped and used these new methods, have, temporarily, been successful. The ultimate force, however, which has determined the result has been spiritual rather than material. The "blitzkrieg" is no more important in the eyes of history than the invention of the long bow to take place of spears, of powder and shot to replace battering rams, of iron ships to overcome wooden frigates.

These are days when we should read ancient history. A study of the rise and fall of Babylon, Persia, Egypt, Greece, Rome, and the Spanish Empire shows that new methods of warfare have won battles but have never won wars. This is being demonstrated by what I saw in the Far East last September. There barefooted and poorly - equipped Chinese armies are holding up Japan's modern war machine fully equipped with airplanes, tanks, and artillery.

Gang Warfare

Let us be calm for a moment and visualize what is now happening among the German-conquered nations. As various countries are taken over, a Hitler aide is placed in control. There are now dictators in Czechoslovakia, Austria, and Poland. These already are beginning to differ as to policy. Recently other dictators have been placed in Norway, Denmark, Holland, and Belgium. Considering the native brutality and dishonesty of these sub-dictators, isn't it certain that they will soon begin fighting among themselves?

This is all the more likely when one considers that these nations all have different languages, great traditions, and diverse instincts. Brutality, deceit, and ingenuity will be used by these sub-dictators to trap one another just as they have been used to trap innocent and peaceful neutrals. "A leopard cannot change its spots." History shows that if the English race is willing to stake their lives and property, they in the end will save both; but not in any other way.

Arm Immediately

Here in the United States, we need at least fifty thousand airplanes to protect North and South America. If we can produce four million pleasure cars a year, we certainly ought to be able to produce fifty thousand military planes. I am behind those who demand adequate defense for this hemisphere. We must be in a position to give effective aid to Canada and the West Indies whenever they ask for it, without demanding a penny for our services. We, however, must remember that battleships, airplanes, and tanks will not save America any more than these things have thus far saved the Allies. Security cannot be purchased; it comes only through courage, self-sacrifice, and discipline.

It also should be remembered that these airplanes which we are building can be used against us by an INSIDE enemy just as easily as we can use them against an outside foe. This means a character-building campaign should be a definite part of our defense program. Now, more than ever before in the history of warfare, it is vital that the people of the strongest character should furnish the men who are to be trained for this new and all-important branch of our national defense. Let religious and civic leaders who are serious in their prayers re-read this last sentence.

Oil Show Is Reported In Area Wildcat Test

Proven Fields Have Busy Week When Six Seen

McALLEN — Valley wildcatting was paced Saturday by oil shows on production test in a prospective new field in south central Starr County and similar tests continued in a highly important northeastern Starr wildcat. Other deep Valley wells were drilling, one past 10,000 feet.

About five miles southeast of the Barbacoas field in south central Starr, George R. Boyle et al's No. 1 E. B. Carruth et al, Share 1-B, Portions 91-92, Camargo Jurisdiction, was flowing oil in small heads while cleaning through casing perforations (24 shots) at 3,491-97 feet to open a new field. Total depth was 3,504 feet, where 5 1-2-inch o.d. oil string was cemented. On 1-8-inch tubing choke, the well showed 275 pounds tubing working pressure and 450 pounds closed-in casing pressure and the pressures were rising slightly as the well slowly cleaned.

There seemed to be little doubt that the well would open a considerable acreage to development and apparently proved Boyle's contentions of several years that oil would be found in commercial quantities along a northwest extension of the Samfordyce fault area. Location has been staked about 1,000 feet north of the well for the Boyle et al No. 2 Carruth et al, which will be drilled immediately.

Tests Are Continuing

While considerable acreage and royalty was said to have changed hands or was included in pending deals, little definite information as to prices was available.

In northeastern Starr, Sun Oil Company No. 1 W. G. Lehr, Survey 513, several miles west and a little south of the Sun field, was swabbing a little oil with salt water showings through casing perforations (50 shots) at 4,127-37 feet. Production test was continuing.

One and a half miles to the south of the Lehr wildcat, Sun No. 1 Claude King, Survey 511, was drilling at 2,987 feet on a deep wildcat.

Drilling Stem Test Set

In far northeastern Starr, between the La Reforma distillate discovery well and the southwest extension well of the La Reforma field, Magnolia Petroleum's No. 3 F. G. Guerra, Share 25-B, Santa Cruz Grant, was drilling past 6,100 feet.

In southern Starr a short distance north of Zim field, Glenn Harroun's No. 1 Margaret Seabury, southeast corner of Share 46, Portion 80, Camargo Jurisdiction, cored a new sand at 1,341-46 feet and was reaming down for drill stem test. The sand was well-saturated and apparently carried considerable oil.

In western Starr, T. E. Stephens et al's No. 1 H. P. Guerra, Tract 269, Portion 69, north of the old Empire well, was drilling around 1,500 feet.

Cameron Well Is Deep

In western Hidalgo County about two miles east of the Samfordyce field, Homer P. Lee et al's No. A-2 Yturria Town and Improvement Company, Portion 42, Reynosa Jurisdiction, spudded and cemented 10 3-4-inch o.d. surface casing at 222 feet. The test is scheduled for 4,000 feet or deeper. Location is several hundred feet southwest of the No. A-1 Yturria.

In southeastern Cameron County about six miles south of Port Isabel, Pure Oil Company No. 1 Garcia Land and Cattle Company, was drilling around 10,050 feet on the deepest wildcat now under way in the Lower Rio Grande Valley area. Only two wells have ever surpassed it in depth in the Valley, the Shell Petroleum No. 1 Yturria, which went to 10,286 feet, and the Magnolia No. 1 F. Armendaiz, which went to 10,324 feet, both in western Willacy County.

SIX MORE WELLS FINISHED IN VALLEY PROVEN AREAS

McALLEN—Another big week came to a close Saturday for Lower Rio Grande Valley proven fields when six wells were completed, three more had casing cemented and more than a dozen others were drilling. Sun field in northeastern Starr reported two new producers, while one each was completed in the Colorado, Kelsey, Sullivan City and Rincon fields.

By far the most active area was the Rincon field, where seven rigs were running steadily. The new Rincon producer was W. R. Davis and Company No. A-7 Slick Estate, Survey 231, on the north edge of the chief producing area. Through casing perforations (50 shots) at 4,212-28 feet, the well gauged 250 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 275 pounds tubing working pressure and 625 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Two wells in the field had casing cemented on the sand.

Gas-Cut Mud Recovered

Davis No. B-25 Slick Estate, Survey 266, in the west part of the field, recovered 85 feet of gas-cut mud with 615 pounds pressure on 10-minute drill stem test of sand at 4,030-60 feet. In sand at 4,060-87 feet, operators recovered 850 feet of oil with 115 pounds pressure in 17 minutes. Sand at 4,200-11 feet yielded 540 feet of oil and 101 pounds pressure in 17 miutes, while 50 feet of mud without pressure was recovered in sand at 4,289-4,302 feet. Operators cemented 7-inch o.d. oil string at 4,254 feet.

Davis No. A-9 Slick Estate, Survey 231, another north edge well, also recovered oil on three drill stem tests as follows: 3,853-65 feet, recovered 940 feet of oil with 100 pounds pressure in 17 minutes; 4,056-86 feet, recovered 1,280 feet of oil with 133 pounds pressure in 17 minutes; and 4,202-45 feet, recovered 1,470 feet of oil with 180 pounds pressure in 17 minutes. Seven-inch o.d. casing was cemented on bottom at 4,262 feet.

Four other wels in the field were making hole.

Davis Well Coring

The field's north edge well, Davis No. A-9 Slick Estate, Survey 231, 660 feet north of production, recovered oil in two sands: 3,846-70 feet, drill stem test showed 1,980 feet of oil without pressure in 17 minutes; sand at 4,071-4,107 feet flowed oil in 14 minutes with 25 pound- pressure, flowed continuously for 70 minutes and operators recovered 1,890 feet of oil. The well was coring at 4,150 feet.

Davis No. B-27 Slick Estate, Survey 266, in the west part of the field, recovered 375 feet of oil with 60 pounds pressure in 17 minutes from sand at 4,054-72 feet and recovered 580 feet of oil and 180 feet of oil-cut mud with 100 pounds pressure on 17-minute drill stem test of sand at 4,074-92 feet. Sand at 4,187-4,215 feet yielded 120 feet of oil and 30 feet of mud with 55 pounds pressure in 15 minutes, and operators continued coring at 4,290 feet.

At the southwestern extremity of the producing area, Davis No. A-2 F. (Dee) Davenport, Survey 944, recovered 935 feet of oil with 60 pounds pressure in 17 minutes from sand at 3,786-3,815 feet, while a second sand at 4,044-67 feet yielded 800 feet of oil with 155 pounds pressure in 17 minutes. Operators continued coring at 4,102 feet.

Two New Producers

Davis No. A-10 Slick Estate, Survey 231, another north well, was drilling at 1,534 feet.

Sun reported two new producers and three new wells started in the Sun field in northeastern Starr, while Humble Oil and Refining Company had another new test in the northwest part of the field going down.

Sun's No. 8-A, Olivares, Survey 239, an inside location, gun-perforated with 72 shots at 4,615-28 feet and the well made an estimated 100 barrels daily on 9-64 inch tubing choke with 425 pounds tubing working pressure and 565 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

On the west edge of the field, Sun's No. B-2, Speer, Survey 236, made about 250 barrels daily on 3-16 inch tubing choke with 300 pounds tubing working pressure and 90 pounds closed-in casing pressure through casing perforations (20 shots) at 4,950-53 feet.

Inside Wells Spudded

A new southwest edge well is Sun No. C-1 Spear, in the northeast corner of Survey 234. Operators spudded and cemented 10 3-4 inch o.d. surface casing at 1,010 feet.

Two new inside wells were also spudded. Sun's No. 8 Geo. H. Speer, Survey 238, was drilling at 2,365 feet, and Sun's No. 9 A Olivares, Survey 239, cemented 10 3-4 inch o.d. surface pipe at 1,018 feet.

In the northwestern part of the Sun field, Humble No. 8 N. R. Montalvo, northeast corner of Survey 237, made salt water on drill stem test at 4,129-37 feet and was drilling below 4,890 feet.

New Producer 'In'

One new producer was completed in the Kelsey field in Brooks county and one new well was drilling. Humble's No. 54 J. C. McGill, La Blanca Grant, Brooks county, gauged 101 barrels daily on 7-64 inch tubing choke with 600 pounds tubing working pressure and 650 pounds closed-in casing pressure from sand at 4,716-23 feet.

Humble's No. 50 J. C. McGill, also in La Blanca Grant, Brooks county, was drilling below 3,000 feet.

One new producer and two wells under way provided steady development for the Colorado field in western Jim Hogg county.

Humble No .13 Atwood Heirs, Survey 36, on the east edge of the field, gauged 134 barrels daily on 3-16 inch tubing choke with 150 pounds tubing working pressure and 650 pounds closed-in casing pressure from sand at 3,081-88 feet.

Royal Has Producer

Humble's No. 12 King Ranch-Colorado, Survey 42, was coring around 3,000 feet.

Sun spudded its first well in the Colorado field, the No. 1 N. S. Thaxton, Survey 670, in the north part of the area. Operators cemented 10 3-4 inch o.d. surface pipe around 100 feet and were drilling past 800 feet.

In the Sullivan City field in western Hidalgo county, Royal Oil and Gas Company completed a good producer in the field's 4,100-foot sand, and two other wells were under way as operations began to resume in the area. There are now about four proved locations on the north edge of the field which will probably be drilled shortly.

New Location Given

Royal's No. A-2 V. G. Chapa, Tract 236, Por. 39, Reynosa Jurisdiction, gauged 107 barrels daily on 9-64 inch tubing choke with 1,050 pounds tubing working pressure and 1,550 pounds closed-in casing pressure. Casing was gun-perforated with 24 shots at 4,093-4,100 feet after the hole had been bottomed and pipe set at 4,121 feet.

Royal's B-1 V. G. Chapa, Tract 239, Portion 40, Reynosa Jurisdiction, was coring past 3,000 feet.

Derrick was up and machinery was being moved in for H. J. Porter et al's No. 1 Febronio Flores, 330 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east lines of Tract 240, Portion 40, Reynosa Jurisdiction.

LOZAS SAID NEAR DEATH

Mexico Resident Is Crash Victim

EDINBURG — Florentino Lozas, 24-year-old resident of Mexico who arrived recently in the Valley, lay near death at County-City hospital here Saturday as the result of an auto crash Friday night which threatened to climax fatally a visit to a brother he had not seen for 22 years.

Lozas was struck by a car driven by Lee Kidder, 18, of Mercedes, as he walked across U. S. Highway 83 a few blocks east of the East Donna read near that city. Occupied by Ralph Powell, 18, Miss Jean Kirkpatrick, 16, and Miss Billy Powell, 18, all of Mercedes, the machine was going west at the time. A car moving east narrowly escaped striking Lozas, who walked into the center lane of the three-lane highway and then moved in front of the Kidder car, Assistant District Attorney Jack Ross said.

Several officers investigated the case Saturday morning when the victim, first identified as Apolonio Lozas of San Juan, was later found to be the brother of Apolonio. Friends who identified him at the hospital said he had not seen his brother since he was two years old and had been living with relatives on a ranch in Mexico.

The victim wore two pairs of trousers, had an extra undershirt stuffed into one of his pants pocket, and carried a packet containing two photographs, which aided his identification.

Other officers aiding the investigation were State Patrolmen J. H. Hollyfield and W. M. Miller and County Patrolmen Truett Jordan and George Murray.

Fifty persons have been killed in Valley auto crashes thus far this year.

AIR DEFENSE SESSION DUE

McAllen Is Seeking Plane Base

McALLEN—H. M. Smith of Fort Worth, airport engineer for the Civil Aeronautics Authority, is expected to arrive in McAllen next week to confer with a local committee seeking to launch a Valley air defense project.

Members of the McAllen committee plan to ask Smith for suggestions on steps to secure adequate air defense for the Valley area.

The committee, headed by H. H. Hensley, met Friday afternoon to discuss preliminary plans to obtain the cooperation of other Valley cities in their efforts to get an air base in this section.

At a meeting of the McAllen Chamber of Commerce directors last week it was pointed out that immediate action has to be taken by Valley citizens to assure defense bases located along the border, which military strategists claim could be subject to invasion.

Foreman-Bryson

HARLINGEN—Miss Sudie Kay Bryson, employe of the Arcadia Theatre here since 1927, was married to Captain Hill Foreman of the state highway patrol, at San Antonio Saturday at 6:45 p.m., according to information from Captain Dan Abbott, San Antonio.

Captain Abbott said Miss Bryson and Foreman, who was also formerly a resident of the Valley, were married by Rev. M. C. Stearn, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church there. The couple will be at home in Austin after a trip to the groom's home in Polk county, Texas.

Captain Abbott served as best man, and Mrs. Abbott attended Miss Bryson. Captain Foreman came to Harlingen Saturday morning, but the marriage was a surprise to their acquaintances here.

TOM SHIPPING ON INCREASE

Trackholdings Go Up As Result

HARLINGEN—Heavy shipments of the past few days have piled up tomatoes in the markets and trackholdings by Monday may be up to 600 cars, well ahead of the consumption at this time of the year, a local factor in the tomato deal said Saturday.

Trackholdings Saturday were 410 cars, highest of the season, and week-end accumulations are expected to send the total away up. Saturday's shipments from all areas totaled 245 cars but earlier in the week shipments reached 290 and 322 cars.

Saturday's total consisted of 77 from Texas and 168 from Florida. The Valley moved 42 cars out of the state total.

Prices to the growers were around two cents a pound field run or two to two and a half cents for U. S. No. 1, grade, 6x6 pack and one and a half cents for 6x7 pack.

Rains Thursday, Friday and Saturday have interfered with shipments from the Florida East Coast and Lake sections which have been going out at the rate of 90 to 100 cars a day but the West Coast and Ocala sections are still pitching in the tomato league with 125 to 150 cars daily.

1940 Valley Fishing Rodeo Plans Complete

A Tough Job

Did you ever have a real case of spring fever and at the same time have to do a chore? If you have had, then you will understand exactly how we feel as we sit at our desk trying to think of something to write about that might be of some interest to those who by chance read this column.

Possibly it doesn't make any difference to you, but after the games of Thursday, the Boston Red Sox, leading the American League, and the Brooklyn Dodgers, in second place in the National League, had the same number of wins and loses.

Two new football coaches will be seen in action at McAllen this fall. Kenneth Grimes, who did quite a job of fulbacking at Texas A. and I. last year, will become assistant to Maco Stewart and Phil Cage, recently at Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos, will take over the duties of junior high coach. . . . .

Fort Worth is all pepped up over getting the National Open in 1941. And why shouldn't they be? It is the first time the big golfing event has been held in the Southwest. From what we can learn, every golfer in Texas is happy over the result of Fort Worth's fine work. It would not be surprising to see the biggest gallery in the history of the event. . . . .

Baseball's a funny game. Just a few short months ago Roy Cullenbine was worth $25,000 just to sign a contract. Now he went for $7,500, the waiver price. Cullenbine was picked up by the St. Louis Browns and we will be very much interested to see how he goes for Fred Haney who has long been a big booster for the lad who played for him when he was manager of the Toledo club. . . . .

Why doesn't someone start the ball rolling to get an Open for the Valley next year? We believe the top pros would flock here if the dates were set at a time to catch them on their way East after playing the West coast schedule of tournaments. The Valley has two courses they could play over, Harlingen and Brownsville. The publicity the Valley would receive would be more than worth whatever it cost to stage the tourney. . . .

Isn't it nice and peaceful now that the ballyhoo artists have nothing to say about a heavyweight fight. But it won't be long now until we hear all about what great fighters Max Baer, Tony Galento, Arturo Godoy, etc. are. And how they will put up a great fight against Joe Louis. . . .

Wonder why we can't get our mind off fishing conditions in our coastal waters? Guess it is just that we remember when we should get reds and trout in the bay, out of the surf and off the jetties. Surely something can be done to remedy the situation but it should be done as quickly as possible. Personally we think Hart Stilwell's idea for a governmental survey is the best idea of all to determine the cause of lack of fish. . . .

"Dutch" Flory and "Chill" Stone, coaches in the Harlingen school system, postcard from Windsor, Ontario, that they are having a fine time on their vacation trip and in the same mail comes an invitation from Thomas Glynne "Baldy" Magee, popular assistant coach at Edinburg, to attend his wedding on June 24 in Fort Worth. . . .

Do you suppose that San Benito is the only town in the Valley without a softball league in action? For that matter they may have one and there might be others without one.

Have you noticed how that young fellow, Howard Pollet, is going for the Houston Buffs? Friday night he hung up his eleventh consecutive mound victory which is a modern record for the circuit. If he keeps going his name will appear in the St. Louis Cardinals' box score before long. . . .

Whether it means anything or not, the league radio announcers have picked the Cincinnati Reds and Boston Red Sox to meet in the World Series. Makes our pick bad since we selected the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees. . . .

Of all the youngsters who broke into organized baseball with the champion Harlingen Hubs, it appears that Tommy Tatum (Red Mays to most of you) has the best chance of going places. Holding down the utility job with Nashville, Tommy is hitting the ball hard and has done a swell job of filling in at several positions. Damon Phillips, Gene Hinrichs and Dale Jones are other former Hubs who are still playing in the top minors.

Has anyone tried for Spanish mackerel off the jetties? Reports are coming in that the water is clear and still but we have had no chance to make a definite check on this. That sort of fishing is great sport.

McAllen Schedules Tennis Tournament

McALLEN—A Valley men's tennis tournament July 4-6 on the local clay courts was announced Saturday by Chuck Wagner, court manager.

Chief feature of the tournament will be rankings given entrants on the basis of their play. Thus Valley players will know how they stand, Wagner said. In addition, trophies will be awarded champions and runner-ups.

Entry fees are $1 for singles and $1.50 for doubles. Closing entry date is June 28. A boys tournament will be staged July 12, 13.

Few Changes Adopted In Rule Setup

Interest Mounts In Big Event

PORT ISABEL — With several new features added which are expected to meet with the hearty approval of all prospective entrants in the big sports event, plans for the Seventh Annual Rio Grande Valley Fishing Rodeo, to be held at Port Isabel, August 1-4, are virtually complete, officials announced Saturday.

Perhaps the greatest change from former set-ups of the fishing rodeo is in the marlin division of the event. Any size line may be used with the award going to the contestant catching the largest marlin. This is expected to increase the catch of the big fellows for in the past many have been lost due to inexperienced anglers using light tackle. For the first time a worthwhile award will be made for catching the second largest marlin.

Another change in the rules has been made and will affect the sailfish division. This year the championship sailfish trophy will go to the person scoring the greatest number of points according to the size of line and weight of fish.

In the tarpon division, the championship trophy will be won by the entrant scoring the greatest number of points on tarpon ONLY. Previously a mixed bag was allowed with the provision that at least one tarpon must be caught.

For the information of all interested persons, the following rules and regulations of the 1940 event have been approved by the directors of the rodeo as well as other information concerning the rodeo:

RULES AND REGULATIONS

During some of our past contests we have allowed an extended period covering several weeks in some divisions particularly the marlin and sailfish divisions. This extended period was allowed for the convenience of our out of Valley participants who might not be able to be present during the three day Rodeo Roundup. Experience has taught us however that on the contrary such arrangement involked a handicap upon contestants from beyond the boundaries of the Valley and gave contestants who lived close at hand an advantage. This policy has been abandoned and we have returned to our original plan of a three day contest. The only exception being that we are allowing a full week in the marlin division.

The contest (in the marlin division only) shall begin the morning of July 28 and shall close at the end of the day of August 3. All Marlin caught during this period shall be considered in the contest. Fishing in the 3 day Rodeo Roundup shall begin at daylight on the morning of August 1 and shall stop at the end of the day August 3, during which time all fish, including marlin will be scored.

Class A

The contest shall be divided into two classes which shall be known as class A and Class B. Class A contestants shall be all who compete for the championship trophies and awards and such other prizes as are designated as Class A prizes. Class A contestants, signifies those fishing off shore for such fish as marlin, sailfish, tarpon, wahoo, tuna, king mackerel, spanish mackrel, jackfish, bonita, etc., fish being taken from a power boat by trolling. The registration fee for Class A contestants shall be $5.00.

Class B

Class B fishing shall be what is known as the inland water class and shall include fish which are usually caught in the bay, passes, river's mouth, off of jetties, docks and from surf or near the coast in open water, such as trout, redfish, channel bass, spanish mackrel, king mackrel, pike, jackfish and etc. A separate attractive selection of Class B prizes has been designed for the separate contests in class B. The registration fee for all class B contestants shall be $1.00.

Scoring Points

In the marlin division no system of scoring points will be adhered to. the prizes being awarded upon the basis of the size of the marlin caught. Any size line will be permitted at the discretion of the contestant. NOTE: a word of warning is thought advisable to those of inexperience, fishing for marlin, that they not attempt to catch marlin with inadequate tackle. Not less than forty marlin have been lost during the past three years due to the use of tackle entirely too light for these fish.

For all other fish caught during the 3 day roundup a system of scoring similar to that used in recent years are again being used in 1940. The classification of tackle into heavy, medium and light or into 6-9, 4-6, etc will not be adhered to. The following system of scoring will be used for all fish caught during the 3 day roundup period, except marlin: the weight of the fish shall be divided by the size of line, result to be multiplied by 10 (size of line to mean number of threads of any standard line except Cable Laid line—in case Cable Laid line is used the judges of the contest shall determine in advance the relationship such line shall bear to standard line): A fish weighing 108 pounds caught on number 9 line; divide 108 the weight of fish, by 9, the size of line, which equals 12, which multiplied by 10, given a score of 120 points. Were the same fish caught on number 12 line, the result would be 90 points, and if caught on number 24 would be 45 points.

All fish caught in either A or B class (less than 20 lbs.) shall be weighed as a mixed bag and the days catch shall be scored according to the weight of the line the same as for larger fish. Regulation tackle (except in the marlin division) shall mean any rod and reel with a line not to exceed number 30. All tackle used in the contest must be inspected and classified by the judges before the contestant enters the contest and upon submitting the fish for recording each contestant shall be required to produce the tackle upon which the fish was caught if so demanded by the judges. If the contestant carries more than one size of line upon his boat he may be required to produce an affadivit as to the size of line used when the fish was taken, if so demanded by the judges. All fish taken in the contest must be delivered to the judges of the contest at the close of each day of fishing if the boat touches port, to be weighed and registered and proper points scored. NOTE: This rule shall not be interpreted so that all contestants must return to port at the end of each day of fishing. Those wishing to remain at anchor well off shore through the night shall deliver their fish to the judges whenever they come to port.

Each boat fishing in inland waters or near shore shall carry a white pennant or white flag which shall be hoisted upon a staff when a large fish is hooked. Any boat with a fish hooked that has displayed the proper flag shall have the right-of-way over any boat that has no fish hooked. Any boatman who interferes with any contestant who has a fish hooked shall forfeit all rights to prizes and shall be further penalized at the discretion of the judges.

All boats when coming into port whether fishing in inland waters or off shore shall fly their white flag at the top of their mast or staff to indicate if they have been successful in catching a marlin, sailfish, tarpon or any other fish of importance.

A receiving station will be established and all fish caught during the contest must be delivered to the judges or clerks for recording as soon as the boat reaches port.

It shall be the duty of the judges to supervise fishing at all times while fishing is in progress in the inland waters.

Entertainment

An interesting full day of entertainment will be arranged for Sunday, August 4 in connection with the ceremony of awarding the prizes.

The program will be in charge of a special committee. It will include events of interest to all persons, adults and juvenile. This program will have the cooperation of all Port Isabel civic organizations who will be aided by some of the affiliated organizations of the Valley.

Boats and Guides

Port Isabel boatmen and fishing guides have resided there many years and are capable and reliable licensed pilots and expert fishermen, familiar with every inch of the surrounding waters. Charges range upward from $15.00 per day for guides and boats, depending upon the class and capacity of the boats. Guides, without boats $5.00 per day.

All boats and guides are required to register with the Organization committee. A list of boats and guides will be supplied to any contestant in advance of the rodeo dates if requested, with a description of the boat, etc. The contestant may make his arrangements with the guide in advance by corresponding direct with him. There will be ample supply of good boats, but advance arrangements will prevent possibilty of disappointment. Sportsmen are invited to bring their own boats, and guides at other points are urged to contact the Rodeo Organization regarding charter of their boats and services.

Pittsburgh Takes First In Big Meet

Al Blozis Hangs Up New Marks

By BILL KING

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. —(AP)— Although without a single first-place winner in a competition that saw five new meet records set and another equalled, the University of Pittsburgh gained its second IC4A track and field championship in four years Saturday at Harvard stadium.

By putting together five and a half second places, plus a third, a fourth and a fifth, the Panthers rolled up 29½ points and nullified the mighty left that Norwood Ewell, sensational Negro sophomore, gave his Pennsylvania State forces by winning both dashes and the broad jump.

Ewell's "triple," the first in IC4A competition since 1937, when Columbia's Ben Johnson won the same three events while Pittsburgh was gaining the team title, enabled Penn State to take second place with 24 points.

California, the pre-meet favorite, tied with Yale for third honors with 20 points and New York University was fifth with 19.

The other team scores were Tufts and Georgetown 13 each, Maine and Manhattan 12 each, Harvard 11½, Cornell 9½, Princeton 9, Michigan State 8½, Brown and Pennsylvania 7 each, Rhode Island State and Fordham 6 each, Boston College 5, HollyCross 4 and Syracuse and Temple 2 each.

Crowding the versatile Ewell Hard for the individual glory was Al Blozis, the Georgetown giant, who established new meet marks for the shot put and discus. Another double winner, Eddie Dugger, Tufts' Negro hurdles star, clipped a tenth second off the 14.4 seconds mark that Earl Thompson of Dartmouth set for the 120-yard high timber event 20 years ago. Dugger also won the 220-yard low hurdles.

Guernsey Seeks Another Title

HOUSTON —(AP)— Bantamweight Frank Guernsey, National Intercollegiate tennis champion the past two years, sets about Monday to regain the Texas title he won two years ago.

The stolid little Rice Institute star, who did not compete for the title last year, must unseat Bobby Curtis, a stout blond Rice teammate whom he recently defeated for the Southwest Conference championship.

Guernsey was the top man in a brilliant field that starts singles play on the 16 Golfcrest Country Club courts.

But such stars as Lefty Brown, the Baylor freshman; Reuben Riskind and Maurice Fincher of the University of Texas; Wilbur and Jake Hess, the Houston veterans; Dick Morris and Rodgers of Rice, Ed Umstaedter of LSU, Bobby Kamrath and a flock of others are solid contenders.

Reigning doubles champions are Fincher and Kamrath, but is expected Fincher will team with Riskind this season.

Ben Nixon, San Antonio youngster, will defend his junior title while Grover Cantrell of Sherman and Warren McMillan of Fort Worth are scheduled to defend the doubles title. Prominent boys' division entries include Wade Spilman of Mission, defending titlist and Ted Norpoth and Bill Tabola of Houston.

Doubles play will not start until Wednesday.

The sectional tournament, one of 13 sponsored by the United States Lawn Tennis Association, is held to determine the better players of the country, by sections.

PALS 6; TIGERS 3

PALESTINE—(AP)—The Palestine Pals spotted Marshall three runs in the first inning Saturday night, then counter-attacked to win, 6 to 3, behind John Dobby's pitching. Frank Simontacchi was seriously injured when struck by a thrown ball at second base in the sixth.

This One Proved To Be Too Tough

This scene at one of the Valley's former rodeos shows D. Music of Weslaco bucking off of a bronco that proved to be a little too rough for him to ride. There will be plenty of such thrilling action Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p. m. at the rodeo in Harlingen. Valley rodeo fans are assured of seeing a wild and wooly show with Brahma bull riding, bronco riding, bulldogging, wild mule riding, calf roping and wild cow milking.

Edinburg Stars Boost Lead In Hidalgo League

Sharyland Holding Second Place

McALLEN — The Edinburg All Stars continued to set a torrid pace in the Hidalgo County Softball League with the half way mark at hand. The Stars won an exciting 5 to 4 game over the Sharyland team while McAllen dropped the Engelman Garden's Won Up ten 6 to 2 to widen the gap between the leaders and the remaining clubs.

Old Travis Wallace held the hard hitting league leaders to 6 blows Thursday night but loose play afield cost him the ball game. Southwell started for Edinburg and was relieved by Mike McKinney who turned in a brilliant relief job.

Wallace and the Shary ten smothered Engelman Garden's on the Grapefruiter's own diamond Tuesday night although Stovall garnered 12 strikeouts.

The Engelman Gardens club took a close one from Whalen's Monday night 6 to 5.

Complete results of last week's play:

Engelman's 6; Whalen's 5.
Edinburg 5; Sharyland 5.
Sharyland 5; Engelman's 2.
McAllen 6; Engelman's 2.
Sharyland 11; McAllen 9.

Rifle Shoot At Mercedes Today

MERCEDES—A large aggregation of Valley riflemen is expected to compete in the first match in the Baum Trophy tournament Sunday afternoon on the Mercedes rifle range.

This 3-match tournament to be fired alternately on the Mercedes and McAllen ranges is being staged under the joint sponsorship of the Mercedes and McAllen rifle and pistol clubs with Abe Baum, prominent Mercedes - McAllen - Harlingen men's ready-to-wear merchant, furnishing the trophy and medals. The trophy depicts a prone rifleman in sun-ray gold mounted on a mahogany base with a gold plate for the inscription of the name of the tournament champion. Gold, silver and bronze medals will also be awarded to the three highest winners.

Each contestant, firing from prone position, will be alloted 20 shots at 50 yards and 20 shots at 100 yards. A .22 caliber rim fire rifle will be used. Entrance fee is $1.00 for the three matches with any Valley rifleman, whether a club member or not, allowed to enter.

The second match will be held on the McAllen range on Sunday afternoon, June 16, and the final match again on the Mercedes range on Sunday, June 30.

League-Leading Buffs Drawing Slim Crowds

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

HOUSTON—(AP)—It just doesn't make sense.

The Houston Buffs—a minor league copy of the New York Yankees (1939 variety)—are playing their home games before crowds slimmer than a debutante's waistline.

Ten and a half games ahead of the pack, the Buffs have approached the qualifications of a dream team—with murderous slugging, expert pitching and the league's finest fielding finesse.

The list of Texas League leaders—teams and players—is dotted with the key word "Houston."

For instance:

The Buffs lead the loop in batting and fielding.

The team set a record in winning seven straight doubleheaders.

Howard Pollet, 18-year-old pitcher, has won 11 consecutive victories without the shadow of defeat—a modern high mark.

Johnny Antonelli, second baseman, is runner-up in the batting race with .365 and is top man in runs and hits.

Old Nick Cullop, hustling outfielder, has batted in 53 runs and smashed nine homers.

Five Buff pitchers boast perfect fielding averages.

Four regulars are batting better than .300.

Despite this nightly exhibition of superiority, the crowds stay away in great numbers.

One sad night, for instance, a grand total of 416 persons sat in the huge Buffalo Stadium.

Be it said, however, the front office is not so worried as the die-hard fans.

"We're running about like we did last year at this time," said President Fred Ankenman. "Last season we recovered nicely to finish with the best attendance record in six years. Anyway, we never draw as well early in the season as we do after school is out.

"Things will pick up now."

Ankelman said "everybody's stirred up over the war situation and that hurts attendance, too."

The club has run into some foul weather tricks which played havoc with the turnstile operations.

Near-freezing temperatures opening night ruined prospects for a fine getaway and unfavorable weather at odd times since has damaged the financial end of the business.

The cruelest luck came the night young Pollet went after his tenth straight victory. Besides this drawing card, it was Negro Night and Ankelman was prepared to seat a big batch of customers.

During the hours just previous to game time, rain poured down all around Buffalo Stadium and over town.

Nary a drop fell on the field, however, and the game went on as scheduled—before a handful of paying patrons.

TROJANS 5; OILERS 4

TYLER—(AP)—"Sailor" Bill Watson pitched four-hit ball here Saturday night and Tyler nosed out Henderson, 5 to 4. Zimmerman and Gregory led Tyler's 13-hit assault on Hugh Sparks.

New Stars Shine On Senior Loop Diamonds

Many Young Fellows In Spotlight

Junior Replacements Set Record

By BILL BRANDT

May is the month major league managers mobilize their forces to fighting strength. Tryout season is over. By league law they must carve their corps to the 25-player limit.

Counting new noses in National League clubhouses reveals that this year baseball's oldest league is younger than ever before, its manpower showing a greater influx of junior replacements than in any previous spring. More than one-fourth of all the players listed on National League rosters are freshmen—selected from the cream of the minor league crop.

Roll-call when the eight clubs announced their 25-player personnel showed that 55 of the 200 athletes marked present played all or most of the 1939 season in minor league settings. They were the stars of the higher class little leagues who qualified for baseball's top flight by their brave deeds last summer.

Big Influx

This tremendous influx of new talent made its mark early in the spring pennant race by revising the picture of the league set-up as of September, 1939. Brooklyn's sensational starting streak of 9 straight was the season's first startling message of new power in the old league, new frontiers and boundaries to be drawn. Later the Phillies, consigned to last place in February's expert balloting by 73 votes of of a possible 76, forged to the fore in the second division by winning of their first six games against western invaders of Quaker Town.

Replacements are thicker, of course, in clubs of lowly 1939 rating than with the front-runners, but in May's last week every National League club sported at least five newcomers on its roster. Nearly every day since the season's start, there has been at least one freshman in every club's lineup.

May 20, for instance, when all eight clubs saw action, offered a graphic picture of the new-blood distribution. Mike McCormick, last year with Indianapolis, was Cincinnati centerfielder. Bill Baker, last year's Indianapolis catcher and runner-up for the American Association batting championship, took Lombardi's place in the sixth inning. Two rookie pitchers, Johnny Hutchings, last year's strikeout king of the Southern League, and Elmer Riddle, Birmingham's 1939 mound ace, saw action in the box for the league champions.

Lake Shows Well

Playing second base and leading goff for the St. Louis Cardinals was Eddie Lake, last year the Texas League's leading runmaker and so talented a leadoffer that his 153 bases on balls broke an all-time Lone Star loop record which had stood for 14 years. Other new Cards in action were Joe Orengo, last year's Sacramento shortstop, and Southpaw Ernie White, who last year at Houston pitched the first no-hit game ever recorded in the 11-year history of Buffalo Stadium.

Brooklyn's leadoff man was Pee-Wee Reese, Louisville's hero in its Little World Series triumph last fall. The Dodgers' centerfield was covered by Charlie Gilbert, 20-year-older whose first year of pro ball at Nashville last season earned a .317 batting average and the reputation of being one of the greatest young ball hawks in the minor leagues.

Bill Nicholson and Bobby Mattick, in the Chicago Cubs' lineup, spent the latter half of last year with the Bruins. This is their first full year in the majors. Ken Raffensberger, on the mound, pitched the entire 1939 International League campaign as a Rochester Red Wing ace, though he wore Cardinal spangles when the Centennial Year's season launched.

Giants Have Two

The New York Giants' first-baseman was Babe Young, Southern Association's Most-Valuable-Player of 1939, with Jersey City's second-baseman, Al Glossop, throwing to him. Pittsburgh had on view a complete new outfield of Double-A slugging stars, International Leaguers Bob (.328) Elliott and Maurice (.320) VanRobays, plus Vince DiMaggio, American Association home run champion. The last Pirate pitcher was Dick Lanham, who no-hitted into the Southern A. Hall of Fame last summer while tying for the league leadership in total victories.

Boston showed Chet Ross, Evansville's 111-run-driver and leader of the National League in three-baggers to date, and Carvel Roswell, Eastern League base-stealing champion. The Phillies flashed a new star shortstop, Busy Bragan, holder of the all-time Southeastern League record for assists, also a sport model first-sacker, Art Mahan, from Little Rock, a 400 hitter his first 10 days in the major leagues.

The May 20 picture helps tell the story of the National League's sparkling pennant race. For several years past, the drive of the senior circuit for new stars has been the talk of the baseball world, but by the evidence at hand to date, the year 1940 bids fair to set a new high for increase in general all-around playing strength throughout all eight clubs in the circuit.

The five largest states in area, in order of size, are Texas, California, Montana, New Mexico, and Arizona.

Setting For Church Rites Is Beautiful

Pletcher-Morris Wedding Is Today

HARLINGEN — White calla lilies predominate to empnasize the traditional bridal white in floral arrangements that create a perfect setting for the marriage of Miss Rachel Morris, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Morris, and George Henry Pletcher Jr., which will be celebrated at eight o'clock this morning in the First Methodist church. Rev. Bert A. Salter will officiate for the marriage service.

Touches of pink have been introduced into the altar-like scene by occasional use of pink roses and pink gladiolas. The stately flower spikes are silhouetted against a background of green developed with banking of palms in the loft and by tall trees of fern. Graceful sprays of the fern encircled the pipes of the organ.

Miss Virginia Perry will play a concert of nuptial music preceding the ceremony and will accompany Miss Ivy Boone, soloist. Miss Boone is to sing "I Love You Truly" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." Miss Perry will give the traditional wedding marches and during the ceremony organ music will sound softly.

The bride will enter with her father and will be given by him in marriage.

Preceding her will be the diminutive flowergirls, Janice Pimlott and Frankie Morris. Their floor-length dresses are blue net and their hats

Elaborate Church Rites Performed For Wedding In Georgetown Saturday

McALLEN—The marriage of Miss Charlyne Shaw and Jack Lomax Saturday night at Georgetown ushered in this romantic month with all the exquisite beauty befitting the age-old tradition of June wedding parties.

Dr. John William Bergin, president of Southwestern University, officiated at the single ring ceremony at which Miss Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John William Shaw of Georgetown became the bride of Jack Lomax, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Lomax of McAllen.

With the shadows of approaching twilight slightly darkening the recesses of the First Methodist Church, the ceremony was performed at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Burgin Dunn at the organ played a brief concert of nuptial music and accompanied Miss Lenair Richardson who sang "Because."

The church was decorated with masses of greenery, against which were placed white gladiolias in silver cathedral vases and shasta daisies in silver baskets. The chancel rail was entwined with lace fern and nestling gardenias.

Only altar light was lent from ivory tapers in floor candelabra, lighted before the ceremony began by Miss Peggy Beaver, whose camellia pink taffeta frock gave an ethereal touch to the pretty ceremony.

As bridesmaids were Misses Jane Brown, Jane Burcham, Ellagene Eanes, and Sarah Frank Thompson with Miss Martha Jane Shaw, sister of the bride, as maid-of-honor and Mrs. W. M. Scott of San Antonio, sister of the groom, the matron-of-honor.

Both Mrs. Scott and Miss Shaw were stunning in gowns of hydrangea blue silk net, billowing over taffeta of the same shade. The dresses were fashioned with a square neckline, outlined in lace; a fitted bodice of lace, puffed sleeves and bouffant skirts adorned with two panels of lace in the back. For hats, they wore halos of starched blue net, caught coyly with a half wreath of blue and pink cornflowers. To complete their piquant ensembles they carried bouquets of pink cornflowers, formed like nosegays.

The bridesmaids were smartly similar in camellia pink net frocks, whose styles were like the honored attendants. They wore halos of starched pink net and carried nosegays of blue cornflowers.

Traditionally bride-like in the midst of the soft pastel tones of pink and blue, the bride, beautifully lovely in her bridal white, entered

A strikingly attractive bride, was Miss Charlyne Shaw of Georgetown and a former McAllen resident, married Saturday night in Georgetown to Jack Lomax of McAllen. The ceremony, an eminent social event in the bride's home city, commanded the interest of Valley socialites among whom his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Lomax, have long been prominent.

Mrs. Olin Coleman Jones, Jr., of Brownsville and Fort Worth, is the former Miss Mary Jane Groom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Groom of Brownsville. Her marriage took place early this week, and she and Mr. Jones are on a honeymoon trip to Carlsbad Cavern and Roswell, New Mexico. They plan to spend the remainder of the summer in Fort Worth, returning to Brownsville in the fall. Mrs. Jones is pictured in her lovely bridal costume. (A. Rogers Photo)

Taking her place among the loveliest of June 1 brides is Miss Marian Mayer of Birmingham, Alabama, whose marriage to David Bergin of McAllen and Georgetown was celebrated Saturday at 8 p. m. at the First Methodist Church in her home city. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mayer at whose home a throng of guests assembled after the wedding. The groom, a member of the McAllen Senior High School faculty, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John William Bergin of Georgetown where Dr. Bergin is president of Southwestern University. After a trip to Austin where Mr. Bergin will present his master's thesis at the University of Texas, the newly weds will go to Mexico City for the summer. They promise to be a delightful adition to McAllen's young married set

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore of West Point, Texas announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Midie Hart, to Charley Cox of San Benito. The marriage is to take place the midle of June at West Point. Miss Moore has made her home with her sister, Mrs. Jack Ehlers, in San Benito for the past three years.

Margaret Jean Voiers To Wed James L. Goode In Early July Nuptials

LA FERIA — Announcement of the coming marriage of Miss Margaret Jean Voirs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Voiers, and James Landrum Goode, son of Mrs. Pauline Landrum Goode of Kingsville, was made at a large tea given by the bride-elect's mother Saturday afternoon at their home. The affair, which was attended by about 250 guests, claimed widespread interest in several Valley towns. Receiving hours were from three to six o'clock.

Alternating in greeting guests at the door were Miss Marjorie Breedlove of Harlingen wearing pink chiffon with a matching ruffled jacket and Miss Elsie Thompson in a frock of starched aqua lace.

Receiving the guests were the bride-to-be's mother, her grandmother, Mrs. David T. Voiers, Miss Voiers, Mrs. Goode, Mrs. James D. Ward, San Benito, aunt of the bridegroom-elect, and Mrs. Redford Callis, Indianapolis, cousin of the honoree.

The honor guest was charming in a frock of hyacinth marquisette and net worn over taffeta. The shirred bodice was made with sweetheart neckline and was caught at the shoulders with miniature corsages while shirring emphasized the sleeves. She wore a wrist corsage of daisies.

The mother of the bride-elect wore powder blue chiffon with shirred sleeves and Mrs. David T. Voiers' costume of black crepe was topped with a stitched bolero jacket. Mrs. Goode chose an all-white model of embroidered organdy, Mrs. Ward was in amethyst chiffon trimmed with lace, and Mrs. Callis wore black lace.

Lavish arrangements of pastel blossoms throughout the reception rooms blended with the delicately tinted frocks worn by young friends of the honoree assisting in hostess duties.

In charge of the guest register at different hours were Miss Virginia Pile of Harlingen, in pink net; Miss Jean Phipps of Harlingen whose costume was blue and white striped silk jersey; and Miss Hassie Browning Foster of Harlingen, attired in yellow marquisette. Each wore a bandeau of roses in her hair.

The guest book was centered with in a striking arrangement of waxy magnolia blossoms encircled by glossy green magnolia leaves.

Unusual and artistic representation to the bridal theme was noted in flowers arranged on the tea table to simulate a huge ring. Rich hued marigolds formed the ring circle and white gardenias set in a jeweler's box of white satin represented the stone. Here the message, "Peggy-Jim, July 2," was lettered in gold, engraving style. The mirror base for the centerpiece was bordered by white and yellow shasta daisies.

The table, laid with an imported Italian cloth, was appointed in crystal. Cut glass punch bowl, crystal candelabrums holding white tapers and tea dainties in pastel flower tints held in crystal trays and comforts blended with the decorative scheme.

On the buffet was a fan-shaped arrangement of yellow and white gladiolas against a background of palmetto leaves.

Presiding at the punch bowl for alternate periods were Mrs. O. King Mason of Brownsville, wearing a frock of lace, Mrs. Leonard Hargrove in white satin, and Mrs. Adine E. Cope in dusty pink. Their corsages were of daisies.

Others assisting in the dining room and reception suite were Mrs. E. C. Breedlove of Harlingen, Mrs. James L. Landrum of San Benito, Mrs. Tom Foster of Harlingen, and Mrs. T. C. Thompson of La Feria.

Both Miss Voiers and Mr. Goode attended Brownsville Junior College and both are graduates of the University of Texas. The bride-elect is a member of Chi Omega sorority, Pi Lambda Theta, honorary educational fraternity, and was a Bluebonnet belle in 1938. She has been a member of the La Feria school faculty the past two years.

Mr. Goode is the grandson of the late James L. Landrum of San Benito who became one of the county's most prominent citizens after settling there nearly a half century ago.

A number of interesting prenuptial courtesies are being planned for Miss Voiers.

Her frock was tops of bridal fashion, made from white mousseline de soie with a tightly shirred bodice and wide bouffant skirt. The V-shaped neckline and long sleeves, pointed at the wrists, were edged in Alencon lace. The veil of tulle, fingertip length at the sides, was caught in halo effect with a Juliet cap of Alencon lace, fastened at the back with orange blossoms. The same veil had been worn by the bridegroom's sister and at weddings of several of their friends.

The back of the veil featured a panel of the same lace which fell in billows over the sweeping train. The bride's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, belonging to her mother, and an heirloom cameo hand hammered gold bracelet, the gift of the bridegroom's father to the former's mother at their marriage. To add a touch of sentiment the bride carried a handkerchief which Mr. Lomax' mother and grandmother had carried at their weddings.

The young bride's bouquet was of white orchids, showered with lilies-of-the-valley.

Charles Ferguson of McAllen served as best man with the groomsm e Henry B. Barnes of San Antonio, Robert H. Kern of Mercedes, James Karnes of Dallas, Captain W. M. Scott of Randolph Field and Kenneth Alley of McAllen.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The reception suite was decorated with pink and blue cornflowers, Queen Anne's lace and gladiolias.

The bride's table was laid with a Cluny lace cloth featured by a bower of gardenias from which streamers of white satin ribbon were looped to tiny crystal slippers filled with lilies-of-the-valley. A large double-ring embossed cake centered the table.

Mrs. Ruth Ferguson, dean of women at Southwestern University, presided at the wedding cake after the bride cut the first piece and Mrs. Sam V. Stone and Mrs. Emzy Cooper served the punch. Mrs. J. O. Carwin presided at the guest book. Assisting with the reception duties were Mrs. R. J. Stone, Mrs. Charles Shaw, Miss Elizabeth Amsler, Miss Kathryn Shaw, Miss Wynona Hutcherson, Mrs. Howard Wheeler, Miss Doris May and Miss Trudy Evans.

When the reception was over the young couple left for an extended wedding trip to the west coast. They expect to be at home at the Casa de Palmas Hotel in McAllen after July 1.

For her going away outfit, Mrs. Lomax chose a natural and rust costume with accessories to match and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Lomax member of the Delta, Delta, Delta sorority, was a graduate of Southwestern University while the groom attended University of Texas and is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Lomax and Mrs. J. W. Ferguson of McAllen; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Corwin and Mrs. Thomas McIlhenny of Austin.

are fashioned of sweetheart roses. Each will carry a blue flower umbrella, upside down with the crook held over the arm, as she picks out rose petals to drop in the pathway of the bride.

Lloyd Morris, wearing a white suit, will carry the ring on a satin pillow.

The bride's dress of white net over slipper satin is distinguished by simple, graceful lines. The leg-o'-mutton sleeves are lace from the puff to the wrist and the bodice is joined by a wide close-fitting band at the waist to the gored skirt which sweeps into graceful width to form a slight train.

Her fingertip veil is held in place with a coronet of real bouvardia, the blossoms being placed over the veil in front and showing through the filmy folds at the back. The bride's only ornament is a strand of pearls and her bouquet will be of orchids, valley lilies, and bouvardia showered with valley lilies.

Miss Vida Belle Morris, sister of the bride and her only attendant, is wearing a formal frock of tea rose, the full skirt being ornamented with huge rosettes of the material made like pinwheels with blue ribbon in the centers. Smaller rosettes cover each shoulder. Her shoes are in tea rose and her hat of blue net worn off the face is trimmed in velvet ribbon of darker blue which forms streamers at the back. Her flowers are blue gladiolas.

Miss Boone has chosen a costume of green lace and her corsage will be of gardenias while gardenias and pink roses form the corsage to be worn by Miss Perry.

Bill Pletcher, brother of the bridegroom, will be best man.

Mrs. Morris, mother of the bride, is wearing a rose lace costume with a corsage of talisman roses. Mrs. G. H. Pletcher Sr., mother of the groom, will wear gardenias complementing her frock of black marquisette which has touches of white.

The couple are leaving immediately after the ceremony for an extended wedding tour through the West including visits to California, Yellowstone Park, and many other points. A visit to Pike's Peak is planned as a trip of sentimental interest in view of the fact that Mr. Pletcher's parents visited the same spot on their honeymoon.

The couple will return in about a month to establish a home in Harlingen.

Miss Morris, who received her high school education in Harlingen, has been assistant laboratory technician at the Valley Baptist Hospital.

Mr. Pletcher graduated from Texas A. and M. College and was a fellowship student for a year of graduate study at Ohio State University.

This 'N' That

JUNE MONTH IS going to maintain its reputation as bride month in the Valley.

Large weddings claiming particular interest have been calendared for early June and the grapevine foreshadows other prominent Valley couples heading for the altar.

THE GIRLS in Birmingham have what it takes to enslave youths from the Rio Grande Valley, judging from Cupid's count for early July.

David Paul Bergen of McAllen is the lucky man who is to wed "Sallie" Marion Mayer of Birmingham and we have it from an unimpeachable source that John Franklin Sanders, erstwhile Harlingen youth now doing well for himself in Alabama, has her promise from a Birmingham girl for this June.

The two brides-to-be, it so happens, were college mates.

PATTY HANKS and Andrew Shelton, who have named June 8 their day, could have met about ten years earlier.

Patty's father, Bernard Hanks, well-known newspaper owner, was once owner of the Harlingen Star and the child, Patty, and her mother stayed quite a while at the Reese-Wil-Mond hotel.

The couple's first meeting ,to their knowledge, was when "Stormy" as his friends call him, was a student at Simmons University in Abilene.

AND FRANCES Ezzell and Jim McMillan stole a march on folks expecting them to speak the solemn words today by getting married Saturday afternoon and leaving town pronto.

GEORGE PLETCHER JR., who has handled decorations for gobs of weddings, had a free hand—if you overlook his mother's competent aid and advice—when he completed floral arrangements for his own wedding this morning.

Rachel Morris, his bride, didn't even know what flowers were to be in the church, but she was quite satisfied they would be perfect.

MIDDIE HART MOORE, who's been making her home with her sister, Sue Ehlers (Mrs. Jack) the past three years in San Benito will go to her home at West Point, Texas for her marriage about the middle of the month to Charley Cox of San Benito.

JAMES GOODE of Brownsville and Peggy Jean Voiers of La Feria will form another June twosome.

JACK LOMAX of McAllen will go to Georgetown to claim Charlyne Shaw as his bride in an elaborate church ceremony.

RECIPES ARE always being thrust upon June brides who usually fail to appreciate such help until they suddenly discover cooking is the main job in homemaking.

Most successful housewives admit their store of receipes was mainly obtained from friends and relatives.

Marjorie Rawlings, known to the reading public as author of "The Yearling" and other prize winning fiction, has a reputation among her friends as a delightful hostess who likes to serve foods cooked by her own hands.

Her favorite dish is blackbird pie which she cooks for special guests at her home in Florida which, incidentally is the original for the description of the springs in "The Yearling."

And the celebrated author, who writes for a living and cooks for fun, shoots the birds herself.

GIVE YOUR LAWN a dose of calomel.

From the Extension Service at College Station comes advice on how to doctor St. Augustine grass (the usual variety of carpet grass in the Valley) which has brown patches caused by a fungus.

The statement says the usual practice of plowing manure into the soil preparatory to planting St. Augustine cuttings is inadvisable since richness in organic matter is favorable to growth of the fungus.

The formula generally recommended for treatment of lawns is a mixture of two ounces of calomel and one ounce of corrosive sublimate (bichloride of mercury) mixed with six or eight quarts of fine dry sand. This amount is sufficient for 1,000 square feet of lawn.

The mixture should be spread on the affected parts and watered thoroughly.

WILLIAM HORN, former Valley youth, will be aboard the President Roosevelt when the ship begins its dangerous crossing of the Atlantic in a few days.

His mother, formerly of McAllen, will leave San Antonio to greet her son in New York.

He is making the trip to escort Mary Jane Kennedy, daughter of the U. S. Ambassador, home. Other members of the Kennedy family have already left England except the one daughter who elected to remain with her father.

STRETCHING THE BUDGET to include regular contributions to the Red Cross is the matter-of-fact method one Valley woman has adopted to give effectiveness to her sympathies in the European conflict.

Explaining that the amount her family can contribute from their wage at any one time is necessarily small, they have agreed that a specified amount from each pay check will be earmarked to aid war refugees.

In reply to a gibe that everyone soon will be paying heavy taxes to carry out the national defense program, she answered sturdily that her family had talked that over, too, and were resolved to cheerfully meet any demands made on their income.

May there be many like her!

At least sixteen South American peaks are higher than North America's highest, Mount McKinley, Alaska.

Dessert Bridge Events Enjoyed In Harlingen

HARLINGEN — Tones of pink blending effectively in floral arrangements, game appointments, and the menu made Mrs. George Barley's afternoon bridge series the past week a delightful prelude to summer. Accenting the springtime motif were delightful corsages of blue baby's breath and sweetheart roses which were grouped to make a centerpiece for each table. After the dessert course, the individual corsages were presented to the guests.

Helen Robinson Weds Harvey Storm In Rites Read In La Feria Home

LA FERIA—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Robinson announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to Harvey Storm, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Storm of San Marcos. The ceremony took place Thursday evening, May 30, at six o'clock at the home of the bride with the bridegroom's grandfather, Rev. J. W. Storm, officiating.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with fern and corons and baskets of pink roses and white and yellow gladiolas.

Mrs. Eugene Robinson, sister-in-law of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always" preceding the ceremony.

The traditional melody of the Wedding March from Wagner's Lohengrin was played by Miss Clarice Storm, sister of the groom, as the bride entered with the groom. She was becomingly attired in a blue crepe redingote ensemble with white accessories. Her corsage was of spring blossoms in harmonizing pastels.

At the reception immediately following the ceremony the bride observed age-old tradition by cutting the first slice from the pretty three-tiered wedding cake. The table was especially lovely with its lace cloth and centerpiece of fern, corona, and daisies surrounding the cake.

Twenty-four were guests. Guests in addition to members of the family included Rev. and Mrs. Joe Amerine and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Durham.

Home Rites Performed For Couple

McMillan-Ezell Nuptials Announced

HARLINGEN—In a simple ceremony performed Saturday afternoon at two-thirty at the home of the bride, Miss Helen Frances Ezzell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. Ezzell, became the bride of James L. McMillan, son of Mrs. Lula McMillan of Thorndale, Texas. Reading the marriage service was the Rev. C. W. Ferguson, pastor of the First Christian Church.

Only relatives and a few close friends were present.

Orchid and pink gladiolas in floor baskets and urns made the bridal setting, the long spikes of bloom being massed at an archway to the sunporch to make a frame for the couple. They were unattended.

For her wedding the bride chose a smart white tailored suit with redingote coat and matching white turban. Only note of contrasting color was her corsage of orchids. She wore an heirloom locket of pearls fashioned to represent a cluster of grapes and antique diamond earrings. Her real lace handkerchief came from Denmark.

The mother of the bride was attired in a printed sheer and wore a corsage of sweetheart roses.

A reception followed the ceremony when coffee, punch, and wedding cake were served from a table laid with a hand crocheted cloth. Orchid and sweetpeas in a crystal bowl formed the centerpiece. The bride's cake, a delicately embossed confection, was decorated with a faint tracery in pink on the white icing. Mrs. Joe Penry served the cake and Mrs. E. L. Davis coffee and punch.

The couple left immediately afterwards for Colorado and later will go to New York City. They will be at home for the summer at Pecos, Texas.

Mrs. McMillan is widely known in the Lower Valley for her exceptional ability as a dancer. Mr. McMillan is a member of the Texas Highway patrol and at present stationed at Pecos.

Bridegroom-Elect Moves Into Party Picture As Date For Wedding Nears

HARLINGEN — Waning days of the period left for prenuptial parties for Miss Patty Hanks, bride-elect of Andrew Brackett Shelton of Corpus Christi, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Shelton of Harlingen, are to be crammed with parties which have been almost continuous since announcement of the couple's engagement a few weeks ago.

Two of the young matrons who will serve as attendants to Miss Hanks at her marriage Saturday, June 8, will be in mid-week hostess roles in Abilene, home of the bride-elect who is the daughter of Bernard Hanks of Abilene. Mrs. Thomas H. Sweeney, Jr., of Brownsville, Miss Hanks' matron of honor, will join her mother, Mrs. W. R. Ely, as hostesses for a luncheon for 24 Tuesday at the Hilton in Abilene. Other events are scheduled during the week.

Mrs. E. A. Shelton and daughter, Louise, will leave Thursday for Corpus Christi to join the bridegroom-elect for the trip to Abilene. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Jack West and Miss Edith Rollins. The party will spend Thursday night in Corpus Christi.

Prenuptial spotlight turned to Mr. Shelton at the weekend as two parties were given, an interesting report in the Abilene News-Reporter relates. "Guests for a luncheon at the Lytle Lake home of Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Maddox were reminded that Mr. Shelton's home is on the coast as a seashore theme was emphasized in all party appointments, while his business (he is connected with the Commercial Credit Company) set the keynote for an informal supper at which Wilma Kendrick was hostess at the North Fifth street home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Kendrick.

"Lunch at the Lytle home was served in view of the lake on a porch which had nets, seines, fishing poles and yucca blooms in rustic wall holders as a background for tables overlaid with seagreen covers printed in seashell motif. The featured theme was reflected in the menu.

"Answering the ringing of a 'ship's bell,' Miss Hanks found a 'ship's cargo', her favored crystal pattern. Mr. Shelton's nickname "Stormy" was used with that of "Patty" in the naming of the ship which was banked with orange blossoms. Red hearts dotted the sails.

'Guests were dressed in slacks, Miss Hanks wearing a tailored suit in sunrise blue silk, with flame sports sandals."

Trotsky Denies Part In Attack Plot

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Two secretaries of Leon Trotsky were released Friday by police after 48 hours of questioning in Friday's machine-gun attack on Trotsky's walled-in residence in the nearby village of Coyoacan.
About the same time, police announced 13 Mexicans, some of them Communists, had been arrested for "participation" in the attack.
Trotsky described as "stupid" any theory that he might have arranged the attack.
Meanwhile, two other friends of Trotsky, one of them a former guard, still were detained for questioning.
Police refused to give any details of the new wholesale arrests, except to say the men were in the federal military barracks being questioned.

Anna Neagle Stars In Famed Musical Comedy

Favorite Of British Stage And Screen Seen In 'Irene'; Other Hit Films Scheduled At Valley Theatres

"IRENE," one of the most popular musical comedies of all time, comes to the screen with the lovely British star, Anna Neagle, in the title-role and Ray Milland co-starred as a New York playboy who falls in love with the peppery heroine.

Running for almost two years on Broadway, and having half a dozen road companies covering the nation at the time it made its appearance, "Irene" scored an unqualified hit with audiences the country over, and the picture promises to be an even greater success. The four tunes that were featured on the stage, "Alice Blue Gown," "Castle of Dreams," "Irene" and "There's Something in the Air," are, stressed in the picture, and a brand new number by the same composers, "You've Got Me Out on a Limb," is also woven into the offering.

The plot deals with the adventures of a fiery little Irish girl, who, sponsored by a pair of wealthy young society men, quits her salesgirl job to become a model at Madame Lucy's, a fashionable gown shop in which the young men own stock. Her modelling of a gown of her mother's at an elaborate social affair attracts much attention and leads to her being established in a luxurious apartment as an Irish heiress, although her real job is to boost Madame Lucy's gowns.

Such favorites as Roland Young, May Robson, Billie Burke, Arthur Treacher, Isabel Jewell, Marsha Hunt and Doris Nolan also have featured roles in "Irene." Young as the busy manager of Madame Lucy's, Miss Robson as the heroine's stubborn grandmother and Miss Burke as a fluttery society woman.

"Irene" is booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen.

ALICE FAYE FEATURED IN MUSICAL HIT

ALICE FAYE is featured as Broadway's famed glamour Queen in the screen production of "Lillian Russell" which revives all the splendor and magnificence of America's most fabulous era.

Lillian Russell was famous for her marvelous voice as well as her splendid acting and great beauty, and Alice Faye sings many of the songs Lillian popularized. Among these are "After The Ball Is Over," "Rosie, You Are My Posie," "My Evening Star," "The Band Played On" ("Strawberry Blond"), and many others.

Don Ameche has the role of Lillian's composer-husband, who struggled to author her greatest stage success. It is Ameche's third composer role and his acting again is outstanding as it was in "Alexander's Ragtime Band" and "Swance River."

Henry Fonda is cast as Alexander Moore, the newspaperman who fell in love with the gorgeous Lillian when they were both young, but failed to tell her about it. Other featured players include Edward Arnold as Diamond Jim Brady, Warren William and Leo Carillo.

"Lillian Russell" is scheduled for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito; Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and at the State Theatre in Mercedes Thursday and Friday.

TOP-FLIGHT STARS IN ROMANTIC DRAMA

HEADING the cast of "Til We Meet Again," currently featured Sunday and Monday at both the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville and the Palace Theatre in McAllen are stars of two of the season's most outstanding hits—"The Fighting 69th" and "Wuthering Heights." George Brent, who played the reckless hero, and Pat O'Brien, who portrayed Father Duffy in "Fighting 69th" are the male stars of the new picture; Merle Oberon and Geraldine Fitzgerald, lustrous stars of "Wuthering Heights," are the feminine stars of " 'Til We Meet Again."

The setting for the film is a luxurious liner travelling from Hong Kong to San Francisco, and there is action, drama, romance and comedy all along the way. Miss Oberon and Brent carry the romantic interest as the pair of star-crossed lovers who know that when the trip is over they will never meet again. She is under sentence of death from a heart ailment; he knows that when the ship docks at San Francisco he will be taken to San Quentin to pay the death penalty for murder. Each tries to spare the other the knowledge of their fate, and to cram into the brief time they have together all the love of a normal lifetime.

O'Brien's romantic interest in the film centers around Binnie Barnes, that lovely blonde queen of comedy, who plays the role of a phoney French countess, fourflushing her way across the Pacific.

Geraldine Fitzgerald plays the role of Miss Oberon's friend and confidante, and Frank McHugh, Eric Blore, Regis Toomey, Henry O'Neill are also featured.

DOROTHY LAMOUR IN TROPIC ROMANCE

ALL THE romance and color of the South Seas are combined with the loveliness of Dorothy Lamour as a sun-tanned, sarong-clad island beauty in the Technicolor adventure-romance "Typhoon," scheduled for showing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and at the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Miss Lamour's newest role since "Road to Singapore" places her on an uninhabited Polynesian island, far from the sea lanes, where she has grown to woman hood after being shipwrecked as a little girl. Robert Preston, Lynne Overman and J. Carol Naish are co-featured with Dotty in top roles.

The awe-inspiring spectacle of tropical fury is reported on a par with if not greater than the effects achieved for the earthquake in "San Francisco." Torrential rains are followed by a gale which uproots whole palm trees. No expense was spared to squeeze every bit of thrill from the fury.

'BUCK BENNY RIDES AGAIN' IS COMEDY

THE STORY of Jack Benny's latest starring picture "Buck Benny Rides Again," is just a peg on which to hang the hilarious and romantic antics of Benny and his numerous supporting players including Ellen Drew, Phil Harris, Andy Devine, Virginia Dale and Eddie "Rochester" Anderson.

Benny, radio top-notcher as he is, can't get anywhere in the affections of Ellen drew because she has been told to watch out for city slickers and to stick to the western cowboy for romance. The rest of it is that Pack turns western cowboy trying to make that big impression on Ellen.

With Benny being funnier than he has ever been in films, "Buck Benny Rides Again" is completely slap-happy, right up to its ending and through the couple of brief appearances of Carmichael, the polar bear, making his screen debut in the picture.

"Buck Benny Rides Again" is scheduled for showing Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre in Mercedes and at the Palace Theatre in McAllen, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

CAPTAIN EASY BY ROY CRANE

ALLEY OOP

FORCED TO ABANDON THE CHARIOT THEY HAD SEIZED IN THEIR ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE THE CITY OF WARRIOR WOMEN, ALLEY OOP, OOOLA AND DOCTOR BRONSON, CONCEALED IN THE SHADOWS, WATCH AN ARMY OF ANGRY AMAZONS STREAM PAST IN PURSUIT.

LOOKIT 'EM GO! TH' DOPES THINK WE'RE STILL IN THAT BUSTED-DOWN CHARIOT!

I DON'T KNOW BUT WHAT THAT BROKEN WHEEL WAS A BREAK FOR US AFTER ALL

WELL, COME ON--LET'S MAKE THE MOST OF OUR OPPORTUNITY BEFORE THEY DISCOVER THEIR MISTAKE!

LOOK! THE WALL!

INTO THE TOWER, QUICK! THERE MUST BE A FLIGHT OF STAIRS UP TO THE BATTLEMENTS!

RIGHT YOU ARE, DOCTOR... WE'RE AS GOOD AS GONE RIGHT NOW!

TAKE IT EASY, OOP... THERE'S NO TELLING HOW STRONG A FORCE IS GUARDING THIS WALL

WELL, WE WON'T BE LONG FINDIN' OUT!

HOTZIG! OUR LUCK STILL HOLDS! NARY A SOUL IN SIGHT!

GOODNESS, IT'S DARK! I CAN'T SEE A THING DOWN THERE!

WAIT, OOOLA, DON'T JUMP--I'LL LOWER YOU DOWN AS FAR AS POSSIBLE--THAT'LL LESSEN THE DROP GOOD IDEA, OOP--WE DON'T WANT ANY SPRAINED ANKLES AT THIS STAGE OF THE GAME!

SAY, I JUST REMEMBERED THAT ONE WALL OF THIS CITY FRONTS ON THE SEA... AND IF THIS HAPPENED TO BE THAT SIDE, WEIGHTED DOWN WITH ARMOR AS WE ARE... Mmm--

BUT SHUCKS, DOC, TH' ODDS ARE FOUR TO ONE AGAINST THAT!

ALL RIGHT, BOYS, HERE GOES!

SHE'S ON HER WAY

HAPPY LANDINGS, OOOLA!

REG U S PAT OFF

PERFORMING AN AMAZING "JEKYLL-HYDE" TRANSFORMATION, ZERO DESCENDS TO THE GROUND FLOOR OF THE OLD MUSEUM BY MEANS OF HIS HIDDEN STAIRWAY ---

HA! MY SUSPICIONS WERE CORRECT... THE POLICE ARE HERE!

GOOD MORNING, OFFICER -- I AM MR. OREZ -- REAL ESTATE AGENT FOR THIS PROPERTY -- LOOKING FOR SOME-THING?

YEAH! A LITTLE GUY NAMED ZERO!

HMM... THAT MUST BE THE ECCENTRIC LITTLE PROFESSOR I LEASED THAT UPSTAIRS BACK ROOM TO. JUST RING FOR THE ELEVATOR OVER THERE.

THANK YOU, SIR!

HEY! WAIT A MINUTE! THIS GUY'S A KILLER -- HOW COME YOU'RE HARBORING HIM IN HERE?

CLICK

OH, MY -- I HAD HOPED I WOULDN'T HAVE TO RESORT TO VIOLENCE -- BUT MY BLADE IS KEEN -- YOU SHAN'T SUFFER MUCH

IT'S STRANGE HOW I HATE TO DO THESE THINGS, ONCE I'VE MADE THE TRANSFORMATION OF PERSONALITY, I MUST HASTEN TO WU'S PENTHOUSE AND GET THE DRAGON, BEFORE...

WITH HIS LAST CONSCIOUS BREATH, THE STRICKEN OFFICER CRAWLS TO THE DOOR AND WHISTLES FOR HELP!

-- AND WITHIN HALF AN HOUR, THE EMERGENCY SQUAD IS TEARING DOWN THE WALL THAT CONCEALS THE SECRET STAIRS

HURRAY! WE'RE SAVED!

AND NOT ONE MOMENT TOO SOON! MUST DASH TO PENTHOUSE AT ONCE IF WE WOULD SAVE MYSTIC DRAGON FROM ZERO!

COPR. 1950 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

BUT AT THAT MOMENT...

IT WAS MOST WISE OF THE DOCTOR TO ORDER HIS PRICELESS DRAGON PLACED IN OUR VAULTS AT THE NATIONAL INSTITUTE ... AND NOW I'LL JUST CARRY IT DOWN TO MY ARMORED CAR.

VER' GOOD, MR. OREZ!

NEXT WEEK: TREASURE BOUND!

KREE MEE Your children will always ask for KREE Mee ICE CREAM and they can't get too much for their active, healthful young bodies. KREE MEE DOUBLE DIP CONES or 5c BUCKETS will please them. Double Dip Cones

THIMBLE THEATRE :-: Starring POPEYE

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

MAYBE WIMPY'LL PLAY GOLF WITH ME, IT'LL DO HIM GOOD—HE NEEDS THE EXNERCIZE TO LOOSEN HIS MUSKLES

BUT I GOTTA TALK FAS' AN' PLENNY TO MAKE 'IM PLAY

AHOY, WIMPY, YER PLAYIN' GOLF WIT' ME TODAY

PARDON ME, DID YOU SAY GOLF?—I HAVEN'T PLAYED IN YEARS

LOOK, I BRUNG A SCORE CARD—THERE'S THE FIRST HOLE. CAN'TCHA SEE YERSELF SMACKIN' THE BALL AN' FOLLERIN' IT DOWN A NICE GREEN FAIRWAY?

YES, INDEED, MAY I BORROW A CLUB?

OOF

'AT'S PERFECT—RIGHT DOWN THE MIDDLE, THE NEX' SHOT'D PUTCHA ON'A GREEN

HEAVENS! THE CARD SAYS 450 YARDS, DO YOU REALLY THINK I COULD MAKE THE GREEN IN TWO STROKES?

A'COURSE, YA COULD AN' IF YA SINKED THE PUTT, YA'D WIN THE HOLE

WHY, YA COULD BEAT ME EASY

SUSPOSE YER AHEAD AN' WE'RE PLAYIN' THE NEX' HOLE—I'LL SHOW YA HOW ARFUL I YAM

YOU SHOULD HAVE A POWERFUL SWING, POPEYE

HEY, JUS'A MINNIT, WE ONLY TALKED ABOUT PLAYIN'. YA KNOWS @!!! WELL, WE AIN'T PLAYED YET

I WON'T LETCHA SQUIRM OUT'A PLAYIN' BY KIDDIN' ME. YA MUS' THINK I WAS BORN YESTIDDY

MY FRIEND, I MERELY WANTED TO SPARE YOUR FEELINGS. YOU READILY ADMIT I COULD WIN THE GAME EASILY, SO——I REFUSE TO MATCH MY SUPERIOR ABILITY AGAINST YOUR INFERIOR EFFORTS—IT WOULD BE UNSPORTSMANLIKE.
